INDIA ON THE WATCH AS DISRUPTIONS WIDEN TO 3 SHIPPING ROUTES

Oil crosses $100 again

● Prices shoot up following Houthi attack on tankers

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, July 23

BRENT CRUDE SURPASSED $100 a barrel on Thursday, its highest since May 22, as disruptions across the Strait of Hormuz, Red Sea and the Black Sea tightened supplies, threatening to raise India's crude, freight, tanker and insurance costs. Unless the situation de-escalates soon, India's fiscal pressures, which seemed to abate after the now-aborted US-Iran ceasefire deal could re-emerge. Brent futures rose $6.64, or 7%, to $100.71 a barrel at 14:52 GMT (20:22 IST), exceeding $100 for the first time since late May. The global crude oil benchmark has risen nearly 40% this month and was in technically overbought territory for a ninth day in a row, the first time since September 2023.

The latest jump followed attacks claimed by Iran-backed Houthi militants on two Saudi oil tankers in the Red Sea. Risks were compounded by continuing attacks around Hormuz, renewed US strikes on Iran and Kazakhstan's decision to halt crude exports via the Caspian Pipeline Consortium terminal. The pressure is already visible in India's crude costs. The Indian basket surged $24.98 a barrel, or 36.6%, in 19 days,

Infosys taps insider Dash as next CEO

POULOMI CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, July 23

INFOSYS ON THURSDAY named company insider Ashish Kumar Dash as its CEO-designate, setting in motion a leadership transition that will see him succeed Salil Parekh as managing director and chief executive officer from April 1, 2027. The appointment marks a return to an internal successor after the company's last two CEOs, Vishal Sikka and Parekh, were external hires.

Dash, currently executive vice-president and global head of services, utilities, resources, energy & enterprise sustainability, has been appointed for a five-year term ending March 31, 2032, subject to shareholder approval. Parekh, whose second five-year term concludes on March 31, 2027, will continue to lead the company until then, allowing for a nearly eight-month transition period.

The board unanimously backed Dash following a structured succession planning process, with Chairman Nandan Nilekani saying the company wanted a leader capable of driving transformation while preserving Infosys' values and customer trust. The board was pleased to appoint an internal leader to the role at a time the IT industry is entering a period of considerable change, he added.

Sebi seeks to woo wealthy investors with MF-only PMS

KUSHAN SHAH
Mumbai, July 23

IN A MOVE to attract affluent investors to mutual funds, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Thursday proposed creating a mutual fund-only portfolio management service (MF-PMS) category.

Under the proposed framework, portfolio managers will invest exclusively in mutual fund products, with the minimum investment threshold set at ₹25 lakh, compared with ₹50 lakh for conventional PMS. Investments will be made in direct plans of mutual funds, including exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and specialised investment funds (SIFs). Portfolio managers seeking to operate exclusively within the securities permitted under the MF-PMS framework will be required to obtain a separate registration. Sebi has also proposed reducing the minimum net worth requirement for portfolio managers to ₹2 crore from ₹5 crore.

The MF-PMS framework will be exempt from exit loads, similar to existing PMS portfolios, to ensure that investors do not pay exit loads twice. A Balasubramaniam, MD and CEO, Aditya Birla Sun Life Mutual Fund, said the proposed framework was a sign of innovation and would give registered investment advisers (RIAs) and mutual fund distributors greater flexibility to

New Saatvik and Ahimsa indices promise returns without moral indigestion

Karma meets CAGR as Dalal Street turns virtuous

KUSHAN SHAH
Mumbai, July 23

FOR DECADES, GLOBAL markets have had a name for profiting from vice: "sin stocks"—tobacco, liquor and gambling businesses that have often proved inconveniently rewarding. India's exchanges have now placed the opposite bet. In the past month, the BSE and the NSE have launched two values-based indices—the BSE Saatvik 100 and the NSE 500 Ahimsa—wagering that virtue, too, can compound annually.

The Saatvik 100 is built for investors who would like their portfolios to observe roughly

INVESTING WITH A CONSCIENCE

■ BSE Saatvik 100 rests on three principles—non-violence, compassion for living beings, and avoidance of toxic and addictive products and habits

■ The index excludes companies across 35 basic industries

■ NSE 500 Ahimsa takes a more traffic-signal approach, sorting Nifty 500 companies into Green, Orange and Red bands according to their involvement with animal harm

■ Only the Green band—firms in IT, telecom, media, auto components and cement—makes the cut the same discipline as their kitchens. Its rules-based methodology rests on three principles—non-violence, compassion for living beings, and avoidance of toxic and addictive products and habits—and, to enforce them, shows the door to companies across 35 basic industries. Never before has so much of corporate India been excluded on grounds of temperament.

The NSE 500 Ahimsa takes a more traffic-signal approach to the Nifty 500, sorting companies into Green, Orange and Red bands according to their involvement with animal harm. Only the Green band—businesses with little or no such involvement, including IT, telecom, media, auto components and cement—makes the cut. The Red band includes meat, poultry, eggs and dairy, leather, and certain drugs and cosmetics. The Orange band is where moral ambiguity goes to do business: the FMCG major with a ghee line, the clothing company with a modest leather problem.

The exchanges are not merely being pious; they may be onto a market. Venkatachalam Shunmugam, partner at MCQube and former head of research and index administration at MCX, says the indices could bring an ethical investment framework rooted in Indian principles such as ahimsa to domestic and foreign investors, including institutions with ethical mandates. Prasanna Pathak, deputy CEO of The Wealth Company Mutual Fund, sees scope for index-linked products aimed at values-driven retail investors, HNIs and family offices looking beyond conventional thematic funds.

NO PLAN TO RESTORE E0/E10 PETROL: GOVT

PREMIUM GRADES OF petrol sold by state-run fuel retailers will continue to be supplied without ethanol blending, the government said on Thursday, adding that it has not taken any decision to increase ethanol blending in petrol beyond 20% and there is no proposal to restore the supply of E0 or E10 petrol. Premium petrol grades - Indian Oil Corp's XP100, Hindustan Petroleum's poWer100 and Bharat Petroleum's Speed100 - are not blended with ethanol because they are niche fuels containing specialised performance-enhancing additives and account for only about 0.5% of total petrol sales, Minister of State for Petroleum and Natural Gas Suresh Gopi said in written replies to questions in the Lok Sabha.

Income of farmers up significantly: EAC-PM chief

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, July 23

INDIAN AGRICULTURAL GROWTH has been the highest among the large economies in the last decade, resulting in significant increase in farmers' income, Economic Advisory Council to Prime Minister (EAC-PM) Chairman S Mahendra Dev said on Thursday.

Addressing an event organised by International Chamber of Commerce, Dev said India achieved significant progress in agriculture production since the green revolution, transforming itself from a food deficit nation into one of the world's largest producers of food grains, fruits, vegetables, milk, and fisheries.

"The average growth of Indian agriculture has been close to 4.5% over the last decade or so, probably the highest among the large economies of the world," he said.

Dev noted that agriculture has a share of about 17% of GDP and 43% in employment. He said the present government is focusing on increasing farmers' incomes instead of only on production.

He said diversification and focus on high-value crops, livestock and fisheries, will help farmers get higher incomes.

The economist noted that the current policies in agriculture will have to keep in mind current global challenges.

Freight doubles on West Asia flare-up

MUKESH JAGOTA New Delhi, July 23

THE ESCALATION OF war in West Asia after the collapse of ceasefire in early July has come as a shock to India's export-import trade with shipping rates to key destinations doubling and availability of containers contracting sharply due to disruption in global shipping routes.

The container shipping rates to the US East Coast from Indian ports on the western coast, for instance, are ruling at $6,000 for a 40-foot container, up from $3,400 in June. For US West Coast freight, charges for a container are now at $7,300, up from $4,100. While for sending a container to Europe, in July the cost went up to $3,800 from $1,700 at the start of June.

The recent increase has come on the top of high prices prevailing since the war started in March. Adding to the increase is the general uncertainty as the prices are varying across vessels, making planning difficult, Managing Partner of Jyoti Steel Industries and Chairman of Engineering Export Promotion Council, Pankaj Chadha said.

Other than the container rates, some shipping lines that are supposed to call at Indian ports are avoiding them, leading to further complications like choking of supply of containers, Director of Geco Trading Corporation, Khalid Khan said.

SHIPPING SQUEEZE

European base ports(Hamburg) all 40'HQ (40 foot container)		USA East Coast
June 1st week	1,695	3,400 June	6,000 July
June 2nd week	2,800

July	4,400	4,000 June	9,000 July
All rates ($) given are indicative only		South America
		June	4,000
		July	9,000

The blank calls at Indian ports by global shipping lines could also be a tactic to charge higher prices, a head of a global logistics firm said.

The fresh containers are not coming in and those for export are piling at the ports as some ships are bypassing Indian ports altogether. If there is a requirement of five containers only two can be arranged, Chadha said.

Other than longer routes that ships have to travel to avoid trouble spots, China's move to corner a large chunk of containers available in the market is adding to the shortage, founder and CEO of Lexship Padmanabhan Babu said.

China's move is connected to the start of its export season from July which lasts till December, he added.

In line with ocean shipping, the rates for sending a cargo by air have gone up to ₹400 a kg from ₹100, Babu said.

As some ships avoid India, there is a build up of containers at the ports for which exporters have to pay rent and other charges and deal with buyers who complain of delay.

As the pattern of higher freight and container shortage repeats at every hint of global trouble, exporters say there is no option but to build a formidable Indian shipping line and container building capacity.

Govt relaxes FDI norms for e-commerce exports

MUKESH JAGOTA New Delhi, July 23

THE GOVERNMENT ON Thursday allowed Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in the inventory-based model of e-commerce for exports. This relaxation will allow large international e-commerce platforms to boost exports from India through this route.

"In order to facilitate greater exports through easier and increased access to global markets by Indian sellers, the extant FDI policy has been reviewed and it is decided that the restrictions on the inventory-based model of e-commerce shall not apply in case of exports of domestically manufactured and/or produced goods/products," Press Note 3 amending the FDI policy said.

The Press Note issued by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade said that the amendment would be applicable from the date of notification under the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA).

Till now, the policy only allows 100% FDI in the marketplace model of e-commerce and business-to-business e-commerce. In business-to-consumer e-commerce, FDI is not allowed. E-commerce activity where inventory of goods and services is owned by e-commerce entities and is sold to the consumers directly is also not allowed.

With the change in policy, e-commerce companies with FDI will be able to hold their own inventory but only for export. "The Press Note has aligned the FDI framework with India's broader export promotion agenda, while preserving the safeguards applicable to domestic e-commerce," Partner Tax and Regulatory Services, EY India, Sunil Kumar said.

India's e-commerce exports hover around $4-5 billion or just 1.14% of its total shipments in FY24 while China's exports through this route are around $350 billion. India wants its e-commerce exports to grow to $200-300 billion by 2030 when its total exports would be $1 trillion. The current size of global e-commerce exports is $1.34-1.74 trillion and it is expected to grow to $4.30-4.85 trillion by 2035, according to some reports.

To get to the target, the ₹25,060-crore Export Promotion Mission has comprehensive financial allocation frameworks which provide targeted credit guarantees, interest subventions, and trade finance support, specifically for e-commerce sellers and MSMEs.

Govt lines up ₹36,398-crore mine-closure programme

SAURAV ANAND New Delhi, July 23

INDIA HAS DRAWN up an estimated ₹36,398.1-crore mine-closure programme covering 339 coal and lignite mines, with ₹9,240.9 crore earmarked for community development and livelihood generation, as the government prepares to convert exhausted sites into clean-energy, industrial and community assets.

The Coal Controller Organisation's annual report on mine closure 2025-26 said 42 coal mines have been scientifically closed for the first time since Independence. Nine were closed in FY25 and another 33 in FY26. Of these, 25 had been closed, abandoned or discontinued before 2009 and 17 thereafter.

A total of 147 mines have been identified for time-bound closure, comprising 136 operated by Coal India subsidiaries and 11 by Singareni Collieries Company. The portfolio includes 117 underground and 30 opencast mines.

Average physical progress across the 147 mines stood at about 64% as of March 31, 2026. SCCL led with 78%, followed by SECL at 73% and WCL at 63%. BCCL achieved 59%, CCL and MCL 47% each, ECL 36%, NEC 30% and NCL 29%.

India's coal and lignite sector has about 575 mines spread across nearly 360,000 hectares, directly and indirectly affecting more than five million people. The scale makes rehabilitation, environmental restoration and productive reuse of mined-out land a major economic and social challenge.

Under the Mine Closure Guidelines, 2025, 25% of annual closure costs under the sustainability component must be allocated to community development and livelihood activities. Another 10% of escrow funds is earmarked for just-transition measures, including skills, alternative livelihoods, social infrastructure and transitional support.

