RISK TO INVESTORS

For details refer to section titled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 19 of the RHP

1. Significant dependence on in house manufacturing facilities accounting for 81.72% of total revenue from operations in Fiscal 2026: We operate eight in-house manufacturing facilities (through our Company and Subsidiaries). Further, certain of our products are produced at dedicated manufacturing facilities. A significant portion of our revenues are attributable to our in-house manufacturing facilities. The revenue contribution from our in-house manufacturing facilities account for 81.72%, 78.55% and 66.83% in Fiscal 2026, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024 respectively. Any shutdown or interruption in the operations of any of our existing facilities, or our inability to respond to such shutdown or disruption in a timely manner or at an acceptable cost, could significantly and adversely affect the entire manufacturing of the product specifically produced at such facility.
2. Substantial portion of our revenue is derived from the sale of glazed vitrified tiles ("GVT") and technical products (73.98% of our total revenue from operations in Fiscal 2026): Below are details of our revenues generated from GVT and technical products for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal
	2026		2025		2024
	Amount (₹ million)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ million)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ million)	% of revenue from operations
GVT and technical products*	11,189.80	73.98%	10,058.44	69.56%	9,408.85	65.54%

Note:
*Technical products comprise advanced vitrified tile and surface solutions manufactured using combinations of specialized homogeneous body formulations, digital printing on surface engineered through chips, grits and feeder technology such as IST products, which began commercial operations in Fiscal 2026.

Any negative trend or downturn in the tiles market (particularly GVT) and other markets that we cater to (such as bathware) could result in loss of business or reduction in the volume of business from customers in these industries.

3. Geographic Concentration risk: All our revenues are attributable to manufacturing facilities (owned and operated by our Company or Subsidiaries, or third-party contract manufacturers) situated in Morbi, Gujarat, India. Any disruption caused by local and regional factors in the Morbi cluster, could have a significant impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and operations. In addition, changes in government policies affecting the Morbi region, including any increase in the imposition of tax, tariffs or duties, may require us to change our business strategy. Any such disruption may interrupt the operations at such manufacturing facilities or cause a complete shutdown and affect our ability to provide quality products to our customers in a timely manner.

4. Significant portion of our revenue from operations is derived from our B2C retail chain (comprising exclusive brand outlets ("EBOs") and multi brand outlets ("MBOs") (accounting for 66.80% of our total domestic sales in Fiscal 2026): We have an extensive retail distribution network and derive a significant portion of our revenue from operations from our B2C retail chain (comprising EBOs and MBOs) which are operated on a franchisee-owned-franchisee-operated model) and B2B channel comprising partnerships with various architects, builders and contractors and government agencies. As of March 31, 2026, we had a network of 305 EBOs and 2,758 MBOs. Set out below are certain details of our revenues by B2C and B2B channels in India for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal
	2026		2025		2024
	(₹ million)	% of total domestic sales	(₹ million)	% of total domestic sales	(₹ million)	% of total domestic sales
India
B2B ⁽¹⁾	3,934.47	33.20%	3,519.02	31.18%	2,595.99	24.04%
B2C ⁽²⁾	7,915.59	66.80%	7,767.33	68.82%	8,204.69	75.96%
Total Domestic Sale	11,850.06	100.00%	11,286.35	100.00%	10,800.68	100.00%

Notes:
⁽²⁾ B2C as a % of total domestic sales represents the Company's revenue attributable to B2C retail channel (through EBOs and MBOs which are operated on a franchisee-owned-franchisee-operated model) as a percentage of its total sales in India.

There can be no assurance that the performance of such franchisees will meet our required specifications or performance parameters. Additionally, there can be no assurance that our franchisees will be able to generate adequate revenue consistently, and we may be exposed to credit risks associated with non-payment or untimely payments from our franchisees.

5. Risk in relation to conflict of interest: Our Subsidiaries, Associates and Joint Ventures (some of which are also Group Companies) have common pursuits vis-à-vis our Company and are in a similar line of business as our Company, which may lead to a conflict of interest in the future that in turn may adversely impact our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.
6. Risks associated with strategic acquisitions and investments: We have in the past made and may in the future continue to make strategic acquisitions of other companies or businesses with the belief that their resources, capabilities and strategies are complementary, and are likely, to enhance our business operations. Acquired businesses or assets may not generate the financial results we expect and may incur losses over time. We acquired a majority stake in Simola in Fiscal 2023; however, the investment did not yield the intended operational and financial benefits, and we subsequently divested our entire partnership interest in Simola on September 5, 2026. Additionally, we intend to leverage our capabilities and focus on brownfield expansion through companies and businesses that offer access to untapped geographies. Any failure to successfully evaluate, execute, integrate or manage acquisitions or investments, or to realize the anticipated synergies, operational efficiencies or strategic benefits from such transactions, may result in additional costs, impairment of investments, diversion of management attention and loss of business opportunities. Such factors could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.

7. Operations subject to volatility in the supply and pricing of raw materials, packing materials and dependence on supplier: Our operations are subject to volatility in the supply and pricing of raw materials and packing materials. We are also dependent on our top suppliers for the supply for certain raw materials. Any loss of suppliers or interruptions in the timely delivery of supplies or price escalations could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Set out below are details of our top ten suppliers for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal
	2026		2025		2024
	Amount (₹ million)	% of Total expenses	Amount (₹ million)	% of Total expenses	Amount (₹ million)	% of Total expenses
Top ten suppliers*	1203.46	8.10%	1,722.90	11.83%	2,052.86	14.53%

*The top ten suppliers are the top ten suppliers in terms of total expenses for each of the respective years and may not necessarily be the same suppliers in each year; excludes intercompany transactions (with subsidiaries).

Any loss of suppliers or interruptions in the timely delivery of supplies or price escalations could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

8. Portion of our revenue from operations is derived from outside India (revenue from contracts with customers from outside India was 21.11% of our Sale of Products in Fiscal 2026): Since inception, we exported our products to over 100 countries as of March 31, 2026. We depend on our exports for a significant portion of our revenues which exposes us to risks inherent to operations in these foreign jurisdictions. Our global operations expose us to risks such as compliance with local laws, and any failure to comply with applicable laws or regulations could lead to civil, administrative or regulatory proceedings which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Set out below is the disaggregation of our revenue from contracts with customers by geographical markets for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal
	2026		2025		2024
	(₹ million)	% of Sale of Products	(₹ million)	% of Sale of Products	(₹ million)	% of Sale of Products
Geographical markets
India	11,850.06	78.89%	11,286.35	78.69%	10,800.68	75.99%
Outside India	3,170.92	21.11%	3,056.27	21.31%	3,413.21	24.01%
Sale of Products	15,020.98	100.00%	14,342.62	100.00%	14,213.89	100.00%

9. Competition risk: We operate in highly competitive markets in each of our product categories. We face competition from large, organized and branded players. We also compete with smaller, regional and unbranded players in the market that may have more flexibility in responding to changing business and economic conditions than us. Our inability to compete effectively may adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

10. A portion of our revenue is generated from products manufactured by third-party contract manufacturers (17.60% of our total revenue from operations in Fiscal 2026) engaged on a non-exclusive basis:

We use various third-party contract manufacturers to produce standard, high-volume and low-complexity products such as ceramic and PVT tiles. In Fiscal 2026, we engaged with 304 contract manufacturers, all of which are located in the Morbi cluster of Gujarat in India. Set out below are details of our revenues generated from products manufactured by third-party contract manufacturers for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal
	2026		2025		2024
	Amount (₹ million)	% of Revenue from operations	Amount (₹ million)	% of Revenue from operations	Amount (₹ million)	% of Revenue from operations
Revenue from products manufactured by third party contract manufacturers	2,661.66	17.60%	2,984.09	20.64%	4,620.40	32.19%

Any disruption or non-performance by these third parties may affect our ability to obtain sufficient or desired quantities of products in a timely manner or at acceptable prices, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

11. Valuation and market price related risks: The Offer Price of our Equity Shares, market capitalization to revenue from operations ratio, market capitalization to tangible assets ratio and EV to EBITDA before exceptional items (EBITDA) ratio may not be indicative of the trading price of the Equity Shares upon listing on the Stock Exchanges subsequent to the Offer and, as a result, you may lose a significant part or all of your investment. The table below provides the details of our market capitalization to revenue from operations ratio, market capitalization to tangible assets ratio and EV to EBITDA before exceptional items (EBITDA) ratio at the upper end and lower end of the Price Band as well as the Offer Price for Fiscal 2026:

Any revision in the Price Band and the revised Bid/ Offer Period, if applicable, shall be widely disseminated by notification to the Stock Exchanges, by issuing a press release, and also by indicating the change on the respective websites of the BRLMs and at the terminals of the members of the Syndicate and by intimation to Designated Intermediaries and the Sponsor Bank, as applicable.

The Offer is being made in terms of Rule 19(2)(b) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1957, as amended (the "SCRR"), read with Regulation 31 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. The Offer is being made through the Book Building Process in accordance with Regulation 6(1) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations wherein not more than 50% of the Offer shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Qualified Institutional Buyers ("QIBs") (the "QIB Portion"), provided that our Company in consultation with the BRLMs may allocate up to 60% of the QIB Portion to Anchor Investors and such allocation will be on a discretionary basis by our Company, in consultation with the BRLMs, in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations (the "Anchor Investor Portion"). 40% of the Anchor Investor Portion shall be reserved for allocation in the following manner (i) 33.33% for domestic Mutual Funds, subject to valid Bids being received from the domestic Mutual Funds at or above the price at which allocation is made to Anchor Investors ("Anchor Investor Allocation Price"), and (ii) 6.67% for Life Insurance Companies and Pension Funds, subject to valid Bids being received from the domestic Mutual Funds, Life Insurance Companies and Pension Funds, as applicable, at or above the Anchor Investor Allocation Price. In the event of under-subscription in (ii) above, the allocation may be made to domestic Mutual Funds at or above the Anchor Investor Allocation Price, in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. In the event of under-subscription or non-allocation in the Anchor Investor Portion, the balance Equity Shares shall be added to the QIB Portion (other than the Anchor Investor Portion) (the "Net QIB Portion"). Further, 5% of the Net QIB Portion shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Mutual Funds and the remainder of the Net QIB Portion shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to all QIBs (except Anchor Investors), including Mutual Funds, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. However, if the aggregate demand from Mutual Funds is less than 5% of the Net QIB Portion, the balance Equity Shares available for allocation in the Mutual Fund Portion will be added to the remaining Net QIB Portion for proportionate allocation to QIBs. Further, not less than 15% of the Offer shall be available for allocation to Non-Institutional Investors ("Non-Institutional Portion") of which one-third of the Non-Institutional Portion shall be available for allocation to Bidders with an application size of more than ₹ 0.20 million and up to ₹ 1.00 million and two-thirds of the Non-Institutional Portion shall be available for allocation to Bidders with an application size of more than ₹ 1.00 million and undersubscription in either of these two sub-categories of the Non-Institutional Portion may be allocated to Bidders in the other sub-category of the Non-Institutional Portion in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. Further, not less than 35% of the Offer shall be available for allocation to Retail Individual Investors ("Retail Portion"). In accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, subject to valid Bids being received from them at or above the Offer Price. All Bidders (except Anchor Investors) shall mandatorily participate in this Offer only through the Application Supported by Blocked Amount ("ASBA") process and shall provide details of their respective bank account (including UPI ID (defined hereinafter) in case of UPI Bidders (defined hereinafter) in which the Bid Amount will be blocked by the Self Certified Syndicate Banks ("SCSBs") or pursuant to the UPI Mechanism, as the case may be. Anchor Investors are not permitted to participate in the Anchor Investor Portion through the ASBA process. For details, see "Offer Procedure" on page 470 of the RHP.

Bidders/Applicants should ensure that DP ID, PAN, Client ID and UPI ID (for UPI Bidders bidding through the UPI Mechanism) are correctly filled in the Bid cum Application Form. The DP ID, PAN and Client ID provided in the Bid cum Application Form should match with the DP ID, PAN, Client ID available in the Depository database, otherwise, the Bid cum Application Form is liable to be rejected. - Volatility in financial performance: Our financial performance has fluctuated during the last three Fiscals. Our PAT was ₹3,891.37 lakhs, ₹771.05 lakhs and ₹12,740.82 lakhs for Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively and out PAT margins was 1.01%, 0.22% and 3.06%, for Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively. Our EBITDA margins was 4.49%, 4.91% and 7.29%, for Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively. Our ROCE was 8.67%, 7.03% and 12.86%, for Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively. Accordingly, our profitability, margins and return ratios have fluctuated across periods, and the improvement in our financial performance in Fiscal 2026 may not be sustained or be indicative of our future financial performance.
- Execution risk relating to our proposed expansion and infrastructure projects: We are currently undertaking certain expansion and infrastructure projects at our Koppal Facility, including a 10 MW waste heat recovery boiler ("WHRB") power plant, of which 6 MW has been partially operational as of the date of the Red Herring Prospectus, a proposed 6,00,000 MTPA iron ore beneficiation plant and a proposed railway siding. The WHRB power plant is expected to be fully commissioned during the second quarter of Fiscal 2027, the iron ore beneficiation plant is expected to be commissioned in phases during Fiscals 2027 and 2028, and the railway siding is expected to become operational in June 2027. These projects involve significant capital expenditure, construction and implementation risks and regulatory dependencies. Any delay, cost overrun, technical or operational difficulty, inability to obtain or maintain requisite approvals or failure to achieve the expected utilisation levels, cost efficiencies or other anticipated benefits could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and growth prospects.
- Related party transactions and potential conflicts of interest: We have entered into, and may continue to enter into, transactions with our related parties in the ordinary course of business, including sale and purchase of goods, unsecured borrowings, lease-related transactions and personal guarantees. While such transactions have been undertaken on an arm's length basis and in compliance with applicable law, certain non-core related party transactions, including borrowings, rental income and interest expenses, have historically involved significant values. Further, as of July 15, 2026, our Promoters and certain members of the Promoter Group had provided unsecured loans amounting to ₹13,766.80 lakhs and personal guarantees aggregating to ₹6,28,584 lakhs in connection with certain borrowings of our Company and Subsidiaries. Related party transactions may involve actual or potential conflicts of interest, and there can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will always be in the best interests of our Company or our minority Shareholders or will not adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.
- High dependence on key products: We rely heavily on revenue generated primarily from the sale of three key products. The table below sets out the revenues generated from sale of our key products, including as a percentage of our Revenue from Operations for the periods indicated therein:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026			Fiscal 2025			Fiscal 2024

*Pipes & Tubes include HR (MS) Pipes, CR Pipes, GP Pipes

Any material reduction in demand for, or sales of, these products could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

- High geographical concentration of revenue and manufacturing operations: More than 50% of our Revenue from Operations has historically been derived from the State of Karnataka, which contributed 54.86%, 57.20% and 50.31% in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Further, five of our six manufacturing facilities are located in Karnataka. Accordingly, any adverse economic, regulatory, environmental, infrastructural or other developments in Karnataka may adversely affect demand for our products as well as our manufacturing operations, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Set forth below is the revenue contribution from operations in Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Telangana and other states for the periods indicated:

State	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Revenue	As a percentage of Revenue from Operations (%)	Revenue	As a percentage of Revenue from Operations (%)	Revenue	As a percentage of Revenue from Operations (%)
Karnataka	2,27,608.78	54.86	2,02,577.65	57.20	1,92,910.83	50.31
Andhra Pradesh	47,089.77	11.35	34,380.49	9.71	49,121.95	12.81
Tamil Nadu	29,897.20	7.21	23,458.28	6.62	27,763.39	7.24
Maharashtra	24,913.40	6.01	25,481.11	7.19	24,927.10	6.50
Telangana	18,212.68	4.39	20,369.84	5.75	23,487.22	6.13
Others*	67,134.91	16.18	47,910.72	13.53	65,210.76	17.01
Total	4,14,856.74	100.00	3,54,178.09	100.00	3,83,421.25	100.00

*Others include products supplied to states contributing less than 5% of the Revenue from Operations and exports in each of the preceding three Fiscals

Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra and Telangana collectively contributed ₹3,47,721.83 lakhs, ₹3,06,267.37 lakhs and ₹3,18,210.49 lakhs in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively, representing 83.82%, 86.47% and 82.99% of our Revenue from Operations, respectively. Accordingly, our financial performance remains significantly dependent on demand and prevailing market conditions in these states, particularly Karnataka.

- Dependence on key customers: We depend on certain key customers for a significant portion of our Revenue from Operations. The table below sets out our Revenue from Operations from our largest customer, top five customers and top 10 customers, including as a percentage of our Revenue from Operations, for the periods indicated:

Largest customer	22,121.36	5.33	21,542.14	6.08	22,464.85	5.86
Top five customers	80,564.86	19.42	60,945.08	17.21	72,770.50	18.98
Top 10 customers	1,15,744.96	27.90	90,231.87	25.48	1,02,202.96	26.66

*% of Revenue from Operations

*Based on their contribution to our Revenue from Operations in the respective Fiscals.

