Govt offers new tax breaks in bid to lure foreign capital

● Big Tech to gain from tax holiday till FY41

SHUBHAM RANA
New Delhi, August 3

IN A MOVE that will help boost foreign capital inflows, the government has proposed a slew of tax concessions under a new Bill. The Taxation and Other Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2026, expected to be presented in Parliament this week, offers long-term tax holidays for a clutch of sectors, and extends the waivers for some others. It also eases the conditions for India-domiciled foreign funds to avail tax exemption on their global income.

The sectors to benefit from the latest set of tax reliefs and relaxations include data centres and rough diamond trading. The draft Bill reviewed by FE also restores tax neutrality by stating that that dividend distribution through real estate investment trusts (REITs) and infrastructure investment trusts (InvITs) will remain exempt in the hands of unit holders, even if the special purpose vehicles through which they manage properties opted for concessional tax regime.

Bill for MDR on UPI likely to be tabled today

PRASANTA SAHU
New Delhi, August 3

THE CENTRE IS likely to introduce a Bill in Parliament on Tuesday to amend the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007, paving the way for the levy of merchant discount rate (MDR) on UPI and RuPay debit card transactions, sources said. The government had scrapped MDR on UPI and RuPay debit card transactions from January 2020 to encourage digital payments and expand merchant acceptance. Before that, merchants paid an MDR of less than 1% on UPI and RuPay debit card transactions.

Sources said the proposed amendment is likely to restore the pre-2020 provisions of the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007 (PSSA). The Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019 inserted Section 10A into the Act, barring banks and payment system providers from levying any charge on either the payer or the recipient for transactions made through UPI, UPI QR codes and RuPay debit cards. The proposed amendment is expected to remove these payment instruments from the ambit of the section, allowing MDR to be levied. FE had recently reported that the Centre may reintroduce MDR on UPI transactions of ₹2,000 and above for large merchants to compensate banks and payment service providers for rising operational costs and technology investments.

Govt to sell up to 6.5% stake in LIC to raise ₹31,000 crore

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 3

THE CENTRE WILL sell up to a 6.5% stake in state-run insurance behemoth Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) on Tuesday-Wednesday to raise around ₹31,400 crore at a floor price of ₹382 per share.

"Offer for Sale in LIC opens tomorrow for non-retail investors. Retail investors can bid on Wednesday," the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) said in a post on X. "The government offers to disinvest a 2.5% equity stake, with an additional 4% as a greenshoe option. The floor price has been fixed at ₹382 per share. This will help achieve minimum public shareholding (MPS) milestones ahead of schedule," DIPAM said.

In total, the government is offering to sell 82.22 crore shares including greenshoe option. The OFS floor price is at a 10% discount to LIC's closing price of ₹424.35 on the BSE on Monday. The OFS follows LIC's recent issuance of bonus shares in a 1:1 ratio, which made the offer more affordable for a larger section of investors by lowering the per-share price.

Over 120 items off quality orders: BIS

PRASANTA SAHU
New Delhi, August 3

THE CENTRE HAS expedited implementing some of the Rajiv Gauba-led deregulation committee's recommendations to rationalise India's quality control regime, while preserving consumer safety. The move follows concerns expressed by experts and industry circles that a proliferation of mandatory Quality Control Orders (QCOs) in recent years might have stifled domestic manufacturing.

One of the most visible outcomes has been a reduction in the number of products covered under mandatory QCOs, dropping from a peak of around 750 to 624. Different central ministries have withdrawn 50 mandatory QCOs covering 54 products and deferred or suspended seven such orders covering many other products, Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) Director General Sanjay Garg told FE. Following the committee's recommendations, the cabinet secretary and the Department of Consumer Affairs wrote to key ministries overseeing QCO implementation to review the existing orders and assess whether products that do not pose major risks could be shifted to a less burdensome certification route.

India powers SAP's AI push

POULOMI CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, August 3

WHEN SAP NEEDED software to help enterprises comply with India's GST e-invoicing and e-way bill mandates, it turned to its engineers in Bengaluru. What began as a fix for the country's fast-evolving tax reporting rules has since travelled far beyond it: the technology first engineered in India is now part of SAP's global Document and Reporting Compliance (DRC) platform, helping the German software giant's customers meet local regulatory requirements across multiple markets.

This built for India, shipped to the world trajectory captures how SAP Labs India has evolved from a development centre into one of the company's biggest innovation hubs—and the role has only grown in the AI era, with Bengaluru emerging as a key driver of SAP's enterprise AI strategy. The numbers underline the transformation. Around 40% of SAP's global R&D workforce is now based in India, and nearly a quarter of the company's worldwide patents originate from the country. More than 80% of SAP's AI agents — the software assistants it is betting on to automate enterprise workflows—are being built here.

Established in 1998, SAP Labs India has grown into the company's largest R&D hub outside Germany, with about 18,000 employees—bigger than its centres in China, Brazil and even the US. Beyond engineering, the Bengaluru centre today houses global product managers, chief architects and AI leaders who help shape SAP's worldwide technology roadmap.

The clearest test of that standing came after SAP CEO Christian Klein announced at Sapphire 2024 that the company's generative AI assistant, Joule, would become the primary interface for 80% of repetitive business tasks across its applications. Delivering on that commitment fell to Bengaluru. Under the Joule Content Acceleration Programme (JCAP), SAP Labs India brought together teams across business lines to identify the most frequently used enterprise transactions and redesign them for AI-driven interactions. The programme was completed within the year, helping embed Joule across SAP's software portfolio.

"India was chosen as the country to lead this programme for adoption for two simple reasons," Miles J, head of strategy & operations at SAP Labs India, said. "Firstly, we have the length and breadth of different applications, from sales order creation to customer and vendor creation, with those development teams sitting here.

NPPA caps retail prices for 23 new drug formulations

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, August 3

THE NATIONAL PHARMACEUTICAL Pricing Authority (NPPA) has fixed the retail prices of 23 new drug formulations, including treatments for diabetes, cardiovascular conditions, mental health disorders, infections, and pain relief, under the Drugs Prices Control Order, 2013.

Among the most significant inclusions are fixed dose combination (FDC) for type-2 diabetes, including triple-drug formulations containing Sitagliptin, Glimepiride and Metformin (extended release) as well as Dapagliflozin, Pioglitazone and Metformin (sustained release). These medicines are increasingly used by patients whose blood sugar levels remain unmanageable despite dual-drug therapy, and the single-pill combinations help improve treatment adherence and reduce the number of tablets taken daily.

The move will impact drug-makers like Sun Pharma, Mankind Pharma, Torrent Pharmaceuticals, Alkem, Ipca, FDC, Aristo Pharmaceuticals, Eris Lifesciences and Glaxo-SmithKline Pharmaceuticals, among others. Contract manufacturers like Akums, Windlas, and Exemed who produce these medicines for larger pharma companies will also

FACTORY OUTPUT SLIPS TO 53.5 AMID SOFT DOMESTIC DEMAND

Manufacturing growth near 5-year low in July, PMI shows

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 3

INDIA'S MANUFACTURING SECTOR activity slowed to a near five-year low in July as domestic demand slowed down, S&P Global said on Monday.

The HSBC India Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) fell to 53.5 in July from 54.2 in June. Not only is the July manufacturing PMI the lowest since August 2021, it is also below the long-term series average of 54.2, S&P Global said.

A PMI reading above 50 denotes expansion in activity from the previous month, while a reading below 50 indicates contraction.

Job creation across the manufacturing sector slowed in July with the employment growth easing to a 29-month low.

Input cost pressures fell to a five-month low, though companies reported higher prices for transportation in particular. Selling prices saw a moderate rise in July, suggesting manufacturing firms passed on price hikes to consumers to protect margins.

SLOWING ACTIVITY

■ Growth in new orders was the second-slowest in over four years

■ Employment growth was slowest in 29 months

■ Input cost pressures fell to a five-month low

■ New export orders increased at a faster rate in July

■ Manufacturing firms saw higher orders from Canada, Egypt, Indonesia, Kenya, Nepal, South Africa, Thailand and the UAE

"Manufacturers in India continued to benefit from demand resilience, with a sustained rise in new orders underpinning a further expansion in output during July," S&P Global said. "Growth cooled again across some metrics, however, such as total sales, input purchasing and employment."

Growth in new orders was the second-slowest in over four years, with demand hit by increasingly challenging market conditions and reduced client interest for key items, S&P Global said.

While domestic demand moderated, new export orders increased at a faster rate in July. Manufacturing firms saw increased orders from Canada, Egypt, Indonesia, Kenya, Nepal, South Africa, Thailand and the United Arab Emirates.

Slower demand hit production volumes, which grew at the slowest rate since mid-2022, S&P Global said. Consumer goods was a particular area of weakness in July, posting notably softer increases in new orders and output.

"The suppliers' delivery times index rose in July, an encouraging sign that supply-chain delays are continuing to unwind. However, renewed tensions in the Middle East have raised fresh doubts about how durable these improvements will be," said Pranjul Bhandari, chief India economist at HSBC.

"In response, manufacturers appear to be rebuilding buffers: inventories of both inputs and finished goods increased alongside a rise in purchasing volumes, suggesting firms are securing supply and limiting exposure to potential disruption," Bhandari said.

KHARIF SOWING LAG NARROWS TO 2.8%

A 'normal' monsoon in July, following a severely deficient June, has boosted the sowing of kharif crops across the country. The total area under kharif crops, including paddy, pulses, oilseeds, sugarcane and coarse cereals, reached 89.42 million hectares (Mha) at the end of July, down just 2.8% from a year ago, reports Sandip Das. According to the agriculture ministry, the sown area has now crossed 81% of the normal kharif acreage of 110 Mha. Sowing is expected to continue till the end of August. Rice, the principal kharif crop, has been sown over 30.14 Mha, 2.24% lower than a year ago.

New law to make banking records more future-ready

● E-records to be admissible evidence, digital signature authenticated

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 3

THE GOVERNMENT ON Monday introduced the Bankers' Books Evidence Bill, 2026, in the Lok Sabha to expand the definition of "bankers' books" to include all forms of records maintained by banks, covering physical, electronic, digital, virtual, cloud-based or any other format. This is intended to create a comprehensive and future-ready framework for using banking records in legal proceedings.

The Bill seeks to modernise and strengthen the existing legal framework to meet the requirements of the present banking system, recognising that banking records today are increasingly created, stored and maintained using contemporary technology rather than only in physical form, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said in the Statement of Objects and Reasons for introducing the bill.

A key change proposed in the Bill is the explicit recognition of electronic bank records as admissible evidence. It provides that courts can receive such records either in physical or electronic form. The Bill also proposes standardised certificate formats for bank records and allows authentication through a "manual, digital, or electronic signature".

The existing Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891 was enacted to facilitate the use of certified copies of bank records as evidence without requiring banks to produce original records. However, the government noted that the law was framed when banking records were predominantly maintained in physical form and does not fully address the requirements of today's digital banking ecosystem.

The proposed Bill also provides flexibility to extend its application beyond banks. It empowers the Centre to apply the legislation to "any entity or class of entities operating in the financial sector", subject to specified conditions.

