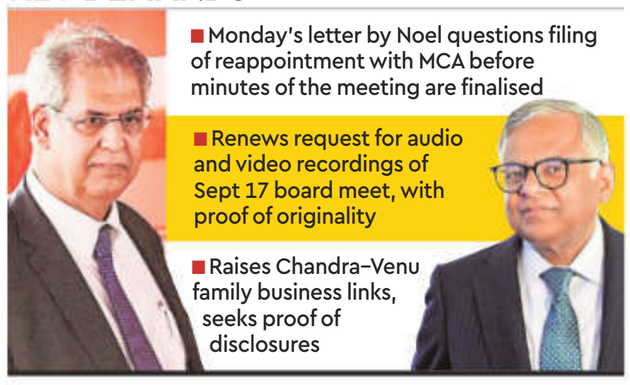
DEMAND FOR SEPT 17 MEET RECORDINGS RENEWED

Fresh Noel missive to Tata Sons board

- Disclosure sought on the dealings between Chandra & TVS

URVI MALVANIA
Mumbai, October 26

KEY DEMANDS



- Monday's letter by Noel questions filing of reappointment with MCA before minutes of the meeting are finalised
- Renews request for audio and video recordings of Sept 17 board meet, with proof of originality
- Raises Chandra–Venu family business links, seeks proof of disclosures

TATA TRUSTS CHAIRMAN Noel Tata, a nominee director on the Tata Sons board, has objected to the company filing N Chandrasekaran's reappointment as chairman with the ministry of corporate affairs earlier this month.

In a letter on Monday to Suprakash Mukhopadhyay, company secretary, Tata questioned why the holding company filed the reappointment documents before the minutes of the September 17 board meeting had been finalised, people with knowledge of the matter told FE.

He also argued that the reappointment was not on the agenda for the meeting and was taken up out of turn. According to him, the item was listed only as a debrief from the nomination and remuneration committee, and the resolution was passed under that item.

Tata Trusts and Tata Sons did not respond to queries by press time.

Tata reiterated that the reappointment required an affirmative vote from the Trust nominee directors, which the resolution did not get. At the meeting, four directors — Venu Srinivasan (also a Trust nominee), Anita George, Harish Manwani and Saurabh Agrawal — voted in favour of Chandrasekaran's reappointment, while Tata voted against. Tata Sons' Articles of Association require an affirmative vote from the nominee directors for such a resolution to pass.

At the time, the Tata Sons board relied on a legal opinion from senior advocate Sudipto Sarkar, which held that if the nominee directors' votes are split, the casting vote of the presiding chairman — in this case, Manwani — decides the matter.

Honda shelves India EV plant

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, October 26

PLAN ABORTED

- The factory was to have an initial annual production capacity of 600,000 units
- The move also comes as rivals expand their manufacturing capabilities

- The company now plans to meet demand through its existing facilities

HONDA MOTORCYCLE & Scooter India (HMSI), the country's second-largest two-wheeler maker, has scrapped plans to invest ₹600 crore in a dedicated electric two-wheeler factory in Karnataka, leaving questions over how it will achieve its target of manufacturing one million electric vehicles annually in India by 2030.

The company now plans to meet demand through its existing manufacturing facilities, according to sources aware of the development, although it is unclear whether these plants can support the planned production volumes if demand scales up.

"The proposed dedicated factory has been scrapped, and Honda now plans to meet EV demand through its existing manufacturing facilities," a source with direct knowledge of the development said.

The source, however, acknowledged that the existing plants would not have sufficient capacity to support an additional one million units of annual EV production if demand were to increase substantially. Queries sent to HMSI remained unanswered till the time of going to the press.

Honda had planned to establish the dedicated facility, known as Factory E, at its Narsapura plant in Karnataka. Scheduled to become operational in 2028, the factory was to have an initial annual production capacity of 600,000 units.

Dec premium for Russian Urals crashes

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, October 26

PREMIUMS FOR RUSSIAN crude have narrowed sharply to about $1-2 a barrel for December cargoes from $12-13 a barrel under October contracts, a Bharat Petroleum official said on Monday, signaling that Urals crude is being priced cheaper following the easing of US sanctions. Yet, this may not immediately arrest the decline in Russia's share of India's crude oil imports, as elevated freight costs continue to make West Asian supplies more economical for Indian refiners.

BPCL is reducing Russian sourcing in November and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation (HPCL) is also increasingly opting for delivered cargoes to manage shipping expenses. The shift comes as freight for Russian crude shipments to India has climbed to nearly $30 per barrel on some routes, considerably higher than the cost of transporting oil from the West Asia.

With the Iran conflict pushing up shipping charges, refiners are increasingly looking at the final cost of crude reaching their plants rather than discounts or premiums offered by suppliers.

GOVERNMENT AMENDS CENTRAL MOTOR VEHICLES RULES, 1989

Centre clears regulatory path for E100 fuel vehicles

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, October 26

THE GOVERNMENT HAS amended the Central Motor Vehicles Rules, 1989, to formally recognise E100 fuel for flex-fuel vehicles, paving the way for automakers to introduce vehicles capable of running on petrol-ethanol blends containing up to 100% ethanol.

The Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH), through a notification dated October 23, has incorporated E100 alongside E85 in provisions governing vehicle emission standards and testing requirements. The amended rules specify that the fuels can be used only in flex-fuel vehicles designed by original equipment manufacturers (OEMs).

The notification follows a draft amendment issued in April, with the ministry saying it had considered objections and suggestions received from the public before finalising the rules. The changes came into force upon publication in the Official Gazette.

The move is part of the government's broader push to increase ethanol use in the transport sector and reduce dependence on imported crude oil. It also establishes a formal regulatory framework for vehicles designed to operate on higher ethanol blends.

E100 refers to fuel comprising almost entirely ethanol, while E85 contains 85% ethanol. Flex-fuel vehicles are engineered to run on varying proportions of ethanol and petrol, subject to their technical specifications and certification.