Further, we served 1,715, 1,618 and 1,578 customers in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Any loss of, or significant reduction in business from, our key customers, or our inability to retain such customers on commercially acceptable terms, could adversely affect our revenue, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

- High dependence on suppliers: Our purchases from our top 10 suppliers amounted to ₹1,60,875.97 lakhs, ₹1,47,618.48 lakhs and ₹1,30,696.02 lakhs in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively, representing 49.24%, 49.18% and 42.76% of our total purchases during such periods. Any adverse developments affecting one or more of our suppliers, including financial distress, logistical challenges, regulatory changes, production disruptions or a decision to allocate their available supplies to other customers, including our competitors, may result in delays in procurement, disruption in the availability of critical raw materials or fluctuations in raw material prices. Further, our suppliers are not contractually obligated to maintain long-term or exclusive supply arrangements with us.
- Volatility in steel demand and prices of key raw material: The steel industry is cyclical and steel prices are subject to fluctuations based on, among other factors, domestic and international demand and supply, availability and cost of raw materials, imports, transportation costs, trade measures and conditions in key end-use industries such as construction and infrastructure. Our cost of raw materials consumed amounted to ₹3,48,694.57 lakhs, ₹3,05,372.91 lakhs and ₹3,39,451.31 lakhs in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively, representing 84.05%, 86.22% and 88.53% of our Revenue from Operations. Further, our three largest manufactured product categories, namely TMT bars, pipes and tubes and sponge iron, collectively contributed ₹2,55,613.29 lakhs, ₹2,39,900.60 lakhs and ₹2,33,249.49 lakhs in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively, representing 61.61%, 67.73% and 60.83% of our Revenue from Operations. Any decline in steel prices or demand, particularly where not accompanied by a corresponding reduction in raw material and other input costs, may compress our margins and adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.
- Dependence on performance of key end-use industries: Our business is dependent on demand from the key industries in which our customers operate, including construction and infrastructure and other industrial sectors. Demand in such industries is subject to economic cyclicality and may be affected by, among other factors, changes in government policies, commodity prices, infrastructure spending, availability of substitute materials and general macroeconomic conditions. Further, our three largest manufactured product categories, namely TMT bars, pipes and tubes and sponge iron, together contributed 61.61%, 67.73% and 60.83% of our Revenue from Operations in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Accordingly, any sustained slowdown in the end-use industries consuming these products or reduction in demand from customers operating in such industries could adversely affect our sales, revenue, profitability, cash flows and financial condition.
- Regulatory, statutory and environmental compliance risks: We have been subject to past and ongoing proceedings and actions by regulatory and statutory authorities. In June 2019, SEBI imposed penalties of ₹7.00 lakhs and ₹9.00 lakhs on entities which now form part of our Company in relation to alleged manipulative trading activities in the stock options segment of BSE Limited; such penalties were paid and the matters stand closed. Further, between Fiscal 2021 and Fiscal 2025, the Registrar of Companies and/or the Regional Director levied penalties against our Company, certain Directors and Promoters for violations of provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, which have been paid and the relevant matters stand closed. We are also involved in ongoing proceedings before the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission in relation to alleged non-compliance with Renewable Purchase Obligations for Fiscal 2018. Further, between 2022 and 2025, our Company received two notices in relation to the Hindupur Facility, ten notices in relation to Bellary Facility I, three notices in relation to the Gaubidanur Facility and eight notices in relation to the Chikantapur Facility in connection with alleged environmental non-compliances. We have submitted responses to such notices and, as of the date of the Red Herring Prospectus, no further action has been initiated against our Company pursuant to such notices. Separately, our Subsidiary, Vanya Steels Private Limited, was directed to close its operations pursuant to an order of the Pollution Control Board in relation to alleged environmental non-compliances. The Karnataka High Court has stayed such closure order and the matter is currently pending. Any adverse determination in existing or future regulatory, statutory or environmental proceedings may result in monetary penalties, additional compliance obligations, remedial measures, restrictions on or suspension of our operations, additional costs or reputational harm and could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.
- Deficiencies in audit trail functionality and record preservation: Certain deficiencies were identified in relation to the enablement, operation and preservation of audit trail records in the accounting software used by our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries. In Fiscal 2026, while the audit trail feature operated throughout the year at the application level, the database-level audit trail was not enabled in respect of our Company and two Subsidiaries. Further, in Fiscal 2025, certain Subsidiaries had deficiencies relating to editability, delayed enablement and preservation of audit trail records, and in Fiscal 2024, the audit trail feature was not enabled throughout the year in respect of three units of our Company and one Subsidiary. While our Statutory Auditors did not identify any instance of tampering where the audit trail feature was enabled, any failure to maintain audit trail functionality and preserve records in accordance with applicable requirements may result in regulatory scrutiny, penalties, adverse audit observations and may adversely affect our financial reporting, internal control framework, reputation and investor perception.
- Dependence on Promoters, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management: We are dependent on our Promoters, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management for strategic direction, management of our operations and maintenance of key customer and supplier relationships. Further, our business is manpower intensive and our ability to attract and retain experienced and skilled personnel is important to our operations. As of June 30, 2026, we had 1,377 permanent employees, and our attrition rate was 36.00%, 35.40% and 29.35% in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Any loss of our Promoters, Key Managerial Personnel or Senior Management, or our inability to recruit, retain or train sufficient skilled personnel or manage employee attrition, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.
- The Price/Earnings ratio based on diluted EPS for Fiscal 2026 for our Company at the upper end of the Price band is 21.92 times as compared to the average industry peer group PE ratio of 45.20 times.
- Weighted Average Return on Net Worth for last three Fiscals is 9.65%.
- The average cost of acquisition per Equity Shares by our Promoter Selling Shareholders as on date of the Red Herring Prospectus and the upper end of the price band per Equity Share is as follows:

S&P, FITCH, ADB, OECD UPBEAT ON FY27 GROWTH

India growth outlook gets global upgrade

● Economy now seen growing 6.9-7.1% in FY27; inflation, energy costs pose risks

SHUBHAM RANA
New Delhi, September 23

INDIA'S ECONOMIC OUTLOOK for the current financial year has brightened despite the ongoing conflict in West Asia and elevated energy prices, with four major global institutions raising their forecasts for the country's FY27 GDP growth on Wednesday.

S&P Global Ratings, Fitch Ratings, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), and the Asian Development Bank (ADB) now expect India's economy to expand more rapidly than they had projected just a few months ago.

S&P and ADB each raised their FY27 growth forecasts by 40 basis points to 7%, while Fitch increased its projection by 50 basis points to 6.9%. One basis point is one-hundredth of a percentage point. The largest revision came from the OECD, which raised its forecast to 7.1%, from 6.3% earlier. Last week, Moody's Ratings also raised its India growth forecast to 7%, from 6%.

RESILIENCE AGAINST RISKS

While the four major global institutions raised their FY27 GDP growth outlook for India, their views differed on some matters:

The revised projections are significantly above the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) 6.7% growth forecast for FY27. The central bank is expected to revise its forecast in October after India's economy expanded by a stronger-than-expected 7.8% in April-June. GDP growth for FY26 was also 7.8%.

All the four agencies, however, expect inflation to firm up in the country in the second half of the current financial year.

Fitch said that strong GDP growth in April-June indicates the Indian economy has shown resilience against the shock from the US-Iran conflict. India's growth this year will be "supported by resilient consumption, healthy investment, and strong services exports, which are expected to offset the drag from higher energy costs and a weaker monsoon," ADB said.

Small chips, big Indian bets

THE NEW BUILDERS-II CHIPMAKING

OJASVI GUPTA
New Delhi, September 23

FEW THINGS in technology are harder to make than semiconductors. India Inc is having a go anyway. With the government backing them, companies have already committed some $20 billion — small change by global standards, but a beginning. From fabs and foundries to chips and wafers, the bets span the entire gamut.

Tata Electronics may look

SEMICON PUSH

■ Investments worth $20 billion have been committed

■ Tata Electronics has made the biggest bet, with investments of ₹1.18 lakh crore across a fab & packaging facility

■ HCL-Foxconn's Jewar facility is under construction

■ CG Power and Kaynes have begun chip production

■ Global tie-ups are helping Indian companies de-risk their ventures like the standout player making the big bets, but smaller houses are in the fray too. The Murugappa Group is banking on clean energy and semiconductors to meaningfully lift revenues, while HCL Technologies and Kaynes have decided the risk is worth the reward. Almost all of them have roped in technology partners, and some have signed overseas supply agreements to de-risk their ventures.

The prize is considerable. Domestic demand is forecast to touch $110 billion by FY30 and top $200 billion by FY35. And whatever the revenues, local production would help trim an import bill that added up to about $150 billion over FY17-FY25.

Premium non-basmati rice turns dearer by up to 25%

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, September 23

PRICES OF PREMIUM non-basmati rice variants such as Sona Masoori, Ponni and Swarna have increased by 10-25% compared to last year due to lower area under paddy and rainfall deficiency, especially in southern India. In the southern region, the average market price of the widely consumed Sona Masoori has increased by 25% to ₹58/kg from ₹44/kg a year ago, while the price of Swarna parboiled variant consumed in eastern region has rose by around 10% to ₹35/kg, trade sources said. "The main reasons for the price rise are weather-related supply concerns such as deficient monsoon in South India affecting water levels in dams and floods in parts of Bihar and lower rainfall in northern regions," Suraj Agarwal, co-

MARKETING MARGINS TURN NEGATIVE, GRMs STILL HEALTHY

OMCs losing ₹530 cr a day amid spike in crude prices

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, September 23

THE THREE STATE-RUN oil marketing companies (OMCs) are losing an estimated ₹530 crore a day among them on fuel marketing as a sharp spike in crude and international product prices collides with unchanged domestic pump prices, putting pressure on profitability, cash flows and working-capital requirements, rating agency Icra has said. Marketing margins of Indian Oil Corporation (IOC), Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation (HPCL) are currently estimated at negative ₹8 a litre on petrol and negative ₹9 a litre on diesel. Domestic liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) is adding to the strain, with under-recoveries at around ₹300 per cylinder in September. "Without any additional retail price revisions, the margin will remain under pressure while crude and product prices stay elevated," Prashant Vasisht, senior vice-president and co-group head, corporate sector ratings, Icra, said on Wednesday.

COST CONCERN

■ OMCs could face FY27 under-recoveries of around ₹64,000 crore in H2FY27 if Brent averages $105-115/barrel and retail prices remain unchanged

■ Under-recovery could rise to about ₹1.91 lakh cr is Brent goes up to $130-140 a barrel, according to Icra99

■ Indian crude basket surged to $117.4 a barrel on September 21 from average of around $66 in 2025-26

The pressure intensified as the Indian crude basket surged to $117.4 a barrel on September 21, from an average of around $66 in 2025-26. Icra attributed the jump to the renewed US-Iran conflict, shutdown of Saudi Arabia's East-West pipeline and heightened Houthis activity in the Red Sea, which have disrupted key oil supply routes in West Asia. "The escalation of the West Asian conflict and disruptions to key oil supply routes has led to a sharp spike in crude oil prices," Vasisht said. The surge has resulted in "sizable marketing losses and LPG under-recoveries" for OMCs, he said. The marketing losses come even as refining economics remain relatively strong. Singapore gross refining margins (GRMs) have stayed above $10 a barrel since the start of the West Asia crisis, supported by refinery and product-supply disruptions, inventory draw-downs and outages across West Asian refining capacity. Damage to Russian refineries has tightened product markets further. "Overall, GRMs have remained healthy. Singapore GRMs were around $10 per barrel in September," he said. According to Icra, if Brent averages $105-115 per barrel in the second half of FY27 and petrol and diesel prices remain unchanged, OMCs could face FY27 under-recoveries of around ₹64,000 crore. At $130-140 a barrel, the corresponding under-recovery could rise to about ₹1.91 lakh crore, the agency added.

TAN no longer needed to buy property from non-residents

SHUBHAM RANA
New Delhi, September 23

THE CENTRAL BOARD of Direct Taxes (CBDT) has eased compliance norms on the sale of immovable property by non-residents to resident individuals or Hindu undivided families (HUFs), in line with Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's 2026 Budget announcement. The CBDT has removed the requirement to obtain a separate Tax Deduction and Collection Account Number (TAN) for a resident or HUF buying immovable property from a non-resident, with effect from October 1. This will make it easier for resident buyers who are required to pay tax deducted at source (TDS) when buying immovable property from non-residents. "The most significant relief is the removal of the requirement for a resident individual or HUF to obtain a separate TAN for what is often a one-time property transaction. Going forward, the buyer can comply through a PAN-based challan, bringing the mechanism closer to the compliance process applicable to property purchases from resident sellers," said Neeraj Agarwal, senior partner, Nangia & Co. In addition to removing the TAN requirement, the CBDT has added a dedicated reporting framework.

BRICS to set up working group on transfer pricing

SHUBHAM RANA
New Delhi, September 23

BRICS COUNTRIES ARE looking to set up two working groups — on international taxation and transfer pricing, and revenue statistics — as they aim to create an institutional platform to deal with common challenges, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Wednesday. "Transfer pricing disputes cost developing-country administrations disproportionately. Revenue frameworks that don't fit our fiscal realities distort how we are seen and how we see ourselves," Sitharaman said at the BRICS meeting of tax heads here. "These working groups exist because every country in this room has experienced these problems. They create the sustained institutional space in which progress on them becomes possible — not in one year, but over time, regardless of who holds the (BRICS) Chair. They are designed to outlast India's Chairship," she said. Sitharaman said the rules of international taxation are being renegotiated with several multilateral tax negotiations including the UN Framework Convention on International Tax Cooperation. "The decisions made in these processes over the next few years will shape cross-border taxation for a generation," the finance minister said. The international taxation and transfer pricing working group creates a permanent Brics platform for sharing experience on treaty interpretation, transfer pricing audit, advance pricing agreement and mutual agreement procedure mechanisms, and multilateral negotiations, Revenue Secretary Arvind Shrivastava said. The revenue statistics working group creates a framework for measuring fiscal performance that reflects BRICS realities rather than importing assumptions from frameworks built for very different economies, he said.

Manufacturing pushes private sector activity to 3-month high

SHUBHAM RANA
New Delhi, September 23

INDIA'S PRIVATE SECTOR activity gathered momentum in September despite the ongoing war in West Asia and a surge in crude oil prices. The stronger growth was led by the manufacturing sector while services also saw better performance compared to August, S&P Global said on Wednesday. The HSBC Flash India Composite Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) rose to a three-month high of 56.5 in September from 54.3 in August. A PMI reading of more than 50 denotes expansion in activity. "The HSBC Flash PMI data for September pointed to a firmer improvement in business conditions across India's private sector economy," S&P Global said in a release. "Meanwhile, inflationary pressures faded and business confidence strengthened," it added. The uptick in activity was led by the manufacturing sector, with the flash manufacturing PMI rising to a seven-month high of 55.7 in September from 52.8 in August. Services PMI rose to 55.8 from 54.1. Output growth increased across manufacturing and services firms in September. Aggregate new orders also rose at a quicker pace, prompting a solid expansion in jobs, S&P Global said.

Firms saw a faster rise in total new business during September, with stronger demand improvement in manufacturing. Manufacturing firms also reported higher sales growth compared to their services counterparts. "Service providers indicated that marketing efforts helped boost order intakes, with mentions of stronger demand for properties, transport services and new travel bookings featuring in the qualitative part of the survey," S&P Global said. The rate of expansion of exports in September was the lowest in nearly three years, hit by the war in West Asia. "The moderation reflected slower growth at services firms as manufacturers saw a marginally stronger increase in new work from abroad," S&P Global said. Renewed tensions in West Asia have once again led firms to build buffers to manage the uncertainties, Pranjul Bhandari, chief India economist at HSBC, said. "Input purchases picked up pace and the stocks of finished goods index is now at an 11-and-a-half-year high," she said.

Aluminium goods anti-dumping shield to stay

● DGTR suggests extending duties for five years

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 23

INDIA IS LIKELY to retain anti-dumping protection on a broad range of aluminium products, with the Directorate General of Trade Remedies (DGTR) recommending five-year extensions of duties on certain flat-rolled aluminium products from China and aluminium foil of 80 microns and below from China, Indonesia, Malaysia and Thailand. The two sunset reviews flagged continuing concerns over low-priced imports, excess production capacity in major exporting countries and the risk of renewed pressure on Indian aluminium producers if the duties lapse. The recommendations would require formal notification by the Central

PRICE PROTECTION

■ Anti-dumping duty on certain flat-rolled aluminium products from China is due to expire on December 5, 2026

■ DGTR has recommended its extension, citing excess Chinese production capacity and trade restrictions in major markets such as the US and the EU

■ For aluminium foil of 80 microns and below, DGTR has proposed duties of $506.81-976.99 per tonne for China

■ Imports from Thailand face rates of $93.53-339.93 per tonne, from Malaysia $850.45 and Indonesia $422.28 per tonne

Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) under the finance ministry. In its final findings on flat-rolled aluminium, DGTR concluded that expiry of the existing duties on Chinese imports was likely to result in continuation or recurrence of dumping and injury to the domestic industry, and recommended extending the measure for another five years. The existing duty, imposed in December 2021, is due to expire on December 5, 2026. Most Chinese suppliers would face a $449-per-tonne duty under the recommendation. In a separate finding, DGTR recommended continuing anti-dumping duties for five years on aluminium foil of 80 microns and below from China, Indonesia, Malaysia and Thailand. The existing duties stem from earlier investigations, including measures imposed in 2017 and subsequently extended or modified. For China, the proposed duties range from $506.81-976.99 per tonne, while Thailand faces rates of $93.53-339.93 per tonne. The proposed rates for Malaysia and Indonesia are $850.45 and $422.28 per tonne, respectively. DGTR said evidence indicated that dumping and injury were likely to continue or recur if the measures expired. It also found that the domestic industry had improved under the protection, with new producers entering the market, additional capacity being developed and manufacturers diversifying into higher-value specialty products. The foil is used in pharmaceutical and food packaging, household foil, cigarette and tobacco packaging, semi-rigid containers, and capacitor and battery applications. Concerns over Chinese capacity The flat-rolled aluminium review also highlighted excess Chinese production capacity and trade restrictions in major markets, including higher US aluminium tariffs and the European Union's Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM). DGTR expressed concern that these developments could increase the risk of diversion of exports to India.