Centre hikes export duties on fuel

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, August 3

THE CENTRE HAS raised the windfall tax on diesel exports by ₹10 per litre to ₹25.5 and on aviation turbine fuel (ATF) exports by ₹7.5 to ₹22 per litre from August 3, seeking to discourage overseas shipments and safeguard domestic fuel availability.

The special additional excise duty on diesel was ₹15.5 per litre during the previous fortnight, while the levy on ATF exports was ₹14.5 per litre.

The export duty on petrol has also been raised by ₹1 to ₹3.5 per litre from ₹2.5

War ushers in 'golden era' for refiners as exports soar

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, August 3

INDIAN REFINERS ARE entering a war-driven "golden era", with exports of refined petroleum products for July surging to a five-year high as supply disruptions in Russia and West Asia boost global fuel margins and open lucrative markets in Europe and South America.

India exported 1.527 million barrel per day (bpd) of refined products in July, up 23.2% from 1.239 million bpd a year earlier, according to Kpler data. The volume was nearly 19.5% higher than the previous July high of 1.278 million bpd recorded in 2024.

Shipments were also 28% above the five-year July average

■ Refined petroleum products exports surged 23%. YoY to 1.53 million bpd in July

■ Shipments were 28% above the five-year July average of 1.192 million bpd

■ Diesel cracks of $45-50 per barrel lift refining margins, offsetting losses in the first quarter

■ US-Iran war, West Asia disruptions and Russia's diesel export ban tighten global fuel supplies of 1.192 million bpd. India exported 1.264 million bpd in July 2023, 1.062 million bpd in 2022 and 1.118 million bpd in 2021.

Exports rebounded from 919,900 bpd in May to 1.048 million bpd in June before surging 45.7% month-on-month to 1.527 million bpd in July.

The sharp rise in exports comes as the US-Iran war, disruptions to refining operations in West Asia, and Russia's diesel export ban tightened global fuel supplies. Lower refinery runs in China have added to the squeeze, removing nearly 5 million bpd, or about 6%, of pre-war global refining capacity and driving up margins for diesel, petrol and jet fuel.

"Refiners are earning strong margins from exports, which should help offset losses incurred in the first quarter. Diesel cracks of around $45-50 per barrel are very healthy and provide a substantial earnings cushion," a refinery official said, requesting anonymity.

The export windfall could ease pressure on state-run refiners after Indian Oil, BPCL and HPCL reported combined June-quarter net losses of ₹18,149 crore.

The sharp increase in fuel cracks has significantly improved export economics for Indian refiners at a time when limited product availability is intensifying competition for cargoes.

"Russia's diesel export ban, the US-Iran war and strong global demand have created a golden period for Indian refiners, with exports reaching several European and South American markets, including Brazil," said Prashant Vasisht, senior vice-president and co-group head, corporate ratings, ICRA.

"When a war begins and domestic availability needs to be safeguarded, the government has the option of imposing special additional excise duty to discourage exports. As of now, however, diversified crude sourcing and supplies tied up by refiners mean there is no near-term concern over availability," he said.

STRONG DEMAND OFFSETS, BUT CANNOT ERASE, MARGIN PRESSURE

Input costs weigh on India Inc's Q1 margins

KISHOR KADAM
Mumbai, August 3

ELEVATED INPUT COSTS have weighed on India Inc's margins in the June quarter even as revenues have been robust, driven up by good demand across commodities and durables.

With most companies having delivered results that are either in line with estimates or better than expectations, upgrades so far this earnings season, are outnumbering downgrades at 1.6:1.

Companies that have outperformed estimates so far include Nestle, Asian Paints and Larsen & Toubro while the disappointments include Maruti Suzuki, Hyundai, Interglobe Aviation and ITC. The combined earnings of 39 Nifty companies have grown 11% year-on-year.

For a sample of 734 companies (excluding banks, financials and oil marketing companies) net sales have jumped by nearly 22% year-on-year. However, a sharp rise in raw material costs has eaten into operating margins which have stayed more or less flat at 18%.

AS EXPECTED

Nonetheless, operating profits have risen by close to 20% y-o-y, a healthy performance.

Consumption remains resilient as seen in the strong sales of cars, two wheelers and other durables. Demand appears to have sustained on the back of GST cuts and income tax relief and despite higher prices of goods and services. At Maruti Suzuki, revenues in the quarter climbed 36% y-o-y, the combined impact of a 29% volume growth and an improvement in average realisation per car of 5%.

The underlying sales growth at Hindustan Unilever, of 10% y-o-y, was the highest in the past 13 quarters.

At Asian Paints revenues were up 16.7% y-o-y while at foods major Nestle, they rose a smart 25% primarily driven by higher volumes. Tata Steel reported a consolidated rise in total income of 12% as realisations improved significantly while revenues at JSW Steel were up by 10% y-o-y. Good demand in the local market helped steelmakers cushioning the rise in raw material costs amid the West Asia conflict.

Bajaj Auto's Q1 FY27 revenues were up 37% y-o-y as volumes climbed 29% y-o-y and realisations rose 6%. Most organised retailers reported healthy double-digit revenue growth in the quarter. V-Mart posted a smart 23% y-o-y growth in its top line while Vishal Mega Mart reported a rise of 18.7%. Avenue Supermarts recorded a near 15% increase in revenues but same-store sales growth eased to 5.5% in Q1 from 7.1% a year earlier.

Most companies have been able to take price hikes to pass on higher input costs.

At Asian Paints, for instance, prices were up about a weighted average of 7% in Q1, though not a complete pass-through. However, elevated raw material costs hurt businesses.

Hero doubles down on premium motorcycles

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, August 3

HERO MOTOCORP ON Monday unveiled an organisational overhaul to accelerate its premium motorcycle business, appointing a dedicated chief business officer and promising a wider product portfolio, exclusive retail experiences and stronger community engagement, even as sales of several of its premium motorcycles have remained weak and one flagship model has quietly disappeared from the market.

The country's largest two-wheeler maker appointed Anuj Dua as chief business officer – premium segment, creating a dedicated leadership role to steer its premium business. An industry veteran with leadership experience at Hero Moto-Corp, Royal Enfield and Bajaj Auto, Dua has worked across global product planning, strategy, brand building and market expansion. The company said the new vertical will drive portfolio expansion, strategic partnerships, exclusive retail experiences and rider engagement, underscoring premiumisation as a key growth pillar.

Sarvam AI set for fresh $74 million round

● Nvidia to lead the extended Series B round

FE BUREAU
Bengaluru, August 3

LESS THAN SIX weeks after entering the unicorn club, Sarvam AI is set to raise another ₹700 crore (about $74 million) in an extended Series B round led by AI chipmaker Nvidia, signalling continued investor confidence in the Bengaluru-based startup as it embarks on building one of the world's largest foundation AI models.

According to an Entracker report citing regulatory filings, Nvidia will invest about ₹238 crore ($25 million), while growth equity firm Glade Brook Capital will put in around ₹190 crore ($20 million) and private equity firm Gaja Capital ₹95 crore. Indigo Ventures and other investors are also participating in the round.

The fresh capital comes barely a month after Sarvam announced a $234-million Series B round led by HCLTech

CAPITAL BOOST

■ Nvidia will invest about ₹238 crore

■ Glade Brook Capital; will put in around ₹190 crore

■ Gaja Capital to invest ₹95 crore

■ Additional capital comes as Sarvam enters the most compute-intensive phase of its road map and Bessemer Venture Partners, with continued backing from existing investors Khosla Ventures and Peak XV Partners. That round valued the company at over $1 billion, making it India's fifth unicorn this year. With the latest infusion, Sarvam's total funding will rise to nearly $349 million (about ₹3,334 crore).

The additional capital comes as Sarvam enters the most compute-intensive phase of its roadmap. Last week, co-founders Pratyush Kumar and Vivek Raghavan unveiled plans to launch a trillion-plus parameter AI model within the next six months, aimed at complex coding, cybersecurity and scientific applications. The model will be trained on a cluster of 10,000 Nvidia Blackwell GPUs, making it one of the largest foundational AI projects undertaken in India. The company also announced that noted AI researcher Devendra Chaplot, a founding member of Thinking Machines Lab and French AI startup Mistral, has joined as an advisor.

Former IATA chief Walsh takes over as IndiGo CEO

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, August 3

FORMER INTERNATIONAL AIR Transport Association (IATA) Director General and British Airways chief Willie Walsh on Monday assumed charge as the Chief Executive Officer of IndiGo, taking over the leadership of India's largest airline as it prepares for its next phase of global expansion.

The leadership transition comes a day before IndiGo completes 20 years of operations in India. Having established itself as the country's dominant carrier with a fleet of more than 430 aircraft and nearly 2,200 daily flights, the airline is now looking to accelerate its international growth, a market where Walsh brings decades of experience.

In a statement on Monday, IndiGo said Walsh has assumed charge as CEO to lead the airline's "next era of growth and global ambition."

His appointment was announced on March 31, less than three weeks after the sudden exit of former CEO Pieter Elbers, which came against the backdrop of widespread operational disruptions at the airline in December last year.

As CEO, Walsh will be responsible for the airline's overall management and strategic direction, with a focus on accelerating its global growth trajectory, driving operational excellence, strengthening network and commercial strategy, and further enhancing customer experience, the airline said.

"IndiGo has built a remarkable legacy over the last two decades, establishing itself amongst the largest airlines in the world in a short span of time. With India becoming one of the world's fastest-growing aviation markets, the opportunities ahead for IndiGo are immense. There could not be a more exciting and opportune time for me to join IndiGo than now," Walsh said. IndiGo Managing Director Rahul Bhatia said Walsh's extensive global experience and strategic expertise would be crucial as the airline enters its third decade and pursues its international ambitions.

COST OF DATA BREACH SCALES TO ₹25.5 CR IN INDIA: IBM STUDY

THE AVERAGE COST of data breach in India reached record levels in 2026 as per a new study by IBM. Indian firms paid ₹25.5 crore per breach on an average in 2026, as compared to ₹22 crore in 2025, the 2026 Cost of Data Breach report said.

The hike comes as 26% of malicious breaches were found to be

AI-generated, indicating increasing sophistication in attacks.

Apart from threat actors leveraging AI, emergence of shadow AI (when employees use unsanctioned AI tools in an organisation) added an average of ₹1.79 crore to cost of a breach where present.

from ₹364 crore in the corresponding quarter last year. Ebitda margin narrowed to 11.7% in Q1 FY27 from 13.4% in Q1 FY26.

New sales bookings for the quarter stood at ₹657 crore, reflecting the timing impact of deferred project launches, the company said in a statement.

"We remain well positioned to bring our upcoming products to the market and expect the requisite approvals to be received soon for the planned launches," the company said.

Private equity firm Pulsar Capital, which manages about $350 million in assets, is betting on a model that combines capital with operating platforms to help portfolio companies expand across markets. The firm recently partnered with Blue Tokai Coffee Roasters through its F&B platform, Ambrosia Gulf, to take the Indian specialty coffee chain to the UAE and GCC. Vish Narain, managing partner at Pulsar Capital, speaks to S Shanthi about the firm's investment strategy, sectors it is avoiding and where it sees the next opportunities. Excerpts:

Why did Pulsar Capital choose to partner with Blue Tokai through Ambrosia Gulf for its GCC expansion?