The amendment does not allow conventional petrol vehicles or those designed exclusively for E20 fuel, which contains 20% ethanol, to switch to E100. Only vehicles specifically engineered and certified for higher ethanol blends will be permitted to use the fuel.

The distinction is important as the government has expanded ethanol blending in petrol, with E20 forming part of the country's efforts to curb oil imports. Moving to E100 will require compatible engine technology and fuel systems, along with the necessary vehicle certification.

Maruti Suzuki India unveiled a flex-fuel version of its Wagon R in June, designed to operate on ethanol-petrol blends ranging from E20 to E100. The company said the vehicle had been homologated for E85 under the regulatory framework in force at the time. The latest amendment brings E100 within the relevant motor vehicle rules.

However, regulatory recognition alone is unlikely to trigger an immediate shift towards E100.

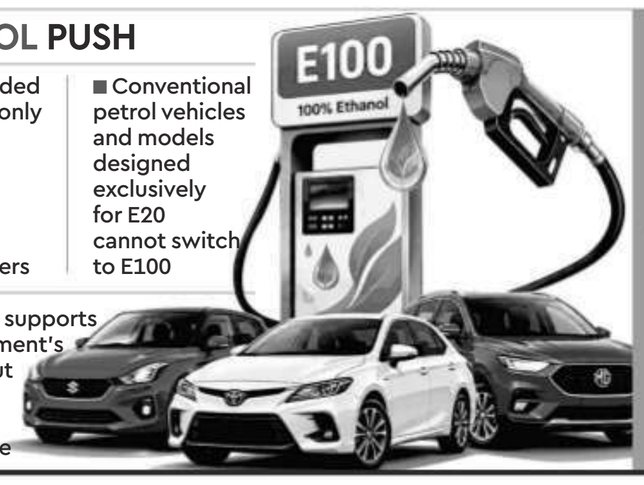
Adoption will depend on automakers introducing compatible models, alongside the development of an adequate fuel supply and distribution network.

The government has previously outlined plans to expand E85 availability through dedicated fuel retail outlets.

In June, the petroleum ministry said the proposed roadmap included an initial rollout of 50-100 flex-fuel-ready outlets across the Delhi-NCR and Mumbai-Pune-Nagpur corridors, followed by a wider expansion.

ETHANOL PUSH

- The amended rules apply only to flex-fuel vehicles certified by original equipment manufacturers
- Conventional petrol vehicles and models designed exclusively for E20 cannot switch to E100
- The move supports the government's efforts to cut crude oil import dependence



- Maruti Suzuki unveiled an E20-to-E100 flex-fuel version of its Wagon R in June
- Wider E100 adoption will depend on automaker launches, and fuel distribution infrastructure

FM asks institutions to tap ₹1 lakh cr fund for research

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 26

FINANCE MINISTER NIRMALA Sitharaman on Monday urged educational institutions to leverage the Centre's ₹1 lakh crore Research, Development and Innovation (RDI) scheme to strengthen industry-linked research, foster innovation and expand employment opportunities, particularly for women.

Addressing the Platinum Jubilee celebrations of Seethalakshmi Ramaswami College (SRC) in Tiruchirappalli, Sitharaman called on the institution to become an anchor for mobilising government funding and building partnerships with industry, research organisations and neighbouring educational institutions.

She said SRC should tap national initiatives, including the RDI scheme, to deepen its research capabilities and translate academic work into practical applications for industry and farmers. The ₹1 lakh crore RDI fund offers an opportunity to bridge the research-to-commercialisation gap by supporting private-sector participation in research and development, developing new technologies, and accelerating innovation. Educational institutions can play a catalytic role by collaborating with companies, helping develop prototypes, facilitating technology transfer and nurturing start-ups emerging from campus research.

The RDI Fund, launched in November 2025, is a six-year initiative providing long-term, low-interest soft loans to scale private-sector deep-tech, AI, space, and strategic research projects. She identified potential collaboration opportunities with institutions and industries in the region. Sitharaman said SRC should emerge as a centre of original research and global academic collaboration.

Separately, speaking to reporters, the minister said the Centre is committed to reducing the fiscal deficit, as evidenced by the annual budgets, stressing that the national debt will be limited to 50% of the GDP by 2030.

BRICS parliaments must advance people-centric development: Birla

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 26

LOK SABHA SPEAKER Om Birla on Monday called on the parliaments of BRICS member and partner countries to work together to advance people-centric development, promote global peace and strengthen international cooperation, saying the grouping must translate shared aspirations into tangible outcomes.

Inaugurating the 12th BRICS Parliamentary Forum 2026 at Samvidhan Sadan in New Delhi, Birla said parliamentary engagement could help countries address common challenges, build mutual trust and improve the lives of their citizens.

"The true strength of BRICS lies in its ability to transform diversity into a source of strength, shared purpose and collective progress," Birla said.

Against the backdrop of regional conflicts, wars, economic uncertainty, trade tensions, terrorism and climate change, Birla stressed the importance of dialogue and diplomacy. He said parliaments, as representatives of the people's will, could help ease tensions, build confidence and create opportunities for constructive international engagement.

He also underlined BRICS' responsibility to amplify the voice of the Global South and ensure that the concerns of developing countries receive greater attention in global decision-making. Such efforts, he said, must go beyond statements and discussions to produce policies and initiatives that deliver practical benefits.

The two-day forum, themed 'Strengthening Parliaments for People-Centric Development', will focus on four interconnected pillars: resilience, innovation, cooperation and sustainability.

Birla said these were central to strengthening democratic institutions and promoting inclusive development.

On sustainability, Birla said economic and social progress must go hand in hand with environmental protection. Development policies, he added, should preserve ecological balance and safeguard the interests of future generations.

India-US trade deal enters fine-tuning stage, says Goyal...