Of the ₹9,240.9-crore sustainability allocation, ₹1,084 crore is meant for water-resource management, ₹1,063 crore for skills and training, ₹903 crore for plantation and afforestation, ₹802 crore for wildlife conservation and ₹720 crore for clean-energy projects.

ANURAG JAIN, CEO, NITI AAYOG

The policy playmaker takes centre stage

FROM JAN DHAN AND GATI SHAKTI TO HIGHWAYS, JAIN BRINGS AN IMPLEMENTER'S INSTINCTS TO NITI AAYOG. THE CHALLENGE IS TO MAKE THE INSTITUTION MORE RELEVANT TO THE NATIONAL ECONOMIC DISCOURSE

PRASANTA SAHU

SOMEWHERE IN Anurag Jain's trophy cabinet sit eleven national awards for tennis. He has also represented Madhya Pradesh in cricket — a combination rare enough among civil servants to invite a theory: that the 1989-batch IAS officer's reputation for competitiveness and grinding preparation was formed on the court long before it reached the secretariat.

On Wednesday, that reputation carried him to one of Delhi's most consequential policy perches, as the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet named him chief executive officer of NITI Aayog for two years. His appointment ends a five-month interregnum during which Nidhi Chhibber held additional charge.

The appointment surprised few. If the government has a template for its most trusted civil servants — an engineer's training, PMO experience and a record of implementing flagship schemes rather than merely drafting them — Jain fits it closely.

Born in Gwalior in 1965, Jain graduated in electrical engineering from IIT Kharagpur in 1986 before choosing the civil services over a corporate career. A Master's in Public Administration from Syracuse University's Maxwell School followed. Colleagues say the combination shows: he approaches governance like an engineer confronting a faulty circuit, looking for the broken node rather than repainting the panel.

That instinct surfaced early during field postings as collector of Mandla, Mandsaur and Bhopal. In Bhopal, he began digitising land records by overlaying them on satellite maps, an experiment the state later replicated. The posting also produced an anecdote old Madhya Pradesh hands still recount. When caste tensions flared between Dalits and Brahmins in a locality in 2002, the young collector's answer was not a curfew but a community feast cooked by Dalit families, with both communities eating together.

His defining state assignment came as secretary to chief minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan for more than five years from 2005. Jain helped draft the Madhya Pradesh Public Service Guarantee Act, pioneering legislation on time-bound delivery of government services that was later emulated by other states.

A central deputation from 2011 widened his canvas. At the Department of Financial Services, Jain was closely associated with the conception and implementation of the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, which became the world's largest financial-inclusion programme. A stint as joint secretary in the Prime Minister's Office followed, along with assignments as acting chairman of Exim Bank and vice-chairman of the Delhi Development Authority.

It was at the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade from September 2021, however, that Jain's stock rose sharply. He became a key architect of the PM Gati Shakti National Master Plan, the GIS-based platform designed to bring infrastructure planning across ministries onto a common digital map. The work won him the Prime Minister's Award for Excellence in Public Administration in 2023. His tenure also encompassed the rollout of the National Logistics Policy, coordination of Production Linked Incentive schemes and efforts to simplify investor clearances.

At the ministry of road transport and highways from April 2023, Jain acquired the moniker "Highway Man", though his signature intervention was characteristically about process rather than ribbon-cutting.

The ministry pushed to ensure that most land acquisition was completed before highway work orders were issued. Awards initially slowed, but the change sought to address a chronic cause of stalled projects: unresolved land disputes. His tenure also saw a greater focus on high-speed, access-controlled corridors and the preparation of a Vision 2047 roadmap for the highway network.

Jain's route to NITI Aayog ran, somewhat unusually, through home. In October 2024, he returned to Bhopal as Madhya Pradesh chief secretary. Granted an extension beyond superannuation, he was due to continue until August 31. Delhi called him back six weeks early, with Ashok Barnwal, a 1991-batch officer, named officiating chief secretary in his place.

He now inherits an institution deeply involved in the Viksit Bharat 2047 exercise, Centre-state coordination on manufacturing and infrastructure, and the government's push on logistics and digital governance — terrain that maps almost perfectly onto his résumé. The challenge will be to make NITI Aayog more than a producer of policy papers and long-term visions.

Those who have worked with him describe a boss who is courteous, methodical, allergic to shortcuts and famously demanding of detail — traits one senior Madhya Pradesh officer summed up, when Jain became chief secretary, with the rueful observation that the easy days end the moment he walks in.

A man who has won national honours in one sport and represented his state in another does not, presumably, play for a draw. Raisina Road has been warned.

2-year cooling-off period for Sebi top brass sought

PRASANTA SAHU New Delhi, July 23

THE PARLIAMENTARY STANDING Committee on Finance has recommended several changes to ensure the new Securities Markets Code is more accountable, investor-friendly and anchored in Parliament rather than excessive regulatory discretion.

Seeking stronger governance standards for the regulator, it proposed extending the cooling-off period for the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) Chairperson and Whole-Time Members from one year to two years before they can take up positions with market participants.

It further recommended balancing the board's revisionary powers by allowing penalties to be reduced where justified, instead of permitting only enhancement.

After examining more than 650 stakeholder suggestions over seven months, the committee broadly endorsed the code's principles-based approach but argued that the law must go beyond merely consolidating existing statutes.

One of its key recommendations is aimed at curbing excessive delegation of powers to Sebi. The Committee argued that Parliament, not regulations framed later, should define the most critical elements of the law.

"The single most far-reaching recommendation is the direction that essential legislative policy — particularly the definition of criminally punishable market abuse, the procedural safeguards governing adjudication and the conditions for exemption from the code — be brought onto the face of the statute rather than left to regulations," it observed.

Consistent with this approach, the panel recommended deleting Clause 93(g), saying any residual regulation-making powers must be guided by "clear statutory principles and objective standards" to prevent excessive delegation, preserve legal certainty and maintain a clear distinction between civil and criminal liability.

"More than 1,000 suggestions had come (initially) from different stakeholders. After reviewing, we suggested 80-odd amendments, of which the government has accepted 75," Parliamentary Standing Committee on Finance Chairman Bhartuhari Mahtab told FE, backing the government's proposal to bring fragmented securities laws under a single code.

The panel recommended rewriting the preamble to clearly state the legislation's

Boost digital currency use for PDS: Panel

SANDIP DAS New Delhi, July 23

A PARLIAMENTARY PANEL on Thursday recommended phased expansion of the RBI's recently launched central bank digital currency (CBDC) based food subsidy distribution to improve efficiency in implementing the free ration scheme.

Through CBDC, food coupons launched as pilots can be expanded through leveraging its report submitted in Parliament that CBDC food coupons, launched as pilots, can be expanded by making use of features like instant transfers, auditability, and restricted usage to improve subsidy delivery efficiency.

Under the CBDC pilot, a limited number of beneficiaries who complete eKYC can scan the fair price shop (FPS) QR code to redeem their food coupons and collect food grains and other items in parts of Gujarat and Puducherry. The government is likely to roll out more pilots to ascertain the feasibility of using digital currency to plug leakages in the PDS.

The panel noted that the digital currency offers an opportunity to enhance DBT coverage by providing a secure, instant, traceable, and programmable digital cash mechanism for Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana (PMGKAY) beneficiaries.

The panel also recommended a periodic comparative assessment of cash transfer implemented in a few union territories (UTs) and physical distribution of food grains for the beneficiaries under the free ration schemes on various parameters before scaling up the DBT model.

Infosys trims FY27 growth outlook

INFOSYS ON THURSDAY narrowed the upper end of its FY27 revenue growth guidance, signalling that macro-economic uncertainty continues to weigh on client spending despite artificial intelligence (AI) becoming a larger contributor to its business. The country's second-largest IT services company now expects constant currency revenue growth of 1.5%-3% for FY27, compared with 1.5%-3.5% guided earlier, while retaining its operating margin guidance of 20%-22%.

The stock reacted negatively to the outlook, with Infosys ADRs falling 4.44% to $10.45 in US trading. The company also reported April-June quarter revenue and net profit marginally below Bloomberg estimates.

Revenue rose 3.9% sequentially to Rs 48,211 crore from Rs 46,402 crore, slightly below Bloomberg's estimate of Rs 48,318 crore. Net profit declined 8.6% quarter-on-quarter to Rs 7,769 crore from Rs 8,501 crore, compared with the estimate of Rs 7,834 crore. Earnings before interest and tax (Ebit) increased 4.3% sequentially to Rs 10,163 crore, while the Ebit margin remained steady at 21%. Infosys reported constant currency revenue growth of 2.4% year-on-year during the quarter.

The company also disclosed that AI services now account for 8.2% of its quarterly revenue, up from 5.5% reported in February, underlining the growing contribution of AI-led projects to its business. Chief Executive Officer Salil Parekh said AI revenue has continued to grow at double digits over the past several quarters. "Back in February, we had announced that AI services accounted for 5.5% of Infosys revenue and now it has jumped again. With this momentum, we see the long-term relevance of our services for clients, driven through AI," he said.

Explaining the decision to trim the upper end of the revenue guidance, Parekh said the company had earlier factored in a stronger recovery in client spending. "The upper end of the guidance was really based on if the macro was improving. We now see that there may be some improvement but not at the level that we were thinking initially," he said. Management also acknowledged that AI-led productivity gains are creating pricing pressure in parts of its client portfolio, reflecting the deflationary impact of automation on certain technology programmes.

ITC targets ₹8 L-cr FMCG mkt by 2035, banks on AI

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, July 23

ITC EXPECTS THE addressable market for its fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) business to expand to ₹8 lakh crore by 2035, betting on premiumisation, rising aspirations, digital commerce and evolving consumer preferences to drive its next phase of growth.

Addressing shareholders at the company's 115th annual general meeting on Thursday, chairman and managing director Sanjiv Puri said India's consumption landscape is being reshaped by aspirational consumers, Gen Z and Gen Alpha, alongside the rapid expansion of quick commerce and changing expectations across product categories.

"Today's maximiser consumer simultaneously seeks taste and nutrition, convenience and trust, value as well as premium experiences," Puri said, adding that ITC was building a portfolio of future-ready brands to cater to these evolving consumer needs.

According to the company's FY26 annual report, ITC's digital-first portfolio — which includes Yoga Bar, 24 Mantra Organic, Mother Sparsh, Prasuma and Meatigo — recorded an annual revenue run rate of over ₹1,350 crore in FY26, reflecting 60% growth over the previous year.

Over the past five years,

ITC's net segment revenue has crossed ₹83,300 crore, registering a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 10.7%, while earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) grew at a CAGR of 9.7%. Non-cigarette businesses now account for nearly two-thirds of the company's segment revenue.

FMCG remains central to ITC's diversification strategy. The company's FMCG revenue has risen from around ₹14,700 crore in FY21 to over ₹24,200 crore in FY26, supported by a wider product portfolio and improving profitability, Puri said.

ITC now owns more than 30 brands across foods, personal care, education and stationery, home care, and agri products. Collectively, these brands account for annual consumer spending of ₹37,000 crore, reach around 280 million households, and are exported to more than 70 countries.

To tap emerging consumption trends, the company is stepping up investments in AI-driven consumer insights, product innovation and premium offerings across nutrition, wellness, personal care and convenience foods. Recent acquisitions have strengthened its presence in high-growth categories while leveraging ITC's nationwide manufacturing and distribution network, the chairman said.

The conglomerate reiterated its plans to invest ₹20,000 crore over the medium term to expand manufacturing capacity, with six new plants currently under development. The investment follows the commissioning of eight manufacturing facilities, reinforcing the company's capacity expansion strategy.

Headcount dips in Q1 as AI push gathers pace

POULOMI CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, July 23

INFOSYS REPORTED A marginal decline of 532 employees during the June quarter, indicating that the IT major is moving away from headcount-led growth and focusing more on efficiency-linked metrics such as revenue per employee.

Despite this, Chief Executive Officer Salil Parekh said the IT services firm hired 4,000 freshers during the first quarter. The company retained its target of hiring 20,000 college freshers in FY27.

Following the decline, Infosys' total headcount stood at 328,062 at the end of June, compared with 328,594 in the preceding quarter, marking a reversal from the growth trend seen in previous quarters.

The company reported a last twelve-month attrition rate of 13% for the quarter, up from 12.6% in the previous quarter.

"We are accelerating investments in AI, talent, and platforms to drive future growth and remain committed to improving productivity, expanding operating leverage and maintaining the financial flexibility needed to capitalise on emerging opportunities while delivering sustainable shareholder value," CFO Jayesh Sanghrajka said.

He also announced that the company will roll out salary hikes in two phases — in October and January.