Blue Tokai is among India's strongest specialty coffee brands and we have backed it as both an investor and strategic partner. When we looked at expanding into the Gulf, we wanted an operating partner with expertise in retail, real estate and F&B execution rather than making a passive investment. Ambrosia Gulf already runs brands such as Biryani By Kilo, Furn Beano and Mr Brown in the region. That meant the supply chain, site selection, HR and compliance infrastructure was already in place. Blue Tokai could therefore enter the GCC without building a local operating team from scratch, while Ambrosia added a premium cafe brand to its portfolio.

Will this become a template for other portfolio companies?

Yes. Wherever we have both an investment in a strong consumer or healthcare brand and an operating platform that can help it expand into a new geography, we will look to bring the two together. TruDoc's regional presence, for instance, could support other healthcare and wellness companies entering the GCC. Our approach is simple: don't just write a cheque, build the distribution and operating rails that make expansion faster and less risky.

THIS YEAR WE ARE EVALUATING STRATEGIC INFRA ASSETS ACROSS OIL & GAS, STORAGE, DATA CENTRES, LOGISTICS

Are there sectors you are watching but have not yet invested in?

We are studying post-conflict reconstruction and infrastructure opportunities in parts of the GCC's wider neighbourhood, although we are taking a measured approach before deploying capital. We also believe Indian edtech has moved beyond the pandemic hype cycle and may produce a stronger generation of businesses over the next 12-18 months.

What investments are you looking at this year?

We typically complete one deal annually. This year we are evaluating strategic infrastructure assets across oil and gas, storage, data centres and logistics.

Which investments stand out in your portfolio?

The Blue Tokai expansion through Ambrosia Gulf validates our platform-led model. TruDoc, which recently completed 15 years, continues to deliver strong annual recurring revenue growth and is well placed for its next funding round. Assiduous Global has also performed well.

Which sectors are attracting too much capital today?

Businesses that simply build AI wrappers without proprietary data or distribution advantages are attracting excessive funding. We are also cautious on quick commerce in saturated Indian and GCC markets, where valuations often run ahead of fundamentals.

Essar lines up £4.3-billion Stanlow transition push

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, August 3

ESSAR GROUP IS advancing a £4.3-billion investment pipeline at its Stanlow Manufacturing Complex in the UK, as it plans to turn the refinery into an energy-transition hub and assess commercial data-centre development powered by onsite hydrogen-ready generation.

The announcement comes as Essar marks 15 years of ownership of Stanlow, acquired in 2011.

The group has invested £1 billion in modernising the refinery, including converting the site into a more efficient single-train operation, widening the range of crude grades processed and upgrading its catalytic cracker.

Essar Energy Transition Fuels, the group's wholly owned division operating the complex, recently completed a £100-million, or $130-million, refinery turnaround that raised throughput by about 8%. It also commissioned the UK's first hydrogen-ready refinery furnace after an investment of £70.9 million,

REFINERY TURNAROUND

■ The announcement comes as Essar marks 15 years of ownership of Stanlow, acquired in 2011

■ The group has invested £1 billion in modernising the refinery

■ The investment programme will run until 2035 and is aimed at developing low-carbon energy-transition projects in the UK

■ Essar is simultaneously planning a major expansion of its retail network, targeting 800 new locations supplied directly from refinery

■ Employees earn average salaries estimated at twice the national average, while complex spends £426 mn through its UK supply chain or $100 million.

The company said hydrogen production would be central to the next phase of Stanlow's development.

It is also evaluating the use of the site's extensive land for next-generation commercial data centres that could receive power directly from hydrogen-ready generation.

The investment programme will run until 2035 and is aimed at developing low-carbon energy-transition projects in the UK.

Essar is simultaneously planning a major expansion of its retail network, targeting 800 new locations supplied directly from the refinery.

Stanlow currently supports around 5,000 direct, indirect and induced jobs in the UK.

Employees earn average salaries estimated at twice the national average, while the complex spends £426 million through its UK supply chain, according to independent analysis cited by the company.

"Our £4.3 billion investment pipeline represents a significant growth opportunity for the UK, supporting the country's energy transition, generating massive long-term economic value, and creating thousands of highly skilled jobs built on the site's proud industrial heritage," Prashant Ruia, chairman of Essar Energy Transition, said.

Ruia said Essar remained committed to Stanlow's future as the company seeks to combine its existing refining capability with new low-carbon industries now.

AWL Agri sticks to 8-9% FY27 volume growth target

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, August 3

AWL AGRI BUSINESS, best known for its Fortune edible oil brand, is maintaining its full-year volume growth guidance of 8-9% for FY27 despite geopolitical uncertainty and concerns over a likely El Niño impact on the monsoon, Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Shrikant Kanhere told FE.

The company is betting on festive demand and its fast-growing foods portfolio to drive growth this year.

"We don't see much of an issue from a demand perspective. The second and third quarters are festive quarters. Demand will likely remain stable unless El Niño creates disruptions," he said.

The company posted 7% underlying volume growth and nearly 18% year-on-year (YoY) revenue growth in the June quarter (Q1FY27). Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) rose 34% YoY to ₹693 crore, while profit after tax (PAT) jumped 48% to ₹351 crore, backed by cost management and an improving product mix.

The foods business remained the standout performer, registering 18% volume growth and 22% YoY revenue growth to ₹1,726 crore, while segment Ebitda crossed the ₹100-crore milestone for the first time. The company now derives 9% of its revenue from foods and FMCG, up from 8% a year ago. The industry essentials business contributes 14% of revenue, compared with 13% a year earlier.

Edible oil, the company's largest segment, accounted for 77% of overall revenue, down from 79% a year ago. The segment reported 15% YoY revenue growth to ₹15,465 crore in Q1, while volume growth was limited to 2% due to supply chain disruptions arising from the West Asia conflict and lower trade inventories in June, Kanhere said. However, he expects demand to improve in the coming quarters as the festive season approaches.

The company also successfully navigated commodity inflation during the quarter by passing on higher input costs to consumers. Edible oil prices, for instance, rose 5-10% amid higher crude oil prices.

"Given our brand equity, we have been able to pass it on to consumers," Kanhere said, adding that the price hikes helped preserve margins despite higher packaging costs linked to crude oil price volatility.

While packaging material inflation remains an industry-wide challenge, AWL is focusing on operational efficiencies to offset cost pressures.

Sale of Dabur items with 'misleading' claims halted

THE FOOD SAFETY and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) has ordered FMCG major Dabur to immediately halt the sale of its honey, apple cider vinegar, virgin coconut oil, sesame oil, cow ghee, coconut water, coconut milk and other food products marketed with misleading "100%" claims.

According to a prohibition order issued by the regulator, products sold on the company's website were found carrying claims such as "100% Natural", "100% Pure", "100% Purity Guaranteed", "100% Organic" and "100% Tender Coconut Water".

Responding to the development, a Dabur spokesperson said, "We have received the FSSAI notice and are in the process of checking the content mentioned in the notice on our website."

FSSAI said such claims are in contravention of the Food Safety and Standards (Advertising & Claims) Regulations, 2018.

The regulator also found that Dabur Himalayan Organic Apple Cider Vinegar and Dabur Organic Honey displayed the Jaivik Bharat logo without a valid FSSAI organic endorsement, allegedly violating the Food Safety and Standards (Organic Foods) Regulations, 2017.

Ather Q1 loss shrinks to ₹51 cr

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, August 3

ATHER ENERGY NARROWED its consolidated net loss by a third to ₹51 crore in the first quarter of FY27 as revenue surged 87% on the back of higher electric two-wheeler sales.

Improved operating leverage also helped the company turn EBITDA positive for the first time.

Revenue from operations of the Bengaluru-based EV maker nearly doubled to ₹1,216 crore, driven by an 81% jump in vehicle sales to 83,173 units during the quarter.

Demand continued to outpace supply, with quarterly pre-orders rising 158% year-on-year to 1,50,000 units against actual production of 83,000 units. New vehicle enquiries also increased 95% to 7,00,000 during the quarter.

Co-founder & CEO Tarun Mehta attributed the surge in enquiries to multiple factors, including the Prime Minister's call to electrify cooking and transport as a national agenda, as well as policy support through the PM E-Drive scheme and the Delhi government's latest EV policy, which he said are playing a major role in shifting consumer confidence towards electric vehicles. "There are now availability concerns on petrol and diesel. Rising petrol prices in India are definitely improving the overall total cost of ownership for electric vehicles," Mehta said during the company's first-quarter earnings call.

The electric two-wheeler industry recorded registrations of 5,25,000 units during the quarter, up 68% year-on-year, with penetration increasing to 11% of the overall two-wheeler market and over 25% of the scooter segment.

Ather ramped up production steadily through the quarter, manufacturing 24,000 units in April, 28,000 units in May and 31,000 units in June. "Our current facilities have a max production capacity of 35,000 units and ...we are almost at 100% utilisation," Mehta said, adding that the company is accelerating capacity expansion to meet demand.

The company's existing manufacturing facility at Hosur has a maximum capacity of 35,000 units per month, or around 0.42 million units annually.

Firms dial down ambitions as IPO boom cools

● Proceeds down by a fifth after 2 yrs of record fundraising

RAJESH MASCARENHAS August 3

INDIA'S INITIAL PUBLIC offering boom is fading, with proceeds down by a fifth from a year earlier as companies cut deal sizes, accept lower valuations and delay listings, raising doubts about sustaining momentum after two record years. Companies have raised about $5.78 billion through public offerings so far in 2026, compared with $7.32 billion in the year-earlier period, data compiled by Bloomberg show. That follows record fundraising of $22.36 billion in 2025 and $20.65 billion in 2024. Several closely watched IPO candidates, including Temasek-backed Manipal Health Enterprises, Indo-MIM and Juniper Green

CLOSING AUCTION MECHANISM KICKS IN, DRIVES 200-POINT NIFTY SPIKE

Nifty at five-month high

KISHOR KADAM Mumbai, August 3

SOFTENING CRUDE OIL prices, hopes of a truce in West Asia and good corporate earnings in the first quarter of FY27 lifted stocks on Monday, driving equity indices higher for a fourth straight session. The broader NSE Nifty 50 ended at a five-month high while the 30-scrip Sensex closed at over a three-month high.

The Nifty gained 390.70 points, or 1.60%, to end at 24,774.30, its highest closing level since March 2. The Sensex put on 544.39, or 0.70% to close the session at 78,639.03. During the day, the Sensex surged 800.46 points, or 1%, to 78,895.10. The Nifty marked its steepest single-day gain since June 15, aided by a sharp last-minute rally of nearly 200 points following the new closing auction mechanism for F&O stocks which kicked off on Monday. Over four sessions, the Sensex and the Nifty have gained 2.44% and 3.29%, respectively.

The rally was broad-based with BSE Midcap and BSE Smallcap indices also advancing by 0.86% and 1.28%, respectively. The breadth was positive with 2,837 gainers against 1,552 losers on the BSE. Investor wealth increased by ₹4.58 lakh crore, taking the BSE's total market capitalisation to ₹490.55 lakh crore. Foreign portfolio investors (FPI) turned buyers in July, purchasing equities worth $2.3 billion (₹22,258 crore), marking the biggest monthly inflows in 22 months.