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, October 26

INDIA AND THE US have concluded most of the discussions on their bilateral trade agreement and are fine-tuning the pact, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said on Tuesday, while pitching India as an investment destination for Dutch businesses in infrastructure, clean energy, semiconductors and data centres.

"We have concluded most of the discussions and are fine-tuning the agreement," Goyal said at the India-Netherlands Business Forum in Amsterdam, reiterating that negotiations on the first phase of the India-US bilateral trade agreement (BTA) are nearing completion.

The two countries had announced the finalisation of a framework for the first phase in February. Subsequent changes in the US tariff landscape, however, necessitated further negotiations.

Addressing Dutch businesses, Goyal said India's expanding network of free trade agreements (FTAs) was opening up access to a larger share of the global economy. India has concluded nine FTAs or bilateral trade agreements over the past four-and-a-half years, while negotiations for eight more are underway, he said.

"India would be opening its doors to $85 trillion out of $115 trillion of global GDP," Goyal said, pitching the country as a manufacturing and investment destination for Dutch companies seeking scale, skilled talent and reliable supply chains. He urged companies to look beyond traditional trade and pursue partnerships in manufacturing, technology and infrastructure. "Co-create, co-manufacture and co-invest between Netherlands and India," he said, describing the two economies as complementary rather than competing.

COMMERCE MINISTER PIYUSH Goyal on Monday flagged concerns over Europe's increasing regulatory burden on businesses, while Dutch Trade Minister Sjoerd Sjoerdsma said the European Union's Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM) was a necessary measure.

US FDA audit risks Indian drugmakers' growth: Ind-Ra

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, October 26

ABOUT 17% OF inspections of Indian drug factories by the US Food and Drug Administration (USFDA) found problems serious enough to require regulatory action, said India Ratings in a Monday report. Depending on the nature and severity of the findings, these could delay drug approvals or lead to restrictions on sales of medicines manufactured at the affected facilities.

The classification, known as Official Action Indicated (OAI), is assigned when inspectors identify deficiencies that warrant further review by the US regulator. However, the ratings agency said drug companies could reduce the impact of these risks by selling more types of medicines and expanding into different markets. This would help them avoid depending too heavily on a single product or country.

"The US remains strategically important for Indian pharma companies despite geopolitical uncertainty, and generic competition," the report said. Companies' performance would depend on product complexity, new product launches and opportunities to sell medicines with limited competition. The OAI rate at Indian drug facilities has fluctuated over the years, falling from around 23% in 2014 to 11% in 2024 before rising to 17% now.

Gujarat declares four districts drought-hit

FE BUREAU
Ahmedabad, October 26

THE GUJARAT GOVERNMENT on Monday declared four districts—Kutch, Devbhumi Dwarka, Jamnagar and Porbandar—drought-affected and announced a relief package for farmers and cattle rearers amid concerns over water availability for the rabi season.

Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel said the state had received around 89% of its average rainfall, but the distribution had been uneven. Devbhumi Dwarka was the worst-affected district, with a rainfall deficit of around 73%.

The move comes as the state government steps up efforts to safeguard the rabi crop, with several water-intensive industries also beginning to face shortages.

Under the relief package, eligible farmers in the five districts will receive compensation of ₹8,500 per hectare, subject to a maximum of two hectares. In rural areas, people will be entitled to 150 days of work under the employment guarantee scheme.

The government will also provide assistance of ₹80 per cattle per day at designated cattle camps. The drought notification and relief measures will take effect from November 1. Patel is scheduled to meet the chief ministers of Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra and Rajasthan in New Delhi this week to discuss the water scarcity issue.

Crude at 2012 levels, weak ₹ lifts OMC costs by 86%

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, October 26

INDIA'S CRUDE OIL basket has surged to a nearly 15-year high, returning to levels last seen in March 2012. But while international prices are almost identical, a sharply weaker rupee has made crude nearly 86% costlier for Indian oil marketing companies (OMCs), squeezing their earnings despite significantly higher petrol and diesel prices. With diesel marketing losses estimated at ₹24 per litre during the September quarter, state-owned fuel retailers are facing mounting pressure on profitability.

The problem is not just expensive crude. India pays for most of its oil imports in dollars, and the rupee's sharp depreciation has substantially increased the domestic cost of purchases.

The Indian crude basket stood at $123.29 per barrel on October 23, compared with $123.95 on March 27, 2012.

However, the rupee has weakened from ₹50.91 per dollar to a recent ₹95.1549, pushing the equivalent crude cost from around ₹6,310 to ₹11,732 per barrel. The pressure is reflected in marketing margins. According to Elara Capital, OMCs incurred an estimated diesel marketing loss of ₹24 per litre during July-September, compared with a profit of ₹5 a year earlier. Petrol margins turned negative at ₹2 per litre, against a profit of ₹9 previously.

Separately, Icra estimated diesel under-recoveries at around ₹20 per litre in October, compared with ₹9 in late September.

In Delhi, petrol currently costs ₹102.12 per litre, against ₹65.64 in March 2012, while diesel has risen from ₹40.91 to ₹95.20. OMCs raised fuel prices by around ₹7.50 per litre in May, but rates have remained unchanged since then.

At the prevailing exchange rate, every $1-per-barrel increase in crude adds roughly 60 paise per litre to raw-material costs. Similarly, every ₹1 depreciation against the dollar increases costs by around 78 paise per litre at current crude prices. These are procurement-cost increases, not direct marketing losses.

The burden is also evident in India's import bill. According to Petroleum Planning and Analysis Cell (PPAC) data, crude imports cost $90.6 billion during April-September FY27, nearly $29 billion more than a year earlier, although volumes increased less than 1% to 122.7 million tonne. The net oil and gas import bill rose 35% to $81.1 billion.

To ease currency-market pressure, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) opened a special dollar window from October 12 for Indian Oil Corporation, Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation (HPCL). The arrangement allows the companies to meet their dollar requirements through designated banks, reducing demand in the spot market.