Parekh also said that Infosys is scaling up its team of frontier engineers (FDEs), with a target of reaching 6,000 over the next few years.

IndiGo slips to ₹238-cr Q1 loss on fuel costs

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, July 23

INTERGLOBE AVIATION, the parent of IndiGo, reported a consolidated net loss of ₹238 crore for the quarter ended June, against a net profit of ₹2,176 crore a year earlier, as elevated aviation turbine fuel (ATF) prices, rupee depreciation and disruptions in West Asia outweighed strong revenue growth.

The airline's performance fell well short of Bloomberg's estimate of a ₹1,430-crore net profit. However, the loss narrowed sharply from ₹2,536 crore in the March quarter, indicating sequential improvement in profitability. Revenue from operations rose 19.9% year-on-year to ₹24,584 crore from ₹20,496 crore, exceeding Bloomberg's estimate of ₹24,115 crore. Total income increased 18.9% to ₹25,614 crore.

However, earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortisation, restructuring and rent (EBITDAR) declined 33.2% to ₹3,833 crore from ₹5,739 crore, while the EBITDAR margin contracted to 15.6% from 28% a year earlier. Aircraft fuel expenses surged to ₹10,833 crore from ₹5,833 crore a year ago, pushing total expenses up 34.4% to ₹25,853 crore. Foreign exchange losses narrowed to ₹83 crore from ₹147 crore.

Operationally, IndiGo expanded capacity, measured in available seat kilometres (ASK), by 2.9% year-on-year to 43.5 billion. Passenger traffic increased 0.7% to 31.3 million, while yield improved 21.3% to ₹6.04 per kilometre. Load factor, however, declined 1.3 percentage points to 83.3%.

Firm's MDRahul Bhatia said the June quarter was marked by a volatile operating environment, with higher fuel costs and network-related constraints in West Asia weighing on profitability despite healthy demand.

"We remain focused on managing capacity prudently, maintaining cost discipline, and responding to market conditions with agility. However, the pressure of fuel costs and rupee depreciation resulted in a loss of around ₹200 crore for the quarter," Bhatia said, adding that the airline remains committed to strengthening its network and creating long-term value despite near-term uncertainties.

Looking ahead, IndiGo expects capacity in the September quarter to remain broadly flat year-on-year due to seasonally weaker demand and continued uncertainty affecting travel between India and West Asia. The airline expects aircraft utilisation to improve progressively beyond the weaker season.

warehousing, supply chain infrastructure and a central kitchen. He added that the company has sufficient capital to fund operations for at least the next 18 months before considering another fundraising round.

Mediratta said he expects rising incomes to reshape buying behaviour, arguing that consumers begin paying greater attention to ingredients and nutritional content once they cross a certain income threshold. "We want to change the conversation from 10-minute delivery and low-cost prices to high-quality food at affordable prices," he said.

Kia launches Syros EV at ₹13.49 lakh

AKBAR MERCHANT
Mumbai, July 23

KIA INDIA ON Wednesday launched the Syros EV, its second locally manufactured electric vehicle after the Carens Clavis EV, at an introductory price of ₹13.49 lakh (ex-show-room), stepping up competition in India's fast-growing mass-market electric SUV segment. Bookings are open immediately, while deliveries will begin on July 30. Priced between ₹13.49 lakh and ₹19.99 lakh, the Syros EV will compete with the Tata Nexon EV (₹12.49 lakh onwards), Mahindra XUV 3XO EV (₹13.89 lakh onwards) and MG Windsor EV (₹14.69 lakh onwards), a segment witnessing rapid growth amid rising consumer acceptance of electric mobility.

Kia has also introduced an 80% assured buyback after three years, a Battery-as-a-Service (BaaS) option that reduces the vehicle's acquisition cost to ₹7.99 lakh, with battery rentals starting at ₹3.3 per km, and a 15-year unlimited-kilometre warranty on the high-voltage battery for the first owner. The launch comes as electric passenger vehicle demand gathers pace. According to the FADA, electric passenger vehicle retail sales jumped 89.3% year-on-year to 82,737 units during the April-June quarter of 2026.

QUICK COMMERCE PLATFORMS are emerging as a premium-focused sales channel for beauty and personal care (BPC) products, with consumers spending more on mid-premium and premium products than they do in the broader market, according to a report by Redseer Strategy Consultants.

The study found that mid-premium and premium products account for 59% of BPC spending on quick commerce platforms, compared with 37% in the overall market.

This indicates that consumers are increasingly turning to quick commerce not only for urgent purchases but also for higher-value beauty and personal care products.

The report also found that legacy brands continue to dominate the channel.

They are around 1.7 times larger than digitally native brands on quick commerce, unlike traditional e-commerce where both are of comparable scale.

According to the study, newer brands typically establish consumer trust through their own websites, online marketplaces and offline retail

Quick commerce currently accounts for around 5% of India's BPC market, and the report projects this share to double to 10-12% by 2031. As the channel grows, it is likely to play a bigger role in how companies launch products and expand distribution, according to the report.

The top 10 brands account for 25% of category sales, while the next 65 brands contribute another 50%, indicating ample headroom for emerging brands to scale after first building consumer trust through other sales channels.

ANEES HUSSAIN
Bengaluru, July 23

MEESHO REPORTED FIRST-QUARTER FY27 revenue and net loss ahead of Bloomberg estimates, as gains from logistics efficiency and stronger platform monetisation helped offset continued investments in artificial intelligence (AI) and newer businesses.

The e-commerce company posted consolidated revenue from operations of ₹3,713 crore for the quarter ended June 30, surpassing Bloomberg's consensus estimate of ₹3,602 crore based on seven analysts. Consolidated net loss narrowed to ₹133 crore from ₹289 crore a year earlier, marginally better than the consensus estimate of ₹135 crore.

The company's marketplace business delivered its strongest contribution margin and adjusted Ebitda since listing. Contribution margin expanded to 4.6% of net merchandise value (NMV) from 4% in the March quarter, while marketplace adjusted Ebitda improved to negative 1.2% of NMV from negative 1.7% sequentially.

GROUP PLANS TO BUILD 10 GW OF NUCLEAR CAPACITY BY 2035,AWAITS POLICY CLARITY

Adani Power taps two locations in MP for its first nuclear project

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, July 23

ADANI POWER IS evaluating Bina and Nigrie in Madhya Pradesh for its first nuclear power project as it prepares to build 10 GW of nuclear capacity by 2035. However, the company said investment decisions will depend on the Centre finalising the regulatory framework for private-sector participation.

Feasibility studies are underway at both locations, with the company identifying potential sites to enable faster execution once the policy framework is notified. It is also evaluating both domestic and international reactor technologies, with affordability expected to determine the final choice.

“It will all depend on which would be cost-effective. Electricity has to be viable for Indian consumers, and the type of rates which are affordable to

■ India aims to scale up its nuclear power capacity to 100 GW by 2047

■ Currently, it stands at 8.8 GW

SHERSINGH KHYALIA,
CEO, ADANI POWER

Electricity has to be viable for Indian consumers, and the type of rates which are affordable to power distribution firms power distribution companies,” Adani Power CEO Shersingh Khyalia said during the company's post-earnings call.

The proposed foray into nuclear power would mark a significant diversification for India's largest private thermal power producer and Adani could emerge as the country's third-largest nuclear power operator after the state-owned Nuclear Power Corporation of India (NPCIL) and NTPC.

The nuclear push comes as Adani Power reported its highest quarterly operating and financial performance in Q1FY27. Consolidated net profit rose 42% year-on-year to ₹4,806 crore, supported by higher generation, robust electricity demand and improved capacity utilisation.

The Adani Group had announced its entry into the nuclear sector through Adani Atomic Energy in June, stating that land had already been identified for the projects. The proposed 10-GW nuclear programme is aimed at meeting India's rising demand for clean, round-the-clock electricity. The group is also undertaking a power capital expenditure programme of more than ₹2 lakh crore to expand its overall generation capacity to 45 GW over the next five years.

India aims to scale up its nuclear power capacity to 100 GW by 2047 from the current 8.8 GW, as it seeks to strengthen its supply of reliable, low-carbon electricity alongside rapid renewable energy expansion. NPCIL has set a target of 50 GW, while NTPC plans to develop 30 GW of nuclear capacity.

While the government opened the nuclear power sector to domestic and foreign private companies last year, detailed regulations covering ownership, technology, liability and project implementation are yet to be finalised. Tata Power and Reliance Industries are among the other private-sector players evaluating opportunities in the segment.

Blinkit's bet: Build, don't discount

● Capex rises as company targets 6% adjusted Ebitda margin

ANEES HUSSAIN
Bengaluru, July 23

ETERNAL HAS RAISED the stakes on its long-term quick commerce strategy. Blinkit's steady-state capital expenditure assumption per store, including warehousing, has increased to ₹2.5 crore from ₹1 crore a year ago, reflecting investments in larger dark stores, a deeper product assortment and advanced warehousing technology, the company said in its Q1FY27 shareholder letter. It also raised its long-term adjusted Ebitda margin guidance to 6% of net order value (NOV), the upper end of its earlier 5-6% range.

Together, the moves make the same argument: growth bought with capital compounds; growth bought with discounts does not. It is a bet placed while Zepto, Amazon Now and Flipkart Minutes continued to be aggressive on discounting.

“Pricing-led growth requires sustained cash burn, and leads quick commerce companies into a systemic trap they can't easily walk out of,” group chief executive Albinder Singh Dhindsa said in the letter.

Unlike e-commerce, he told analysts, discounts in quick commerce cannot be withdrawn gradually because customers acquired through subsidies tend to leave once the incentives disappear. Citing Blinkit's own experience, Dhindsa said the company was third or fourth in several southern markets two years ago but emerged as the market leader only after shifting its focus from discounting to infrastructure.

He described the June quarter as the peak of competitive intensity Blinkit has faced, but said the current pattern — largely centred on grocery discounts and delivery fee subsidies — has become predictable, with limited room for rivals to intensify spending without sharply increasing losses.

Satish Meena, advisor at Datum Intelligence, echoed that view. “If a customer is looking for a discount, he or she has so many options. So they will switch. That cost is your sunk cost, it's gone.”

The strategy is showing in margins. Blinkit's adjusted Ebitda margin improved for a fifth straight quarter to 0.6% of NOV from 0.3%, turning a ₹162 crore loss a year earlier into a ₹102 crore profit.

Shoppers Stop targets debt-free status by FY27

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, July 23

SHOPPERS STOP IS sharpening its premium retail strategy by expanding exclusive global brand partnerships and maintaining tight control over inventory as it targets becoming debt-free by the end of FY27, the company said during its post-results earnings call on Thursday.

Addressing investors, managing director and chief executive officer Kavindra Mishra said improving demand trends and easing supply-chain disruptions supported sales growth in the June quarter. However, he cautioned that the split festive season across the Q1 and Q3 could temper sales growth in the September quarter. Stability in the global geopolitical environment, along with the progress of the monsoon, would also be crucial for sustaining consumer demand in the coming months.

“Rural demand faces monsoon headwinds, while urban demand remains resilient,” he said. “Premiumisation and personalisation are now essential growth drivers, with consumption growth extending beyond metros. Smaller cities are spending more per household,” Mishra said.

PVR INOX swings to black in Q1

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, July 23

PVR INOX ON Thursday saw a first-quarter profit, aided by strong demand for films across languages, higher ticket prices and increased spending on food and beverages.

The company reported a consolidated net profit of ₹56.5 crore in Q1FY27, compared with a net loss of ₹54.5 crore in the corresponding quarter last year. The turnaround was driven by robust revenue growth and a sharp expansion in operating margins. Consolidated revenue from operations rose 11.9% year-on-year to ₹1,622 crore from ₹1,450 crore in the year-ago period. Ebitda increased 31% to ₹529 crore from ₹404 crore a year earlier.

Cipla Q1 profit drops 39% to ₹785.55 cr

CIPLA ON THURSDAY reported a 39% decline in consolidated net profit at ₹785.55 crore in the first quarter ended June 2026, dragged by a dip in sales in the North American market and higher expenses. Cipla also announced the appointment of Dinesh Jain as its global chief financial officer from July 24.

The company had posted a consolidated net profit of ₹1,291.61 crore in the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal, Cipla said in a regulatory filing. Consolidated total revenue from operations in the first quarter of FY27 stood at ₹7,119.28 crore as against ₹6,957.47 crore in the same period a year ago.

Total expenses in the quarter under review increased to ₹6,248.25 crore, compared to ₹5,446.1 crore in Q1 FY26, the company said. PTI

Waaree chasing 11 GW overseas solar EPC orders

RAGHAVENDRA KAMATH
Mumbai, July 23

WAAREE RENEWABLE TECHNOLOGIES (WRTL), part of the Waaree Energies group, is pursuing 11 GW of solar EPC (engineering, procurement and construction) orders in overseas markets, with most of the opportunities concentrated in West Asia.