“Investor sentiment improved after crude oil prices declined sharply following renewed optimism over diplomatic talks between the US and Iran. Encouraging quarterly earnings from several companies, resilient auto sales data, and continued strength in the rupee further supported risk appetite,” Ajit Mishra, senior vice president - research, Religare Broking, said. Investors remain watchful ahead of the Reserve Bank of India's monetary policy announcements on August 5 although the consensus view is that the key policy rate will be left unchanged at 5.25%.

Information technology was the best-performing sector, rising 3.3%, followed by private banks, FMCG, metals and auto. InterGlobe Aviation (IndiGo), TCS, Infosys, Eternal and ITC were the top Sensex gainers, rising by up to 4.22%, while Sun Pharma, Bharti Airtel, Maruti Suzuki, Tata Steel and Mahindra & Mahindra were the top laggards, declining by up to 1.98%.

Rupee ends flat

The rupee ended little changed on Monday, retreating from a three-week high hit in early trade, as dollar demand from importers and state-run banks gathered pace, blunting the boost from a sharp fall in oil prices. The rupee climbed to a peak of 95.13 before ending at 95.34 per dollar.

Experts divided on impact of new auction mechanism

KUSHAN SHAH Mumbai, August 3

THE SEBI'S CLOSING auction session (CAS) for stocks in the futures and options segment kicked in on Monday, triggering a rare divergence between benchmark indices Sensex and Nifty, with the latter witnessing a 200-point spike within a two-minute span during the closing auction.

However, experts were divided on the impact of the new mechanism — some described the Nifty spike as abnormal and a technical glitch while others attributed it to aggressive buying orders in stocks with higher weight in the index. According to data shared by NSE, the CAS turnover for Monday's session stood at ₹1,276 crore on the NSE, with top 10 performers such as ICICI Bank, HDFC Bank, Reliance Industries, Infosys and Bharti Airtel contributing around 30% of the total. On the BSE, the turnover was ₹10.8 crore.

Pankaj Pandey, head of research at ICICI Securities, called the Nifty spike abnormal, adding that while the prices in cash segment saw a rise, such a sharp upward movement was not observed in corresponding call option prices. He believes this movement is a technical glitch and said that he is awaiting instructions from the exchanges for clarity on the matter. Market expert Arun Kejriwal also called the spike an anomaly and said some of its impact could reduce in the initial part of the next session.

Another market expert, requesting anonymity, attributed the sudden spike to aggressive buying orders in stocks with higher weight in the index. Participation by institutions and index funds also added to the spike, he added.

Market experts expect CAS to have a near-term impact on volatility of the index. The new regime is intended to produce a fairer and more transparent closing price.

Sundaram Finance Q1 profit up 22%

FE BUREAU Chennai, August 3

SUNDARAM FINANCE ON Monday reported a 22% year-on-year increase in standalone net profit to ₹522 crore for the quarter ended June 2026, driven by higher interest income on the back of strong loan disbursements. Standalone interest income rose 12% to ₹1,764 crore during the quarter, while net interest income (NII) grew 19% to ₹925 crore. Loan disbursements grew 22% year-on-year to ₹8,947 crore in the first quarter of FY27. Harsha Vijji, executive vice chairman, said the company opened the financial year with stronger demand despite a more complex macro backdrop marked by West Asia tensions, higher energy and commodity prices, supply-chain disruptions and monsoon uncertainty. Assets under management (AUM) grew 17% to ₹62,275 crore at the end of June 2026.

HSBC leads mop-up of FCNR(B) deposits

REUTERS Mumbai, August 3

HSBC, STATE BANK of India and ICICI Bank have garnered the largest amounts under a central bank scheme to attract dollar deposits from non-resident Indians, government data showed on Monday.

HSBC's India unit raised about $6.14 billion, the most among lenders, while State Bank of India garnered about $4.12 billion between June 5 and July 30, the data showed.

ICICI Bank led private-sector peers with about $3.7 billion in deposits under the scheme. HDFC Bank and Axis Bank, the country's largest and third-largest private lenders, respectively, raised about $1.5 billion each. The central bank's measures, the likes of which were last deployed in 2013 to deal with the Federal Reserve's taper tantrum, were rolled out following a period of sustained depreciation pressure on the rupee.

The currency had declined to a record low in May but has steadied after the measures were announced in June. The steps are intended to “attract stable foreign currency inflows, strengthen India's balance of payments and help ease recent pressures on the rupee,” Minister of State for Finance Pankaj Chaudhary told the Lok Sabha on Monday. Outstanding foreign currency non-resident (bank), or FCNR(B), deposits rose to $60.55 billion from $32.56 billion on June 5. Combined, banks' stock of overseas foreign-currency deposits has grown by nearly $28 billion between June 5 and July 30, reflecting the fresh deposits raised under the scheme.

ICICI, HDFC raise rates

ICICI Bank and HDFC Bank have increased interest rates on US dollar-denominated FCNR (B) deposits of select tenures by 25 basis points to 6.25%. The new rates, for deposits with a tenure of three to five years, are effective from August 1.

New MF expense ratio regime cuts distributor commissions

KUSHAN SHAH Mumbai, August 3

THE NEW EXPENSE ratio regime at mutual funds has led to a fall in commissions for mutual fund distributors across equity schemes. The average distributable TER (total expense ratio) for mid-cap and small-cap schemes has seen a reduction of close to 3 basis points in the first quarter of FY27. For flexi-cap and large-cap schemes the drop is over 2 bps and 6 bps, respectively. Distributors point out that the thinner margins are hurting their businesses and could result in a shake-out in the industry.

The new regime, which kicked in this fiscal, is aimed at increasing transparency in charges levied by fund houses to investors. The idea is to segregate expenses controlled by fund houses from charges like brokerage, exchange and regulatory fees and other levies like GST, STT, stamp duty, etc.

Experts believe the lower commissions will pressure distributors to increase their sale volumes. Else, their incomes could be badly hit. Chennai-based distributor Chokkalingam Palaniappan of

LOWER INCOME

Average distributable TER (In %)

■ March 2026 ■ June 2026

Large Cap 1.058 0.996

Mid Cap 1.111 1.085

Small Cap 1.229 1.203

Flexi Cap 1.175 1.152

Multi Cap 1.252 1.243

Large & Mid Cap 1.192 1.193

Prakala Wealth said the new regime has, on average, led to a 3-5 bps reduction in commissions. The going will be particularly tough, he believes, for newer distributors who need to work harder to build a clientele.

Siliguri-based distributor Prabin Agarwal observed that the break-even period for many of the new entrants will be longer. Agarwal believes that while the new structure and the reduction in margins is a natural progression for a growing industry, the impact in the immediate term could be significant for many distributors. Mumbai-based distributor Sadashiv Phene said the smaller commissions have left distributors unhappy, especially those that are already grappling with thin margins. Palaniappan believes that over the longer term, reduced commissions and the need to increase volumes may lead to consolidation among distributors. Not too many will enter the business, he feels, while smaller players may consider giving up an independent practice to join bigger outfits or even quit the industry.

Many distributors say the fall in commissions across fund houses has been uneven with some lowering the fees more than others. The general metric for distributor commissions — average distributable TER — which is defined as the difference between expense ratios for regular and direct mode recorded a reduction following the implementation of the new regime across equity scheme categories from April 2026.

WEAKENING MARKETS

Energy, have cut the size of their offerings to get deals done. Rapid-commerce firm Zepto has opted for a pre-IPO placement, while Sify Infinet Spaces has put its offering on hold and Walmart-backed PhonePe has deferred its listing plans.

The deterioration reflects a broad weakening in India's capital markets. Companies that only months ago were pursuing lofty valuations are now dialing back their ambitions. Local institutions, which have emerged as the dominant buyers amid subdued foreign participation, are driving tougher negotiations on pricing, investment bankers said. “Rather than accept greater equity dilution at lower valuations, many companies are choosing to raise less capital,” said Dharmesh Mehta, managing director and chief executive officer at DAM Capital Advisors. The smaller deal sizes could hurt India's prospects of posting another record year for IPO fundraising, he said.

The reductions in deal sizes have been significant. Manipal Health, which had initially planned to raise more than $1 billion, cut the size to $960 million. Indo-MIM, which had targeted as much as $700 million earlier this year, ultimately raised about $396 million last week, though the issue was subscribed more than 72 times.

Juniper Green Energy cut its planned IPO size from $314 million to $188 million. Zepto on Saturday said it agreed on a private share sale to major investors. The move follows investors assigning the firm a valuation that was sharply lower than its peak of $7 billion.

Not every large deal has been derailed. Mukesh Ambani's Jio Platforms and the National Stock Exchange of India, expected to be the only Indian IPOs exceeding $1 billion this year, remain on track. Both companies filed draft prospectuses with the market regulator in July and are expected to launch their offerings in September or October, if current plans hold.

“Investors are becoming selective amid weaker risk appetite, heightened volatility in secondary markets and mixed post-listing performance of recent IPOs,” Pratik Loonker, managing director and head, equity capital markets, Axis Capital, said. “The combination is prompting issuers to prioritize deal execution over maximizing fundraising or achieving lofty valuations.” —BLOOMBERG

The wrong lesson

The HDFC Bank episode sends a troubling signal on governance and accountability

THE BOARD OF HDFC Bank, the country’s largest private-sector lender, has closed its inquiry into the ₹45-crore “differential interest” affair with warning letters and penalties of ₹1 lakh each on three senior executives, including the managing director and chief executive. Its description of the episode as “business overreach”, rather than mala fide conduct or misconduct, is a distinction that offers little comfort. The bank allegedly paid the Maharashtra State Road Development Corporation returns well above those available to ordinary savings depositors and routed the additional payment through its marketing budget as sponsorship of a road-safety campaign. The arrangements, relating to deposits garnered in 2017 and 2021, reportedly relied on verbal assurances and bypassed the bank’s legal and compliance processes. At the very least, as the bank has acknowledged, they represented a “potential divergence” from the Reserve Bank of India’s directions governing deposit rates.

The issue is larger than any one individual. HDFC Bank is not merely another listed company: It is a systemically important institution entrusted with the savings of crores of Indians and a bellwether for governance standards across the banking industry. Its top management must not only act above board but be seen doing so. When an arrangement apparently intended to conceal the true nature of a payment attracts a penalty smaller than a middle manager’s monthly salary, the signal sent through the organisation is corrosive. Employees learn an institution’s real values less from its compliance manuals than from what its leaders do when business targets collide with rules. The lesson here risks being that camouflage is pardonable if the commercial objective is compelling and there is no personal enrichment. That is precisely the wrong lesson for middle management — and for an industry in which aggressive deposit mobilisation can already encourage questionable practices.