The strain is visible in quarterly earnings, although the results predate October's crude surge. BPCL's consolidated net profit declined 21.5% to ₹4,863 crore during July-September, despite gross refining margins of $32.53 per barrel before special additional excise duty.

HPCL's consolidated profit fell 6% to ₹3,625 crore, even as refining margins rose to $32.15 per barrel from $8.80 a year earlier. Its consolidated loss for April-September stood at ₹8,639 crore, against a profit of ₹7,970 crore a year earlier.

The Centre has already reduced special additional excise duty on petrol and diesel by ₹10 per litre to provide relief.

However, excise collections declined nearly 23% to ₹86,687 crore during April-August. With crude prices elevated amid the West Asia conflict, stronger refining earnings are providing some relief, but persistent marketing losses and currency pressure continue to weigh on OMC profitability.

TO BUILD 10,000-KM LONG-HAUL FIBRE NETWORK OVER 3-5 YEARS

Tata Comm to invest over ₹4,000 cr in infra for AI hubs

URVI MALVANIA
Mumbai, October 26

TATA COMMUNICATIONS PLANS to invest $400-450 million (up to around ₹4,300 crore) to build a nearly10,000-km long-haul fibre network connecting key artificial intelligence (AI) and data centre hubs in India, betting on rising demand for high-capacity, low-latency connectivity from hyperscalers, cloud providers and enterprises.

The investment will be funded through operating cash flows and deployed in phases over three to five years. The company expects to start generating revenue from some routes in FY28 and FY29 as capacity comes online.

"The bigger strategic point for us is that this is owner economics, durable revenue, and long term," Rupesh Chokshi, executive vice-president and global business head – network services at Tata Communications, said. He added that the assets would have a lifespan of up to 25 years.

The company estimates that India's data centre-to-data centre connectivity market could exceed $1 billion over the medium term.

"With our planned investments, we are building on our existing strengths to create one of the most comprehensive data centre connectivity platforms in the market, positioning us to capture this significant growth opportunity," Ganesh Lakshminarayanan, managing director and CEO, Tata Communications, said.

The first phase will focus on the Mumbai-Pune-Hyderabad-Chennai corridor, followed by expansion into emerging data centre hubs, including Visakhapatnam, Bhubaneswar, Jamnagar and GIFT City. The network will connect these clusters to international cable landing stations and integrate them with the company's global backbone.

While physical construction has not yet begun, Chokshi said engineering and route planning are underway.

CONNECTIVITY PROJECT

- The 10,000-km long-haul fibre network will connect India's AI and data-centre hubs
- The network will target hyperscalers, neocloud providers, AI platforms, global capability centres and enterprises
- The first phase will connect Mumbai, Pune, Hyderabad and Chennai, with expansion planned to emerging data centre hubs, such as Jamnagar, Visakhapatnam, Bhubaneswar, and GIFT City

GANESH LAKSHMINARAYANAN, MD & CEO, TATA COMMUNICATIONS

Instamart's inventory shift may do little to pare losses

ANEES HUSSAIN
Bengaluru, October 26

SWIGGY'S INSTAMART WILL begin owning the inventory it sells from the December quarter, following rival Blinkit's shift to an inventory-led model, as quick commerce platforms seek greater control over pricing, product assortment and supply chains to improve profitability. However, the expected margin gains may be insufficient to bridge the gap to breakeven.

The transition, which will take two to three quarters, could improve Instamart's contribution margin by about 80 basis points (bps), the company has said. The shift follows changes in Swiggy's shareholding structure, with domestic ownership crossing 58% after shareholders approved a cap of 49.5% on foreign ownership in August. This allows the platform to move to an inventory-led model under foreign investment rules, which restrict foreign-owned e-commerce companies to the marketplace model.

Blinkit began its transition in the June quarter of 2025 and now sources 90-95% of its order value through owned inventory, a level parent Eternal describes as steady state. The platform reported adjusted Ebitda of ₹184 crore in the September quarter, against a loss of ₹156 crore a year earlier. Eternal has attributed the improvement to inventory ownership, supply-chain efficiencies and a better product mix, alongside operating leverage from scale.

For Instamart, inventory ownership could also improve margins through private labels, which typically earn higher returns than third-party brands. Its No!ce brand, which has more than 380 contract-manufactured products, features in one in eight baskets, compared with one in 10 in August. Its Supreme Harvest brand accounts for 22-25% of staples sold. Private labels can earn margins of 15-25% in staples and 35-45% in fresh produce, giving Instamart greater scope to retain full trading margin on these products.

However, the model brings additional working capital requirements and the risk of unsold, damaged or perishable stock. Blinkit reported inventory losses equivalent to 1.8% of net order value in the June quarter, with fruits and vegetables contributing the largest share. Eternal's inventory nearly doubled to ₹4,262 crore in September from ₹2,181 crore in March, while cash fell by ₹1,813 crore during the September quarter, partly due to festive stocking.

The shift will boost Instamart's reported revenue as inventory-led businesses record the full value of goods sold, unlike marketplaces, which recognise only commissions. Analysts estimate Instamart's September-quarter revenue of ₹1,310 crore could rise four to five times without any corresponding increase in orders.

The immediate challenge, however, is profitability. Brokerages estimate the expected 80-bps margin improvement could add just ₹4-5 per order, against around ₹30 per order Swiggy needs to break even. While ICICI Securities expects margin gains in the second half, Motilal Oswal said Swiggy's guidance for improvement in the December quarter doesn't include material benefit from the transition.