IFC TO INVEST UP TO $90 MILLION IN SHARE SALE

Airtel Money plans London IPO without fresh capital

● Valuation seen at $8-9 billion

URVI MALVANIA

Mumbai, September 23

AIRTEL MOBILE COMMERCE NV, popularly known as Airtel Money, plans to list on the London Stock Exchange through an initial public offering (IPO) comprising only shares sold by existing shareholders, with no fresh capital to be raised by the company, Airtel Africa said in a filing on the LSE on Wednesday.

The offer will also include an investment of up to $90 million from the International Finance Corporation (IFC). The firm is yet to disclose the size of the offer or its indicative price range. These details will be included in the prospectus, which is expected to be published in early October. The final offer price is expected to be announced in mid-October after the completion of the book-building process. Airtel Money expects at least 10% of its shares to constitute the public free float following the listing.

Reports have pegged the proposed valuation of Airtel Money at $8-9 billion. At that valuation, the sale by existing shareholders could be worth around $800 million if the reported offer size materialises. The company, however, has not specified either the valuation or the total number of shares to be offered in its filing.

IFC has agreed to purchase up to £67.2 million, or about $90 million, of Airtel Money shares from existing shareholders at the final offer price, subject to customary conditions. Airtel Africa, which currently owns 77.85% of Airtel Money, is expected to remain a long-term strategic shareholder after the listing. TPG, Mastercard, Qatar Investment Authority and Chimeteck Holding acquired minority stakes in the business in 2021 for a combined $550 million.

"In just over a decade we have grown into one of Africa's largest fintech platforms, built upon a scalable technology stack and an agent network that delivers essential financial services to approximately 53 million users every month," Ian Ferrao, CEO of Airtel Money, said.

The proposed listing comes as Airtel Money has scaled its operations across 13 African markets, serving about 53 million monthly active users as of June 30, 2026. The platform connects consumers, merchants, enterprises and agents, offering services ranging from money transfers and bill payments to

Phased T1 shutdown to test Mumbai airport's capacity

AKBAR MERCHANT

Mumbai, September 23

MUMBAI AIRPORT'S PHASED Terminal 1 redevelopment is set to put pressure on available capacity with Adani Airports beginning the shutdown of sections of the terminal from January. Airlines will have the flexibility to shift operations to Mumbai Airport T2 if there is availability, Navi Mumbai International Airport (NMIA) or other airports during the redevelopment.

Arun Bansal, CEO, Adani Airport Holdings, said the operator cannot delay the redevelopment as the existing terminal needs to be demolished and rebuilt. "From the beginning of January, one-third of T1 will be shut down. Two-thirds a little later and, further ahead, the entire T1 will be shut down and redeveloped," Bansal said.

The phased closure will require airlines to accommodate their operations elsewhere. Bansal said carriers could move to NMIA or other airports depending on their operational requirements. "They have a choice to go anywhere or stop operations. When the NOTAM is over, when the terminal is back, they can start," he said.

The airport operator will not dictate where airlines move their operations, Bansal said. "We can never tell airlines. Airlines have to make their own decisions based on their business logic," he said.

Adani Airports has given airlines advance notice to plan for the shutdown. "We have to tell them in advance. So, they have around six months of planning," Bansal said. He also ruled out delaying the demolition in response to airline requests. "They say, can you delay the T1 demolition? We say, sorry, cannot," he said. Bansal said the redevelopment is necessary given the condition of the existing terminal and the need to create modern capacity at Mumbai airport. The operator has also told airlines that they can move to Navi Mumbai whenever they want, while feedback from carriers on infrastructure is being addressed. "We have told airlines that they can move to Navi Mumbai whenever they want," Bansal said.

MIAL has planned the first phase of T1 demolition for January 15, 2027, with traffic to be redistributed to T2 and NMIA ahead of the shutdown.

The capacity pressure will coincide with changes to Mumbai airport's cargo operations. Adani Airports expects all freighter operations to move to NMIA before October 15, however sources tell FE that this will see delays. The existing cargo terminal at Mumbai airport will also need to be rebuilt, with the redevelopment expected to take around three years. "We need to tear down cargo. We have to make a new cargo terminal, which will take three years," Bansal said.

HC rejects Adani plea on duty-free shops being beyond domestic laws

THE BOMBAY HIGH Court has ruled that goods sold at duty-free shops are not immune from domestic laws, dealing a blow to the Adani Group's airport sales of nicotine pouches, which New Delhi calls illegal and regards as drugs.

In a case widely seen as setting a precedent on duty-free sales, Adani in April challenged Indian authorities who said its Mumbai international airport shops illegally stocked and sold nicotine pouches, one of the world's fastest-growing nicotine products, which remain unapproved in India.

Billionaire Gautam Adani's group manages eight airports in India and has an ambitious $11 billion expansion plan, including for duty-free shops, to capitalise on the growing demand for air travel. While Indian authorities told the court that stocking nicotine pouches was a "substantive violation" of drug laws and a "serious public health risk," Adani denied any wrongdoing.

Adani argued in court that shops in international departure areas are outside the reach of domestic regulations as they sit beyond India's territorial jurisdiction. The High Court in Mumbai disagreed in an order issued late Tuesday.

"Such goods would be subject to the law of the land and would be governed by the regulatory regime in force even if the transaction takes place in duty free shops, beyond the customs barrier," the order said.

● SRIDHAR VEMBU, CHIEF SCIENTIST & CO-FOUNDER, ZOHO

‘AI slowdown unlikely as LLMs have become a commodity’

Zoho on Wednesday marked its entry into vertical SaaS solutions, with seven industry-specific applications, as the Chennai-based tech firm completed 30 years. Chief scientist and co-founder Sridhar Vembu tells Narayanan V about the rationale, the role of AI in boosting productivity and the changing economics of the technology industry. Excerpts:

What prompted your entry into vertical SaaS?

If you look at our horizontal suite, we already have a very strong foundation. When you go into a particular segment like real estate, healthcare or education, they need very industry-specific solutions.

Typically, they will take this and customize it. So, we wanted to work with those customers directly and offer these pre-customised solutions so that the time to deploy and time to value is much faster. This is also related to AI productivity. How are we going to tap that productivity? What is the benefit to the customer of this productivity? They get their solutions faster and it costs less because they don't have to spend all this time and money on customising it. It's already done for them. This is actually very much a co-creation model. We have been working with customers on this and we plan to expand this in a big way.

How do you strike a balance between AI productivity gains and overt reliance?

Four or five years ago, I said software programmers were like handloom weavers and they were hand-weaving code. Powerloom machines were coming. So, one way to adapt is to become fashion designers and the other adaptation is to build your own machine looms. We are actually doing both. The fashion looms are all the industry-specific vertical offerings that we give, and the machine looms are what will reduce technology dependence or maybe eliminate it altogether. We can raise the productivity of the workforce rapidly so a given person is able to do more. The cost to the customer stays flat even though incomes go up. That is a traditional model of prosperity, by the way: inflation-free prosperity. If productivity jumps a lot, then prices can stay [flat]. That's how the tech industry has delivered all these things.

How has the AI gold rush and memory price increase impacted data centres?

First, the memory prices went up, thanks to artificial intelligence (AI). Even traditional data centres, which have nothing to do with AI and GPUs, saw server prices go up. So, we are countering it by making our own servers. Some of the margin that was going to vendors is being retained by us. On the AI side, GPU prices are very high. So, right now we are only renting. We are not actually buying. We are leasing that capacity.

In the long term, I think

GPU prices will come down. Also, the large models will become more efficient to run. The small models will become more intelligent and more effective. So, when you look at the efficiency and these two curves, that's where you can predict that AI will become a commodity.

Global majors have called for a slowdown in AI development. Your views?

It's exactly like top students in a class telling other students not to study for the exam. If I, for example, want to slow down, I can slow down myself. I don't ask the entire industry to slow down because I want to slow down. I see it a little more cynically.

These companies want everybody else to slow down so that they can move faster and they can, kind of, monopolise the market.

That's the real truth. There are too many models, prices are crashing on all dimensions, and then you cannot justify your two-year, three-year valuation based on the stock and economics that have evolved. OpenAI alone has about $350 billion or something in commitments they have made to other companies.

All these accounts will come out when they go public. That's why OpenAI also cancelled its IPO. The problem is that LLMs are becoming a commodity. You cannot meet the valuation and profit objectives in the current industry landscape, which has evolved.

Institutions help Hiremath win Hikal chairman vote

● Baba Kalyani votes against proposal

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, September 23

INSTITUTIONAL AND OTHER public shareholders paved the way for Sameer Hiremath's elevation as chairman and managing director of Hikal after Baba Kalyani voted against the proposal, tipping a closely watched shareholder contest between the two branches of the promoter family in Hiremath's favour, sources familiar with the developments said.

Hikal shareholders on Wednesday approved Hiremath's appointment for a five-year term beginning October 1, 2026. The vote assumed significance because the Hiremath and Kalyani camps hold near-equal stakes in the life sciences company, making the support of institutional and other public shareholders crucial to the outcome.

The Hiremath family holds about 35% of Hikal, while the Kalyani camp owns around 34%. Public shareholders hold the remaining 31%, including institutional investors. ICICI Prudential Mutual Fund and Tata Mutual Fund together own around 6%.

The vote comes against the backdrop of a long-running

■ He is currently vice-chairman and managing director and will succeed his father Jai Hiremath

■ His new term will run from October 1, 2026, to September 30, 2031 dispute between the Hiremath and Kalyani families over ownership of Hikal. Sugandha Hiremath, Sameer's mother and Baba Kalyani's sister, and her husband Jai Hiremath have claimed that a family arrangement dating back to the 1990s required Hikal shares held by Kalyani-controlled entities to eventually be transferred to the Hiremath family. The Kalyani side contests the claim. The wider family dispute was referred to mediation by the Supreme Court in July.

The shareholder vote therefore became an important test of support for the Hiremath family's leadership of Hikal, particularly with Jai Hiremath, 78, set to step down as chairman. The proposal required a simple majority. Ahead of the AGM, proxy advisory firms were divided over Hiremath's elevation. Institutional Investor Advisory Services (IIAS) and Stakeholders Empowerment Services (SES) recommended that shareholders support the appointment, while In Govern advised them to vote against it.

Hiremath, 52, joined Hikal in 1996 and has been on its board since May 1999. He is currently vice-chairman and managing director and will succeed his father Jai Hiremath as chairman. His new term will run from October 1, 2026, to September 30, 2031. Shareholders also approved his remuneration for the initial three years.

The outcome is the latest turn in the relationship between the two promoter families at Hikal. In December 2023, the Hiremath camp voted against Baba Kalyani's reappointment to the Hikal board, bringing his 31-year tenure as a director to an end in January 2024. However, in September 2025, the Hiremaths supported the reappointment of his son Amit Kalyani.

Hiremath takes over as chairman at a time when Hikal is looking to expand beyond its pharmaceutical and crop-protection businesses into newer areas including animal health and personal care.

Dixon targets growth beyond phones to add global clout

SANKALP PHARTIYAL & MENAKA DOSHI

DIXON TECHNOLOGIES INDIA is targeting growth beyond assembling smartphones, its strong suit, to challenge global electronics-making leaders and propel the company to its next phase of expansion.

The contract manufacturer is seeking higher margins by making electronics components like camera modules, while deepening its smartphone and laptop production, Chairman Sunil Vachani told Bloomberg Television in Mumbai. The company, which currently ranks outside the top 10 in an industry dominated by the likes of Taiwan's Foxconn, wants to be among the five biggest in the world within a decade, he said.

"The vision is very clear," said Vachani, 57, also the company's founder. "We need to be in the top ten EMS global rankings in the next five years and the top five in the next 10 years," he said, referring to electronics manufacturing services.

Dixon's ambition aligns with that of India's government, which is trying to lure more manufacturing into the world's most populous country with production subsidies. While India is making early progress in attracting brand owners such as Apple and Samsung Electronics, it still lags behind powerhouses China and Taiwan.

Vachani started Dixon with borrowed money in a rented shed outside of New Delhi three decades ago. Today, Dixon makes products including smartphones, washing machines and television sets for brands such as Motorola, Xiaomi, HP and Samsung. That's earned it the moniker of India's Foxconn, a reference to the Taiwanese giant also known as Hon Hai Precision Industry.

Dixon's share price jumped rapidly following its 2017 listing in Mumbai, but it has sputtered in recent years as investors have assessed its chances to take on bigger rivals. The stock is down 28% over the past year.

Smartphone manufacturing accounts for more than 90% of Dixon's revenue, and that business has grown at a rapid clip over the past few years. The company received a shot in the arm this year when it won government approval to set up a smartphone venture with the local unit of China's Vivo, which will hold a minority stake.

Subhash Chandra moves NCLAT against 5-member bench order

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 23

SUBHASH CHANDRA HAS moved the appellate tribunal, NCLAT, against the order of a five-member bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), which restrained him from alienating his assets during the pendency of the matter.

Chandra has challenged an order passed by a five-member NCLT bench, formed to decide his personal insolvency, on September 1, which stayed the order passed by the third tie-breaker judge, who voted for ₹6.5 crore repayment against total liabilities of around ₹22,000 crore.

The appeal came up for hearing before a three-member bench, which asked his counsel to serve the copies to creditors and implead them as parties.

The bench, which includes NCLAT officiating Chairperson Justice Yogesh Khanna, has directed that the matter be listed for the next hearing on September 29.

NCLT notice to CBI in insolvency case

The NCLT, meanwhile, issued notice to the CBI in the personal insolvency matter of Chandra and said the interim directive restraining the Essel Group Chairman from alienating property will continue until its final decision.

A five-member bench hearing Chandra's personal insolvency matter was informed that a creditor has filed a complaint with the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), which is conducting its enquiry, though it is at a "nascent stage".

Banks to remain open on Sunday

ALL PUBLIC SECTOR banks and regional rural banks will remain open on Sunday, the government said, in a move aimed at minimising disruption from the three-day bank employees' strike.

This follows the United Forum of Bank Unions' (UFBU) call for a nationwide strike from September 28 to 30. Since September 26 and 27 fall over the weekend, the strike could otherwise have disrupted branch banking services for an extended period.

"In view of the proposed three-day nationwide bank strike called by the United Forum of Bank Unions (UFBU) from September 28 to 30, 2026, coinciding with the preceding weekend holidays of September 26 and 27, the government has taken proactive steps to safeguard the banking needs of citizens," the finance ministry said in a statement on Wednesday.

Pandey: Need to focus on longer-term derivatives

● Derivatives market heavily tilted towards index options

KUSHAN SHAH
Mumbai, September 23

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE Board of India (Sebi) Chairman Tuhin Kanta Pandey on Wednesday called for greater focus on longer-term derivative contracts, including futures, stock futures and longer-dated stock options, saying the derivatives market is currently heavily skewed towards options trading, particularly index options.

"Unfortunately, the market is quite tilted in favour of options trading and that too particularly around index options," Pandey said at the SBI Banking and Economics Conclave 2026 in Mumbai.

Speaking to reporters on the sidelines of the event, Pandey said the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) is examining issues such as margins in longer-term derivatives as part of efforts to develop these segments.

Pandey said a large number of young investors have entered the markets since the Covid pandemic, creating new challenges for the regulator as it seeks to make the derivatives market more balanced. Acknowledging the losses suffered by retail investors in derivatives, he said Sebi was looking at ways to address the issue without disrupting the market.

"We would like to develop the market in a more positive sense than just doing something which will unnecessarily disrupt it," he said.

Pandey also stressed the need for companies to diversify their sources of capital by tapping the corporate bond market. Sebi, he said, has been working to improve liquidity in corporate bonds, broaden investor participation and strengthen price discovery.

He urged market participants not to view banks and other sources of capital — including mutual funds, insurers, pension funds, alternative investment funds, REITs and InvITs — as competing with one another. Instead, they should be seen as different pools of savings providing different forms of capital to the economy.

On tokenisation of corporate bonds, Pandey said Sebi's pilot is recording issuance, ownership and transfers on a permissioned shared ledger while enabling atomic settlement.

The next phase of the pilot will focus on secondary-market trading in tokenised corporate bonds, while the third phase will seek to develop frameworks for pledges, liens and other transactions involving such securities.

RBI DG: Rupee may appreciate as BoP outlook improves

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, September 23

THE RUPEE COULD stabilise and potentially appreciate from current levels as India's balance of payments (BoP) position improves, Reserve Bank of India Deputy Governor Poonam Gupta said at the 13th SBI Banking and Economics Conclave.

Gupta said the current account deficit (CAD) is expected to narrow in the coming years, while the capital account could turn more favourable later this financial year and remain so.

"With the RBI remaining committed to ensuring orderly conditions in the foreign exchange market, and having the wherewithal to meet decades worth of CAD, or the net BoP deficit, the current market dynamics do not appear especially well-founded," she said. "If anything, there seems to be a fair case for the rupee to not just stabilise but perhaps even appreciate from the current levels," Gupta said.