The defences miss the point. One is that incentives or “sweeteners” for large depositors are, in some form, an industry practice. If that is true, it is an indictment of the industry, not an exoneration of the bank. The purpose of regulation is precisely to prevent a race in which institutions devise opaque ways of offering favoured customers negotiated returns. Nor does the absence of personal gain make a regulatory breach inconsequential: Conduct undertaken to benefit the institution can still undermine its controls and expose it to serious reputational risk. The other defence — that old transactions have been revived because a decision on the chief executive’s succession is approaching — is equally irrelevant. The timing or provenance of a disclosure does not determine the truth of its contents. The questions remain who authorised it and whether accountability is commensurate with the lapse.

The abrupt resignation of the bank’s former chairman in March, citing “certain happenings and practices” inconsistent with his values, had already cast a shadow over governance, although a separate external inquiry said it found no basis for his concerns. The former chairman should have been more specific rather than making vague observations. But that makes transparency in the present case more important, not less. The board deserves some credit for publicly imposing accountability at the highest level, an unusual step in Indian banking. But the vague formulation of “business overreach” leaves too many questions unanswered. Trust is banking’s most valuable capital. HDFC Bank, of all institutions, cannot afford to economise on it.

Why the rare earths weapon is losing force

EVERY TIME CHINA tightens its grip on rare earths, the rest of the world becomes a little better at finding them. Rare-earth permanent magnets — which help stick charging cables to laptops, clamp mobile phones to mounting devices, and click earbuds into their cases — have become a central battleground in China’s trade wars with its rivals. Beijing used export controls on the devices to force US President Donald Trump into a humiliating retreat on his Liberation Day tariffs last year. The same tactic is being deployed against Japan following a diplomatic spat with Tokyo.

It’s having to narrow its focus, though, because the world is responding in kind. Some 15 years ago, almost all rare-earth elements were mined and refined in China, but years of similar threats have significantly changed that picture. Almost a third of total production now happens in other countries, so Beijing has had to focus on the rarest of the rare earths.

As a result, the focus has shifted to three scarcer elements: samarium, dysprosium and terbium. Conventional rare-earth magnets lose their effectiveness at higher temperatures, so in performance applications such as electric-vehicle motors, wind turbines, guided missiles and aeronautics, you need to supplement or replace them with these so-called heavy rare earths, or HRE.

Go back 10 years, and most geologists would have told you this move was checkmate for China. HRE are a geological oddity. Like vibranium, the rare element in the Marvel universe found only in the fictional African nation of Wakanda, useful formations appeared to occur in just a single location on the planet: Longnan, an isolated spot in southern China, where geologists at the height of the Cultural Revolution in 1969 happened upon one such deposit.

Right now, that assumption is looking far less certain. Scientists are endlessly innovative in finding ways to fix seemingly intractable problems. Industrial chemists solve scarcity by using alternative materials, as they’ve done in recent years with cobalt in lithium-ion car batteries, now mostly replaced by more abundant phosphate. Geologists scour the world and demonstrate that what we thought scarce wasn’t so rare after all. It’s the latter process we’re seeing now in the case of HRE.

Faced with government restrictions on their output in the mid-2010s, China’s own miners were some of the first to look elsewhere, discovering and exploiting rich formations over the border in Myanmar’s war-torn Kachin state.

Better-regulated work is underway elsewhere. In Brazil, Boston-based private equity firm Denham Capital Management LP spent much of the 2010s proving up a clay deposit in central Goiás state. After receiving investment from former Xstrata Plc Chief Executive Officer Mick Davis and starting production in 2024, the mine is now being taken over by magnet producer USA Rare Earth Inc. under a $2.8 billion deal announced in April.

That may be the tip of the iceberg. A study last year confirmed ionic deposits on four continents, from Madagascar, Malawi and Uganda to Chile and Australia, as well as the existing sites. There’s also evidence of them in Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam and even Finland. Companies outside China with expertise in processing these ores are building separation circuits to isolate dysprosium, terbium, and samarium. Lynas Rare Earths Ltd. and Neo Performance Materials Inc. have already achieved commercial production. MP Materials Corp. and USA Rare Earth’s partner Carester SAS expect to be up and running within months.

That’s a significant vote of confidence in upstream mines. The key investment proposition for these processing businesses is their independence from China’s rare-earth supply chain.

All this activity represents a warning for those who would seek to impede the flow of minerals around the world for geopolitical gain. In trying to starve its rivals of rare-earth magnets, China is inadvertently cultivating a global industry that will make them more abundant than ever.

WALKING THE TALK

THE YOUTH OF INDIA WILL NOT TOLERATE OVER-PROMISE AND UNDER-DELIVERY

India needs an MMS moment

LEADERS EVERYWHERE ARE faced with the compulsion to think out of the box and solve problems which have accumulated like atherosclerosis in the administrative system. We call this the MMS (Manmohan Singh) moment — to commemorate the architect of liberalisation.

But where do you begin? A leader can start first by listening deeply and with empathy; and second, by delivering what is promised. Leaders everywhere must learn to listen with empathy. But who runs a listening skills course for leaders? Since the youth have “finally” been listened to, older folks should also be listened to.

The oldest of us is a nonagenarian. The other two authors were born about 10 years later. We enjoyed professional careers and retired from the formal workforce sometime in the last 20 years. Our current preoccupation is to be thankful for the lives we led, feel immensely proud about being Indian, and hope that our future generations will feel even prouder in the coming decades. In this rare joint writing, we draw attention to why some questions seem to linger forever, suspended in the gap between promise and delivery.

Our parents were highly preoccupied with placing food on the family table. They experienced the turmoil of colonialism, world war, famine, partition, and other convulsions which touched their lives. We grew up in an India characterised by a controlled economy, where everything was in short supply — grains, bread, milk, steel, transport, and communications. We led more plentiful lives compared to our parents. Our sons and daughters have lived even better lives than we did, spurred by better earnings, savings, travel, and technology. If progress were linear, there would be no need for us to worry about the future —

ASHOK GANGULY R GOPALAKRISHNAN RAKESH MOHAN

Respectively former Chairman, HUL, & former Member, Rajya Sabha; former Director, Tata Sons; and ex Deputy-Governor, RBI

India must be on the right track.

But it also may not be so. Politics, governance, and geopolitics are complex and do not unfold in a linear manner. We belong to a singularly fortunate generation that has experienced the survival — indeed the successful growth — of independent India. Many nations gave up democracy or transformed into autocracies. Ours has remained democratic, despite some inevitable weak spots and frailties. This is a remarkable achievement for a country as large as ours.

Leaders of all varieties assume that being appointed or elected implies that they automatically become good listeners. From our careers, we can confirm this to be invalid. In fact, the stronger the leader, the less likely they are to listen. Evidence in the public arena is visible from the national leadership in the US, for example. With much less than majority of the popular votes, leaders often behave as though they have overwhelming support.

If problems linger, protests and civil disturbances erupt. Our generation has experiences and memories of Gandhiji’s and JP’s methods, but the emerging generation has little memory of those. The emergence of the Cockroach Janata Party (CJP) bears evidence of this dramatic change and the youth’s new perspective. Dissatisfaction multiplies when leaders do not listen with empathy; coupled with the explosive popularity of social media, leaders face many challenges.

The problem of exam leaks is not a recent issue — in the last 12 years, we have experienced 1.25 leaks per month. It is no consolation that they occurred earlier too. However, an exam reform committee exists now. What happened to the National Education Policy (2020), Malviya Mission Teacher Training Programme (2023), and K Radhakrishnan Committee (2024) on accreditation? The remarkable instant reaction of 20 million people to a random Instagram message is indicative of a much larger problem than a dysfunctional examination system.

Associated with it are the lingering developments relating to other youth anxieties — massive educational expansion accompanied by excessive privatisation and skyrocketing costs, deteriorating standards of education, unavailability of jobs, and over-qualification for low-level jobs. The youth’s aspirations have risen, but delivery does not match them. Luckily, issues of housing, food, and women’s income are mitigated by a variety of schemes run by the government.

Leaders of all varieties assume that being appointed or elected implies that they automatically become good listeners. From our careers, we can confirm this to be invalid

AMOL AGRAWAL

The authors teaches at the National Institute of Securities Markets

IN FEBRUARY 1956, US economist Robert Solow published a model to understand economic growth, which was followed by Australian economist Trevor Swan in November that year. The nine-month delay and Swan’s inhibitions led the model to be dubbed as the Solow model. On its 70th anniversary, it remains central to current debates around the impact of artificial intelligence (AI) on the global economy. It is a remarkable coincidence that the term AI was coined by the computer scientist, John McCarthy, in 1956.

The question of growth has occupied attention of most economists since Adam Smith published a book in 1776 with the title An Inquiry into the Nature and Causes of the Wealth of Nations. Smith’s wealth of nations was driven by division of labour and freer markets. In 1798, Thomas Robert Malthus’s pessimistic prognosis overshadowed everything. Malthus opined that as land is limited, growth in agriculture will be lesser than growth in population, leading to widespread hunger and poverty.

Malthusian thought, even though highly despised, was not wrong as there was barely any growth for most part of human history. Growth engines started sputtering after the industrial revolution in the 18th century and gained pace in the 19th century. High growth led to the rise of large industries, and it was characterised by unequal growth. The debates shifted to Marxism which argued that large-scale-driven capitalism is doomed to fail. Marx was later joined by Joseph Schumpeter who argued that creative destruction will destroy capitalism.

The above mentioned growth descriptions were based on a grand narrative combining history, politics, society, and economics.

In the inter-war period, the narrative approach gradually gave way to building mathematical models to estimate growth. In the 1930s, economist Simon Kuznets developed a measure to estimate national income. After World War II, Keynesian economics became central to economic policy with questions of reviving growth becoming central. Paul Samuelson had joined the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1940 and was writing textbooks based on Keynesian economics using the mathematical approach.

The first growth model was developed by two economists, Roy Harrod and Evsey Domar, independently of each other in 1939 and 1946 respectively. The model based on Keynesian economics links economic growth directly to savings and capital. It states that the rate of growth depends on the savings ratio divided by the capital-output ratio.

The 1956 Solow model built on Harrod-Domar by adding that like capital, labour is also an important factor of growth. So, if a country had higher labour resources it could substitute labour for capital and vice versa. However unlike Har-rod-Domar, the Solow model says that capital accumulation faces diminishing returns. So by simply adding more capital a country cannot generate higher growth. Instead, a country has to make technological progress — a major breakthrough for the model. Until then, while it was understood that technological progress was important for growth, it was not formally a part of the economists’ toolkit. Solow was duly awarded the Nobel Prize in economics in 1987. The model gave three major insights on the wealth of nations.

First, capital accumulation cannot sustain long-term growth because of diminishing returns. As the capital grows, new investment replaces depreciated capital until the economy reaches a steady state where capital per worker stops growing. So higher savings and investments can lead to higher income but not long-term growth.

Second, to break out of the steady state, the economy needs a new technological shock. The model did not explain where the technology comes from and assumed it is an exogenous factor.

Third, the model explains that if both poor and rich countries deploy the same amount of capital, it is the poor ones that will grow faster than the rich nations. This is because rich countries face diminishing returns on capital accumulation whereas poor countries do not face diminishing returns at the start of their growth journey. It also cautions that rich countries which do not strive for technological progress will stagnate, as is the case with most developed countries.