ROAD TO BREAKEVEN

- Instamart's shift to inventory ownership is expected to lift contribution margins by 80 basis points, but add only ₹4-5 per order against the roughly ₹30 needed to break even
- The transition, expected to take two to three quarters, follows rival Blinkit's inventory-led model
- Private labels offer higher margins, with No!ce featuring in one in eight baskets and Supreme Harvest accounting for 22-25% of staples sold
- Inventory ownership raises working capital needs and exposure to damaged, unsold and perishable stock
- Instamart's revenue could rise four to five times from ₹1,310 cr reported in Q2

Brokerages expect margin improvement in the second half of FY27, but the shift alone is unlikely to close the gap to breakeven

Tata Consumer net rises 16% to ₹470 cr

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, October 26

TATA CONSUMER PRODUCTS on Monday reported a 16% year-on-year increase in consolidated net profit to ₹469 crore for the September quarter of FY27, in line with Street estimates. Revenue from operations rose 14% to ₹5,661 crore, exceeding Bloomberg estimate of ₹5,583 crore.

The company's consolidated earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) rose 16.6% year-on-year to ₹783 crore during the quarter. Ebitda margin stood at 13.8% in Q2, compared with 13.5% a year ago, in line with estimates.

Tata Consumer Products' India branded business recorded underlying volume growth of 11% during the quarter. Its growth businesses, comprising ready-to-drink (RTD) beverages, Tata Sampann, Capital Foods and Organic India, grew 40% and accounted for 38% of the India business.

Salt revenue increased 15%, supported by volume growth. Tata Sampann recorded 57% revenue growth, driven by higher volumes across its core pulses and spices categories, as well as newer categories such as cold-pressed oils and dry fruits.

Hyundai eyes 250,000 annual sales from new Bayon, Creta

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, October 26

BETTING ON THE Creta and newly launched Bayon, Hyundai Motor India aims to sell at least 250,000 units annually in the mid-size SUV segment by calendar year 2027, as it seeks to strengthen its position in an increasingly competitive market.

"We are looking at a volume of over 250,000 per annum in CY27. And, 250,000 units is not a limit; it is a baseline. We will continue to grow," Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Tarun Garg said.

Launched at an introductory price of ₹999,000 (ex-showroom), the Bayon is Hyundai's second offering in the segment and its first new nameplate in the category since the Creta debuted in 2015. Positioned between the Venue and Creta, the new model is intended to widen Hyundai's customer base and reduce its dependence on a single product in the segment.

The mid-size utility vehicle segment, comprising SUVs and MPVs measuring 4.0-4.4 metres in length, sold 919,189 units in FY26, according to the Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (Siam). Hyundai sold 201,921 Creta units during the year, with the model accounting for nearly 35% of the company's domestic sales. The company is targeting sales of 170,000 Creta units this year.

Hyundai believes the segment has sufficient headroom to accommodate both models. Industry projections suggest average monthly volumes in the mid-SUV segment will rise 64% to 118,000 units by 2032 from 72,000 in 2026.

However, Bayon's launch comes as the Creta faces intesifying competition. Creta sales have declined 9.7% year-on-year to 89,727 units in the first six months of FY27, even as segment volumes grew more than 50%.

Garg attributed the decline partly to supply constraints, particularly for diesel variants, which have waiting periods of more than a month.

The Bayon will initially be available with a petrol engine, with a CNG variant planned for early next year.

'We are expanding routes, preparing for overseas flights'

Noida International Airport (NIA) is looking to expand its airline network and build cargo operations as it seeks to establish itself as a second aviation hub for the National Capital Region (NCR). NIA CEO Nitu Samra, in an interview with Akbar Merchant, discusses passenger demand, connectivity, airport charges and plans to develop cargo and aircraft maintenance businesses. Excerpts:

Passenger volumes remain below initial expectations. When do you expect utilisation to become sustainable?

We started operations in June with five destinations and are now connected to 16, with an average of 35 daily flights. Ground connectivity and passenger experience remain key priorities as we build the network and encourage traffic growth.

How will the winter schedule expand connectivity, and how are you attracting more airlines?

IndiGo and Akasa Air currently operate an average of 35 daily flights to 16 domestic destinations. We anticipate additional destinations in the winter schedule as airline partners progressively build the network envisaged for Phase 1. Fleet deployment and route selection are commercial decisions for airlines, which will announce routes once operational planning is complete.

Is there a case for reviewing the ₹490 user development fee to make the airport more competitive?

Our tariffs are competitive compared with those of other greenfield airports. The tariff model spreads cost recovery over a longer period to keep costs sustainable. Efficient infrastructure and faster passenger processing also help airlines lower operating costs, ultimately benefiting passengers.

How are you addressing connectivity challenges in the absence of direct metro or rail links?

We have established a ground transport network across the NCR and neighbouring states, including round-the-clock electric taxis, ride-hailing services and chauffeur-driven rentals. UPSRTC and Haryana Roadways connect the airport to regional destinations, while DTC electric buses serve Delhi transit hubs. Electric buses connect the terminal to Noida's Morna bus depot, and a redBus partnership offers bookable, live-tracked intercity coaches.

When will international services begin, and which markets are you targeting?

International cargo operations are planned to begin in the coming weeks, followed by passenger services in subsequent months. We are in discussions with airlines across West Asia, Southeast Asia and other markets. Timelines and routes will depend on regulatory approvals, market conditions and airline network plans.

How will Noida International Airport complement Delhi's Indira Gandhi International Airport (IGI), rather than compete with it?

NIA is intended to complement existing NCR airport infrastructure by adding regional capacity, improving connectivity and expanding passenger choice. We are working with airlines, mobility providers and public transport authorities to improve accessibility and provide a seamless, digitally enabled passenger experience.

Ather swings to profit in Q2 vs loss a year ago

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, October 26

THE SURGE IN commodity prices and a chip shortage that has pushed up memory costs are proving more severe than anticipated, Ather Energy Co-founder and Chief Executive Tarun Mehta said on Monday, even as the electric two-wheeler maker swung to a net profit in the September quarter.

"Commodities have been worse than we estimated a quarter ago," Mehta said during the company's second-quarter earnings call.