Poonam Gupta, deputy governor, RBI

India's traditional strengths, including services exports and remittances, are expected to persist, while merchandise exports could benefit from new trade opportunities and recent free trade agreements, she said. Lower dependence on imported oil could also support the country's external position.

On capital account, Gupta pointed to stretched valuations in other markets, strong domestic macroeconomic fundamentals, robust GDP growth, a gathering domestic investment cycle and healthy bank and corporate balance sheets as factors that could support inflows. Measures to attract capital, rising foreign direct investment and the eventual inclusion of Indian bonds in more global indices could also strengthen capital flows into India, she said.

For now, India has leveraged special capital flow measures implemented in June, resulting in a meaningful balance of payments surplus for the year, Gupta said. The rupee has depreciated 13.1% on a point-to-point basis between March 31, 2025 and September 16, 2026.

Need stronger banks and deeper capital markets: PK Mishra

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 23

INDIA WILL NEED a deeper and more diversified financial system to finance the next phase of growth, with stronger banks complemented by deeper corporate bond markets, foreign direct investment and infrastructure funds for its development ambitions, Principal Secretary to the Prime Minister PK Mishra said on Wednesday.

"The financial system must now increasingly move from accommodating growth to enabling growth," Mishra said virtually, addressing the SBI Banking & Economics Conclave in Mumbai. He said India will need to mobilise very large volumes of capital for infrastructure, manufacturing, urbanisation, energy transition, enterprise and innovation.

"Banks will, of course, remain central. But a much larger and more sophisticated economy cannot be financed by banks alone," it said. The financial system will therefore need stronger channels to convert domestic savings into productive investment, alongside greater bond-market liquidity and a larger role for institutional investors.

He also stressed the need to attract foreign direct investment at a time when global capital is increasingly mobile. "We need to focus on foreign direct investment," he said, calling for stability of tax policy, reliable contracts and logistics, and clearances that actually clear. These, he said, would be important as India seeks to strengthen its external accounts and expand its productive capacity.

The next phase of India's industrial journey, meanwhile, will have to go beyond manufacturing capacity. The country needs greater domestic value addition, stronger component ecosystems, design capabilities, intellectual property and globally competitive Indian brands.

"The journey must move from make in India to design in India, innovate in India, and ultimately lead from India," Mishra said.

New mkt-risk rules may hike banks' capital needs

KSHIPRA PETKAR & CHRISTINA TITUS
Mumbai, September 23

BANKS MAY HAVE to set aside more capital against some of their trading and treasury exposures from April 2027, when the Reserve Bank of India's revised market-risk framework kicks in.

The impact is expected to be sharper in portfolios where regulatory capital is a key determinant of profitability, particularly equities, long-duration and lower-rated credit, options and less-transparent fund exposures, industry experts said.

"The impact could be significant for portfolios where capital consumption directly influences business profitability and pricing," said Hrishikesh Wattamwar, associate partner, Deloitte India.

Higher capital requirements could reduce risk-adjusted returns, constrain the amount of inventory banks are willing to hold and influence their hedging, market-making and client-pricing decisions, he said.

A treasury official at a private sector bank, however, expects the overall increase in capital consumption to be modest. The bigger change, according to the official, will be a more comprehensive assessment of market risks.

"Capital consumption will go up slightly and become safer from the regulatory point of view," the official said, adding that banks would be able to assess risks more comprehensively and provide for them under the revised framework.

The RBI on Monday issued its final guidelines on minimum capital requirements for market risk under Basel III for commercial banks. The rules will take effect from April 1, 2027.

"The directions aim to align the market risk guidelines with the revised Basel III framework, as part of RBI's adoption of the Basel standards, while ensuring simplicity of regulations, and providing flexibility and ease of adoption," the central bank said.

MONEY MATTERS

■ The directions align market risk guidelines with the revised Basel III framework while simplifying regulations

■ The rules revise trading book norms, net open positions, forex risk capital, interest-rate exposures, and debt mutual funds and ETFs

■ Make transparency of fund portfolios increasingly important

■ The new rules may reshape banks' trading-book management

Banks with sizeable trading books are likely to see the largest absolute impact, particularly those with significant equity holdings, opaque fund exposures and certain bank capital instruments, experts said.

Banks with smaller, government-security-dominated and well-hedged portfolios could face a more moderate capital impact, though they would still have to bear the cost of implementing the new framework. The rules revise the scope of the trading book, the calculation of net open positions and foreign-exchange risk capital charges, specific-risk capital requirements for interest-rate exposures, and the treatment of debt mutual funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs) held in the trading book.

For interest-rate risk, the specific-risk tables have been revised to align them with Basel Committee on Banking Supervision guidelines. In the case of debt mutual funds and ETFs, capital requirements will be determined by the risks embedded in their underlying portfolios, subject to prescribed safeguards.

This could make transparency of fund portfolios increasingly important for banks.

"This means banks will need greater visibility into the underlying holdings of debt funds and ETFs to assess the relevant risks," Wattamwar said.

Funds with mixed exposures or limited disclosure could attract higher capital requirements, making timely information on portfolio composition, credit ratings and maturities more important for both investment and capital-management decisions, he added.

The revised rules could also change the way banks manage their trading books. Inventory limits and bid-offer spreads could be affected as desks factor capital consumption into the economics of market-making. While government securities will continue to receive favourable capital treatment, banks could become more selective in corporate bonds depending on issuer quality, tenor and the effectiveness of available hedges, Wattamwar explained.

Another area of focus will be internal risk transfers. The treasury official said banks would have to distinguish more clearly between internal and external transfers of risk, with internal risk transfers used for hedging needing to be backed by external counterparties. The RBI has also removed separate instructions defining the trading book, since its investment directions already provide for a clearly identifiable trading book under the held-for-trading classification.

The revised framework brings India's market-risk regulations closer to global Basel standards and gives banks a more standardised and transparent basis for measuring and capitalising trading-book risks, said Ashish Bhalariao, partner, financial services risk consulting, EY India.

MDR to help SBI recoup costs and generate modest profits

KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, September 23

STATE BANK OF India (SBI) expects the new merchant discount rate (MDR) framework for UPI transactions to help it recover most of the costs associated with processing such payments and also generate a modest surplus, a senior bank official said.

"From the MDR guidelines, we expect to recover most of it and also make some profits out of it," the official said.

The development could provide some relief to banks that have seen UPI transaction volumes surge even as the zero-MDR regime limited their ability to recover the costs of processing merchant payments.

SBI processed 6.21 billion UPI transactions worth ₹7.65 lakh crore in August, according to data from the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI), underscoring the scale of transactions handled by the country's largest lender.

Under the new framework, an MDR of 0.4% will be levied on person-to-merchant (P2M) UPI transactions above ₹2,000. For transactions of ₹75,000 and above, the MDR will be capped at ₹300 per transaction. The guidelines will come into effect from October 15.

The MDR is a fee charged to merchants for processing digital payments and is typically shared among entities in the payments ecosystem. The new framework is expected to allow banks and payment service providers to partly offset the technology and infrastructure costs associated with processing the rapidly growing volume of UPI transactions.

The new MDR regime assumes significance for SBI given its large share of the UPI ecosystem. With transaction volumes continuing to expand, even a relatively small charge on eligible merchant payments could help the bank defray a substantial portion of the costs incurred in maintaining and scaling its digital payments infrastructure.

● ANAND VARDARAJAN, CEO & MD, TATA MUTUAL FUND

‘Large IPOs will not affect secondary-market inflows’

Anand Vardarajan, CEO & MD, Tata Mutual Fund, believes Indian markets have sufficient liquidity to absorb large IPOs without affecting flows into the secondary market. He tells Kushan Shah that specialised investment funds (SIFs) could also grow much faster than mutual funds did to reach assets of ₹10 lakh crore. Excerpts:

How do you see valuations across market caps? Do you expect investor interest in large caps to revive?

Large caps are a little undervalued, but they have not seen much investor interest, especially in the mutual fund space. Fund flows have followed earnings growth and market opportunities, and a larger share of that growth has recently been visible outside the large-cap segment. Markets have also become broader in recent years, with a lot of the action shifting to mid- and small-cap stocks.

As markets evolve, asset allocation tends to balance growth prospects and valuations. We could see investor interest gradually broaden across market caps, including large caps, while mid and small caps continue to remain an important part of portfolios.

Several big IPOs have hit the market. Is there sufficient liquidity to support both primary and secondary markets?

If we look at primary and secondary market flows over the past few weeks, there has been no pressure on secondary markets because of IPOs. Looking at the bigger picture, household savings are about 22% of GDP, of which only a fraction is currently invested in equities. There are close to 250 million demat investors in India, compared with only around 60 million mutual fund investors.

As we move forward, the investor base will continue to expand, providing sufficient liquidity for both primary and secondary markets.

Given the muted equity-market returns over the past two years, are high SIP inflows sustainable?

There are two types of market corrections: price corrections and time corrections. While price corrections are more visible, time corrections — prolonged periods of muted returns — often test investor patience even more.

The fact that domestic investors have continued to participate in the markets through SIPs over the past two years shows the resilience and maturity of new-age investors. As awareness of long-term investing improves, we remain very constructive on the outlook for SIPs.

SIFs have seen strong growth in their first year. How do you see their prospects?

SIFs have a significant opportunity because mutual funds are largely unidirectional due to their long-only exposure, while SIFs can also express a negative view through short exposure and potentially benefit in falling markets. They address an important gap between traditional mutual funds and alternative investment products by giving investors access to a wider range of strategies across different market environments.

At the industry level, SIFs have the potential to scale rapidly by offering diversified return streams, lower volatility and better post-tax risk-adjusted outcomes. Active mutual funds took about 15 years to grow from ₹1 lakh crore to ₹10 lakh crore, while passive funds took about six years. I don't think SIFs will take that long.

SIFs and the newly proposed MF-PMS framework will help bridge the product gap between mutual funds and alternative investments such as PMS and AIFs.

Passive funds have seen substantial investor interest. Do you expect them to continue growing rapidly?

Passives are growing faster than the overall industry. Passive fund AUM has risen from well below ₹1 lakh crore in 2018 to more than ₹15 lakh crore, an increase of over 15 times. We have also seen significant allocations to gold and silver over the past two years. The passive segment should continue to grow at a rapid pace.

Xi, Trump seek safe AI with no intention to slow down

BLOOMBERG
September 23

CHINESE PRESIDENT XI JINPING and US president Donald Trump will sit down this week to hash out a plethora of thorny issues from trade to Taiwan. One thing both sides agree on: neither can afford to tap the brakes on AI.

While Silicon Valley debates the possibility of artificial intelligence wiping out humanity, Washington and Beijing appear more worried about global technological supremacy. The two countries have signaled no intention to slow down AI development—a debate that flared anew after Anthropic PBC co-founder Dario Amodei warned of the dangers of unbridled progress in a 3,800-word communique.

Trump almost immediately dismissed calls for moderation as a “hoax” and vowed to maintain American leadership. Beijing sees little reason to slow down in part because it’s already behind the US in AI—though closing the gap—and constrained by US curbs on access to advanced chips by Nvidia.

Just two days before Trump’s set to personally greet Xi at a military airbase, Alibaba Group Holding declared it was building a mega model of up to 10 trillion parameters, rolling out AI chips it called China’s most powerful, and planning a 20-gigawatt data centre buildout that could translate into $160 billion of cloud revenue, by one estimate.

That capped a frenetic few days for Chinese AI, with Z.AI

US biz activity at more than 5-year high

BLOOMBERG
September 23

US BUSINESS ACTIVITY rose at the fastest pace in more than five years as robust demand pushed up new orders and employment at manufacturers and service providers.

The S&P Global flash US composite purchasing managers index climbed to 58.4 in September, according to data released Wednesday. That was the highest since July 2021. Figures above 50 indicate expansion.

Employment surged at a rate not seen in over four years, while input prices grew at the fastest pace since 2022. Respondents primarily blamed higher fuel and transport costs, though a pickup in wages was also noted by many firms.

“Business is clearly booming now in both manufacturing and services,” Chris Williamson, chief business economist at S&P Global Market Intelligence, said in a statement.

Activity at service providers increased to 58.7 in September, the highest since 2021. A gauge for employment was the strongest since June 2022.

The group’s manufacturing gauge jumped to 57, the best reading since 2022. New orders, a sign of demand, registered the fastest expansion since April 2022 while hiring was the strongest since February 2021.

Will not surrender: Iran’s prez in his UN address

PARISA HAFEZI, HUMEYRA PAMUK & JANA CHOUKEIR
UN/Dubai, Sept 23

IRANIAN PRESIDENT MASOUD Pezeshkian said in a speech at the UN on Wednesday that Tehran would never surrender to the US but still believes in diplomacy, a day after President Donald Trump used the same forum to threaten to “annihilate” Iran.

The duelling speeches at the annual UN General Assembly in New York bookended the first shuttle talks between the United States and Iran for months, which appeared to have yielded no concessions in the public stance of either side towards ending the Middle East war.

In his speech, Pezeshkian defended Iran’s military actions as defensive, and insisted Iran was not seeking nuclear weapons.

In a potential new flash-point, Iran also threatened to act against its neighbours if they abide by new US sanctions intended to ground Iranian civilian aircraft worldwide.

Washington has said it will impose so-called secondary sanctions against any country that allows Iranian flights after Wednesday. Mohsen Rezaei, secretary of Iran’s Supreme National Security Council, told state TV Iran would ensure neighbouring countries’ airports could not function if they stop Iranian flights.

The annual UN gathering in New York provided the occasion on Tuesday for Iranian and U.S. officials to hold their first known indirect talks since a ceasefire collapsed in July, with Iran’s Foreign Minister Abbas Araqchi and US envoys Steve Witkoff and Jared Kushner communicating through mediators on the sidelines.

“Steve and Jared had a very productive meeting today with mediators of Iran,” Trump said on Tuesday after his own speech. “I think there’s a lot of momentum for them to make a deal. It’s what we’re hearing from everybody.”

Iranian Foreign Ministry spokesperson Esmail Baghaei said Tehran had engaged with Washington through a Qatari mediator and conveyed conditions, including an end to the war on all fronts and a halt to US “acts of aggression”.

Some Iranian state media initially reported that Araqchi and Witkoff had met, but Iranian officials clarified to Reuters that it was not face-to-face. Iranian sources told Reuters the delegation had been ordered not to fossil fuels, the spokesperson added.

Spiegel magazine earlier reported that, under the plan, Germany will examine whether an agreed deadline to end coal-fired power generation by 2038 can be brought forward to 2035.

In transport, the plan foresees EU fleet emissions rules to lead to battery-electric cars making up 100% of new passenger car registrations by 2035, Spiegel said.

That contrasts with demands from some conservatives, including Economy Minister Katherina Reiche, to preserve a larger role for combustion-engine vehicles using alternative fuels.

In buildings, heat pumps are expected to become Germany’s dominant heating system in the coming years, while oil and gas boilers using rising shares of climate-neutral fuels are mentioned only as part of the transition, according to Spiegel.

OF THE $20 BILLION committed so far (including government support), Tata Electronics’ ₹1.18 lakh crore — for a fab and a packaging facility — is the biggest. For the ₹91,000-crore fab at Dholera, Gujarat, which will produce analog and logic chips on 28-110 nanometre technologies, it has partnered Taiwan’s PSMC. Its OSAT (outsourced semiconductor assembly and testing) unit in Assam, a ₹27,000-crore investment, is designed to package around 48 million chips a day for automotive, EV, telecom and consumer electronics applications. CEO Randhir Thakur has confirmed both ventures are on track.

Japan’s Renesas Electronics and Thailand’s Stars Microelectronics, it is rolling out both legacy and advanced packages. Chairman Vellayan Subbiah said last week that the larger second phase should be running by end-2027 or early 2028, taking capacity from 0.5 million to 15 million units a day. Competing in export markets won’t be easy, but the Renesas agreement provides an offtake for 40-50% of production; the first shipment has already gone to Renesas customers in Malaysia. Subbiah isn’t ruling out a fab someday, though it’s not on the table yet. What is clear is that clean energy and semiconductors are tipped to drive the group’s next phase of growth.

Kaynes, meanwhile, began commercial production at its ₹3,800-crore Sanand OSAT in March, with tie-ups with Malaysia’s Globetronics and Taiwan’s Aptos Technologies. The facility is designed to scale to

The HCL-Foxconn OSAT at Jewar, Uttar Pradesh, is under construction; its display driver chips — for autos, mobiles and laptops — are expected to roll out by early 2028.

The startups are stirring too. Bengaluru-based Agnit Semiconductors, a vertically integrated gallium-nitride (GaN) products company, is developing components for wireless transmission and power conversion. Co-founder and CEO Hareesh Chandrasekar pegs the market across radio-frequency and power-electronics applications at $6 billion — and says early commercial traction is critical to proving the product.

Growth outlook gets global upgrade

DESPITE THE UPGRADE in growth projections, India’s GDP growth is seen slowing in the second half of FY27 as “tailwinds” from GST and income-tax cuts diminish, S&P said. Weather-related risks also warrant close monitoring, S&P said.

Fitch also expects growth to moderate over the remainder of the fiscal. “PMI survey data point to a slower pace of expansion in both manufacturing and services; below-normal monsoon rains will weigh on growth in agriculture and rural demand; and rising inflation will constrain real incomes and consumer dynamics,” the rating agency said.

Despite recent strong momentum, reduced purchasing power is also expected to weaken growth in India in the second half of FY27, before a gradual recovery takes place next year, the OECD said.