Future economists worked on the limitation of the Solow model — assuming technological shock is manna from heaven. In the 1980s, Paul Romer (2018 Nobel Prize winner) said growth is driven by internal factors such as education and research and development. According to him, even if capital and land diminish, new ideas to organise economic activity remains unlimited. Robert Lucas, the 1995 Nobel Laureate, emphasised the importance of human capital in an economy’s growth, enriching the models. William Nordhaus, a co-winner of the Nobel with Romer, built on the Solow model to add environmental costs of production. The history of growth models from a depressing Malthus to cheering Solow is, in essence, the economic history of humanity as well.

To conclude, how does the Solow model help us assess the impact of AI? Current discussions hover around whether AI is a technology, a capital-augmentation investment, or a labour-replacement shock. Once debates settle which of the three is better suited to AI, we can think about the impact of AI on economic growth. As of now, we find AI everywhere but not in growth. To paraphrase Solow’s famous quip on computers in 1987, “You can see the AI age everywhere but in the productivity statistics.”

JPMORGAN EYES $750-BN HOUSING INVESTMENT

JPMORGAN SAID ON Monday it was planning to deploy more than $750 billion into housing through 2035, in a push to increase supply and support homeownership in the US. The planned deployment is part of JPMorgan's American Dream Initiative, unveiled earlier this year, which also aims to spur local economic growth through increased small-business lending and expanded access to healthcare. JPMorgan will look to boost housing by increasing mortgage lending by more than 40%, aiming to help 500,000 customers buy homes.

CHINESE TECH GIANT INTENSIFIES RACE WITH US AI LEADERS

Alibaba unveils biggest AI model

● Both models push for open weight AI models

CHINA'S ALIBABA ON Monday unveiled its largest and most capable AI model to date, sending its shares surging, while a research firm said DeepSeek's latest product offers cut-throat pricing that is more than 100 times cheaper than Anthropic's Claude Fable 5.

The two developments highlight the rapid pace of advancement in artificial intelligence by Chinese tech firms, which are locked in a fierce and fast-moving battle to build more powerful systems without making them prohibitively expensive to run.

Both models — Alibaba's Qwen3.8-Max and DeepSeek's V4-Flash — underline Chinese commitment to open-weight models as the firms seek to gain traction among developers globally. "Chinese AI companies have found an important market. Many business workflows do not need the industry's very best model," said Lian Jye Su, chief analyst at research firm Omdia. "They need models that are good enough, affordable, transparent and accessible, and open-weight models help meet that demand."

With an open-weight model, the underlying learned settings that allow developers to run or adapt the system are available for download. By contrast, OpenAI, Anthropic and Google have closed-source models.

Alibaba's new Qwen3.8-Max immediately shot up leaderboards assessing the capabilities of AI models after being unveiled on Monday, helping its shares jump 7% in Hong Kong trade.

The model has 2.4 trillion parameters, the numerical settings a model learns from data and uses to recognise patterns, generate answers, and carry out tasks. That puts it not too far behind domestic rival Moonshot AI's Kimi K3, which was launched last month and has 2.8 trillion parameters.

China steps up chip design protection

CHINA HAS REVISED regulations protecting integrated-circuit layout designs, tightening registration standards and allowing punitive damages for serious infringement, as Beijing seeks to safeguard domestic chip know-how. Revised rules signed by Premier Li Qiang on July 23, will apply from October 15, the Justice Ministry and China National IP Administration said on Monday.

The rules cover detailed chip layouts that reflect substantial engineering work and are central to semiconductor development even for companies that do not manufacture chips themselves.

Oil prices drop 5% to three-week low

OIL PRICES FELL about 5% to a three-week low on Monday after US President Donald Trump held off on a fresh attack on Iran in the hope of sealing a quick deal that could boost oil supplies from the Gulf. Brent futures fell $4.41, or 5.0%, to $83.52 a barrel at 10:39 am EDT, while US West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude fell $5.18, or 6.1%, to $79.49. That put Brent on track for its lowest close since July 13.

Iran said on Monday there were no talks underway with the United States and no plans for any meetings, contradicting Trump who had cited talks he said would take place that afternoon as justification for calling off attacks.

Over the weekend, Trump repeated a pattern that has emerged throughout the past five months: announcing plans for "massive attacks" on Iran, only to cancel them at the last minute. "Would I rather make a deal? I'm not looking to kill people," Trump said aboard Air Force One on Sunday. "Now what we're doing is talking to them, in the form of a negotiation. It begins tomorrow afternoon," he said, without identifying a venue or participants for such talks.

Hormuz talks ongoing after Trump calls off strikes: Iran

OMAR TAMO & ELTAF NAJAFIZADA August 3

IRAN SUGGESTED NEGOTIATIONS with Oman to get more ships moving through the Strait of Hormuz are making progress, but US President Donald Trump expressed renewed frustration after calling off what he said was a major attack on the Islamic Republic. Oil fell on Monday, with Brent crude down about 4.6% to just over $83 a barrel, after Iran's foreign minister, Abbas Araghchi, said discussions between Tehran and Muscat over management of the strait are in the final stages.

The discussions with Oman are about a "temporary" route to ensure the safety of ships, Esmail Baghaei, an Iranian foreign ministry spokesman, said on Monday. "We are not currently negotiating with US." That elicited an angry response from Trump, who called the Iranian leadership "incredibly duplicitous." He said talks had taken place and more

Iran has shown no sign of allowing vessels free passage through the Strait of Hormuz, which Trump has demanded. Instead, Iran said it's talking to Oman about a new route and not about whether the strait as a whole will be open or closed.

Last week, Bloomberg reported that Muscat and Tehran were discussing reopening the so-called middle passage through Hormuz. It has, however, been mined by Iran, according to people familiar with the matter, and could have to be cleared before vessels use it on a regular basis.

US manufacturing grows at strongest pace since 2022

BLOOMBERG August 3

US MANUFACTURING ACTIVITY expanded in July at the fastest pace in more than four years as demand remained strong, production surged and firms added workers. The Institute for Supply Management's July manufacturing gauge rose to 55.6, the highest since May 2022, according to data out Monday. Readings above 50 indicate growth, and the sector has now been above that mark for seven consecutive months.

The gauge for production rose to 58.5, its highest level since late 2021, while the employment measure indicated manufacturers increased headcount for the first time since September 2023. New orders growth—a sign of demand — also picked up. The manufacturing sector has gained momentum this year, with factories benefiting from resilient consumer demand, solid business investment and government outlays on defense.

Susan Spence, chair of the ISM Manufacturing Business Survey Committee, said sustained demand, more certainty around tariffs and expectations that war-related disruptions would fade tipped companies toward hiring. The last burst of hiring, in September 2023, lasted only a month.

All but one manufacturing industry reported growth in July, with chemical products being the only sector that contracted. Printing, apparel and electrical equipment were among the industries that grew.

Amazon enters $3-trn club as AI powers rally

AMAZON'S MARKET VALUE topped $3 trillion for the first time on Monday, helped by a sharp rally following strong earnings and signs that the AI boom is driving fresh demand for its cloud-computing services, the company's main profit engine. Its shares were last up 5% at $285.01, hitting a record high. They have gained over 23% so far this year.

Last week, the shares recorded the biggest one-day jump since April 2012 after the Seattle-based e-commerce and cloud computing giant delivered its strongest cloud growth in more than four years and raised its annual capital spending forecast.

"Amazon is probably the most emblematic of the economy right now. It's a consumer story and it's an AI story," said Mark Hackett, chief market strategist at Nationwide.

● What exactly is network slicing?

NETWORK SLICING IS a feature of standalone 5G that enables telecom operators to create multiple virtual networks, or slices, on the same physical infrastructure. Each slice can be configured to deliver different levels of speed, latency, reliability, or security depending on the application. Think of it as creating dedicated lanes on the same highway. A factory operating automated machines, a hospital performing remote surgery, and an ordinary smartphone user can all use the same 5G network, but each can be assigned a separate virtual lane with performance tailored to their needs. The capability is part of global 5G standards and is already supported by operators that have deployed standalone 5G networks.

● How is it a policy issue now?

THE TRIGGER WAS Airtel's launch of a priority network experience for eligible postpaid subscribers. Although the service does not charge customers separately for network slicing, it promises a better network experience during periods of congestion. That has raised questions over whether offering differentiated quality of service to one set of users is consistent with net neutrality framework, which requires Internet traffic to be treated equally. The debate, therefore, is not about whether network slicing is technically permissible. It is about whether its commercial use for retail consumers fits within the existing regulatory framework or requires fresh policy clarity.

NET NEUTRALITY

Why 5G network slicing is back in the spotlight

The debate over 5G network slicing has resurfaced after Airtel rolled out a priority network service for select postpaid users, while reports now suggest the government is reviewing the net neutrality framework. Network slicing has always been an integral part of standalone 5G, so why the debate? Rishi Raj explains

● Why are telcos looking at consumer use?

WHEN OPERATORS INVESTED heavily in 5G spectrum and infrastructure, they expected enterprise services to become a key source of new revenue. Manufacturing, logistics, ports, mining, healthcare, and utilities were seen as sectors that would pay for guaranteed network performance via capabilities like network slicing. That has yet to materialise. Telecom firms themselves have acknowledged that 5G monetisation hasn't happened. Against this backdrop, operators have started exploring consumer offerings built on the same technology to improve customer experience and strengthen subscriber loyalty. Airtel's priority service is widely seen as one such attempt.

NETWORK SLICING ENABLES OPERATORS TO CREATE MULTIPLE VIRTUAL NETWORKS ON ONE PHYSICAL INFRASTRUCTURE

500 mn

5G USERS IN INDIA AFTER ITS LAUNCH IN OCTOBER 2022; THE GOVT AIMS TO EXPAND THE USERBASE TO 1 BILLION BY 2030

● Is Airtel monetising network slicing?

NOT DIRECTLY. AIRTEL is not charging customers separately for access to a network slice. Instead, the capability is bundled with select postpaid plans. The objective appears to be to make premium postpaid plans more attractive, encourage high-value prepaid users to migrate to postpaid, reduce churn, and improve average revenue per user (Arpu). In effect, Airtel is using network slicing to differentiate its premium plans rather than selling it as a standalone service.

● What could happen next?

THE GOVERNMENT'S REVIEW may focus on whether existing rules require clarification rather than whether network slicing itself should be permitted. One option could be to define specialised services more clearly while putting in place safeguards to ensure that ordinary users do not experience a deterioration in service quality. Another could be to prescribe transparency requirements for operators offering differentiated services. For telecom operators, the outcome could shape how future 5G services are commercialised. For consumers, it could determine whether premium connectivity becomes another feature of mobile plans or whether a uniform Internet experience for all users continues.

● What are regulators likely to examine?

THE CENTRAL QUESTION is whether differentiated connectivity amounts to discrimination under India's net neutrality framework. One view is that network slicing is a standard 5G capability and does not violate net neutrality as long as it remains application-agnostic and does not favour or block specific websites, apps, or content providers. The opposing concern is whether offering priority connectivity to customers on premium plans effectively creates a two-tier Internet, even if no individual application is being treated differently. The challenge for regulator or DoT is to distinguish between specialised services enabled by 5G and public Internet access that remains subject to net neutrality rules.