“We are participating in EPC orders in the countries in West Asia which are not affected by the geopolitical tension. Those orders will come up for execution in one or two years,” said Manmohan Sharma, chief financial officer of the company, in a post-earnings interaction with FE. Operations and maintenance (O&M) orders are expected to follow in those markets.

While WRTL's larger peer, L&T, derives 37% of its international order book from West Asia, its renewable EPC business is also heavily concentrated in the region. L&T is executing several large solar EPC projects there.

Though WRTL has signed a non-binding letter of understanding (LoU) in Vietnam, it is yet to be converted into a firm order, Sharma said.

Domestically, the company is pursuing around 25-26 GW of solar EPC orders, he said.

Besides solar EPC projects, WRTL expects significant opportunities in battery energy storage systems (BESS), transmission and distribution (T&D), and data centres in the coming quarters, he said.

Of its ₹5,300-crore order book, around ₹200 crore comprises BESS projects. “We see it (BESS) as a very significant opportunity because as we install more renewable projects, there will be more requirement of BESS also. So, this particular revenue stream will also go up significantly,” he said.

While the company has no firm data centre orders yet, it is in discussions with several developers, and projects could materialise over the coming quarters, Sharma said.

Backed by its acquisition of a 55% stake in Associated Power Structures, WRTL is pursuing nearly ₹20,000 crore worth of T&D orders across domestic and overseas markets, he said.

The company has also secured land and grid connectivity for a 450-MW solar project in Madhya Pradesh, which it plans to develop. Sharma said WRTL could either supply power as an independent power producer (IPP) or monetise the project at a later stage.

The company already has 82 MW of operational assets in Maharashtra and Karnataka.

Infy taps insider Dash as next CEO

“THE BOARD WAS clear that our next CEO needed to combine the ability to drive bold transformation with the judgement to preserve the values and customer trust that have always distinguished Infosys,” Nilekani said.

Dash's elevation comes at a time when the IT services industry is navigating subdued discretionary technology spending while preparing for the next phase of enterprise AI adoption. Having spent more than three decades at Infosys, he has led some of the company's largest industry businesses, overseeing clients across services, utilities, resources, energy and enterprise sustainability.

Nilekani credited Parekh with leading one of the strongest growth phases in Infosys' history, with annual revenue doubling to more than $20 billion from about $10 billion when he took over in 2018. During his tenure, the company expanded its digital and cloud capabilities, strengthened its market position and laid the foundation for its AI strategy.

Parekh, who joined Infosys from Capgemini in 2018 and is the company's longest-serving non-founder CEO, said Dash's deep understanding of the company's clients, business and people made him well placed to lead its next phase of growth. He added that he would work closely with Dash over the coming months to ensure a seamless transition.

An IIT Kharagpur graduate, Dash has completed the Global Leadership Program at Stanford University and the Senior Executive Programme at London Business School. He also serves on the boards of several Infosys subsidiaries, including Infosys Public Services, Simplus, Blue Acorn iCi and Health Sigma.

“I am honoured by the confidence that the Board has placed in me,” Dash said, adding that his focus would be on building on Infosys' strengths while accelerating innovation, expanding capabilities and helping clients succeed in an increasingly AI-driven world.

Nykaa's latest frontier: Creating beauty buyers

MORGAN STANLEY ESTIMATES that Tier-II and Tier-III markets already contribute around 60% of Nykaa's beauty revenues, underscoring the growing importance of these markets. The company has also introduced differentiated retail formats, with Nykaa On-Trend stores targeting mass and mass-tige consumers in smaller cities while premium formats such as Nykaa Luxe continue to cater to larger urban centres.

Nykaa is also using technology to overcome one of beauty retail's biggest barriers outside metros: the absence of expert advice. AI-powered tools such as Skin Scan, Virtual Skin Analyser and personalised recommendation engines are designed to replicate in-store consultations and improve product discovery online. The company believes these capabilities, along with omnichannel investments, will help expand its beauty consumer base to 100 million by FY30 from around 45 million today. Analysts at Kotak Institutional Equities say Nykaa's focus on improving affordability, awareness and accessibility is aimed at attracting first-time beauty users, Gen Z, Gen Alpha and aspirational consumers in Tier-II and Tier-III markets, where demand for premium products is steadily increasing.

The company's strategy extends beyond consumers through Superstore by Nykaa, its B2B distribution platform that supplies neighbourhood beauty retailers across underserved markets. The business has grown nearly fourfold over the past three years to a GMV of ₹1,187 crore, supported by almost 493,000 registered retailers and over 220 brands. Citi expects the platform to expand its reach from about 12,500 PIN codes to around 19,000 and from roughly 1,250 cities to about 3,500 over the medium term, with Tier-III and smaller markets projected to contribute 75% of Superstore's gross merchandise value (GMV) by FY30.

Together, Nykaa's physical stores, AI-led digital experiences and B2B distribution network reflect a strategy that goes beyond improving access. The company is betting that the next phase of growth in Bharat will come from creating new beauty consumers, not merely serving existing ones.

'Airport owners running airlines a conflict of interest'

“WE'LL WATCH THIS space and how it develops, then we can take a considered view on how to approach things into the future,” Bhatia said.

FE had on Thursday reported that the Ministry of Civil Aviation (MoCA) is examining amendments to the Operation, Management and Development Agreement (OMDA) governing Delhi and Mumbai airports to relax the rule that bars airport operators from owning more than a 10% stake in an airline. The proposal forms part of a wider regulatory overhaul aimed at encouraging more airlines to enter the market and reducing the dominance of IndiGo and Air India.

If approved, the change would allow airport operators such as the Adani Group, which runs airports in Mumbai, and GMR Airports, which runs the Delhi airport, to launch airlines, acquire significant stakes in existing carriers or partner with foreign airlines looking to establish a larger presence in the domestic market.

Sebi seeks to woo wealthy investors with MF-only PMS

WHILE THIS COULD result in higher churn and, consequently, higher tax costs, the ability to generate higher returns could offset these costs, the CEO said.

Sebi has also proposed simplifying certification requirements for principal officers and relaxing the eligibility criteria. Currently, portfolio managers are required to have a graduation degree and two years of experience in the securities market as a portfolio manager, stock broker, investment adviser, research analyst or fund manager. The requirement for an additional employee and a dedicated dealing room has also been proposed to be made optional. On fees, the regulator has proposed a fixed fee of up to 2.5% of the client's assets under management. Portfolio managers may also charge a combination of fixed and performance-based fees, subject to the client's consent.

Mutual fund distributors registered under the MF-PMS framework will be required to maintain an arm's-length relationship between their mutual fund distribution and MF-PMS activities.

Sebi is rewriting the rulebook for PMS at a time when the scale of the industry has risen sharply. In slightly over seven years, between April 2019 to May 2026, the assets under management (AUM) of PMS has grown from ₹18 lakh crore to ₹46 lakh crore — a CAGR of almost 13%.

INDUSTRY, JOBS, GRID & CLEANER AIR: EACH WORTH HAVING INDIVIDUALLY & COULD INSURE AGAINST UNCERTAINTY

Airport operators could widen airline competition, provided conflicts of interest are firmly ring-fenced

THE CIVIL AVIATION ministry's examination of a proposal to relax restrictions on airport operators owning airlines deserves serious consideration. The existing restriction, embedded in concession agreements when the Delhi and Mumbai airports were privatised in 2006, reflected a legitimate concern: an airport operator with an interest in an airline could potentially favour it in allocating scarce slots, gates, and other infrastructure. But aviation has changed dramatically in the two decades since. IndiGo and Air India together now account for close to 90% of the domestic market, leaving India unusually dependent on two airline groups. Kingfisher, Jet Airways, and Go First collapsed, while consolidation absorbed other carriers. Yet the outcome is the same. One of the world's fastest-growing aviation markets lacks a strong third competitor. Recent operational disruptions have also shown that excessive concentration is not merely a matter of fares or consumer choice; it creates systemic vulnerability when problems at one large carrier ripple across the network.

India therefore has a strong policy interest in widening the pool of investors capable of building airlines of meaningful scale. Aviation is brutally capital-intensive, exposed to volatile fuel prices and currency movements, and notoriously thin-margined. India's airline graveyard demonstrates that ambition and entrepreneurial enthusiasm are no substitutes for patient capital. A serious challenger to the two dominant groups needs deep pockets, a long investment horizon, and the ability to withstand losses while building fleet, network, and market share. Large airport operators are among the relatively small universe of investors that could meet those tests. They understand aviation economics, have experience across the ecosystem, and possess an obvious incentive to expand passenger traffic. A blanket restriction that excludes an entire category of potentially credible investors deserves reconsideration.

The case for reform, however, cannot wish away the reason the restriction existed. Airports are essential infrastructure and, in many cities, effective monopolies. An operator that also owns an airline could theoretically favour its carrier in slot allocation, gates, parking stands, or terminal access, or gain access to commercially sensitive information about competitors. These risks are greater at capacity-constrained airports and require strong safeguards. Any relaxation should therefore be accompanied by transparent and independently supervised slot allocation, strict non-discrimination requirements, and clear structural and accounting separation between airport and airline businesses. Revenues earned from regulated airport assets should not be used to subsidise airline fare wars. Commercial information belonging to airlines using an airport must be ring-fenced, while competition authorities should have explicit powers to investigate preferential treatment. These protections should be built into concession agreements and the regulatory framework.

Allowing airport operators to invest in airlines will not, by itself, create the third strong carrier India needs. Aircraft availability, airport capacity, entrenched incumbents, and unforgiving economics remain formidable barriers. Nor should policy be designed to facilitate the ambitions of any particular corporate group. The principle should be technology- and promoter-neutral: anyone meeting financial, safety, and competition requirements should have a fair opportunity to enter. The larger question is whether a restriction framed for the aviation market of 2006 remains proportionate to the needs of 2026. Regulation should address identifiable conflicts of interest without unnecessarily shutting out capital that the sector badly needs. India's aviation market is large enough to support more competition. The new policy regime should open the door to credible new entrants, while ensuring that ownership of the airport never becomes ownership of the playing field.

The Odyssey tells studios when to ignore critics

CHRISTOPHER NOLAN'S LATEST blockbuster, The Odyssey, had a suitably epic opening weekend. The film grossed $264.1 million, becoming the biggest global launch in Nolan's career. With such overwhelming enthusiasm from moviegoers, the right-wing backlash surrounding The Odyssey — concerning everything from casting decisions to the modern-day dialogue and American accents — has sunk without a trace, not unlike some of Odysseus' ill-fated crew.

That the film successfully weathered a social media storm is a reminder that visibility and consensus aren't necessarily the same thing. The answer isn't that studios should ignore audience sentiment altogether. But they should stop treating every online controversy as if each carries equal weight. Hollywood's challenge isn't whether to listen to fans — it's knowing which feedback actually reflects consumer demand.

Studios have long measured interest through test screenings, pre-release tracking polls, and, ultimately, whether moviegoers showed up to theatres. Additionally, services like Cinemascore and Comscore's PostTrak poll opening-weekend audiences to provide real-time data on reception and demographics, which can indicate a film's long-term box-office potential and validate (or invalidate) marketing strategies.

These practices remain valuable, but studios now have access to something much noisier: social media. Online sentiment is loud and immediate. As a result, it can also be mistaken for a referendum on a film from the wider public. This dynamic is especially prominent among franchises with established, passionate fanbases.

But a vocal minority doesn't always speak for the fanbase as a whole. What separates a real market signal from online noise? The first question studios need to ask is whether audiences have meaningfully engaged with a film — let alone seen it — before the complaints pour in. For instance, Captain Marvel was subject to a coordinated smear campaign in 2019, during which the film's Rotten Tomatoes page was inundated with misogynistic comments and the "Want to See" audience score cratered.

The controversy generated plenty of headlines, but it did not translate into lost ticket sales. The film went on to gross more than $1 billion, and Rotten Tomatoes has since banned pre-release audience comments.

Another important distinction to consider is whether the backlash surrounding a film is representative of broader audience sentiment. Upon release, Star Wars: The Last Jedi received online backlash that took issue with its subversive storytelling choices and the prominent role for a new character played by Kelly Marie Tran, who was subjected to months of racist and sexist comments that led to her deleting her Instagram account. Despite being the highest-grossing film of 2017, as well as earning an "A" grade on Cinemascore from opening-weekend audiences, Lucasfilm appeared to placate the loudest corners of the fanbase. Not only were scenes Tran had filmed cut from The Rise of Skywalker, but the film also undid major plot developments. The outcome: the worst-reviewed entry of the Disney era, the lowest Cinemascore grade for any live-action Star Wars film, and roughly $250 million less at the global box office than The Last Jedi.