Ather Energy reported a net profit of ₹1.26 crore in Q2FY27, against a net loss of ₹154 crore in the year-ago quarter. Revenue from operations rose 63% year-on-year to ₹1,464 crore, driven by a 42% jump in vehicle sales to 93,000 units.

Raw material costs surged 60% to ₹1,176.57 crore during the quarter. Aluminium and copper prices have risen, plastic costs have remained elevated, and memory prices have continued to climb amid supply constraints.

Despite the elevated commodity costs, the company reported an earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) of ₹74.2 crore. Mehta attributed the improvement in profitability to price increases and a shift towards higher-range models. "Our weighted average Ex-Showroom price across the country was roughly ₹150,000 in FY26, including Atherstack Pro. That number for Q2FY27 came at ₹164,000," he said.

Demand remained strong, with customer enquiries rising 109% year-on-year to about one million and pre-orders more than doubling to 180,000 during the quarter.

SEEKS PARITY WITH CABLE AND DTH OPERATORS

Trai moves to bring free streaming TV under regulation

OJASVI GUPTA
New Delhi, October 26

IN WHAT CAN be viewed as bad news for free ad-supported streaming television (FAST) and other app-based linear TV services, the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) has proposed bringing them under a formal authorisation framework, with a one-time entry fee of ₹1 lakh and a processing fee of ₹10,000.

The move seeks to address the regulatory imbalance between internet-based platforms that distribute scheduled television channels and conventional cable and direct-to-home (DTH) operators, which operate under a licensing regime. However, Trai has recommended no recurring authorisation fee, bank guarantee or security deposit, keeping the proposed framework relatively light-touch.

The recommendations introduce a new category, Application-based Linear Television Distribution (ALTD) Services, under the Telecommunications Act, 2023.

Platforms such as Samsung TV Plus and LG Channels offer scheduled channels over the Internet, often free to viewers because their services are funded by advertising. While cable and DTH operators face regulatory and compliance requirements, app-based platforms have so far operated without a dedicated authorisation framework. Unlike Netflix and other on-demand OTT platforms, which let viewers choose what to watch and when, the proposed framework covers services that aggregate and distribute scheduled linear television channels over the Internet; broadcaster-owned platforms carrying only their own channels are also excluded.

The government's concern is that services distributing similar television content should not face substantially different regulatory obligations simply because they use different delivery networks.

Whether the proposed fees and compliance requirements will eventually translate into a cost for consumers remains to be seen.

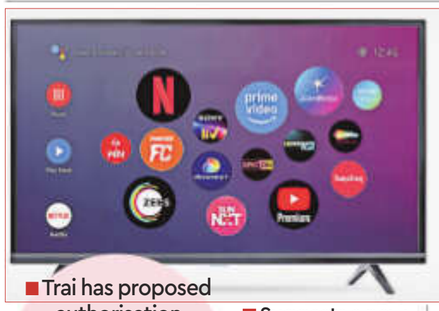
The ₹1-lakh entry fee is a one-time payment, while the ₹10,000 processing fee is relatively small.

The absence of a recurring authorisation fee and bank guarantee also limits the direct financial burden. Since these services are primarily advertising-funded, operators could absorb the costs as part of their business expenses.

Any decision to pass them on to consumers would depend on their business models, competitive pressures and whether they introduce paid offerings.

Trai's recommendations do not propose a consumer subscription fee, and there is no indication that viewers would necessarily have to pay for services that are currently free.

LEVEL-PLAYING FIELD



- Trai has proposed authorisation fee of ₹1 lakh and processing fee of ₹10,000
- Suggests a new category called Application-based Linear Television Distribution
- 20-year validity mooted for nationwide authorisation, renewable for successive 10-year periods
- Only authorised apps would be permitted on TV manufacturers' platform, operating systems

Tata Realty buys 11 acres in Pune from SPV for ₹450 cr

RAGHAVENDRA KAMATH
Mumbai, October 26

TATA REALTY & Infrastructure (TRIL) has acquired an 11-acre land parcel in Balewadi, Pune, from its special purpose vehicle (SPV), Pune Metro, for around ₹450 crore, sources in the know said.

Tata Realty holds a 74% stake in Pune Metro. The land parcel has the potential for development of 4 million square feet (sq ft).

When contacted, a company spokesperson confirmed that the transaction had been concluded, but declined to disclose its financial value.

The spokesperson said Tata Realty is developing Intellion Edge, a 4-million-sq-ft mixed-use commercial destination on an 11.74-acre site in Balewadi, adjacent to the RK Laxman Museum Metro Station.

"Our investment is based on where Pune is headed over the next decade, as companies expand their operations, deepen their presence in India and look for workplaces that can support their next phase of growth," the spokesperson said.

Pune's office market recorded 8 million sq ft of office leasing in the first nine months of 2026, with leasing by global capability centres (GCCs) nearly doubling during the period.

Redesign bringing entry-level buyers back: BlueStone

ANEES HUSSAIN
Bengaluru, October 26

BLUESTONE'S STANDALONE REVENUE rose 43.9% year-on-year to ₹738 crore in the September quarter as its redesigned entry-level jewellery, built to use less gold, is winning back customers lost to gold price increases, founder and CEO Gaurav Singh Kushwaha said.

Repeat customers accounted for 56.3% of revenue, down from 59.7% in the June quarter, which means new customers brought in 43.7% of sales, up from 40.3%.

The redesigned range now takes up more shelf space in stores, the company said. BlueStone has launched 1,000-2,000 designs under the redesign over the past year, testing them before scaling them up, Kushwaha added. Its overall catalogue runs to more than 10,500 designs.

The redesign concept rebuilds entry-level jewellery to look as rich in gold while using less of it. The principle is to make pieces thinner, use gold's tensile strength, bring in alloys that add strength and move to lower caratage, creating a similar look with 20-30% less gold.

Order values, have dipped in line. Average order value slipped 1% from the June quarter to ₹77,290 but remained 29% higher than ₹59,907 a year earlier. Kushwaha attributed the sequential dip to buyers returning at lower price points.