Beyond FY27, projections for India’s growth vary. While Fitch and OECD project India’s GDP growth slowing to 6.5% in FY28, S&P and ADB see it staying above 7%. For FY29, too, growth is seen between 6.5 and 7%. “Growth will be steady in FY28, as the energy price shock unwinds. We expect GDP to rise by 6.5%, with consumer spending and investment driving growth,” Fitch said.

Higher inflation
CPI inflation is seen rising in India in FY27, with prices already on the rise due to higher energy and food prices, according to the four global organisations. CPI inflation hit a 20-month high of 4.8% in August, above the RBI’s medium-term target of 4% but still within the tolerance range of 2-6%.

S&P and ADB project retail inflation to average around 5% in FY27, up from 2.1% in FY26. OECD sees India’s CPI inflation at 4.7% this fiscal. “India’s inflation is expected to firm up in the second half of this fiscal year as the cuts in the GST fade from the base and as higher input costs and an unfavorable monsoon weigh on prices,” the ADB said.

Fitch expects inflation to increase in the short term and then ease back towards the RBI’s target by end-2027.

Rate hikes expected, but outlook uncertain

Higher retail inflation in FY27 is seen pushing the RBI’s MPC to raise interest rates. “We expect the balance of considerations to shift toward higher interest rates,” S&P said, pointing to the combination of strong growth and persistent inflationary pressures.

India’s CAD is expected to widen moderately in FY27 before narrowing in FY28 as oil prices ease and new trade agreements support the external sector, ADB said. “Given the combination of strong demand, price rises, and adverse supply developments, we expect the RBI to raise rates by 25 bps in October this year to 5.5%. We then expect a further rise to 5.75% in early 2027 and then for rates to ease back to 5.5% in 2028,” Fitch said.

India’s CAD is expected to widen moderately this fiscal year before narrowing in FY28 on lower oil prices and new trade agreements, ADB said. AI writes new rich-list code: 15 crack the wealth charts Parag Agrawal — the former Twitter CEO — made the list with ₹10,500 crore through Parallel Web Systems. Sarvam AI co-founders Vivek Raghavan and Pratyush Kumar feature at ₹3,200 crore each.

The new AI money is also bigger money. “The average wealth of a new AI entrant is approximately ₹12,100 crore — almost five times that of a new entrant in Industrial Products. From CtrlS Datacenters and Yotta to Astera Labs, Sarvam AI and Perplexity, Indian entrepreneurs are building across data centres, chips, models and applications. India’s AI wealth is emerging across the technology stack,” said Anas Rahman Junaid, founder and chief researcher, Hurun India.

Indeed, the 15 AI debutants together account for ₹1.82 lakh crore — the highest wealth created by new entrants in any industry, against ₹1.13 lakh crore by 44 newcomers in Industrial Products. Notably, 13 of the 19 AI listers live outside India, a marker of the global reach of Indian tech talent. Taken together, AI, Aerospace & Defence and Semiconductors account for 48 individuals worth ₹4.26 lakh crore, including 30 new entrants. There’s even a quantum first: Nagendra Nagaraja of Bengaluru-based QpiAI debuted with ₹1,700 crore built around quantum hardware and software.

At the top of the list, familiar names swapped places. Gautam Adani & family reclaimed the No. 1 spot with ₹9.23 lakh crore, up 13%, pushing Mukesh Ambani & family to second at ₹8.63 lakh crore after a 10% decline. The top 10 together held ₹39.01 lakh crore.

LN Mittal & family vaulted eight places to third, wealth nearly doubling — up 93% to ₹3.39 lakh crore. Cyrus Poonawalla & family held fourth at ₹3.03 lakh crore, while Roshni Nadar Malhotra & family slipped two places to fifth at ₹2.79 lakh crore, though she remains the wealthiest woman on the list. Anil Agarwal & family stormed into the top 10 at ninth after an 87% surge to ₹2.08 lakh crore, with Samir Mehta & family rounding off the ten at ₹1.89 lakh crore.

The M3M Hurun India Rich List 2026 features 1,810 individuals across 163 cities with wealth of at least ₹1,000 crore — 128 more than last year. Of these, 809 saw wealth rise or hold steady, 651 recorded declines, and 219 dropped off. India now counts 391 billionaires, 27 more than a year ago.

The wages of growth

Workers need better pay if growth is to become broader and more durable

CONTRARY TO EXPECTATIONS, private consumption has held up fairly well over the past nine months, growing by about 7.5% year-on-year. But the headline number conceals a troubling divide. Much of the spending appears to have been driven by affluent households that have retained their purchasing power despite difficult economic conditions. The premiumisation visible across goods and services also suggests that it is largely the better-off who are sustaining demand. For a large section of the population, meanwhile, the cumulative rise in prices has placed even basic goods beyond easy reach. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman therefore has a point when she says the next phase of growth will depend on raising the incomes — and purchasing power — of those outside the affluent urban class. India cannot build a broad consumption economy if most workers earn barely enough to cover essentials.

The disparity between salaried employees in the formal sector and those working outside it remains unacceptably wide. Arcencit ICICI Securities study found that while the aggregate wages and salaries pool grew by 13% in FY25, the informal sector recorded a much slower growth. The difference in absolute earnings is starker: the share of the informal sector in the wage pool stagnated at about 9% of gross value added, while that of private corporate employees rose to a record 17%. Other estimates show that regular salaried workers account for roughly a fourth of the workforce and those in formal employment just 11%. Yet this small formal cohort earns an estimated 77% of the total wage pool. It is primarily this segment that is driving consumption. Such a narrow base is neither equitable nor sustainable; unless income growth reaches workers lower down the ladder, demand will remain skewed and vulnerable.

The government is seeking to establish a statutory floor wage based on minimum living standards, with room for regional variation. States will not be permitted to prescribe minimum wages below this floor, although they can retain higher prevailing rates. The framework could prevent wages from being fixed at unrealistically low levels, but its effectiveness will depend on whether the floor reflects the actual cost of food, housing, transport, health-care, and education — and whether employers comply with it. A wage notified on paper is of little use if it is not paid. The protests by workers in Noida earlier this year underlined the problem: many reportedly earn only about ₹10,000 a month, an amount that can scarcely cover basic living costs in a major urban centre. Similar conditions prevail across industrial clusters and service-sector jobs.

Higher wages will increase costs for employers, particularly smaller enterprises operating on thin margins, and any transition must be calibrated and accompanied by measures to improve productivity. But businesses cannot treat persistently low wages as their principal source of competitiveness. As Chief Economic Adviser V Anantha Nageswaran has observed, India's economic growth can produce meaningful transformation only when its gains are shared fairly between workers and companies. Fairness is not charity; it is a condition for a healthy market economy. The wide gap between the remuneration of top corporate executives and median employees also merits closer scrutiny. Corporate India must look beyond short-term profit maximisation: paying workers fairly can strengthen productivity, reduce attrition, and expand the consumer market on which businesses themselves depend. Better wages are not merely a welfare measure; they are essential economic infrastructure.

Your $30 jeans are running out of cheap power

FOR DECADES, THE fast fashion filling your closet has depended on a simple equation. Bangladesh's 4,000-odd garment factories weave, cut, and assemble clothes using some of the cheapest skilled labour on the planet. Gas from domestic fields provides cheap electricity and heat for looms, dye vats, and sewing machines, while exports finance growth. There's just one problem: The cheap gas has been running out for years, with reserves potentially going dry as soon as 2031. Rather than rapidly developing clean alternatives, Bangladesh has fallen back on LNG and coal, while putting roadblocks in the way of zero-carbon power. The Iran war has turned that slow-burning failure into an emergency. Right now, Bangladesh's commitment to fossil fuels is giving it one of the world's most profound energy crises. The consequences may soon be showing up on the racks of your local fashion retailer.

Almost a third of the country's gas now comes in the form of LNG, mainly from Qatar. With the war in West Asia choking that off, electricity has been cut for as long as 16 hours a day in places. For garment businesses, that's making it almost impossible to uphold hard-won reputations for efficiency and just-in-time flexibility.

About 90% of knitwear factories had suffered electricity shortages, 60% were at risk of defaulting on loans, and 55% had experienced cancelled or reduced orders, according to a recent industry survey. More than 200 businesses say they could shut completely if current conditions persist. Even the back-up system is struggling. In industrial areas, filling stations are selling five times their normal diesel volumes as factories scavenge for generator fuel. With global diesel prices breaking records, government-run distributor Bangladesh Petroleum warned last week it may run out of funds next month to pay for fresh imports.

When the last gas crisis hit after Russia invaded Ukraine in 2022, Pakistan faced the same problem, and pivoted aggressively to solar power. Rooftop panels provided an estimated 28% of its electricity last year, up from 10% two years earlier. Textile and garment businesses have been some of the earliest adopters.

Bangladesh is less blessed geographically. With 174 million people living in an area the size of England, the entire country is about as densely populated as Chicago, leaving precious little land for solar. It's generally too low-lying for hydro, and too becalmed for wind power. Even planned electricity imports from hydro-rich Nepal have suffered after devastating floods there last month damaged power plants. Yet, a 2024 satellite study estimated there was 30 Gw of rooftop solar potential, assuming coverage comparable to what's seen in Australia and the Netherlands. That could generate 40 terawatt-hours a year, equivalent to two-fifths of current grid supply. Covering 10% of the country's fish-farm ponds with panels, common in China and Taiwan, could produce another 29 TWh.

The problem is the thicket of baffling regulations that have deterred investment. Imported coal for power stations attracts a preferential 5% tax rate, while LNG gets 9.5%. Yet until this year, a developer financing a rooftop solar system on a garment factory faced taxes of almost 29% for imported equipment, plus caps on system sizes. Dhaka lowered that tax rate to 1% last week, but only temporarily.

Rooftop solar systems can now deliver electricity at about a third of the cost of grid electricity, but until recently that price signal was dulled by policies that make fossil power seem artificially cheap. The government sold LNG for about 20% less than it cost last year, and the going rate for spot cargoes has roughly doubled since the Iran war. The only bright spot is that the first nuclear plant, built with Russian assistance, is due to go live within months. It could provide about one-sixth of the nation's electricity — but demand keeps on growing, and a second facility is unlikely before 2040.

Plenty of other emerging economies envy Bangladesh's market share in the global fashion industry, and can match talented and cheap labour with less dysfunctional power grids. Dhaka should move fast to drop taxes on all clean energy equipment to zero, while removing red tape and building more transmission lines to its better-endowed neighbours India, Nepal, and Bhutan.

INDIA SHOULD IDENTIFY FRONTIER CAPABILITIES WHERE IT CAN BUILD COMPARATIVE ADVANTAGE OVER NEXT DECADE

Beyond an application layer

THE GLOBAL ARTIFICIAL intelligence (AI) landscape is witnessing a significant transformation. Even as the US and China remain the two countries specialising in distinct but complementary segments of the AI value chain, other countries are now engaged in a fierce scaling up with India increasingly working towards that objective.

The US remains the undisputed leader in frontier foundation models, driven by companies such as OpenAI, Anthropic, Google DeepMind, Meta, and xAI, supported by unparalleled venture capital, world-class research universities, and access to cutting-edge computing infrastructure. The US produces the largest share of frontier AI models and continues to lead in breakthrough innovation through advanced large language models, reasoning models, and agentic AI systems.

In contrast, instead of competing exclusively on frontier model development, China has carved out a distinct comparative advantage in industrial AI and robotics. China has successfully integrated AI into manufacturing, logistics, autonomous systems, and industrial automation through coordinated industrial policy and its manufacturing ecosystem. China now leads the world in industrial robot installations, AI patents, and AI-related scientific publications, while Chinese firms have rapidly closed the performance gap in foundation models through open-source development and large-scale deployment. More importantly, Chinese companies have excelled at embedding AI into the real economy — making AI a productivity-enhancing technology rather than simply a digital service.

Where does India stand at this juncture? India is the only country to have successfully organised an AI Conclave with almost all the competing players on one single platform. Simultaneously, rather than developing new foundation models or breakthrough AI architectures, India is taking a different path by increasingly focusing on adapting existing technologies to local needs by using the application layer it has so effectively built up in the last decade. Thus, India is emphasising small language models, multilingual applications, digital public infrastructure, and domain-specific deployment in health-care, education, finance, and governance.

However, the question is, should India remain merely the world's application layer?

While an application-first strategy is economically sensible in the short run given India's resource constraints, remaining confined to this layer in the long run will entail technological dependence on the US and China. In effect, India risks recreating its historical position in the global IT industry: consumer and integrator of AI innovations rather than a creator of these by remaining a leader in implementation and services, but not in ownership of the core technologies that define the technological frontier.

If India aspires to become more than an application-layer economy, it must first develop a realistic assessment of its position in the global AI ecosystem. India's comparative advantage today lies in its digital public infrastructure, software engineering talent, and AI applications rather than frontier innovation. Instead of attempting to compete simultaneously across every dimension of AI, India should identify those frontier capabilities where it can realistically build comparative advantage over the next decade.

We could do three things.

Firstly, we need two complementary national strategies: a short-term road map (two-three years) focused on rapidly strengthening AI infrastructure, talent, and institutional capacity, and a long-term road map (10 years) aimed at positioning India as a creator of frontier AI technologies rather than merely an adopter. To formulate these strategies, the government should constitute two independent yet complementary committees. The first should be a parliamentary committee to build bipartisan political consensus and ensure continuity across electoral cycles. The second should be an expert commission comprising economists, computer scientists, AI researchers, industry leaders, national security experts, and public policy scholars. AI is not merely a technological issue; it is a general-purpose technology that will reshape labour markets, productivity, competition, inequality, public finance, education, healthcare, and national security.

Secondly, India should move beyond relying exclusively on its existing engineering institutions. While the IITs and IISc remain world-class educational institutions, the institutional structures, compeners, national security experts, and public policy scholars. AI is not merely a technological issue; it is a general-purpose technology that will reshape labour markets, productivity, competition, inequality, public finance, education, healthcare, and national security.

INDIA HAS JUST made the cloud giants a bold offer: Run your global business from Indian soil and pay almost no tax on it for close to 20 years. It is a smart move, but quietly skips the hardest question of all. A modern data centre is no longer a building with some servers. It is a very expensive pile of chips that sit inside a building. The offer takes care of the tax on tomorrow's profits. It does nothing about the cost of the chips that create them.

Start with the part that is easy to fund. The physical data centre, land, building, power and cooling can be financed through a real estate investment trust (REIT) or an infrastructure investment trust (InvIT). These structures are dull by design, and that is exactly why they work. AREIT or InvIT likes assets that sit still and earn rent for years — office towers, warehouses, or the concrete and steel shell of a data centre. It can happily hold a cooling plant tied to a colocation contract that runs for a decade or more. Steady asset, steady rent, steady payout.

Now the twist, and it is India's data centre financing problem in a single picture.

The numbers behind the boom are familiar by now. India's data centre capacity has roughly quadrupled, from about 375 Mw in 2020 to around 1,500 Mw in 2025. The FY27 Budget went a step further, offering a tax holiday until 2047 for foreign companies that serve the world's cloud demand from India. The message is simple: Run your global cloud business through an Indian data centre, and the income you earn from customers abroad pays no Indian tax for the better part of two decades.

But a tax holiday is a promise about profits. We need to now focus on who pays for the asset that produces those profits. And in an AI data centre, that asset is mostly silicon. The compute layer, meaning the graphics processing units (GPUs) plus the servers, networking, and liquid cooling built around them, now eats up most of the money, commonly 60-80% of the total, and even more in the densest sites. The land, building and power, the very things a REIT or InvIT understands, are now the smaller slice.

Which is why "how many megawatts have you announced" is the wrong question, and "how exactly are you paying for the chips" is the right one. GPUs are the textbook case for leasing. They cost a fortune upfront, go out of date quickly, and renting them makes far more sense than owning them outright. But under India's GST, leasing equipment without transferring ownership usually attracts the same rate as the equipment itself, which is 18% for computer hardware. So the government offers a 20-year holiday on profits with one hand, and with the other collects 18% on the very asset. In theory, the tax can be claimed back as credit. In practice, it must first be paid, recorded, and recovered, and if the output is treated as an exempt supply rather than a zero-rated export, that credit can get stuck for good.

India's tax holiday for the world's cloud giants makes the profits tax-free. The real puzzle is who pays for the chips that earn them

None of this is unique to India, and that is the good news, because the rest of the world has already written the play-book. The idea everyone has landed on is simple: Do not fund a building that lasts 30 years and a chip that lasts three in the same way. Split them.

When Meta built its Hyperion campus in Louisiana, it did not put $30 billion on its own books. It set up a separate company, kept 20%, let Blue Owl and a group of pension and insurance investors own the rest, and then leased the site back. Around $27 billion of debt sits in that vehicle, not on Meta's balance sheet. CoreWeave took the opposite route and funded the chips directly, pledging its GPUs and customer contracts as security for loans worth billions. Elon Musk's xAI is raising huge sums through a vehicle whose only job is to buy Nvidia chips and rent them back. Nvidia itself has pulled together a large group of investors to raise more than half a trillion dollars for exactly this kind of chip financing.

The pattern repeats everywhere. The infrastructure that lasts decades gets patient capital, the kind a REIT or InvIT provides. The silicon that ages in a few years gets leasing, vendor finance, or loans raised against contracted cash flows. You put the building in a REIT or InvIT. You fund the GPU some other way.