A similar story played out with The Odyssey. Sure, the backlash was visible online, especially when it was stirred, in part, by Elon Musk on X. But Imax tickets selling out a year in advance suggested a very different reality: Nolan is a brand unto himself, and audiences await his films with the kind of fervour typically reserved for franchises.

If the internet reveals a genuine audience concern, studios are better served by paying attention. The difference is whether the criticism points to a specific, fixable issue. Timing, representativeness, fixability — three different lenses, but the same underlying question: does this feedback reflect anything the people paying for tickets actually want? On all three counts, The Odyssey passed. The backlash was in the works before the film had a chance to be seen by critics and audiences. Barring a recasting and script rewrite, there was no fix Universal could have offered that would have satisfied the people driving the backlash anyway.

While electric mobility in India is built on energy security, and there is nothing wrong with it except its modesty. It asks what the country stands to lose and how barrels are priced in other capitals. Instead of focusing on a trade balance shaped by distant conflicts, we should concern ourselves with what we stand to build. A transition on this scale is not just a defence against the oil price; it is a decision about which industries India will own, whose supply chains it will sit inside, and what its roads, grid, and labour force will look like once the century's energy order has settled.

The dependency is worth stating plainly, because it is the floor beneath everything else. India imports close to 90% of its crude and commits roughly a quarter of its import bill to the purchase, and it burns almost all of that fuel moving people and goods. The price of nearly everything the country makes and ships is therefore set somewhere else, by decisions in which it has no say. Electrification changes the terms of that exposure by substituting a fuel India must buy for electricity it can increasingly make.

India's edge lies in electric

THE FAMILIAR CASE for electric mobility in India is built on energy security, and there is nothing wrong with it except its modesty. what the same transition builds, and it begins with an observation about the money itself. Of all the things an economy can spend a dollar on, imported oil is among the least rewarding — a barrel is bought, burned, and gone, employing almost no one and leaving nothing behind. A battery and a motor are its opposite, among the most employment-intensive things a modern economy makes. Every rupee turned from the fuel pump towards domestic production is thus a rupee moved from a supply chain that hires few Indians to one that could hire many. The market for high-value components alone is reckoned at more than ₹2 lakh crore by 2030, and India has begun to arrange itself to capture it, committing production-linked incentives of over ₹44,000 crore to cells and vehicles and making its first serious attempts to manufacture the battery cell at home rather than import it.

The ambition can also extend beyond borders, and this is the part the domestic debate tends to miss. The next great expansion of electric demand is coming not from the wealthy markets but from the emerging ones, where sales across Southeast Asia, Latin America, and India are set to approach 3 million units this year. What those markets will buy are precisely the small, inexpensive EVs India already makes well. A country that supplies the world's two- and three-wheelers is no longer merely defending its own energy security, but it is also selling into everyone else's. The transition, framed this way, is an industrial opening as well for India.

There is one more link in the domestic chain, and it runs through the power system. India has promised 500 gigawatts of clean generation by 2030, most of it solar, which arrives at midday, in volumes the grid cannot always absorb. A nation of EVs is, in aggregate, the storage that ambition currently lacks. Charged when the sun is high, and in time able to return power when demand peaks, the fleet turns a daily surplus into a working asset. The loop this closes is the point. Indian sunlight, converted on Indian rooftops, moving Indian goods in vehicles built in Indian factories. This is not an energy policy with industrial side effects, but the outline of the first self-sufficient transport system the country has ever had.

All of this would matter in any decade. What makes it strategic is the decade India happens to be in. The world that rewarded buying from whoever INDIA'S TELECOM HAS the distinction of being the cheapest in global circles for a decade. At roughly 8-9 ¢ (US cents) per gigabyte, an Indian consumer pays a fraction of what a German, American, or Brazilian user pays. Our prime minister has, with justified pride, told global audiences that a gigabyte of data here costs less than a cup of tea. It is a genuine achievement — the product of the 4G-led disruption of 2016 and a policy environment keeping tariffs astonishingly low. Cheap mobile broadband has transformed India's digital landscape, enabling everything from UPI and digital public infrastructure to online education, telemedicine, and the platform economy.

Even as India basks in its reputation of having the world's cheapest mobile data, subscribers are bracing for a familiar sequel. Tariffs jumped by as much as 25% in 2024 and telecom operators, according to analysts, are once again reportedly readying a 15-20% hike.

Our policy conversation has to urgently consider affordability relative to income, or cost as a share of what people earn. A country may offer the world's lowest mobile tariffs in absolute dollar terms while still imposing a relatively higher connectivity burden on households if the bottom of the pyramid is sizeable. With hikes looming again, that burden will only grow.

Comparative affordability across nearly 200 economies is best assessed using the International Telecommunication Union's mobile data and voice high-consumption basket, which measures the monthly cost of this basket as a percentage of gross national income (GNI) per capita — capturing the income-adjusted burden of connectivity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Central bank and public trust

Apropos of "Custodian of reserves to manager of risk" (FE, July 23), the RBI's evolving role, from simply holding foreign reserves to actively managing currency risk through forward positions, reflects sound institutional adaptation rather than a cause for alarm. However, greater sophistication in financial instruments demands proportionately greater transparency.

As the central bank's operations grow more complex, disclosure norms and parliamentary understanding must keep pace, not lag behind. Regular, accessible reporting on such positions would help demystify these decisions for the public. Central banks earn public trust through consistent transparency, not silence, especially when the instruments involved are as consequential as hundred-billion-dollar forward commitments.

—SM Jeeva, Coimbatore

COMPARATIVE COSTS

The comparison produces a telling insight — India is not among the leading major economies with respect to affordability of voice and data. China, Brazil, Germany, the UK, Japan, and the US record lower affordability burdens, as household incomes are significantly higher relative to the cost of connectivity.

The lesson therefore is: Low prices are an achievement of telecom policy; affordability reflects the interaction between telecom policy and the broader economy. India has largely solved the challenge of making broadband inexpensive, but making connectivity universally affordable increasingly depends on income growth, productivity, and citizens' ability to participate meaningfully in the digital economy.

The paradox is simple: India has the world's cheapest data in absolute dollar terms, yet not the world's most affordable connectivity when measured against what its citizens earn. This is not a semantic distinction — it has direct consequences for how we think about the next phase of India's digital inclusion agenda. If affordability is read only through the lens of low absolute prices, the policy urgency to close residual gaps — not only for mobile broadband but also particularly for the bottom of the pyramid, for fixed broadband in tier-II and -III towns, and for first-time internet users in rural India — risks being diluted.

The UN Broadband Commission's own target, that entry-level broadband should cost less than 2% of monthly GNI per capita in developing economies, is one India meets only narrowly at the national median — a figure that conceals the higher burden borne by the common man. Importantly, affordability should no longer be viewed merely as a telecom pricing issue; it is increasingly an economic sold cheapest is now turning against any kind of dependence. Almost a fifth of India's crude passes through a region in open crisis. In 2025, China showed it could idle Indian assembly lines within weeks by tightening rare earth exports, proof that a supply chain can be squeezed as easily as a sea lane. Tariff walls are rising across the emerging markets even as three out of five electric cars sold there arrive from China. In such a world, security means owning what you cannot afford to lose. That is what converts India's convergence into strategy. The industry, the jobs, the grid, and the cleaner air are each worth having on their own, but in an uncertain world each one also doubles as insurance.

Two conditions still separate the case from the advantage. China supplied roughly 60% of the battery capacity that entered the world's EVs last year, while India's flagship cell programme has commissioned only 1.4 gigawatt hours against its target of 50. A lender still cannot value a used battery, so the drivers carrying the transition borrow at rates that can reach a third of the loan.

Yet the two weaknesses are one object seen twice. The used battery no financier can price is, in its second life, exactly the storage the solar grid is waiting for. Certify its health, build a market for its resale, and every loan becomes cheaper while the grid gains storage from the fleet itself. India cannot drill its way to advantage, but it can build its way there, and it has started, from the rickshaw upward. If the links and the ecosystem are strengthened the EV transition can enable a larger system-wide transition.

With inputs from Meenakshi Ajith, Development Policy Lead, Institute for Competitiveness

India's telecom paradox

Boasting cheapest data in absolute dollar terms while lacking the most affordable connectivity has direct consequences on how we think about India's next phase of digital inclusion growth issue. OECD and World Bank studies have consistently linked greater broadband adoption to improvements in labour productivity, enterprise competitiveness, and GDP growth, particularly in emerging economies. The logic is intuitive. Lower connectivity costs encourage greater broadband adoption. Wider adoption expands digital participation by households, businesses, schools, and public institutions. Greater participation accelerates digital commerce, financial inclusion, online education, e-governance, and enterprise digitisation, lifting productivity across the economy. Higher productivity contributes to stronger growth and higher household incomes, which in turn further improves the affordability of connectivity — a virtuous cycle worth actively engineering.

Seen through this lens, affordability becomes an investment in economic capacity, not simply a consumer subsidy. We need to maximise the economic value generated by every additional connected citizen — not merely to push tariffs lower.

None of this is an argument against celebrating India's genuine telecom achievement. The fall in data prices since 2016 has been a great reform of the past decade. But as India aims to make telecom and digital services a still-larger share of GDP — from an estimated 12-14% today to an ambitious 20% by the mid-2030s — affordability must be measured against what an average Indian actually earns, for the specific services they actually need.

Providing the world's cheapest data is something India should be proud of. With 35% unconnected to the net, the goal of the world's most affordable data is still ahead of us.

Stepping beyond the airwaves

BIG FM IS BETTING ON ITS UNIFIED PLATFORM THAT ADDRESSES CHANGING MEDIA CONSUMPTION HABITS, WHILE ENABLING CROSS-PLATFORM EXECUTION FOR BRANDS

CHRISTINA MONIZ

DIGITAL DISRUPTION HAS enhanced brands' connection with consumers, it has also kept radio on its feet.

Reliance Broadcast Network Ltd's (RBNL) BIG FM recently announced its transition from a bouquet of standalone media verticals to an integrated, AI-powered media and entertainment ecosystem. The firm's One Big World is looking to reorganise its existing business verticals into a single platform across radio, digital, news, digital outdoor advertising, live experiences and creator networks.

The new model aims to meet audiences wherever they are, while using BIG FM's local talent and audience relationships to create a participative ecosystem, says Ashit Kukian, CEO, BIG FM. The objective is not simply to expand into new businesses, but to build stronger connections, says the company. "For instance, a listener who discovers us through radio should be able to engage with our digital content, participate in our live experiences, interact with creators and become part of a larger community. This approach allows us to deepen audience engagement while creating a more measurable ecosystem for partners," explains Kukian.

RBNL has brought six business verticals under the One Big World umbrella, including its FM offering, news network, social media and digital out-of-home screens across more than 75 cities. The move comes at a time when the FM radio industry is navigating a major disruption caused by fluid consumption habit among audiences as platforms fragment. Kukian says the Indian media and advertising industry is entering a high-growth phase, with audiences consuming content across multiple platforms. The new BIG FM ecosystem seeks to participate across the entire journey. Advertisers will also be able to leverage a single ecosystem that promises scale, engagement and measurable outcomes, he says.

According to Pramod Pawar, quantitative research vice-president, Hansa Research Group, there is also a

ASHIT KUKIAN, CEO, BIG FM

The integrated model aims to meet audiences wherever they are using our local talent and audience relationships local, the connection factor with radio jockeys (RJs) and the ability to foster community engagement. "Radio companies are looking to leverage these strengths to create monetisable formats where content and consumption can be coupled with live events, creator content and talent-led intellectual properties," he says.

Kukian also points to the role of the mother brand, BIG FM, which has built deep trust among audiences, over its two decades. It has 67 stations that reach over 340 million listeners across 1,900 towns and 120,000 villages. RBNL generated operating income of ₹22.1 crore in FY25, which is expected to have increased by 20% in FY26 to over ₹26.5 crore. "That brand equity is one of our greatest strengths. The unified platform doesn't replace the BIG FM brand but amplifies it," adds Kukian.

Under the integrated model, BIG FM's RJs have now evolved into video RJs or VRJs to reach Gen Z and younger consumer cohorts through content that appeals to them. Kukian points out that conversations with advertisers are no longer about purchasing airtime or impressions, but about measurable impact.

"Advertisers are looking for simplicity. Managing separate partners for radio, digital or outdoor can lead to fragmented execution. Our integrated ecosystem is addressing that. We see strong interest in solutions that combine hyperlocal relevance with national scale, in sectors such as FMCG, auto, real estate and digital-first brands," he adds. Experts say, with 51% of Indian advertising already on digital platforms, it is likely that non-radio services will eventually contribute at least 50% of the revenues of large brands like BIG FM.