Across the trade, buyers are moving to lighter pieces this festive season, industry reports have suggested. Customers reportedly increasingly preferred lower carat options at 9-carat, and 14-carat during this Dussehra with gold at about ₹1.48 lakh per 10 grams.

RUPEE FALLS AS IMPORTER DEMAND, OIL PRICES WEIGH

THE RUPEE WEAKENED for a third straight session on Monday, pressured by increased dollar demand from importers. It slipped 25 paise to 95.19 against the dollar, Bloomberg data showed. "Importer demand and foreign outflows linked to the Jio Platforms IPO weighed on the rupee," said Anil Kumar Bhansali, head of treasury, Finrex Treasury Advisors LLP. "I expect the rupee to trade in the 94.5–96 range over the next couple of months. If the conflict persists, higher inflation could prompt the RBI to raise rates by 50 bps... If tensions ease and crude falls below $100, the rupee could break the support of 94.20 and move towards 93.00 levels," said Amit Pabari, MD, CR Forex Advisors.

Profits rise; but pvt banks face margin pressure in Q2

KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, October 26

PRIVATE SECTOR BANKS reported healthy profit growth in the September quarter, driven by higher net interest income (NII), robust credit expansion and improving asset quality. However, net interest margins (NIMs) remained under pressure at several lenders, while a surge in foreign currency non-resident (FCNR-B) deposits boosted headline deposit growth but weighed on current account savings account (CASA) ratios.

An analysis of nine private sector banks that have announced their Q2FY27 results shows that corporate and business banking loans grew faster than retail advances at several lenders, signalling a shift in the composition of credit growth.

Among large private banks, Axis Bank reported a 38% year-on-year rise in net profit to ₹7,003 crore, while Kotak Mahindra Bank's profit grew 29% to ₹4,212 crore. ICICI Bank posted a 20.1% increase to ₹14,843 crore. HDFC Bank, the country's largest private lender, recorded a relatively modest 4.7% rise in net profit to ₹19,510 crore, despite a 9.7% increase in NII.

Mid-sized lenders reported sharper profit growth. IDFC FIRST Bank's net profit nearly tripled to ₹1,045 crore, aided by higher NII and lower provisions. YES Bank's profit surged 65% to ₹1,080 crore, while Federal Bank posted a 45% increase to ₹1,386 crore. IndusInd Bank returned to profitability with a net profit of ₹1,242 crore, against a loss in the year-ago quarter.

Despite the improvement in profitability, margins remained a concern. Kotak Mahindra Bank's NIM contracted 23 basis points year-on-year, while HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank reported sequential declines.

Axis Bank's NIM stood at 3.36%, compared with 3.47% excluding the impact of FCNR(B) mobilisation. IndusInd Bank reported a sharper 34-basis-point sequential contraction, largely due to foreign currency deposit mobilisation.

Federal Bank bucked the trend, reporting a 26-basis-point year-on-year expansion in NIM to 3.32%. IDBI Bank's reported NIM improved 40 basis points to 4.11%, although its core margin rose by just 8 basis points.

On the lending front, corporate, small and medium enterprise (SME) and business banking advances emerged as key growth drivers.

ICICI Bank's business banking portfolio expanded 33.8% year-on-year, while domestic corporate loans grew 30.6%, significantly outpacing the 14.8% growth in its retail and rural portfolio. The trend was similar at Axis Bank, where corporate advances rose 34% and SME loans grew 25%, against 16% growth in retail loans. HDFC Bank's small and mid-market portfolio expanded 23.5%, led by a 28.1% increase in business banking advances, while retail loans grew 11.7%.

YES Bank's corporate and institutional banking advances rose 31.4%, compared with 8.7% growth in retail loans.

IndusInd Bank presented a mixed picture. Consumer banking loans grew 38%, partly reflecting FCNR(B)-related advances, while vehicle finance expanded just 5% and rural banking loans contracted 6%.

Meanwhile, FCNR(B) mobilisation provided a significant boost to deposit growth at several lenders, masking a relatively slower expansion in their underlying deposit base.

ICICI Bank reported 27.1% year-on-year deposit growth, which moderated to 17% after excluding FCNR(B) deposits. Similarly, Axis Bank's reported deposit growth of 21% fell to 17% after adjusting for the specified FCNR(B) impact.

The influx of foreign currency deposits also coincided with a decline in CASA ratios at several banks, highlighting the challenge of mobilising low-cost deposits.

Kotak Mahindra Bank's CASA ratio fell to 38.2% from 42.3% a year earlier, while YES Bank's declined to 30% from 33.7%. Axis Bank's ratio dropped to 36% from 40%. Federal Bank was an exception, reporting an improvement in its CASA ratio to 32.04%.

Asset quality remained broadly stable, with most lenders reporting an improvement in stressed assets.

HDFC Bank's gross non-performing asset (GNPA) ratio stood at 1.11%, while Axis Bank reported 1.16%. ICICI Bank's net NPA ratio improved to 0.30% from 0.35% sequentially, while Kotak Mahindra Bank's declined to 0.24% from 0.32% a year earlier. IndusInd remained an outlier, with a relatively elevated GNPA ratio of 2.73%.

Overall, the results indicate that private lenders have maintained credit momentum and profitability, although sustaining margins and improving the mix of deposits will remain key challenges.

Indices snap 4-day losing streak on value buying

KISHOR KADAM
Mumbai, October 26

THE BENCHMARK EQUITY indices rebounded by about 0.7% on Monday, snapping a four-day losing streak, as value buying emerged at lower levels following recent corrections.

Despite opening lower, the Sensex recovered to gain 482.92 points, or 0.66%, to close at 73,606.75, offering relief to investors. The Nifty rose 153.20 points, or 0.68%, to settle at 22,753.20. Over the previous four sessions, the Sensex and Nifty had declined 2.15% and 2.36%, respectively.