India is closer to this than it looks. It already has an established REIT and InvIT market, about 32 listed trusts holding close to ₹10 lakh crore in assets, with a combined market value of roughly ₹5 lakh crore. That is solid proof that Indian investors will happily buy stable, income-earning infrastructure. Indian data centre operators are now lining up to tap the public markets. The real question is whether investors will price them as steady, REIT-like cash machines or as jumpy, fast-growing tech stocks. The honest answer is that it deserves a specialist financing model.

That is where GIFT City can finally prove its worth. The International Financial Services Centres Authority (IFSCA) has floated a proposal to treat the leasing of GPUs and related data centre equipment as a proper financial product inside the IFSC, the same move that made GIFT a credible home for aircraft and ship leasing.

A quick lesson from history, is in order. In the late 1990s, telecom companies laid enormous amounts of fibre worldwide, certain that demand would show up. When the bubble burst, most of it sat unused for years. The industry called it dark fibre. GPUs bought with cheap borrowing against contracts that later vanish could become this cycle's dark fibre, only with an even faster fall in value. So whatever we build must reward real usage, not press releases.

IIT Kanpur's medtech push

A NEW ECOSYSTEM SEEKS TO CONNECT MEDICINE, RESEARCH AND TECHNOLOGY

SUDHIR CHOWDHARY

INDIA HAS NO shortage of doctors, engineers or scientists. What it has lacked is a system that brings them together around the same healthcare problem. IIT Kanpur is trying to build one through the Gangwal School of Medical Sciences and Technology, with an ambition that goes beyond medical education: turning clinical problems into technologies that can reach patients.

The timing is significant. IndiGo co-founder Rakesh Gangwal, who committed ₹100 crore to the school in 2022, has pledged another ₹300 crore. The larger test is whether IIT Kanpur can create a repeatable pipeline from clinical need to patient.

The institute has added another piece to that ecosystem. The Wadhvani Innovation Centre for Life Sciences and Medical Technologies, launched recently, will receive $5 million over five years to develop, validate and commercialise research in medical devices, diagnostics, therapeutics and healthcare technology. It will also help researchers navigate regulation and industry partnerships.

That push to take research beyond the lab is central to IIT Kanpur's medtech ambition. The Gangwal School is not being built as a conventional medical college. A 500-plus-bed Yadupati Singhania Super Speciality Hospital and 11 centres of excellence in medical imaging, robotics, diagnostics and healthcare tech-

FROM IDEAS TO IMPACT

■ Rakesh Gangwal pledges ₹400 crore, including a fresh ₹300-crore commitment to attract matching donor support

■ A 500+-bed super-speciality hospital and 11 centres of excellence are planned across imaging, robotics and diagnostics

■ The pipeline includes Hridayantra's heart device, a smart wheelchair, portable X-ray and point-of-care testing solutions nology are central to the plan.

"The missing piece is the ability to turn ideas into practice," says Anil K. Lalwani, dean of the Gangwal School. India has the talent and capability, he says, but education, research and clinical care remain fragmented. The aim is to shorten the distance from problem to solution.

An early example is the school's work with the Uttar Pradesh government and ICICI Foundation. It is developing a digital health stack combining telemedicine, diagnostics and health data, piloted through its Health Information Exchange at public health centres in Lucknow.

There are also hardware projects. Hridayantra, an implantable left ventricular assist device for heart-failure patients, is in animal testing. Other projects include a smart wheelchair that can navigate stairs and escalators and portable X-ray technology for tuberculosis.

The projects reflect a simple model: start with a healthcare problem, bring disciplines together and design around the patient. But the difficult part begins after the prototype. Technologies still have to clear clinical testing and regulation, find manufacturers and prove they can work in the real world.

Global programmes such as Harvard-MIT's Health Sciences and Technology and Stanford's Biodesign show that medical innovation needs structures supporting discovery, validation, entrepreneurship and clinical adoption. IIT Kanpur director Manindra Agrawal argues that the separation between engineering and clinical expertise has limited the ability to turn technological capabilities into solutions suited to local healthcare needs.

Doctors, engineers, scientists and technologists must work together to turn research into real-world innovation

That is the larger bet behind the Gangwal School: not simply to train doctors or build prototypes, but to create a working pipeline from clinical problem to research, product and patient. If IIT Kanpur can make that pipeline work repeatedly, it could provide a new model for developing and commercialising medical technology at scale.

HUMAN FIRST

Mustafa Suleyman, CEO, Microsoft AI

We want to create incredible AI, but not super-intelligence. That would be an anti-goal for humanist AI. We'll happily trade some autonomy for control

Tech teams take a new shape

WILL AI REPLACE engineers? Wrong question, and it produces the wrong planning. AI adoption is not thinning teams evenly but changing their shape. The legacy organisation charts are quietly being compressed in the middle. We are looking at an hourglass: deep domain experts at the top, AI-augmented execution at the bottom, and a much narrower band in between.

Earlier, we needed help to translate a senior architect's intent into something delivery teams could act on, catch defects before shipment, and to keep all moving parts in sync throughout. The translation between "what we want" and "what got built" was expensive.

AI has made a large part of that translation cheap. A capable engineer with the right tools now does work that used to require a chain of people. And when a smaller team can produce in days what used to take months, managing that team becomes about keeping a much faster loop coherent in action. Speed does not just compress the middle, but changes what managing a team stands for.

This new hourglass makes the two ends more important. At the top, domain expertise becomes the scarcest asset. AI can generate a hundred plausible options but cannot replace judgment rooted in decades of context. Think of a medical device that needs to pass regulatory approvals, or an automotive that must survive the real world for 15 years.

At the bottom, execution accelerates. A single engineer early in their career, paired with AI, now ships things that would have taken a large team a few years ago.

MRITUNJAY SINGH

For years, the entry point into engineering was the routine work across first drafts, test cases, and boilerplates. AI now does a lot of that. The bar has gone up, not down, because the easy tasks are now the first ones automated. This is changing what we expect a fresher to arrive knowing—more domain grounding and comfort orchestrating AI rather than competing with it.

What does this mean if you run a team? Operating leaders must:

First, stop planning headcount as a single number. Plan the shape. The question is no longer "how many engineers," but "how deep is our expert bench, how strong is our AI-augmented execution layer, and what is genuinely left in the middle?"

Second, invest in the middle band you keep. The coordination now is higher-order—orchestrating human and AI work together—a real skill and a scarce one. Third, be honest with your people. They can handle a hard truth with a plan, not a comfortable message followed by an unpleasant surprise.

AI is changing the shape of engineering teams. It is not, in my experience, replacing the need for engineers who understand the physical, regulated, unforgiving domains we work in. If anything, it is raising the premium on them.

The hourglass is not about a smaller team, but a differently shaped one. And the organisations that plan for the shape, rather than argue about the headline, are the ones that will come out ready for tomorrow.

AI helps dairy farms cut losses

FINDABILITY SCIENCES HAS launched Lacta Insight, an AI-powered platform that helps dairy processors reduce losses and improve efficiency. The tool analyses information from different stages of the plant to identify milk and product yield losses, spot problems and suggest corrective action. The platform is designed to work with a plant's existing systems and does not alter production settings. It supports butter, milk powder, milk protein concentrate and whey production, and is being evaluated by a major Indian dairy processor.

Meta's Muse puts AI agents to the test

KARAN MAHADIK

META'S PERSONAL AI agent Muse has gone from a quiet launch to a major talking point in weeks. The app has surged up mobile charts, helped lift Meta's stock, been blocked by Amazon and drawn scrutiny over a potential security flaw that could let attackers take control of the agent.

Powered by Meta's Muse Spark large language model, the app is designed to let users delegate tasks across the web—from organising email and filling forms to booking travel, creating grocery lists and making purchases. Muse can connect to email, calendars, payments, e-commerce, dining, health and fitness and smart home apps. Its macOS app can also work with WhatsApp and social media accounts. When a required tool is unavailable, Muse can create a connector on the go.

The early numbers suggest strong consumer interest. More than two million prompts were submitted in Muse's first week, while the app has crossed 500,000 users, including 250,000 daily active users. Sensor Tower data showed more than 900,000 downloads in the six days following its September 8 launch.

But its growing reach has also exposed the friction around agentic

AI. Amazon has blocked Muse from its shopping site, calling it an unauthorised AI agent and citing privacy and security concerns. The company alleged that Muse could bypass parts of the Amazon shopping experience and potentially capture customer credentials and account data.

Security researchers have raised a separate concern. Patrick Wardle, founder of Objective-See Foundation, said he found a zero-day vulnerability that could potentially allow an application or terminal command to access the token authenticating a user's Muse account. The episode highlights the central challenge of consumer AI agents: the more useful they become, the more access they need—and the greater the security, privacy and platform battles they create.

● What does the report say about India's youth?

THE 'LABOUR MARKET Snapshot of Selected Districts' report released by the National Statistical Office offers a peek into what India's youth (ages 15-29) is doing by mapping NEET (not in employment, education, or training) metrics down to the individual district level. This age group accounts for around 27% of the country's population. A recent Niti Aayog report had estimated India's young NEET population in 2021 at 87 million.

As much as 23.7% of districts recorded NEET rates above 30% in 2025, reflecting regions where a sizeable portion of the youth demographic is completely detached from both the active workforce and formal education/skilling pipelines. However, 45.9% of districts report a 20% to 30% NEET range. Major technological and administrative hubs are much better at keeping youth productively occupied or enrolled in upskilling courses. Southern tech hubs lead with urban zones like Ernakulam in Kerala posting the lowest national NEET levels at 9.6%, with Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu following at 14.5%.

● What are the other key findings?

DISTRICT-LEVEL DATA OFFER MORE GRANULAR EVIDENCE FOR INFORMED PLANNING & POLICY FORMULATION

● What is the methodology for the study?

THE STUDY REPRESENTS the first time official employment metrics have moved from broad state-level generalisations to targeted district-level analytics. Historically, the PLFS used NSS Regions (large clusters of districts) as its basic survey stratum, meaning the sample sizes were insufficient to draw accurate conclusions about individual districts. In January 2025, the district was designated as the primary basic stratum for the majority of India's geography. To ensure district-level statistical accuracy, the sample size was significantly scaled up. The survey covered a footprint of 272,000 households distributed across 22,692 First Stage Units (FSUs) (which consist of villages in rural areas and Urban Frame Survey blocks in cities). The survey period of PLFS has been shifted from the July-June cycle (agricultural year) to the January-December cycle (calendar year) in conformity with international practices.

● How can the findings shape govt policies?

YOUTH EMPLOYMENT, SKILLING and employability are important areas of government policy and politics. District-level labour market statistics can help capture spatial variations across key parameters and provide more granular evidence for informed planning and policy formulation. For instance, a district with low unemployment and low labour force participation requires a different response from one with high

● Are govt skilling programmes helping?

THE GOVERNMENT HAS been running several programmes to enhance the skills of the working age population. There are four flagship programmes under the Skill India Mission—Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana (PMKVY), Jan Shikshan Sansthan (JSS), National Apprenticeship Promotion Scheme, and Craftsman Training Scheme in Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs). In February 2025, PMKVY 4.0, the apprenticeship programme and JSS were brought under a single central sector scheme for 2025-26. The Union Cabinet has also approved a five-year, ₹60,000 crore scheme to upgrade 1,000 government ITIs through a hub-and-spoke model. However, there still remains a mismatch between skills and job availability. For instance, under PMKVY, 2.85 million youths had been trained and 1.96 million certified till September 23, 2026 as per its dashboard data, but the number of placements are only 200,932.

participation but insufficient employment. Again, a high female participation rate does not reveal whether women have secure, adequately paid and productive work; district planning will still need information on occupation, earnings, employment status and hours worked. While the report does not attribute any causes to the differences between districts, it throws light on hyper-local economic realities.

RISK IN RELATION TO THE ISSUE

Risk to investors summary description of key risk factors based on materiality. For details, refer to section titled “Risk Factors” on page 21 of the Prospectus.

- We are dependent on Tier-I vendors, whose demand is directly linked to OEM procurement cycles. Any reduction or discontinuance of their demand may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- For our proposed new manufacturing facility, we are required to obtain certain statutory approvals, clearances, and permissions from the relevant authorities in connection with the planned capital expenditure. If we are unable to obtain such approvals in a timely manner, or at all, our proposed expansion may be delayed, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.
- A substantial portion of our revenue is derived from customers located in the state of Gujarat. Any adverse developments in this region may materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations.
- A significant portion of the Net Proceeds is proposed to be utilized towards funding our capital expenditure requirements including purchase of plant and machinery for our new manufacturing facility, for which certain orders have been placed. Any delay in procurement, delivery or installation of plant and machinery for our new manufacturing facility, including machinery for which purchase orders have been placed, may delay implementation, result in cost overruns and adversely affect our business operations and growth strategy.
- We are dependent on the supply of raw materials approved by our customers, and any disruption or delay in procurement of such materials could adversely impact our production schedules, result in idle capacity, and affect our relationship with customers.
- Any increase in raw material prices, volatility in supply or pricing, or failure by suppliers to fulfil their obligations may adversely impact our operations, financial performance, and business results.
- There have been instances of delayed filings in the past with certain Regulatory Authorities. If the Regulatory Authorities impose any monetary penalties on us or take any punitive actions against our Company in relation to the same, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.
- We are significantly dependent on the automotive sector, and any downturn or change in demand in this sector may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Our cash flows from operating activities have fluctuated in the past and may continue to fluctuate due to changes in our working capital requirements. Any inability to generate sufficient cash flows from our operations may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Our lenders have charge over our movable and immovable properties in respect of finance availed by us and settlement arrangements may affect perceptions of our credit profile.

For details, refer to section titled “Risk Factors” on page no. 21 of the Prospectus.

- The securities of the company cease to be listed and therefore are not available for trading on the platform of the Exchange.
- Promoters of this delisted company would be required to purchase the shares from the public shareholders as per the fair value determined by the independent valuer appointed by the Exchange.
- Further, in terms of Regulation 24(1) of SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2009, the delisted company, its whole-time directors, its promoters and the companies promoted by any of them shall not directly or indirectly access the securities market or seek listing for any equity shares for a period of 10 years from the date of compulsory delisting.

As per provisions of Regulation 24(2) of the SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares), Regulations, 2009, in case of companies whose fair value is positive –

(a) such a company and the depositories shall not effect transfer, by way of sale, pledge, etc., of any of the equity shares held by the promoters/ promoter group and the corporate benefits like dividend, rights, bonus shares, split, etc. shall be frozen for all the equity shares held by the promoters/ promoter group, till the promoters of such company provide an exit option to the public shareholders in compliance with sub-regulation (3) of regulation 23, as certified by the concerned recognized stock exchange;

(b) the promoters and whole-time directors of the compulsorily delisted company shall also not be eligible to become directors of any listed company till the exit option as stated in clause (a) above is provided.

In terms of Regulation 23(3) of SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2009, the promoter of the company shall acquire delisted equity shares from the public shareholders by paying them the value determined by the valuer within three months of the date of delisting from the recognised stock exchange, subject to their option of retaining their shares.

2) As per SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2021:-

The securities of the companies cease to be listed and therefore are not available for trading on the platform of the Exchange.

Promoters of these delisted companies will be required to purchase the shares from the public shareholders as per the fair value determined by the independent valuer appointed by the Exchange.

Further, in terms of Regulation 34(1) of SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2021, the delisted company, its whole-time directors, person(s) responsible for ensuring compliance with securities law, its promoters and the companies promoted by any of them shall not directly or indirectly access the securities market or seek listing for any equity shares or act as an intermediary in the securities market for a period of 10 years from the date of compulsory delisting.

As per provisions of Regulation 34(2) of the SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares), Regulations, 2021, in case of companies whose fair value is positive –

(a) such a company and the depositories shall not effect transfer, by way of sale, pledge, etc., of any of the equity shares held by the promoters/ promoter group and the corporate benefits like dividend, rights, bonus shares, split, etc. shall be frozen for all the equity shares held by the promoters/ promoter group, till the promoters of such company provide an exit option to the public shareholders in compliance with sub-regulation (4) of regulation 33, as certified by the concerned recognized stock exchange;

(b) the promoters and whole-time directors and person(s) responsible for ensuring compliance with securities law, of the compulsorily delisted company shall also not be eligible to become directors of any listed company till the exit option as stated in clause (a) above is provided.

In terms of Regulation 33(4) of SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2021, the promoter(s) of the company shall acquire the delisted equity shares from the public shareholders by paying them the value determined by the valuer, within three months of the date of delisting from the recognized stock exchange, subject to the option of the public shareholders to retain their shares.

In terms of Regulation 33(5) of SEBI (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2021, the promoter shall be liable to pay interest at the rate of ten percent per annum to all the shareholders, who offer their shares under the compulsory delisting offer, if the price payable in terms of sub-regulation (3) of Regulation 33 is not paid to all the shareholders within the time specified under sub-regulation (4).

3) Further, these companies have been moved to the Dissemination Board of the Exchange.

4) It may be noted that the onus of giving exit to the public shareholders and providing information to the stock exchanges for fair valuation is on the promoters of the company. In case exit is not provided by the promoters, appropriate action would be taken against such entities.

Anchor Investors are not permitted to participate in the Anchor Investor Portion of the Offer through the ASBA process. For details, see "Offer Procedure" on page 434 of the DRHP.