QDenga (TAK-003) IS the first dengue vaccine approved in India for the prevention of dengue disease. It is designed to protect against all four dengue virus serotypes (DENV-1, DENV-2, DENV-3 and DENV-4). The vaccine has already received regulatory approval in 42 countries, including the European Union, the United Kingdom, Switzerland, Indonesia, Malaysia and Thailand, and has also received World Health Organisation (WHO) prequalification.

What is the dosage & efficacy?

THE VACCINE IS for individuals 4 to 60 years of age. The recommended immunisation schedule consists of two doses of 0.5 ml each, administered at an interval of three months. In a late-stage trial, the vaccine has shown an efficacy of 80.2% against confirmed dengue cases one year after the second dose. It also showed 90.4% efficacy against dengue-related hospitalisations after 18 months. Overall efficacy was seen across all four dengue virus serotypes through seven years.

Qdenga is a live, attenuated tetravalent dengue vaccine developed using recombinant DNA technology. The vaccine is produced in Vero cells, with genes encoding serotype-specific surface proteins engineered into a dengue virus type-2 backbone. It is supplied as a freeze-dried powder for reconstitution and is administered as a subcutaneous injection.

DENGUE VACCINE

How Qdenga can be a shot in the arm for dengue prevention

India has got its first dengue vaccine with the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation approving the sale of Qdenga vaccine. Banasree Purkayastha looks at its efficacy, its likely availability and how it can help combat the spread of the endemic disease in India

Who has developed this vaccine?

THE VACCINE HAS been developed by Japanese drugmaker Takeda. Qdenga is expected to be available in India in the first half of 2027, with initial availability through private healthcare settings, as per a Reuters report. Initially, it will be imported from Takeda's unit in Germany by Takeda Biopharmaceuticals India. While the company has not officially declared the price for India, it is likely to cost ₹3,000-6,000 per dose. Takeda has a partnership with Indian vaccine maker Biological E to boost production of Qdenga.

QDenga IS DESIGNED TO PROTECT AGAINST ALL FOUR DENGUE VIRUS SEROTYPES AND CAN BE USED REGARDLESS OF PRIOR EXPOSURE TO THE DISEASE

1,21,824

DENGUE CASES IN INDIA IN 2025 WITH 131 DEATHS

Is Qdenga an improvement over others?

SINCE A DENGUE infection can be caused by any of the four virus serotypes spread by the Aedes aegypti and Ae. Albopictus mosquitoes, a second infection with a different serotype carries considerable risk as pre-existing antibodies facilitate viral entry and increase disease severity instead of providing protection against the subsequent infection. This is the fundamental problem that scientists face in developing a dengue vaccine that provide protective immunity against all four serotypes. According to a paper titled "From promise to pitfalls: immunological lessons from dengue vaccines and their implications" by Cassia F. Estofolete and Marielena V. Saivish published in Nature.com, this is also the reason that protection provided by Sanofi's Dengvaxia — the world's first licensed dengue vaccine — was skewed toward individuals with prior dengue exposure. "Following initial approval and rollout in the Philippines, post-licensure surveillance identified an excess risk of severe dengue in vaccinated children who were seronegative at baseline," it said. This led to the WHO recommending Dengvaxia only for individuals with confirmed prior infection, a requirement that limits its practicality in endemic regions where serostatus screening is challenging. Sanofi is likely to discontinue it this year.

Qdenga thus scores over Dengvaxia as it can be given without first checking whether a person has previously been infected with dengue.

Other vaccines & their availability

BRAZIL, WHICH HAS one of the largest dengue burdens globally, had approved the Butanan-DV vaccine in November 2025 for individuals aged 12 to 59. Butanan-DV is the world's first single-dose dengue vaccine. Meanwhile, India's Panacea Biotech has developed the country's first indigenous dengue vaccine candidate — DengiAll — and has launched Phase III clinical trials in partnership with the Indian Council of Medical Research. Again, the Serum Institute of India is conducting Phase III clinical trials involving a monoclonal antibody treatment and is partnering with the Drugs for Neglected Diseases Initiative (DNDi) to extend trials to dengue-endemic countries.

Prevalence of dengue in India

INDIA REPORTED 1,21,824 dengue cases and 131 deaths in 2025, according to the National Centre for Vector Borne Disease Control. In 2024, 297 deaths were recorded while 485 people died in 2023, highlighting the continued public health challenge posed by dengue. Globally, around 390 million infections occur annually, of which roughly 96 million manifest clinically, spanning from self-limiting febrile illness to severe dengue characterised by plasma leakage, hemorrhage, and multi-organ dysfunction. Initially seen as a predominantly tropical region disease, dengue has now spread to subtropical and even temperate regions, including Europe and the US.

 ELI LILLY SAID on Thursday that two more Phase 3 trials of its experimental obesity drug retatrutide showed positive results and it plans to submit an application to the US Food and Drug Administration in the first quarter of next year. The company's current injectable obesity drug, Zepbound, targets GLP-1 and GIP, while rival Novo Nordisk's Wegovy targets just GLP-1.

HOUTHIS ATTACK TWO SAUDI ARABIAN OIL TANKERS IN RED SEA

Trump threatens more military attacks on Iran

COURTNEY SUBRAMANIAN AND ELTAF NAJAFIZADA July 23, 2026

PRESIDENT DONALD TRUMP threatened to step up strikes on Iran and said he'll hold the country responsible for any further attacks by the Yemen-based Houthis on Red Sea ships, potentially widening US involvement in West Asia war. The Iran-backed Houthis earlier claimed assaults on two Saudi Arabian oil tankers, the group's first for several months, opening a new front in a conflict that's disrupted global energy supplies and rattled bond markets. Brent crude climbed above $100 a barrel on Thursday for the first time in almost two months.

Trump told Axios in an interview that he's considering a "massive attack" that would be "bigger than ever before" and is "close to making a decision" on it, the news agency reported. The president also posted on Truth Social that the US will hold Iran responsible for further Houthi strikes and "major military punishment will be inflicted upon Iran and, of course, the Houthis, themselves."

A day earlier, Trump threatened to escalate airstrikes against Iran—now into their second week — saying American forces will destroy one bridge or power plant each time Tehran shoots at vessels in the Strait of Hormuz. Iran has warned it will retaliate against infrastructure and bridges in the region, including energy facilities, if Trump follows through.

The US-Iran conflict has flared up again in the past couple of weeks, and neither side is indicating it's time for new talks. The attacks by the Houthis have intensified the conflict, even if hostilities remain less intense than during the height of the war in March and April.

The Houthis said they targeted the Saudi tankers in the Red Sea with missiles and drones. The Saudi government confirmed an attack on one refined-products tanker, called the Encelia. The British navy separately said a tanker was struck near the Saudi town of Al Shuqaiq in the southern part of the sea. The Houthis said the second vessel was named Layla, which is a crude-oil carrier.

While it's unclear if the ships were damaged, the move could effectively close another maritime chokepoint vital to energy markets, following Iran's shutdown of the Strait of Hormuz.

Stocks hit by AI, war jitters

A SURGE IN OIL spurred by the escalating Iran war sent stocks and bonds lower, with Wall Street also rattled by renewed concerns over whether massive artificial-intelligence investments will pay off.

Brent crude topped $100 a barrel, stoking inflation fears and driving Treasury yields to their highest levels of the year. The S&P 500 dropped 1.2%, with a gauge of megacaps set for their worst day since the April 2025 tariff-fueled meltdown. Despite solid results, Alphabet sank 6.5% after raising its capital spending forecast. Tesla tumbled 14% as its profit fell even after strong electric-vehicle deliveries. The dollar rose.

The resurgence of the US-Iran conflict shows little sign of easing, with neither Washington nor Iran backing down or saying it's time for new negotiations.

US President Donald Trump threatened to step up attacks on Iran and said he'll hold the country responsible for any further strikes by the Yemen-based Houthis on Red Sea ships.

"Escalating West Asia tensions have pushed crude prices higher, raising concerns that inflation could re-accelerate and delay interest-rate relief, maybe even cause the Fed to hike," said Sameer Samana at Wells Fargo Investment Institute. "We think oil prices eventually normalize, but appreciate that things may get worse before they get better."

Those risks came at a time when traders are looking for evidence that big bets on AI are generating new growth rather than weighing on profits.

Alphabet's $205-bn spend target fuels AI cost fears

DAVEY ALBA & JULIA LOVE July 23

ALPHABET RAISED ITS capital spending forecast to as much as $205 billion this year, reigniting concerns about a lack of fiscal discipline in the race to dominate artificial intelligence.

The Google parent company boosted its projected capital expenditures for the year to a range of $195 billion to $205 billion, up from a previous forecast of $190 billion. Shares fell more than 6% on Thursday. It was a reminder that the full cost of Silicon Valley's AI rivalry is still largely unclear.

Alphabet was the first of the big tech companies to report quarterly results. Meta Platforms, Microsoft Corp. and Amazon.com follow next week. Altogether, the four companies telegraphed in April that they'd be spending as much as $725 billion this year on their AI ambitions. If Alphabet is any indication, that sum will be larger by the end of next week. That's even while the returns on those investments remain unclear.

Alphabet's bigger spending plan "does not sit well," Investing.com senior analyst Thomas Monteiro said. "Add to that an

In another indication of the immensity of Alphabet's capital spending, the company's quarterly cash flow was negative for the first time since going public more than two decades ago, according to data compiled by Bloomberg. Negative free cash flow came in at $5.9 billion in the period.

Alphabet's Q2 results demonstrated some progress in that respect. Cloud revenue totaled $24.77 billion for the period ended June 30, up 82% from a year earlier and above the $22.46 billion that analysts had expected. —BLOOMBERG

US weekly jobless claims hit lowest since 1969

THE NUMBER OF Americans seeking unemployment benefits for the first time unexpectedly fell last week to the lowest since the 1960s, indicating the US job market continues on an even keel and leaving Federal Reserve officials to keep their focus on containing inflation.

Initial claims for state jobless benefits dropped by 22,000 — the largest decline in three months — to a adjusted 187,000 for the week ended July 18, the Labour Department said.

That was the lowest level of new applications since September 1969 and came as economists polled by Reuters had forecast new claims would edge up to 212,000 in latest week. —REUTERS

Samsung's $400K-bonus deal fuels labour dispute

LABOUR UNIONS ARE rallying across South Korea after Samsung Electronics caved in to protests and agreed to hand out bonuses of more than $400,000 to some of its employees.

Assembly-line workers at Hyundai Motor plan a three-day partial strike next week, Yonhap News reported, following similar action this week in their push to secure up to 30% of consolidated profit to be set aside for bonuses.

Meanwhile, unions at HD Hyundai Heavy Industries and telecom operator LG

Uplus want payouts equivalent to at least 30% of operating profit, while workers at Hanwha Aerospace and HD Hyundai Electric want to scrap bonus caps altogether.

ECB keeps rates steady but Sept hike stays in play

BLOOMBERG July 23

EUROPEAN CENTRAL BANK officials are prepared to raise borrowing costs in September unless the euro-zone inflation outlook improves markedly, people familiar with the situation said.

Based on today's information and data, in particular on the Middle East conflict and its economic fallout, it's likely that another quarter-point increase will be needed to contain consumer-price pressures, said the people, asking not to be identified because discussions on the matter are private.

They stressed that nothing has been decided and the situation can change quickly, especially if there's progress toward a peace deal or a more severe economic downturn materializes, a stance in line with the institution's "meeting-by-meeting" approach.

An ECB spokesperson declined to comment on the Governing Council's policy plans. On Thursday, President Christine Lagarde insurers and reinsurers are likely to reassess the risk, leading to higher premiums, tighter underwriting and reduced capacity," said Amit Goel, Director, Equirus Ragnhall Insurance Broking.

India's crude import bill reached $49.8 billion in April-June, up 61% year-on-year and equal to about 40% of last fiscal's total oil import bill. A sustained $1-a-barrel rise for a year could add about 1.8,000 crore to the import bill.

Kpler said confirmed crude transits through Hormuz had fallen 75%, leaving more oil inside the Gulf.

At least seven vessels have changed course to avoid transiting through the Bab al Mandeb Strait in light of the Houthi blockade on Saudi ports.

dent Christine Lagarde laid the groundwork for a possible increase in September, saying that some of her colleagues questioned if they should act immediately before they then kept their deposit rate unchanged at 2.25%.

"There were some governors who asked themselves whether we should not consider a hike," she told reporters in Frankfurt on Thursday. "We were positioned adequately to wait and be very attentive in the next few weeks to the development of the situation and to the data that we will be receiving in the next few weeks."

Last month, the ECB became the first central bank in the Group of Seven to raise rates since the conflict began. It now remains at the vanguard of that club in confronting price pressures driven by the hostilities.