● So, what's the debate about?

ULTIMATELY, THE DEBATE is as much about business models as it is about technology or regulation. Network slicing has been part of the 5G ecosystem from the outset. The bigger question is whether it can finally help telecom operators generate meaningful returns on their 5G investments without weakening the principles of an open Internet. The answer will shape not just how operators price and package future 5G services, but also how the regulator balances innovation with consumer choice and an open, non-discriminatory Internet.

LNG imports rise as buyers turn to US, Oman, Nigeria

SUKALP SHARMA
New Delhi, August 3

AGILITY IN RAMPING up Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) imports from regions that were not impacted by the Strait of Hormuz crisis helped India import higher volumes of the super-chilled gas in the May-July period, after seeing a dip in import volumes in March and April — the initial two months of the West Asia war, according to latest ship-tracking data.

Even as the effective closure of the strait forced a crash in LNG imports from India's largest supplier Qatar, the ramp-up in cargoes from a diversified pool of sources, including the US, Oman, Nigeria and Angola, came to the rescue.

While some major LNG importing countries reduced imports amid sky-high prices due to the regional conflict and the disruption in maritime movements via the critical chokepoint, India prioritised supplies over price considerations amid demand from various sectors, which include city gas distribution (CGD), fertiliser, power and ceramics.

The country's LNG imports in May-July rose 15.4% over the year-ago period to 7.08 million tonnes, according to an analysis of ship-tracking data from commodity market analytics firm Kpler. In March-April, the import volumes had declined by almost 13% from the year-ago period.

India depends on LNG imports to meet about half of its natural gas requirement, and about 60% of those imports came through the Strait of Hormuz, primarily from Qatar and also the UAE. The two Gulf countries are major LNG exporters at the global level as well.

Vessel movement through the strait — the narrow waterway between Iran and Oman that connects the Persian Gulf with the Gulf of Oman and the Arabian Sea — has been heavily disrupted due to the conflict. The strait is a major transit point for energy flows, usually accounting for a fifth of global oil and LNG shipments.

With 2.19 million tonnes of supply, the US was the top source of LNG for India in May-July, followed by Nigeria at 1.31 million tonnes, Oman at 1.22 million tonnes, and Angola at 0.80 million tonnes, the data shows.

LNG imports from the US jumped 252.8% year-on-year (y-o-y), while those from Oman were higher by 340.9%. Imports from Nigeria and Angola were higher by 123.8% and 71.3%, respectively.

In 2025, the average monthly LNG imports from the US were just 0.2 million tonnes, while those from Nigeria, Oman, and Angola were 0.1 million tonnes, 0.2 million tonnes, and 0.1 million tonnes, respectively.

Prashant Kishor-led JSP wins Bankipur bypoll in Bihar

BRINGING THE BJP'S three-decade-run in Patna's Bankipur Assembly constituency to an end, Jan Surraaj Party (JSP) founder Prashant Kishor wrested the seat from the ruling party in an Assembly bypoll on Monday. Kishor defeated his nearest rival Neeraj Kumar of the BJP by 19,324 votes. In his first comments after the win, Kishor said the BJP's "30-year fortress has collapsed in just 30 days".

The political strategist-turned-JSP leader had framed this election as a "referendum" on the tenure of CM Samrat Choudhary, who assumed office in April. Kishor said the BJP-led ruling alliance should have appointed a CM "with an unblemished image".

The loss is a setback for the BJP since its national president Nitin Nabin, and before him his late father Nabin Kishore Prasad Sinha, were the dominant figures in this urban constituency. In 2008, Bankipur was primarily carved out of the Patna West that Nabin Kishore won from 1995 until his death in 2006. —ENS

Captive, commercial coal output rises 9.6% in July

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, August 3

COAL PRODUCTION FROM captive and commercial mines rose 9.61% year-on-year to 14.78 million tonnes (MT) in July from 13.48 MT a year earlier, boosting domestic supplies amid the government's push to reduce reliance on imports.

Dispatches from these mines exceeded production during the month, reaching 17.49 MT.

The performance extended the sector's growth momentum amid improved operational efficiency, higher mining productivity and better utilisation of available capacities.

Cumulative production during the first four months of FY27 increased 6.29% to 63.16 MT from 59.42 MT in April-July of FY26. Production was also 17.57% higher than 53.72 MT recorded during the same period of FY25.

Coal dispatches rose to 70.14 MT during April-July of FY27, compared with 66.02 MT in

The coal ministry said it would continue its efforts to unlock the sector's potential by addressing supply-side constraints

FY26 and 45.97 MT in FY25. Dispatches grew 6.24% year-on-year and were 52.57% above the FY25 level, highlighting the expanding role of captive and commercial mines in meeting the country's energy and industrial demand.

The sustained increase in domestic output is expected to reduce dependence on imported coal, conserve foreign exchange and strengthen supply-chain resilience. Coal remains a critical raw material for power generation and energy-intensive industries, making higher production and timely dispatch essential for energy security.

The coal ministry said it would continue its efforts to unlock the sector's potential by addressing supply-side constraints and improving coal availability through policy interventions, regulatory oversight, and stakeholders' support.

BIS: Over 120 products off mandatory quality orders

THE GAUBA COMMITTEE made two major recommendations relating to BIS. The first was to extend licence validity and simplify renewals. "We have increased the licence validity period to five years from one or two years earlier. Licences are renewed automatically online, while manufacturers continue to pay fees annually instead of paying five years' fees upfront. This reduces the financial burden on industry," Garg said.

The second recommendation related to BIS's certification framework. While the committee proposed merging BIS's 10 certification schemes into two, BIS felt a complete merger was not feasible because different schemes cater to different products and are aligned with international practices. Instead, the schemes have been grouped into two broad categories—those requiring factory inspection and those that do not. "Our regulations also specify that factory inspection schemes should ordinarily be used only for products involving health, safety or security concerns," he added. Some ministries have begun following these guidelines.

In October 2025, the Gauba committee on non-financial deregulation recommended rolling back most QCOs on raw materials, intermediates, and capital goods, saying the system inflates costs but does not necessarily improve safety. The committee found that India's rapid expansion of QCOs—though aimed at improving quality—led to supply shortages, higher input costs, and long certification delays, especially for MSMEs. Many QCOs cover raw materials that pose no direct safety or environmental risk, making such regulation unnecessary. The committee noted that most countries use voluntary or buyer-based standards, while India's overregulation has distorted manufacturing and trade efficiency.

Garg clarified that BIS has implemented recommended changes falling within its mandate. "As far as BIS is concerned, QCOs are issued by the respective line ministries, not by us... BIS formulates standards and administers certification," he said. BIS standards remain voluntary until a ministry notifies them as mandatory through a QCO under the BIS Act.

Responding to industry concerns that mandatory quality norms for raw materials and intermediate goods raise production costs, Garg said, "I do not fully agree with that interpretation. QCOs are intended to ensure quality, irrespective of whether the product is imported or manufactured domestically." "As India moves towards becoming a developed country by 2047, domestic industry also has to upgrade its quality standards. Consumers cannot be expected to continue using sub-standard products," the official said. To ease compliance, BIS has introduced fee concessions of up to 80% for micro enterprises, removed the requirement for in-house testing laboratories and is funding common testing infrastructure for MSME clusters.

While BIS has framed over 24,000 standards, only 624 are mandatory through QCOs issued by the ministries. "It is for the respective ministry to decide whether a standard should remain voluntary or be made mandatory," Garg added.

Highlighting the benefits of QCOs for the industry, he cited the toy sector for instance where imports have fallen by more than 70% since compulsory QCOs were introduced and India has become a net exporter.

Similar improvements have been recorded in footwear, underscoring the role of quality standards in boosting domestic manufacturing and export competitiveness.

India powers SAP's AI push

"SECONDLY, ADOPTION OF the technology is best driven in a structure where a cross-topic approach across applications is dominant," he added.

India's mandate has since expanded beyond embedding AI into existing products to building the next generation of AI agents for finance, procurement, manufacturing and human resources. Among the flagship projects are agents that automate the financial close—cutting the days of manual effort that finance teams spend reconciling statements before audits — alongside similar agents for procurement, HR and manufacturing. The Bengaluru centre is also home to teams working on Joule engineering, AI security and SAP's Business Data Cloud, the layers that together underpin the company's AI-first technology stack.

The shift has been more than two decades in the making. When Miles joined SAP in 2000, the India centre had about 500 employees and largely executed engineering plans drawn up in Germany. As India's talent pool deepened and responsibilities expanded, the centre moved into product management, architecture and global technology leadership. Today, chief product officers, product managers and chief architects based in Bengaluru help define SAP's product roadmap worldwide—deciding what gets built, not just how.

Cost still counts, Miles conceded, but it is no longer the point. "It would be wrong to say that India's cost advantage doesn't make it appealing because we still have that benefit. But the difference from the 90s and early 2000s is that companies now look beyond cost because we offer a combination of talent, speed and technological capability. All of these factors are pivotal to progress in AI," he said.

Bill for MDR on UPI...

THE PROPOSED MDR on UPI payments accepted by large merchants is not expected to exceed 0.5% of the transaction value, sources had said.

However, merchants and businesses with an annual turnover of up to ₹1.5 crore are likely to be exempt from the levy, irrespective of the transaction amount, to protect small merchants.

MDR is a fee paid by businesses to payment processors for accepting digital payments.

Centre offers new tax breaks...

HOWEVER, TO STEM the revenue loss from this change, the Bill proposes raising the surcharge on SPVs opting for the new tax regime to 25% from 10%. The surcharge for other domestic companies will remain unchanged at 10%.

The Bill also proposes to simplify the tax exemption for foreign companies procuring services from a specified data centre till March 2047. There won't be any requirement for a separate Central government notification in this regard, the Bill states. It also allows a lease model for data centres, besides ownership model, for an Indian company partnering with a foreign firm.

The Centre is looking to give additional tax concessions to investors at a time when India has seen significant outflows of foreign capital, and domestic investment momentum is below potential. In June, the government and the Reserve Bank of India announced several measures to attract overseas capital. These included scrapping capital gains and withholding taxes for foreign portfolio investments in government securities, effective April 1, 2026. The Bill proposes to convert the Ordinance issued earlier in this regard into law.

"While these amendments cover diverse areas, from fund management to electronics manufacturing, they appear to be driven by a common objective," said Vishwas Panjari, managing partner, SVAS Business Advisors LLP. "Taken together, these changes point to a broader policy direction where the tax framework is being used not merely to raise revenue or provide incentives, but to strengthen India's investment ecosystem and enable the country to capitalise on opportunities arising from evolving global supply chains and geopolitical developments," he added.

The government has proposed tax exemptions for foreign companies providing capital goods and equipment to contract manufacturers for use in electronic manufacturing in India till March 31, 2041, extending the earlier tax break by 10 years.

The Bill also exempts tax with the same timeline for foreign companies which store components in a warehouse in a custom bonded area and provide them to a contract manufacturer for manufacturing specified electronic goods. It proposes a tax exemption on sale of rough diamonds till March 2041 for foreign diamond mining companies and related entities.