This public announcement is being made in compliance with the provisions of Regulation 26(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations to inform the public that our Company is proposing, subject to applicable statutory and regulatory requirements, receipt of requisite approvals, market conditions and other considerations, to undertake an initial public offering of its Equity Shares pursuant to the Offer and has filed the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus dated September 22, 2026, with the Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI") and with the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to Regulation 26(1) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus filed with SEBI and the Stock Exchanges has been made available to the public for comments, if any, for a period of at least 21 days from the date of publication of this public announcement in accordance with Regulation 26(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. The DRHP has been filed by hosting it on the website of SEBI at www.sebi.gov.in, websites of the Stock Exchanges at www.bseindia.com and www.nseindia.com, on the website of the Company at www.pmcona.in; and on the website of the Book Running Lead Manager ("BRLM"), i.e. Valmiki Leela Capital Private Limited at www.valmikiileela.com. Our Company invites the public to give their comments on the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus filed with SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, with respect to disclosures made in the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus. The public is requested to send a copy of the comments to SEBI, to the Company Secretary and Compliance Officer of our Company and/or the BRLM at their respective addresses mentioned herein. All comments must be received by SEBI and/or our Company and/or the Company Secretary and Compliance Officer of our Company and/or the BRLM in relation to the Offer on or before 5.00 p.m. on the 21st day from the date of publication of this public announcement.

Investments in equity and equity-related securities involve a degree of risk and investors should not invest any funds in the Offer unless they can afford to take the risk of losing their entire investment. Investors are advised to read the risk factors carefully before taking an investment decision in the Offer. For taking an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of our Company and the Offer, including the risks involved. The Equity Shares in the Offer have neither been recommended, nor approved by SEBI, nor does SEBI guarantee the accuracy or adequacy of the contents of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Specific attention of the investors is invited to "Risk Factors" on page 22 of the DRHP.

Any decision to invest in the Equity Shares described in the DRHP may only be taken after the Red Herring Prospectus ("RHP") has been filed with the RoC and must be made solely on the basis of such RHP as there may be material changes in the RHP from the DRHP and the Draft Abridged Prospectus. The Equity Shares, when issued through the RHP, are proposed to be listed on the Stock Exchanges.

For details of the share capital and capital structure and the names of the signatories to the Memorandum of Association and the number of shares subscribed by them of our Company, please see the section titled "Capital Structure" on page 86 of the DRHP. The liability of the members of our Company is limited by their shares. RISK TO INVESTORS

SUMMARY DESCRIPTION OF KEY RISK FACTORS BASED ON MATERIALITY

- We have certain outstanding litigation against us, an adverse outcome of which may adversely affect our business, reputation and results of operations.
- Our business is dependent and will continue to depend on our manufacturing facilities, and we are subject to certain risks in our manufacturing process. Any slowdown or shutdown in our manufacturing operations or strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees that could interfere with our operations could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Majority of our revenue is dependent on single business segment i.e. manufacturing and trading of fiber, yarns and knitted cloth. Any adverse impact on sales of a product would adversely affect our operations and profitability.
- The top ten customers of our product and top ten suppliers for raw material contribute a substantial part of our total revenue and source of Raw Material. We do not have long term agreement with the customer or supplier. The loss of any Customer or a decrease in the volume of order by any customer or any disruption in supply of raw material by any supplier may adversely affect our revenues and profitability.
- Certain assumptions have been made in the absence of historical data from 1996 to 2006; variations in Capital Structure and other factors could impact the accuracy of the RHP and affect Investment Decisions.
- The Company is yet to place orders for 100% of the plant & machineries for our proposed object, as specified in the Objects of the Issue. Any delay in placing orders, procurement of plant & machineries may delay our implementation schedule and may also lead to increase in price of these plant & machineries, further affecting our revenue and profitability.
- Within the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled "Objects of this Issue" beginning on page 85 of the Red Herring Prospectus, the fund requirement and deployment mentioned in the Objects of this Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution.
- There are certain discrepancies and non-compliances noticed in some of our corporate records relating to forms filed with taxation authorities and other public authorities.
- Our Company has a negative cash flow in its operating, investing activities and Net Increase / Decrease in Cash & Cash Equivalents for the financial years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025, and March 31, 2024 details of which are given below. Sustained negative cash flow could impact our growth and business.
- Non-recovery of business advances may adversely impact our Company's financial position and cash flows.

THE OFFER WILL CONSTITUTE [•] % OF THE POST OFFER PAID-UP EQUITY SHARE CAPITAL OF OUR COMPANY. THE FACE VALUE OF EQUITY SHARES IS ₹10/- EACH. THE OFFER PRICE IS [•] TIMES THE FACE VALUE OF THE EQUITY SHARES. THE PRICE BAND AND THE MINIMUM BID LOT WILL BE DECIDED BY OUR COMPANY, IN CONSULTATION WITH THE BOOK RUNNING LEAD MANAGERS AND WILL BE ADVERTISED IN [•] ALL EDITIONS OF [•] AN ENGLISH NATIONAL DAILY NEWSPAPER, [•] ALL EDITIONS OF [•] A HINDI NATIONAL DAILY NEWSPAPER AND [•] ALL EDITIONS OF [•] A GUJARATI DAILY NEWSPAPER (GUJARATI BEING THE REGIONAL LANGUAGE OF GUJARAT, WHERE OUR REGISTERED OFFICE IS LOCATED) EACH WITH WIDE CIRCULATION, AT LEAST TWO WORKING DAYS PRIOR TO THE BID/ OFFER OPENING DATE AND SHALL BE MADE AVAILABLE TO BSE AND NSE FOR THE PURPOSE OF UPLOADING ON THEIR RESPECTIVE WEBSITES.

In case of any revision to the Price Band, the Bid/ Offer Period will be extended by at least three additional Working Days following such revision of the Price Band, subject to the Bid/ Offer Period not exceeding 10 Working Days. In cases of force majeure, banking strike or similar unforeseen circumstances, our Company, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, may for reasons to be recorded in writing, extend the Bid/ Offer Period for a minimum of one Working Day, subject to the Bid/ Offer Period not exceeding 10 Working Days. Any revision in the Price Band and the revised Bid/ Offer Period, if applicable, will be widely disseminated by notification to the Stock Exchanges, by issuing a public notice, and also by indicating the change on the websites of the Book Running Lead Managers and at the terminals of the Syndicate Members and by intimation to Self-Certified Syndicate Banks ("SCSBs"), other Designated Intermediaries and the Sponsor Banks, as applicable.

The Offer is being made through the Book Building Process, in terms of Rule 19(2)(b) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1957, as amended ("SCRR") read with Regulation 31 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations and in compliance with Regulation 6(1) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, wherein not more than 50% of the Offer shall be allocated on a proportionate basis to Qualified Institutional Buyers ("QIBs" and such portion, the "QIB Portion"), provided that our Company may, in consultation with the BRLMs, allocate up to 60% of the QIB Portion to Anchor Investors on a discretionary basis, in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations ("Anchor Investor Portion"), of which 40% shall be reserved in the following manner (i) 33.33% of the Anchor Investor Portion shall be reserved for domestic Mutual Funds; and (ii) 6.67% of the Anchor Investor Portion shall be reserved for Life Insurance Companies and Pension Funds, subject to valid Bids being received from domestic Mutual Funds, Life Insurance Companies and Pension Funds, as applicable, at or above the Anchor Investor Allocation Price. Any undersubscription in the Life Insurance Companies and Pension Funds category specified in (i) above may be allocated to domestic Mutual Funds, in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. In the event of under-subscription or non-allocation in the Anchor Investor Portion, the balance Equity Shares of face value of ₹10/- each shall be added to the remaining QIB Portion ("Net QIB Portion"). Further, 5% of the Net QIB Portion shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis only to Mutual Funds, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price, and the remainder of the Net QIB Portion shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to QIB bidders (other than Anchor Investors) including Mutual Funds subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. However, if the aggregate demand from Mutual Funds is less than 5% of the Net QIB Portion, the balance Equity Shares of face value of ₹10/- each, available for allocation in the Mutual Fund Portion will be added to the remaining Net QIB Portion for proportionate allocation to all QIBs. Further, not less than 15% of the Offer shall be available for allocation to Non-Institutional Bidders and not less than 35% of the Offer shall be available for allocation to Retail Individual Bidders in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. The Equity Shares available for allocation to Non-Institutional Bidders under the Non-Institutional Bidders shall be subject to the following: (i) one-third of the portion available to Non-Institutional Bidders shall be reserved for applicants with an application size of more than ₹2.00 Lakhs and up to ₹10.00 Lakhs, and (ii) two-third of the portion available to Non-Institutional Bidders shall be reserved for applicants with an application size of more than ₹10.00 Lakhs, provided that the unsubscribed portion in either of the aforementioned sub-categories may be allocated to applicants in the other sub-category of Non-Institutional Bidders. All potential Bidders (except Anchor Investors) are mandatorily required to utilize the Application Supported by Blocked Amount ("ASBA") process by providing details of their respective ASBA accounts and UPI ID in case of UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism, as applicable, pursuant to which their corresponding Bid Amount will be blocked by the Self Certified Syndicate Banks ("SCSBs") or by the Sponsor Banks under the UPI Mechanism, as the case may be, to the extent of the respective Bid Amounts. Anchor Investors are not permitted to participate in the Offer through the ASBA Process. For details, see "Offer Procedure" beginning on page 475 of the DRHP.

This public announcement is being made in compliance with the provisions of Regulation 26(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations to inform the public that our Company is proposing, subject to applicable statutory and regulatory requirements, receipt of requisite approvals, market conditions and other considerations, to undertake an initial public offering of its Equity Shares pursuant to the Offer and has filed the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus dated September 22, 2026, with the Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI") and with the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to Regulation 26(1) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus filed with SEBI and the Stock Exchanges has been made available to the public for comments, if any, for a period of at least 21 days from the date of publication of this public announcement in accordance with Regulation 26(2) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations. The DRHP is hosted on by hosting it on the website of SEBI at www.sebi.gov.in, websites of the Stock Exchanges at www.bseindia.com and www.nseindia.com, on the website of the Company at www.claroidpharma.com and on the websites of the Book Running Lead Managers ("BRLMs"), i.e. Oneview Corporate Advisors Private Limited and Valmiki Leela Capital Private Limited at www.oneviewadvisors.com and www.valmikiileela.com, respectively. Our Company invites the public to give their comments on the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus filed with SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, with respect to disclosures made in the DRHP along with the Draft Abridged Prospectus. RISKS TO INVESTORS

Summary Description of key Risk Factors Based on Materiality

- Our Company is involved in certain income tax proceedings, and any adverse outcome may adversely affect our financial condition, cash flows and reputation.
- Certain income tax proceedings involving one of our Group Company i.e. E-Trav Tech Limited may adversely affect our reputation and financial position.
- Certain proceedings relating to an entity previously associated with a member of our Promoter Group may adversely affect the reputation of such member and, consequently, our Company.
- We may be subject to penalties or regulatory action for not obtaining a fresh valuation report at the time of cancellation of the transaction with Mr. Rajabhau Shriram Phad.
- We are dependent on our strategic relationship with Channel partners and our direct relationships with mobile network operations (“MNOs”). Our inability to enter into or maintain such relationships, particularly with MNOs, may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Failures, defects, delays and other problems involving the technology systems and infrastructure on which we rely on providing our services and solutions to our clients may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- We face a risk from potential claims resulting from client’s misuse of our platform to send unauthorized text messages and calls and other services in violation of TRAI regulations.
- Our revenues depend on the limited number of clients and the loss of such clients could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.
- Our revenues are highly dependent on clients primarily located in North and West Zone of India. Any decline economic health of such regions could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Conflict of interest may arise as our Subsidiary, one of our group company and some of our promoter group entities are authorized to carry on a similar line of business as our Company which may lead to real or potential conflicts of interest for our Promoters or Directors.

8. BUSINESS MODEL/BUSINESS OVERVIEW AND STRATEGY:
Business Overview
We are into the business of laying, building, owning, operating and expanding natural gas transmission network on an open access, non-discriminatory basis in India. As per PNGRB report, we own and operate second largest natural gas transmission network in India. Currently, our gas transmission network exclusively serves the State of Gujarat and is connected to all the major natural gas supply sources as well as most of the major users and demand centers in Gujarat. We also operate, through our subsidiary GSPL India Gasnet Limited ("GIGL") and GSPL India Transco Limited ("GILT"), Mehसान – Bhatinda – Gurdaspur pipeline and Mallavaram - Bhopal – Bhillwara – Vijapur pipeline, respectively.
Our Company was incorporated on July 23, 2024 under the Companies Act, 2013 and has its registered office in Gujarat, India. The Board of Directors of Gujarat State Petroleum Corporation Limited, Gujarat State Petronet Limited, GSPC Energy Limited, Gujarat Energy Limited (formerly known as Gujarat Gas Limited), and GSPL Transmission Limited on August 30, 2024, approved the Composite Scheme which, inter alia, provided for demerger of Gas Transmission Business Undertaking into our Company and other incidental matters thereto. For further details in relation to the scheme of arrangement, please refer to "Composite Scheme of Arrangement" on page 95 of the Information Memorandum. Prior to the Scheme becoming effective, our Company was a wholly owned subsidiary of GSPC Energy Limited.
As on date of information memorandum, we operate a medium-to-high pressure gas transmission network comprising approximately 2,900 kms of natural gas pipeline. Our gas transmission network carried 28.8 mmscmd, 30.8 mmscmd and 31 mmscmd of natural gas during fiscal 2026, fiscal 2025 and fiscal 2024, respectively. Most of our customers are natural gas end-users such as power, fertilizer and refinery chemical and steel plants that purchase natural gas from upstream suppliers, such as marketers, producers and importers, and use our gas transmission network to transport such natural gas to their location. Our customers also include natural gas suppliers/marketers/traders who avail our gas transportation services to supply natural gas to their gas purchasers at their location. We also transport natural gas for onward distribution by City Gas Distribution ("CGD") or local distribution companies who supply natural gas to retail consumers in various geographic area such as Surat, Bharuch, Narmada, Baroda, Anand, Ahmedabad, Dahod, Gandhinagar, Sabarkantha, Panchmahal, Patan, Bhavnagar, Mehसान, Banaskantha, Surendranagar, Botad, Rajkot, Morbi, Jamnagar, Navsari, Kutch, Kheda, Valsad, Amreli, Gir and Somnath. We do not own the natural gas that we transmit and therefore we do not assume any natural gas commodity price risk.

OUR STRENGTHS
Strategic connectivity to major natural gas supply sources and demand centers in Gujarat.
Our gas transmission network is strategically located within the State of Gujarat covering 26 districts, providing direct connectivity to major natural gas supply sources as well as key demand centers across the State. The Company's network is connected to all significant natural gas supply points in Gujarat, including designated collection points near the natural gas fields of various gas field operators. Further, we are also well-connected with other transporter's network, thereby enabling supply of gas from gas sources located outside Gujarat such as from East-Coast to various markets across India. We are also implementing Jamnagar Dwarka Pipeline project in Dwarka district which will further connect to major gas source in Kutch basin which will boost gas transportation business of GTL. We are also implementing Anjar Palanpur pipeline project in Gujarat. Additionally, we are also implementing various other pipeline projects such as Dahej-Bhadbhat Pipeline, Vantewad Rajpipla Pipeline and Bhayla connectivity to further augment our network. Several customers in many industrial regions across Gujarat, including Dahej SEZ are receiving gas through Company's network with more getting connected on a regular basis. This translates into steady utilization of our transmission pipelines. We are also currently transporting gas for customers in the areas like Rajasthan, Haryana and Punjab that are connected to pipelines operated by our subsidiaries. These areas have huge potential for gas demand and the steady growth expected from these markets will benefit our gas transmission business.

Project management expertise and strong management team
We have strong project management capability and a strong management team. Our capability is demonstrated through successful execution of multiple complex gas transmission projects. We have consistently obtained the requisite statutory and regulatory approvals, arranged necessary financing, and completed the construction of our transmission network without any material cost or time overrun. Our management team have developed a track record of close coordination with numerous local authorities and management of various EPC contractors. Our management team is experienced and knowledgeable with deep domain expertise in the natural gas sector. This leadership strength provides a significant competitive advantage as the Company continues to expand its operations, pursue new projects, and extend its services into emerging markets. The management team's active engagement with the natural gas ecosystem in the state of Gujarat has resulted in a strong understanding of customer requirements and market dynamics, enabling the Company to design solutions that address industry needs effectively.

Only pure-play natural gas transmission Company in India
We operate as a pure natural gas transmission company on an open access basis. This model allows us to focus exclusively on transportation services, with gas being shipped on behalf of third-party shippers, thereby minimizing exposure to commodity price volatility as we do not take ownership of the gas transported through its network. Operating on an open access basis enables natural gas consumers to independently negotiate their gas supply arrangements with multiple suppliers, fostering a competitive supply environment and supporting discovery of market-based pricing. As we remain neutral to the source of gas supply and do not promote any particular supplier, customers benefit from enhanced choice and competition among suppliers, while we are able to target both suppliers and consumers for transmission services, resulting in revenue generation from a broader customer base.

Our business model as a transmission-only utility aligns with the broader policy direction in the Indian natural gas sector, which increasingly emphasizes functional separation between gas marketing and transportation activities and encourages open access, common carrier pipeline usage. In the event of further regulatory moves towards unbundling gas supply and transmission services or greater enforcement of arm's-length principles between transporters and marketers, our existing pure transmission structure is well positioned and is not expected to require significant restructuring of its business model or contractual framework.