"Risks to the inflation outlook are to the upside," Lagarde told reporters.

"The energy shock could intensify further, and its effects on other prices and wages could be stronger than currently expected."

Saudi nuclear deal key to forming Israel ties: Trump

US PRESIDENT DONALD Trump said a civil nuclear agreement with Saudi Arabia would be contingent on the kingdom normalizing ties with Israel, throwing cold water on a landmark deal his administration finalized just a day earlier.

Trump also said there would be "no enrichment" of nuclear material. The pact would allow American firms to expand nuclear energy development in a long-coveted market, but it also raised concerns about a lack of guardrails that would prevent Riyadh from enriching uranium to weapons-grade.

Trump said that the agreement "will be approved, but is totally subject to Saudi Arabia joining the very respected and successful Abraham Accords," referring to his initiative to get Arab countries to formally recognise Israel. "The United States is not opposed to Civil (Non-Enriched) Nuclear Facilities," the US president said.

Trump's fresh demand throws a wrench into the implementation of the pact. Saudi Arabia will not normalise ties until Israel accepts Palestinian statehood, something the Israeli government has ruled out. —BLOOMBERG

"If the voyage timeline increases by two weeks, the cost of freight for energy imports from West Asia, primarily Saudi supplies, may surge 30-50%," said Prashant Vashisht, senior vice-president and co-group head, corporate ratings, Icra.

Vessel shortages could raise shipping costs by 50-80% as owners avoid risky passages. Supplies from Russia, South America and Africa may add 15-20 days, while rerouting around the Cape or sourcing US crude could extend voyages by 25-30 days.

The additional freight, bunker fuel and insurance burden could reach $2.5-5 million per voyage for a very large crude carrier carrying nearly two million barrels. This may add $2-4 a barrel to India's landed crude cost. For some rerouted West Asian cargoes, the combined impact could reach $6-8 a barrel.

The Drewry World Container Index stood at $4,547 per 40-foot container and the key Baltic index near $3,852, both up around 150% since the conflict began in 2026, reflecting higher fuel and insurance costs.

War-risk premiums on high-risk Gulf transits have risen 200-300%, while some voyages have recorded increases exceeding 1,000%. Rates for the riskiest journeys have climbed from 0.2-0.5% of vessel value to 3-5%. "Even without a formal closure,

MOVE PROVIDES A RELIEF OF 10% SURCHARGE IMPOSED ON EXPORTS

Exports to US revert to MFN tariffs today

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, July 23

RELIEF MEASURE

■ Around 92% of India's $87.2 bn merchandise exports will once again be subject only to the WTO-compatible US most-favoured-nation (MFN) tariffs

■ The remaining 8% of exports remain subject to high national security tariffs with no relief
■ The tariffs apply based on the exact date and time when the goods are entered for consumption once again be subject only to the normal WTO-compatible US most-favoured-nation (MFN) tariffs, a report by Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI) said. The remaining 8% of India's exports, including steel, aluminium and auto components covered under Section 232, remain subject to high national security tariffs with no relief. The surcharge, imposed under Section 122 of the US Trade Act, 1974, expires at 9:31 am IST. The tariffs apply based on the exact date and time when the goods are entered for consumption or withdrawn from a US customs warehouse, rather than when they are shipped or arrive at a US port. However, two investigations by US Trade Representatives under Section 301 of the Trade Act are in progress. The one on use of forced labour products is nearing completion and the next set of duties are likely to be introduced under this section. Indian exports experienced three US tariff regimes in less than a year—from 50% reciprocal tariffs to a 10% Section 122 surcharge and are now back to MFN tariffs.

CCI junks complaints against Eternal over abuse of dominance

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, July 23

THE COMPETITION COMMISSION of India (CCI) on Thursday rejected a complaint against Eternal, formerly known as Zomato, for allegedly abusing its dominant position by charging excessive platform fees, inflated menu prices and adopting "drip pricing", which is a sales technique under which only part of a product's price is displayed at the beginning of the purchase process.

The CCI order said that the pricing differences between restaurant purchases and online food delivery stem from the distinct nature of the two business models and do not amount to anti-competitive conduct. "With respect to excessive price charged by the Opposite Party (Eternal) in comparison to the concerned restaurant partner, the commission is of prima facie view that the same may not be considered as abusive as selling food items through online platforms includes other services like platform services, delivery services etc," the order stated.

As per the regulator, the online food delivery platforms operate as multi-sided businesses, charging platform fees from consumers for online ordering services, delivery fees for logistics, and commissions from restaurant partners for listing and selling food on the platform. The restaurants may choose to pass these commissions on to customers by increasing menu prices, making it natural for platforms to differ from those at physical outlets. Addressing the complainant's reliance on the price of a single food item, the CCI said the comparison was insufficient to establish abuse of dominance. It noted that the informant had "chosen sample of a single food item of low price" to argue that the platform charged 88% more than the restaurant price. The order said that such a comparison is misleading because if the food item were priced higher, "percentage difference in price would accordingly decline as the delivery charge is a fixed charge and it may vary depending on the distance."

RESERVOIR LEVELS IMPROVE FOR THIRD WEEK TO 38.37%

RESERVOIR STORAGE ACROSS the country improved for the third straight week to 38.37% of capacity on Thursday, up from 34.46% reported a week ago, thanks to adequate monsoon rains. However, overall water storage across all 166 major reservoirs was 36% below the level from a year ago and nearly 7% below the normal or 10-year average level, reports Sandip Das. Forty-nine dams (less than 30%) have more water than last year. According to the Central Water Commission, water levels of 47 major dams in Southern India are currently at 30.26% of their combined capacity, marginally higher than 28.37% last week.

BHARAT TEX 2026

Weaving the future of Atmanirbhar and globally competitive India

■ GIRIRAJ SINGH

INDIA'S TEXTILE SECTOR has always been more than an industry. It is a reflection of our civilisation, our culture, our entrepreneurial spirit, and the livelihoods of millions of families. Under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, India is transforming this legacy into a globally competitive growth engine that combines tradition with technology, sustainability with scale, and local craftsmanship with global markets.

The Prime Minister's vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat and the transformative 5F framework — farm to fibre, fibre to factory, factory to fashion, and fashion to foreign markets — has provided a clear road map for India's textile sector. Today, Bharat Tex has emerged as the most visible manifestation of this vision, bringing together every stakeholder across the textile value chain on one integrated global platform.

In line with key international textile events of this scale, Bharat Tex is an industry-led initiative spearheaded by 11 export promotion councils and two industry associations, with the support of the Ministry of Textiles.

The third edition of Bharat Tex 2026 has reaffirmed India's position as a trusted global textile manufacturing, sourcing, and investment destination. As the world's largest integrated textile event, spread across nearly 1.6 million sq ft, Bharat Tex showcased the strength, diversity, and innovation of the country's textile ecosystem. The event witnessed more than 115,000 visitors, over 6,000 international buyers, exhibitors from across the globe, and representatives from 138 countries. Bharat Tex is not merely an exhibition. It is a platform where business partnerships are forged, investments are catalysed, ideas are exchanged, and the future of the global textile industry is shaped. Over 28,000 business meetings, government-to-government and business-to-government interactions, and over 100 knowledge sessions opened new avenues for trade, technology collaboration, innovation, and market access.

The event also showcased the growing confidence of states, which highlighted their textile strengths, investment opportunities, and policy support, making Bharat Tex truly a national platform. The world is currently looking at India as a competitive manufacturing hub for textiles. The India-UK CETA coming into force during Bharat Tex created unprecedented opportunities for exporters and MSMEs. The signing of nine trade pacts in six years has opened new market regions and strengthened India's global footprint.

The event translated this confidence into concrete outcomes with investment commitments of around ₹14,300 crore, supported by over 30 memoranda of understanding (MoUs) between industry players and various state partners, focusing on man-made fibre, apparel manufacturing, technical textiles, and textile recycling. Re&Up announced its intention to invest $500 million in India, creating jobs and expanding manufacturing capacity.

The growing international character of Bharat Tex was another remarkable achievement. Ministerial delegations, business leaders, and industry associations from Asia, Europe, the Americas, Africa, and Oceania participated. Strategic collaborations, including the letter of intent between Bharat Tex Trade Federation and Première Vision Paris, will deepen India's integration with global markets.

Equally important was Bharat Tex's focus on sustainability. The event showcased innovations in recycling, traceability, technical textiles, responsible sourcing, and environmentally conscious manufacturing. NITRA (Northern India Textile Research Association) signed an MoU with Troop Comforts to utilise CLOCell (Milkweed Fibre) in cold-weather defence gear, reflecting India's commitment to sustainable innovation.

Innovation and technology were at the heart of Bharat Tex 2026. AI-enabled buyer-seller matchmaking platforms, blockchain-based traceability systems, technical textile innovations developed by youth through Sanrachna Hackathon, and indigenous textile machinery innovations demonstrated India's technological capability. The textiles machinery industry ecosystem is moving towards 'Atmanirbhar', with the eco-friendly fabric printing machine developed by ColorJet under the National Technical Textiles Mission stands out as a notable example. At the same time, handlooms, handicrafts, and traditional weaves received global attention, reinforcing India's heritage.

The event also reflected the inclusive nature of India's development journey. MSMEs accounted for nearly 70% of exhibitors, while first-time exporters, startups, women entrepreneurs, youth innovators, weavers from Aspirational Districts Programme, and Lakhpati Didi found unprecedented opportunities to connect with global buyers and markets.

Bharat Tex 2026 has demonstrated that India's textile sector is ready to lead the next phase of global growth. With strong policy support, world-class infrastructure, expanding manufacturing capabilities, sustainable practices, and an innovation-driven ecosystem, India is steadily emerging as the preferred destination for sourcing, investment, and partnership.

As India moves towards the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047, the textile sector will remain one of the strongest pillars of economic transformation. (The author is the Union Minister of Textiles)

Next clean energy push to focus on storage and hybrids: Joshi

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, July 23

INDIA'S NEXT PHASE of the renewable-energy transition will focus on hybrid projects, battery storage, floating solar, agrivoltaics and green hydrogen, as the government prepares a global platform to attract investment, technology and partnerships across the clean-energy value chain.

The Bharat Renewable Energy Summit & Expo 2026 will be held at Bharat Mandapam from November 2-5 and inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi. For the first time, the event will combine BRESE, the ninth International Solar Alliance Assembly and the fourth International Conference on Green Hydrogen.

"The next phase of the energy transition will focus on strengthening system capabilities through hybrid renewable-energy projects, battery energy-storage systems, floating solar, agrivoltaics and the National Green Hydrogen Mission," Union Minister for New and Renewable Energy Pralhad Joshi said.

The four-day summit would bring governments, developers, manufacturers, storage companies, green-hydrogen firms, financial institutions, investors and international organisations together.

India is also set to cross 300 GW of installed non-fossil capacity in the coming days, while PM Surya Ghar is expected to cover 5 million households within weeks. Non-fossil capacity has risen to 297 GW from 21 GW and bioenergy to 12 GW from 8.1 GW.

Solar-module manufacturing capacity has expanded to 200 GW from 2 GW, with solar-cell capacity at 30 GW and wafer capacity at 2.2 GW.

BENGALURU

ASHISS KUMAR DASH, CEO DESIGNATE, INFOSYS

The execution man for the AI age

THE INSIDER’S ELEVATION SIGNALS THAT INFOSYS IS SHIFTING ITS FOCUS FROM BUILDING AI CAPABILITIES TO EXECUTING THEM AT SCALE

RISHI RAJ

ASHISS KUMAR DASH has spent more than three decades at Infosys, largely away from the spotlight, building businesses, managing large global clients and running some of the company’s biggest industry verticals. With Infosys designating him the next managing director and CEO, who will take charge on April 1, 2027, that relatively understated career offers a clue to where the country’s second-largest IT services company sees its future.

Unlike, say, Vishal Sikka, who was brought in to inject a fresh technology vision, or the incumbent Sali Parekh, whose nine-year tenure focused on restoring stability while expanding Infosys’ digital and cloud capabilities, Dash – currently based in Los Angeles and will return to Bengaluru to lead Infosys – inherits a company confronting a different challenge. Artificial intelligence (AI) has moved from a testing phase to deploying it at scale, integrating it into clients’ businesses and translating investment into growth.

That is where Dash’s experience comes into play. Over the years, he has built his career less around headline-grabbing strategy and more around execution, overseeing businesses across services, utilities, resources, energy and enterprise sustainability while working closely with some of Infosys’ largest global customers. His appointment suggests the company believes the next phase of competition will be won not by the boldest AI vision, but by the ability to execute it consistently across industries.

In that sense, Dash’s elevation suggests how the priorities of both Infosys and the global IT services industry are evolving as enterprises move from AI experimentation to enterprise-wide transformation.