The Bill also proposes a defined list of specified electronic goods' such as mobile phones, laptops, and tablets, replacing the broad reference to 'electronic goods'. "By expressly defining the eligible product categories, the Bill is expected to reduce interpretational disputes, while the extended exemption provides long-term tax certainty for global manufacturers," said Amit Maheshwari, managing partner, AKM Global.

In addition, the Bill also proposes to amend the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007, removing reference of the old and now repealed Income-tax Act. It gives the government the power to restrain all banks or system providers from imposing any charge on a person paying or receiving any amount using a notified electronic mode of payment, said Sumeet Hemkar, partner, Deloitte India.

It also proposes to simplify the tax exemption for foreign companies procuring data centre services from a specified data centre till March 2047. There won't be a requirement for a separate Central government notification in this regard, the Bill states.

It also allows a lease model of ownership of data centres, and not just the ownership model, to be operated by Indian company partnering with a foreign firm.

"By reducing procedural hurdles and recognising leased facilities, the proposal is expected to improve the ease of doing business, encourage investment in India's digital infrastructure, and support the continued growth of the country's data centre ecosystem," Maheshwari said.

The Bill proposes relaxing the eligibility conditions for an Eligible Investment Fund (EIF) managed by an Indian fund manager to avail tax exemption on its global income.

As per the proposal, offshore funds would no longer need to satisfy a minimum investor threshold of 25 members, a maximum 10% participation interest for a single investor, an aggregate participation cap of 50% for 10 or fewer investors, and a restriction on investing more than 25% of the corpus in a single entity.

The government also proposed that offshore funds would no longer have restrictions on investments in associate entities and a minimum monthly average corpus requirement of ₹100 crore.

"These changes should give the much needed flexibility to fund managers and significantly enhance India's competitiveness as a fund management destination for both India-focused and global investment strategies," said Tejas Desai, partner and financial services tax leader, EY India.

RISKS TO INVESTORS

Summary Description of Key Risk Factors Based on Materiality

- Our revenues are highly dependent on a limited number of broadcasters, Film studios and streaming platforms. The loss of, or a significant reduction in orders from, any of our major customers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.
- The success of our business is dependent on the commercial viability of our television shows, web-series and films, which is inherently unpredictable and subject to audience preferences.
- The production of television, film and OTT/Digital content is a complex process, and we are subject to risks such as production delays and cost overruns.
- Our strategy to shift from a commission model to owning and monetising intellectual property (IP) increases capital intensity and earnings volatility; success depends on the performance of the underlying content and monetisation windows.
- We derive a majority of our revenues from a limited number of customers, including broadcasters, film studios, OTT platforms and distributors.
- Our rapid growth and planned expansion into new content formats may strain our financial and operational resources and adversely affect our performance.
- We do not own our registered office premises and rely on leased/leave and license arrangements for certain facilities.
- We do not own the intellectual property rights for our television and Over-the-Top (OTT) content as we operate on a 'cost-plus' model. This limits our ability to generate long-term revenue streams from our content library and makes us dependent on the continuous commissioning of new projects from broadcasters and platforms.
- Our Company has negative cash flows from its operating, investing and financing activities in the past years, details of which are given below. Sustained negative cash flow could impact on our growth and business.
- We are dependent on our Promoter, senior management, and availability of key creative talent.

Lutyens' Delhi homes enter the $100-mn club

RANJANI RAGHAVAN
August 3

IN THE SUMMER of 2024, billionaire Lakshmi Mittal's wife, Usha, sent word to their next-door neighbours of royal lineage on New Delhi's APJ Abdul Kalam Road, asking them over for an evening of tea. It was a curious invitation to send to the family that once ruled Alwar. Led by the octogenarian Yashwant Singh, the Singhs had made this ultra-exclusive neighbourhood, Lutyens Delhi, their permanent residence since 1971. By the end of the evening, Mittal delicately broached the idea of potentially buying Singh's 95-year-old mansion, sources said. It would help the steel magnate expand his property by adding a contiguous piece of land, they added.

The Singhs had already been toying with the idea of a sale as their colonial-era estate was getting harder to maintain, the sources said. Spread over 32,000 sq ft, it had high ceilings and lawns that needed a large staff to maintain. The request galvanised the process and the Singhs' ancestral property was sold to a firm controlled by Mittal for ₹310 crore in June 2025, property filings show. The Singhs and Mittals declined to comment.

Such transactions are helping shape Lutyens Delhi into ground zero for big-ticket real estate purchases by billionaires and millionaires seeking proximity to the corridors of power.

It's part of a broader push into prime real estate by affluent homebuyers that has defied a slowdown in more affordable segments of the market, putting a spotlight on the expansive gap between the rich and the rest in one of the country.

The Delhi neighbourhood is particularly prized because it's a high-security zone that also houses the prime minister, president, ministers and most senior judges.

The Singh-Mittal transaction could be dwarfed soon as Subhash Chandra, chairman of the Essel Group, has been in talks to sell his bungalow in Lutyens for an unprecedented ₹1,260 crore, according to a local media report. If it does close, this would be one of the largest sales in India's luxury housing market. Chandra declined to comment.

The latest discussions by Chandra and other sellers have the potential to make Lutyens Bungalow Zone (LBZ) — a 26-sq-km heritage neighbourhood in central Delhi known for tree-lined boulevards and vibrant flower beds — one of the most expensive housing districts in the world.

Roughly 18 bungalow transactions were closed in 2024 and 21 in 2025, according to data compiled by real estate analytics firm CRE Matrix. While only eight deals have happened this year so far, the ticket size is becoming larger. At least two deals exceeding $100 million have been under discussion, the sources said.

LBZ's origins as the seat of power can be traced back to 1912 when the British Empire moved their India headquarters from Calcutta to Delhi. British architect Edwin Lutyens was tasked with building a 'New Delhi' right next to the medieval older Delhi. What emerged was a blend of European and Indian architectural elements in a visually-striking neighbourhood with wide colonnades and tree-lined avenues. This elite government conclave, with an extremely tight supply of private residential bungalows — less than a 1,000 — is collectively referred to as the LBZ.

"While broader luxury markets may face cycles of exuberance and correction, this enclave operates under a different economic logic: extreme scarcity," said Diptayan Roy, senior vice president at real estate consultancy Jones Lang LaSalle India.

Deals in LBZ defy the usual real estate metrics of affordability or mortgage demand and are more about the bragging rights of owning a piece of storied past. "It is driven by wealth preservation, political adjacency, generational capital allocation and the concentration of Indian wealth," Roy said.

Billionaires' Row

Gautam Adani's conglomerate bought a villa in 2020 on Bhagwan Das Road for about ₹400 crore when the heritage property was put on the block by a bankruptcy court, according to a local report. An Adani spokesperson didn't respond to a request for comment.

The billionaire Jindal family also owns a mansion. All that makes LBZ somewhat like the Billionaires' Row in London's Hampstead, well known for its wealthy residents. While a mega-million-dollar reshuffle is afoot in Lutyens Delhi, so are the complications of living too close to the power center.

Earlier this year, the central government cancelled the lease of Delhi Gymkhana Club, one of the country's most storied and exclusive colonial-era social clubs. Founded by the British in 1913 for army officers and civil servants, the elite club was ordered to hand over the 27-acre site, saying the land is located in a "sensitive and strategic area" that needs to be reclaimed for public use.

This kerfuffle has brought the spotlight on the risks of bungalows built on leased land in LBZ. Many of the LBZ bungalows that are being considered by buyers are leasehold properties. In leasehold properties, the ownership rests with the government and lessees get to use the property for 99 years versus freehold, where the owner has permanent rights on the property and the land.

While the government hasn't seized leased land from a private home owner, the Gymkhana episode has shown that the power it can wield and that's tempered some of the hectic deal making in LBZ.

Buyers are waiting for the Land and Development Office in Delhi to resume processing applications seeking freehold conversion, according to JLL's Roy. Conversion to freehold will also spur value appreciation of these properties, he said. The neighbourhood already has a lot of restrictions on renovating heritage buildings.

Most of the buyers in the area are industrialists or families with at least ₹400-500 crore to spare, according to Harry Chawla, managing partner at Luthra and Luthra, a law firm which is running five ongoing transactions in the LBZ.

'Most searched word'

Ravi Jaipuria's family — the founders of RJ Corp and Varun Beverages — are among those keen to buy LBZ mansions, sources said. RJ Corp did not respond to a request for comment.

This shows that the enthusiasm in snapping up bungalows in Modi's backyard has not been punctured. "Lutyens is the most searched word on our website," said Rohit Chopra, founder of real estate advisory, South Delhi Prime.com. BLOOMBERG

Odisha seeks UNESCO tag for Jagannath Rath Yatra

A TIMELESS CIVILISATIONAL tradition that embodies India's rich cultural diversity, inclusivity, spirituality, craftsmanship and community participation. That's what the Odisha government has called the Jagannath Rath Yatra as it seeks the Centre's intervention to have it included in the UNESCO List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.

In a letter to the Union Culture and Tourism Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat on August 1, Odisha Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi said the Rath Yatra attracts millions of devotees and visitors from across the globe and stands as one of the most enduring symbols of India's living heritage. "Its inscription on UNESCO's List would further strengthen global recognition of India's rich intangible cultural traditions," Majhi said, adding that the Rath Yatra has been observed for 800 years. ENS

Spider-Man lands top opening weekend ever with $360 mn

● Beats Marvel's Avengers: Endgame

BLOOMBERG
August 3

SPIDER-MAN: BRAND NEW Day scored the largest opening weekend in Hollywood history, with fans flocking to theaters to beat the summer heat and see the latest film starring Tom Holland as a superhero with arachnid-like powers.

The picture took in $360 million in US and Canadian theaters over the weekend, according to revised estimates released on Monday. That's more than double this year's previous biggest debut, April's The Super Mario Galaxy Movie.

Distributed by Sony Pictures Entertainment and produced in partnership with Walt Disney's Marvel Studios, Brand New Day topped Marvel's Avengers: Endgame to seize the crown for biggest opening weekend ever. That 2019 picture debuted to $357.1 million domestically and went on to gross $2.8 billion at the global box office.

The new Spider-Man film took an additional $572 million in theaters internationally, setting all-time opening records in markets that included France, India and Brazil, according to Sony.

While some other superheroes have stumbled in theaters, Spider-Man has never lost his powers. Sony's films based on the character have grossed billions of dollars since the early 2000s and the everyman-turned-crime stopper has become a crucial fixture in the Marvel Cinematic Universe, Hollywood's most successful franchise in history.

Sony has managed to keep the characters fresh, substituting different actors for the lead role and introducing new villains to attract younger generations of viewers. It has also experimented with the format, including two animated films that also performed well. A TV series that reimagined the character as a film noir detective starring Nicolas Cage aired on Amazon's Prime Video this year.

The current film is a departure from the multiverse theme that populated some of Marvel's earlier installments, instead telling a story about an isolated man torn between his duty to serve the city and his desire for personal connection.

That plot line resonated with audiences. Brand New Day scored 90% with critics and 98% with regular viewers according to Rotten Tomatoes. The film, which was forecast by industry tracker Boxoffice Pro to open to at least $280 million in ticket sales.