First mover advantage in Gujarat
We enjoy a significant first mover advantage in the development of natural gas transmission infrastructure in the state of Gujarat. Our predecessor entity, GSPL, was among the earliest entities established with a dedicated mandate from the Government of Gujarat to develop a state-wide high-pressure gas grid on an open access basis and has since played a pivotal role in expanding pipeline connectivity across the State.
Over time, our network has expanded to cover most major demand centers and industrial regions in Gujarat, supported by ongoing investments to augment capacity and extend connectivity to new load centers. This extensive, integrated grid allows us to develop long-term relationships with customers and to act as a preferred transmission partner for both gas suppliers and off-takers.
The early development and continuous expansion of our pipeline network have created high entry barriers for potential new entrants, given the capital-intensive nature of transmission assets, the need for multiple statutory approvals, and right-of-way arrangements across the state of Gujarat. Our established connectivity with all major gas sources, coupled with available capacity and planned expansions, positions us well to cater to future growth in natural gas demand in both existing and emerging markets in and beyond Gujarat, which may discourage the development of competing parallel transmission infrastructure in the regions that we serves.

Advanced engineering practices that provide efficient natural gas transportation
Our gas transmission network is one of the first in India which is engineered to allow flow of natural gas in two directions in each segment of our natural gas transmission network. Bi-directional natural gas flow allows us to determine the most efficient route of transporting natural gas through our pipelines based on available entry and exit points. Such efficient transportation of natural gas increases the transportation capacity in our gas transmission network without requiring us to make additional capital expenditures to add new or bigger pipelines. The use of such advanced engineering and system design features supports improved capacity utilisation, system reliability, and continuity of supply to customers across the network, even under varying load conditions or in the event of localized constraints. We believe this will remain a competitive advantage. We have also developed systems and procedures for operation and maintenance of our gas transmission network which are certified under integrated management systems, including ISO 9001:2015 for quality management, ISO 14001:2015 for environmental management, and ISO 45001:2018 for occupational health and safety, which are supported by periodic audits, preventive maintenance practices, and emergency response frameworks, demonstrate our focus on safe, reliable, and efficient operation of its transmission network, reinforcing its competitive positioning in the natural gas transportation segment.

Strong support of other entities promoted by Government of Gujarat
We are promoted by Government of Gujarat, which also controls various other Companies operating in the Oil & Gas sector such as Gujarat Energy Limited (formerly known as Gujarat Gas Limited), GSPC LNG Ltd and Sabarmati Gas Ltd. These Companies have established their strong presence across the entire energy value chain. Gujarat Energy Limited (formerly known as Gujarat Gas Limited), is not only one of the India's largest City Gas Distribution (CGD) Company in terms of sales volume but also one of the largest natural gas trading companies of India. GEL caters to more than ~24.18 lakh PNG domestic connection, ~4,460 PNG industrial connections, and ~16,030 PNG commercial connections and operates 839 CNG stations (as of 31st March 2026 – from GEL Investor Presentation). Post implementation of Composite Scheme, GEL also include the E&P (exploration and production) and gas trading business of Gujarat State Petroleum Corporation Limited. We believe that as Gujarat's largest gas transmission network operator we are well-positioned to benefit from the natural gas transmission requirements of Gujarat Energy Limited (formerly known as Gujarat Gas Limited).

OUR STRATEGIES
Extend and expand our gas transmission network.
We intend to continue expanding and strengthening our high-pressure natural gas transmission network to deepen connectivity within Gujarat and selectively extend our presence beyond the state through our joint venture pipeline projects. The expansion of India's natural gas pipeline grid under the "One Nation, One Gas Grid" initiative and the build-out of LNG import and regasification capacity are expected to drive incremental demand for transmission capacity in both existing and emerging markets. We are currently transporting gas for customers in the areas like Rajasthan, Haryana, Punjab, Andhra Pradesh and Telangana that are connected to pipelines operated by our subsidiaries i.e., GIGL and GILT. By leveraging our position as a leading transmission utility in Gujarat and our participation in cross-country pipelines through GIGL and GILT, we seek to capture growth opportunities in new geographies while maintaining a disciplined, return-focused approach to capital allocation.

Increase and diversify our customer and volume base.
We intend to increase and diversify our customer and volume base by targeting a wider spectrum of downstream segments, including CGD entities, refineries, fertilizers, power plants, and small-to-medium industrial consumers across multiple sectors. Prior to committing to new spur lines or capacity expansions, we undertake demand assessments and engage with anchor customers in potential high-demand corridors to enhance volume visibility and underpin project viability. The ongoing expansion of CGD networks across India, rollout of CNG and PNG connections in tier-2 and tier-3 cities, and policy thrust on gas as a transition fuel are expected to support sustained growth in transported volumes. By diversifying across customer categories, sectors, and geographies, we aim to reduce dependence on any single customer or segment and improve the resilience of our revenue profile.

Maximize capacity utilization and enhance system efficiency
We seek to maximize capacity utilization across our transmission network by improving system flexibility, facilitating third-party access and trading, and supporting efficient banking of gas flows from multiple supply sources. Our strategy includes active engagement with shippers and prospective customers to promote natural gas as a cleaner and efficient fuel, support fuel-switch decisions, and enable timely tie-ins to new industrial projects and CGD networks.

We continue to invest in operational technologies, including Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition ("SCADA") systems and associated automation, to monitor pipeline operations, optimize line-pack and compression, and improve scheduling and nominations system. In addition to long-term contracted volumes, we also carry short-term, spot and interruptible gas volumes to improve overall throughput and system utilization.

Maintain fast, cost-effective project execution
Our Company intends to drive execution excellence and high system reliability across its gas transmission business by combining disciplined project delivery with robust operations and maintenance practices. Our Company seeks to maintain and further strengthen its track record of executing pipeline projects in a timely and cost-effective manner through rigorous project management, including optimized contracting structures and competitive bidding for engineering, procurement and construction ("EPC") contracts after appropriate pre-qualification of bidders. This approach enables parallel construction of multiple pipeline segments, supports faster time-to-market, and helps contain capital costs. In parallel, our Company aims to continuously improve network uptime, safety and throughput efficiency by investing in technology, maintenance systems and skilled manpower. Our Company focuses on asset integrity, capacity optimisation and digital monitoring, including the use of automation and SCADA, and intends to refine internal processes for project planning, right-of-way acquisition, statutory approvals and contractor supervision to reduce execution and operational risks. By aligning project prioritisation with national and state-level gas infrastructure plans and ensuring that incremental capacity is closely matched to emerging demand centres, our Company seeks to deliver attractive risk-adjusted returns while sustaining a reliable, safe and efficient transmission network that supports long-term customer confidence.

9. RATIONALE FOR THE SCHEME OF ARRANGEMENT:
The Transferor Company 1 and its subsidiaries and affiliates ("GSPC Group") were promoted by the Government of Gujarat and is, amongst others, engaged in following key businesses: (i) exploration and production of oil and gas (ii) trading of gas (iii) transmission of gas and (iv) distribution of gas; and (v) generation of electricity through windmill. Prior to the Scheme Effective Date, the above businesses were being carried out through multiple entities within GSPC Group; and one of the main objectives of the Scheme is to streamline and consolidate existing businesses which are inter-linked or inter-connected to enable focused growth strategies. Further the GSPC Group desired to eliminate the layered structure to achieve the value unlocking for various stakeholders including public at large. Key objectives of the Scheme are inter-alia as follows:

(i) Achieving Better Business Synergies and Growth: Through the Scheme, the synergies that exist among the entities, whose businesses are interrelated or interconnected can be put to the best advantage for the stakeholders. The Scheme will, inter-alia, make available to the Transferee Company access to gas sourcing expertise and highly diversified gas sourcing arrangements of Transferor Company 1 as well as Regasification Capacity tied-up by Transferor Company 1 thereby helping the Transferee Company in becoming more competitive in entire gas business segment. Further, the proposed Scheme will provide an opportunity to better leverage the combined asset and capital base, build a stronger and sustainable business and improve the potential for further growth and expansion of gas trading and city gas distribution business.

(ii) Simplification of Group Holding Structure: The Scheme is aimed at simplifying GSPC Group's holding structure by removing the layers and crossholding.

(iii) Unlocking of Shareholders' Value: By removing the layers and cross holdings and enhancing business synergies, the Scheme aims at maximizing Shareholders' Value by unlocking hidden value for shareholders. The arrangement (merger and demerger of the businesses) aims at simplifying the corporate structure of the GSPC Group making it easier to focus, manage and administer core businesses of the GSPC Group with clear accountability, reduced administrative burden and improved transparency for stakeholders.

(iv) Improved Efficiency and Enhanced Scale of Operations: The combined entity will have greater efficiency in cash management, unfettered access to cash flow generated by the combined businesses which can be deployed more efficiently to fund organic and inorganic growth opportunities. It will have large net worth and borrowing capacity to expand its business at a faster rate. The combined entity will improve the potential for further expansion of the businesses by way of increased investment strength of the combined entity.

(v) Optimum Utilization of Resources: The consolidated entity will be benefited from improved organizational leadership, arising from the combination of people from relevant companies, who have diverse skills, talent and vast experience to compete successfully in an increasingly competitive market. The Scheme is also aimed at reducing administrative compliances by combining the multiple entities in the similar or inter-connected business and to reduce legal and compliance cost while at the same time meeting with the regulatory requirements of the Petroleum & Natural Gas Regulatory Board.

(b) Terms / Notes
(1) Transactions with related parties are made on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's length transactions. Outstanding balances are unsecured.
(2) Apart from the above transactions, the Group has also entered into transactions including but not limited to transmission of natural gas, rendering & receiving of services, placement & maturity of term/liquid deposits, use of public utilities, receipt/payment of rent etc. with "Government related entities" (entities controlled, jointly controlled or significantly influenced by Government of Gujarat). These transactions are entered in ordinary course of business & are at arm's length prices based on the agreed contractual terms. Further, no transaction is reportable for this category in view of para 25 & 26 read with para 11 of Ind AS 24 - Related Party Disclosures.

For further details please refer "Restated Financial Information" on page 130 of the Information Memorandum
15. DETAILS OF ITS GROUP COMPANIES INCLUDING THEIR CAPITAL STRUCTURE AND FINANCIAL STATEMENTS:
As on the date, our Company does not have any group companies (as defined in terms of the SEBI (Issue of capital and Disclosure Requirements), 2018). The same is disclosed on page 128 of the Information Memorandum available on the Company's website at www.gspltrans.com.

16. INTERNAL RISK FACTORS:
The internal risk factor are as under:
(i) Development of new gas transmission pipelines requires substantial capital expenditure, and any delay or shortfall in securing the requisite funding may adversely affect our business operations. Furthermore, our capital expenditure plans may not deliver the intended benefits and have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution.
(ii) We operate in a highly regulated business environment and the exercise of determination of tariff for our natural gas pipelines by PNGRB may adversely affect our business operations, revenue and profitability.
(iii) We do not have long history of corporate existence and we have received the Gas Transmission Business Undertaking pursuant to the Scheme. We may face disruptions in our business operations in near term as we continue to integrate business operations into our Company.
(iv) Geopolitical tensions, regional instability and force majeure events may disrupt our operations and contractual arrangements and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.
(v) Delays in project execution, expansion and commissioning of new pipelines may adversely impact our growth and financial performance
(vi) The Gas Transmission Business Undertaking requires certain statutory/regulatory approvals and registrations, including renewal/extension of existing approvals, authorizations and registrations. We may be required to incur substantial costs or may be unable to continue commercial operations if we cannot obtain or maintain necessary approvals, authorizations and registrations.
(vii) Substantially all of our existing and proposed natural gas pipeline network is situated within a single state, i.e., the State of Gujarat, and our business is therefore exposed to geography-specific risks. Any adverse development affecting the State of Gujarat could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.
(viii) Certain of our pipelines are approaching the end of their economic life of 30 years from the date of commissioning. Any replacement, re-laying, major repair or re-commissioning of such pipelines is capital intensive and may adversely affect our tariffs, business, results of operations and financial condition.
(ix) Our business is exposed to a variety of risks arising from the competitive position of natural gas vis-à-vis alternative and competing sources of fuel and energy, and any weakening of the market position of natural gas could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
(x) Volatility in gas price and decline in gas production, import and transportation volumes would adversely affect our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

For further details on "Internal Risk Factors" are provided on page no. 24 of the Information Memorandum available on the website of the Company at www.gspltrans.com.

3. Trading Member Concentration Risk: A substantial share of our revenue from operations is generated from trading activity and services provided to a relatively concentrated group of key trading members. Any disruption in the services of these trading members or our inability to onboard new trading members could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

(₹ in million, unless otherwise specified)

Particulars	Three months period ended June 30,		Fiscals
	2026	2025	2026	2025	2024

Percentage of revenue from operations (%)	47.00%	45.60%	46.78%	44.48%	45.26%

4. Regulatory Oversight and Inspection Risk: We operate in a highly regulated industry, primarily overseen by SEBI. We are also subject to periodic inspections by SEBI and IFSCA and pursuant to such inspections, have received observations, show cause notices, and administrative warnings, deficiency and advisory letters in relation to certain regulatory matters, and after issuance of show cause notices, enforcement actions including adjudication proceedings under Section 15-I and/or directions or penalties under Section 11B of the SEBI Act may be initiated by SEBI; any failure to comply could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. There can be no assurance that further such communications will not be issued in the future.

5. Enforcement and Adjudication Risk: We have been, and continue to be, subject to enforcement actions, monetary penalties, adjudication proceedings, which may or may not get settled with SEBI in respect of alleged violations and regulatory matters with applicable SEBI regulations. The outcome of current and potential future proceedings is uncertain and could have a material adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition and results of operations.

6. IT Infrastructure Reliability Risk: Disruptions, failures or inadequacies in our IT infrastructure, systems or software, including those provided by third-party vendors, could adversely affect our business, reputation and results of operations, and may subject us to regulatory action or the imposition of financial disincentives by SEBI.

7. New Listings and Capital Formation Dependence Risk: Our ability to attract new listings, issuances and capital formation activities on our platforms is critical to our business, and any decline may adversely affect our operations. The table below provides revenue from our listing services for the period/Fiscal indicated:

(₹ in million unless otherwise specified)

Particulars	Three months period ended June 30,		Fiscal
	2026	2025	2026	2025	2024

*Listed Entities on Exchange represents the total number of Listed Entities on Mainboard, SME, SME ITP, as well as AMCs which have their funds listed on NSE as at the last day of the relevant period/year.

8. Cybersecurity Risk: We are subject to cybersecurity risks, including a distributed denial of service attack we experienced in May 2025, and any successful cyberattack could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and prospects.

9. Risk Management Systems Risk: Our risk management systems may not always be adequate, which could result in financial losses, regulatory action and reputational harm.

10. Clearing and Settlement Risk: Our clearing corporation operations expose us to financial, operational, counterparty and systemic risks arising from our relationships with, and dependencies on, clearing members, depositories and other market infrastructure participants; any failure could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

11. Offer related risk: We will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale portion and the same will be received by the Selling Shareholders.

LISTING: The Equity Shares issued through the Red Herring Prospectus are proposed to be listed on NSE EMERGE in terms of Chapter IX of the SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018, as amended from time to time. Our Company has received "in-principle" approval from NSE Limited ("NSE") for using its name in the Offer Documents for listing of the Equity Shares pursuant to letter bearing Ref. No. NSE/LIST/6609 dated April 01, 2026. For the purpose of the Offer, the Designated Stock Exchange shall be NSE. A signed copy of Red Herring Prospectus has been submitted for registration to RoC on September 23, 2026 and Prospectus shall be filed with RoC in accordance with Section 26(4) of the Companies Act, 2013.

DISCLAIMER CLAUSE OF SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE BOARD OF INDIA ("SEBI"): Since the Offer is being made in terms of Chapter IX of the SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018, the Red Herring Prospectus has been filed with SEBI after filing of the Offer Document with Registrar of Companies in terms of Regulations 246 of the SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018. However, the SEBI shall not issue any observation on the Offer Documents. Hence, there is such specific disclaimer clause of SEBI. However, investors may refer to the entire "Disclaimer Clause of SEBI" beginning on page 372 of the Red Herring Prospectus.

DISCLAIMER CLAUSE OF NSE (THE DESIGNATED STOCK EXCHANGE): It is to be distinctly understood that the permission given by NSE should not in any way be deemed or construed that the Offer Document has been cleared or approved by NSE, nor does it certify the correctness or completeness of any of the contents of the Offer Documents. The investors are advised to refer to the Offer Document for the full text of the "Disclaimer Clause of NSE" beginning on page 375 of the Red Herring Prospectus.

CREDIT RATING: This being a public offer of Equity Shares, no credit rating is required.

DEBENTURE TRUSTEE: This being an offer of Equity Shares, the appointment of Trustee is not required.

MONITORING AGENCY: Monitoring Agency has not been appointed as the Offer Size is less than 5,000.00 Lakhs.

IPO Grading: Since the offer is being made in terms of Chapter IX of the SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, there is no requirement of appointing an IPO Grading agency.

GENERAL RISK: Investment in Equity and Equity related securities involves a degree of risk and Bidders should not invest any fund in this Offer unless they can afford to take the risk of losing their entire investment. Bidders are advised to read the risk factors carefully before taking an investment decision in the Offer. For taking an investment decision, Bidders must rely on their own examination of our Company and the Offer, including the risks involved. The Equity Shares issued in the Offer have not been recommended or approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI"), nor does SEBI guarantee the accuracy or adequacy of the contents of this Red Herring Prospectus. Specific attention of the Bidders is invited to the section "Risk Factors" beginning on page 23 of the Red Herring Prospectus.