An IIT Kharagpur graduate, Dash has steadily risen through the ranks at Infosys over the past three decades. While many of his contemporaries became identified with specific technologies or geographies, Dash built his reputation by running businesses. He managed large delivery organisations, led profit-and-loss responsibilities and developed long-term relationships with Fortune 500 clients, experiences that have increasingly become central to the way large IT services companies compete.

His current portfolio illustrates that evolution. As the head of businesses spanning services, utilities, resources, energy and enterprise sustainability, Dash has overseen industries undergoing profound technological change. Utilities are adopting AI-driven grid management, energy companies are digitising operations while navigating the transition to cleaner fuels, and industrial enterprises are using data and automation to improve productivity. These are no longer niche technology projects but large-scale business transformation programmes, requiring a combination of industry understanding, technology expertise and disciplined execution.

That background also explains why Dash has become one of Infosys’ key customer-facing executives. He has represented the company at global platforms such as the World Economic Forum and the B20, engaging on issues ranging from AI and sustainability to the future of enterprise technology.

Those interactions reflect the changing role of IT services companies, where discussions increasingly involve CEOs and business leaders rather than just technology heads.

Within Infosys, Dash has also taken on responsibilities beyond his operating role. He serves on the boards of several subsidiaries, including Infosys Public Services, Simplus, Blue Acorn iCi and Health Sigma. Together, these businesses span public sector technology, enterprise software, customer experience and healthcare, giving him exposure to diverse markets and business models at a time when clients increasingly expect integrated technology solutions rather than standalone services.

His educational background follows a familiar Infosys trajectory. Alongside his engineering degree from IIT Kharagpur, he completed the executive leadership programme at Stanford Graduate School of Business. Yet, unlike some of the company’s more visible leaders, Dash has maintained a relatively low public profile, focusing instead on execution and customer engagement.

That profile appears well suited to the environment Infosys finds itself in today. The company is not searching for a dramatic turnaround or a reinvention of its strategy. It has already invested heavily in cloud, digital engineering, cybersecurity and AI, while building consulting capabilities through acquisitions and organic expansion. The challenge now is to convert those investments into sustained revenue growth at a time when clients remain selective about technology spending.

NEWS POINT

Fast-track courts will punish paper leak guilty, assures PM

HARIKISHAN SHARMA & DAMINI NATH
New Delhi, July 23

IN FIRST PUBLIC remarks on the row over examination paper leaks that have triggered protests in the heart of the Capital, captivated public attention and heated up politics, Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced on Thursday his government’s decision to set up fast-track courts to “ensure swift and stringent punishment for those involved in paper leaks”.

In a post on X, Modi said, “Nothing is more important than the welfare and future of our youth! We have decided to set up fast-track courts to ensure swift and stringent punishment for those involved in paper leaks. Have directed the concerned authorities and officials to take all necessary steps in this regard. This continues our series of steps for safeguarding the interests of students. Those who try to harm the future of our youth will not be spared.”

The Prime Minister’s remarks came amid his government’s efforts to defuse the situation arising out of the Cockroach Janta Party-led protests, now backed by the Opposition which has joined the chorus for the resignation of Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan.

The BJP and Opposition leaders criticised the announcement, saying it did not address their key demands

People in large numbers gather at Jantar Mantar supporting the Cockroach Janta Party’s (CJP) protest, demanding Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan’s resignation over alleged examination irregularities and NEET paper leak, in New Delhi on Wednesday for accountability and the resignation of Pradhan.

Law and Justice Minister Arjun Ram Meghwal said the government would set up fast-track courts to conduct trials of examination paper leak cases, starting with the High Courts of Delhi, Bombay, Calcutta, and Madhya Pradesh.

Meghwal said, “We have taken note of the NEET exam leak cases ongoing at the Bombay, Delhi, Calcutta, and Madhya Pradesh High Courts. We are setting up fast-track courts at these four courts for speedy trials. In the future, we will do so if any such case arises.”

He said instructions were being issued and the fast-track courts could be set up as early as this week.

According to Meghwal, the Public Examinations (Prevention of Unfair Means) Act, 2024 provides for strict punishment to those involved in unfair means, including paper leaks, in all examinations conducted by the Union Public Service Commission, the Staff Selection Commission, the Railway Recruitment Board, Institute of Banking Personnel Selection and the National Testing Agency which conducts the NEET exam.

“But due to the lack of fast-track courts, day-to-day hearings could not be held in these cases so far.”

BJP leaders and senior ministers welcomed the decision to form fast-track courts.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah said, “The decision to expedite hearings and take stringent action against the guilty in paper leak cases through the establishment of fast-track courts by the Prime Minister is a reflection of this very commitment. This important step...against those who toy with the future of the youth due to paper leaks will prove to be a milestone.”

BJP President Nitin Nabin said the Prime Minister had said earlier and reiterated that the NDA government was “ready for any investigation” and would bring fast-track courts to ensure that those involved would not be spared.

Come forward for talks: Jitendra Singh to CJP

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, July 23

UNION MINISTER JITENDRA Singh on Thursday appealed to the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP) to come forward for another round of talks with the government, saying issues can be resolved and a way forward can be found only through dialogue.

Speaking to PTI Videos, Singh said that in the last 24 hours, the government has invited the CJP for talks “at least four times.”

“I would like to appeal to the students and young friends participating in this protest to come forward for a dialogue. Our doors are open,” he said, adding this is a “humble appeal” on behalf of the government.

Singh said the discussion with the protesting students’ representatives will be held under the leadership of Union Health Minister and senior BJP leader JP Nadda. “The meeting can take place either at Nadda’s official residence or at his office. The choice is yours (students’ representatives). I will also be present,” he said.

Singh said the discussion can be held on the “NEET issue” and all “related matters.”

“We are prepared to devote as much time as necessary, be it one, two, three or four hours, according to your convenience. However, please do come forward for a dialogue, because there is no solution without discussion, and without a solution, we cannot chart the way forward,” he said.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS OF THE ISSUER COMPANY:

Our Company, Dhaval Packaging Limited, was incorporated as a private limited company on November 02, 2015 at Sanand, Gujarat and was subsequently converted into a public limited company on October 08, 2025. Our Registered office is situated at Plot No. E 411, GIDC, Sanand, Ahmedabad, Sanand, Gujarat, India – 382110. We design, manufacture, and supply plastic packaging solutions for domestic and international markets. Our core philosophy is to translate brand intent into manufacturable and scalable packaging solutions for food and FMCG categories such as sweets, dairy, dry fruits, bakery and other related items. We position ourselves as a solutions partner that aligns design, materials, labelling, and tooling with production realities so that packaging enhances shelf presence, protects product integrity, and supports reliable throughput on customer lines.

Our products span two categories.

1. IML Containers: In-Mold Labelling (IML) is the cornerstone of our business operations. In IML, a pre-printed label is placed inside the mold before plastic is injected; allowing the label to fuse with the product surface. RISKS TO INVESTORS:

Risk to investors: Summary Description of key Risk Factors Based on Materiality

- A majority of our revenue from operations is from our top 10 customers (which accounted for 51.27%, 46.37% and 49.76% of our revenue from operations for the Fiscal Year ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024). Additionally, a significant portion of our revenue from operations is derived from our existing customers. Loss of any such customers or reduction in business or demand from such customers will have a significant adverse impact on our business and results of operation.
- We depend on a limited number of suppliers for our raw material requirements of our business. Further, we do not have definitive agreements or fixed terms of trade with most of our suppliers. Failure to successfully leverage our relationships with existing suppliers or to identify new suppliers could adversely affect our business operations.
- Pending NCLT proceedings for revision of Financial Statements and Board's Reports may result in regulatory action and penalties.
- There have been certain instances of delays in payment of certain statutory dues by us. Any further delays in payment of statutory dues may attract financial penalties from the respective government authorities and in turn may have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and cash flows.
- There have been instances of delays in filings of certain forms which were required to be filed as per the reporting requirements as well as discrepancies in the forms submitted to the Registrar of Companies (ROC)/Central Registration Centre (CRC) in accordance with the Companies Act, 2013.
- Any disruptions to the supply, or increases in the pricing, of the raw materials and finished products that we procure, may adversely affect the supply and pricing of our products and, in turn, adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.
- Our revenues are significantly dependent on certain geographical regions, and any adverse developments in these regions could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Our manufacturing facilities are located only in the state of Gujarat. Any adverse developments affecting our operations in the Gujarat could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.
- Our business is operating under various laws which require us to obtain approvals from the concerned statutory/regulatory authorities in the ordinary course of business, and if we are unable to obtain these approvals and the renewals, our business operations could be adversely affected thereby impacting our revenues and profitability.
- Our business operations are highly dependent on the efficient functioning of our manufacturing machinery, and any breakdown, malfunction or technical failure may adversely affect our production and profitability.

RISKS TO INVESTORS:

For details refer to section titled "Risk Factors" on page 24 of the Prospectus

- Operation Risk: Our mining operations are subject to operating risks. Accidents and other operating risks including flooding, disruptions due to truck machinery and equipment failures and unavailability of diesel fuel and water which could result in decreased production or increased cost of production, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
 - Customer Concentration: We derive a significant portion (90.11% in Fiscal 2026) of our revenue from operations from our top three customers, with our single largest customer, Northern Coalfields Limited, contributing 44.16% of our revenue from operations in Fiscal 2026. Loss of any of our top customers could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
 - Dependence on Freight Volumes and Profitability of Logistics Operations: The success of our logistics business depends on our ability to generate sufficient freight volumes of coal and iron ore and optimise revenue to achieve desired profit margins and avoid losses. Any failure on our part to achieve desired operating or net profit margins could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- The table set forth below provides the split of our consolidated revenue from operations for our logistics services for the fiscal years indicated.

Service type	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	₹ lakhs	% of revenue from operations	₹ lakhs	% of revenue from operations	₹ lakhs	% of revenue from operations
Logistics	20,867.09	12.44%	23,444.06	16.39%	26,559.66	27.87%

- Dependence on Availability and Cost of Power, Fuel, Stores and Spares: Increase in the cost of power and fuel and stores and spares used in our operations, or the inability to obtain the necessary power and fuel or a sufficient quantity of stores and spares, could increase our operating expenses, disrupt or delay our production and materially and adversely affect profitability.
- The following table sets forth our power and fuel expenses as well as expense for consumption of stores and spares in the fiscal years indicated.

Expense Particulars	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	₹ lakhs	% total expenses	₹ lakhs	% total expenses	₹ lakhs	% total expenses
Power and fuel	78,391.48	53.51%	67,289.14	53.47%	42,744.35	51.53%
Consumption of stores and spares	655.53	0.45%	604.73	0.48%	376.53	0.45%

- Dependence on Large-Scale Mining Contracts and Future Contract Awards: We are dependent on the award of large-scale mining contracts (over ₹100,000 lakhs) which represented 76.12% of our revenue from operations in Fiscal 2026 and may represent a significant part of our Order Book in the future, increasing the potential volatility of our results of operations and cash flows and exposure to individual contract risks. Further, the award of future mining services contracts is subject to uncertainty and our failure to win future awards could adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- Dependence on Regulatory Approvals, Licences and Permits: Our mining operations require various approvals, licenses and permits which our mining customers must obtain or secure and any failure to obtain these approvals, licenses or permits in a timely manner may adversely impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition. We are responsible for obtaining labour licenses and for approvals for the storage of diesel from the Indian Petroleum Explosive Safety Organisation (PESO). If we and our customers do not comply with all necessary licenses, permits and approvals required for our mining activities in a timely manner or at all our business results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.
- Past Regulatory Non-Compliances: We failed to appoint a company secretary during the period from December 8, 2022 to July 29, 2024. Additionally, in our private placement of 20,83,333 Equity Shares on September 30, 2024, we did not open a separate bank account, and we utilised the proceeds from the issuance prior filing of PAS- 3, in violation of Section 42 of the Companies Act, 2013. We cannot assure you that such non-compliances will not occur in future or that no legal proceedings or regulatory actions will be initiated against us for such non-compliances.
- Dependence on Third-Party Suppliers for Critical Materials and Consumables: We are dependent on third party suppliers for lubricants, tyres, steel and other materials, as well as spare parts and other consumables. Any disruption to the timely and adequate supply of such materials, spare parts or consumables or volatility in their prices may adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- Health Safety Compliance: Extensive governmental regulations relating to employee safety and health impose significant compliance costs on our mining operations. Any failure to comply with applicable health and safety laws or the occurrence of accidents could result in temporary suspension or disruption of our mining operations, increased operating costs, and adverse impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and profitability. Further, we do not maintain insurance coverage against various potential risks associated with our operations, including accidents and other hazards, which may require us to incur significant costs or liabilities in the future.