"Markets staged a recovery on Monday after a weak start, with the benchmark indices rebounding from their intraday lows as buying emerged at lower levels. However, the recovery remains tentative, with elevated crude oil prices, geopolitical uncertainty and concerns over the global interest-rate outlook continuing to weigh on sentiment," said Ajit Mishra, SVP – research, Religare Broking.

"Equities recovered from early losses, supported by value buying and strength in metals, power and healthcare. However, elevated crude prices, geopolitical uncertainty and caution ahead of the Fed, ECB and BoJ policy decisions kept sentiment measured," said Vinod Nair, head of research, Geojit Investments.

Mid- and small-cap stocks also recovered after last week's sharp corrections, although investors remained selective, favouring companies with earnings visibility and attractive valuations. Early quarterly results suggest a commodity-led earnings boost for power generation, metals and refining companies. However, high energy costs and interest rates are expected to moderate overall corporate earnings growth in the coming quarters, Nair added.

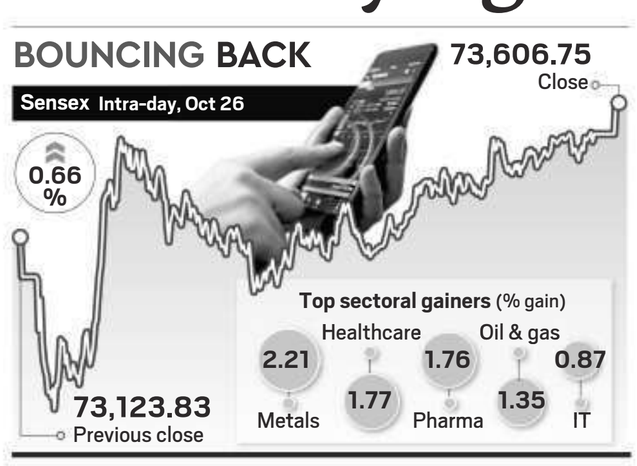
Market breadth was positive, with 2,419 stocks advancing against 2,001 declining on the BSE. The broader Nifty Midcap 100 and Nifty Smallcap 100 indices advanced 1.19% and 1.38%, respectively.

Investors' aggregate market wealth increased by ₹4.2 lakh crore to ₹456.02 lakh crore.

Foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) sold shares worth ₹1,462.49 crore, while domestic institutional investors (DIIs) bought shares worth ₹2,609.57 crore, according to provisional data released by the exchanges.

Barring consumer durables, all sectoral indices ended in positive territory. The metal index led the gains, rising 2.21%, followed by healthcare, pharmaceuticals, oil and gas, and IT.

Adani Ports, Eternal, Kotak Mahindra Bank, Trent and Tata Steel emerged as the top Sensex gainers, while Bajaj Finance, HDFC Bank, Maruti Suzuki, HCL Technologies and Power Grid were among major laggards.



IOB posts 56% jump in profit

NARAYANAN V
Chennai, October 26

INDIAN OVERSEAS BANK (IOB) on Monday reported a 56% year-on-year jump in its net profit to ₹1,912 crore for the second quarter of FY27, supported by strong growth in core interest income, lower operating expenses and a sharp decline in tax expenses.

Interest income rose 17% to ₹9,201 crore, while interest expenses grew at a slower pace of 9% to ₹7,411 crore. Consequently, net interest income (NII) increased 26% to ₹3,867 crore. Domestic net interest margin (NIM) improved by one basis point sequentially to 3.49% in Q2FY27. Tax expenses fell sharply to ₹154 crore from ₹501 crore in the year-ago quarter, further boosting profitability.

"Our internal aspiration and mandate are that the net profit should grow by minimum 25%-30% every year," Ajay Kumar Srivastava, MD and chief executive, said during the earnings press conference. Srivastava said the bank had maintained credit growth of over 20% over the last three years while keeping its share of low-cost current account and savings account (CASA) deposits at around 40%, which supports strong growth in NII. Credit growth outpaced deposit growth during the quarter.

● Front-loads ECL provisions of ₹500 crore

ABHIJIT LELE
Mumbai, October 26

BANK OF MAHARASHTRA on Monday reported a 41.42% year-on-year (YoY) rise in its net profit to ₹2,310 crore for the quarter ended September, aided by healthy growth in net interest income (NII). It had posted a net profit of ₹1,633 crore in the year-ago period.

NII expanded by 21.76% to ₹3,954 crore, compared with ₹2,574 crore in the year-ago period. The net interest margin stood at 3.93%, against 3.90% in Q2FY26.

Nidhu Saxena, MD and CEO, said the bank is maintaining guidance of 3.75% for domestic NIM for FY27. Margins are expected to be higher than the guidance in the third and fourth quarters, he said in the post-result virtual media call.

The stock closed 1.06% higher at ₹76.12 on the NSE.

Non-interest income rose 34% to ₹1,129 crore. Provisions for NPAs fell sharply to ₹121.11 crore from ₹583.01 crore in Q2FY26. The bank made an additional provision of ₹500 crore towards anticipated expected credit loss (ECL) impact during Q2.

● ANAND RADHAKRISHNAN, MD, SUNDARAM MUTUAL FUND

'High crude prices, rate hike largely priced in'

Large-cap valuations are attractive across several sectors, and a reversal in foreign investor selling could trigger their outperformance, says Anand Radhakrishnan, MD at Sundaram Mutual Fund. He tells Kushan Shah that consolidation in the mutual fund industry is inevitable. Excerpts:

How do you assess the impact of rising crude prices and geopolitical volatility on the markets and the economy?

The biggest global macro risks for India are rising crude prices and interest rate hikes. Hopefully, crude prices will ease over the next three to six months if there is some resolution to the West Asia conflict. I expect downward pressure on oil prices. Despite rate hikes by central banks, India's 10-year government bond yield remains close to its historical average, unlike in the US and Japan, where yields have seen significant dislocation. Therefore, I do not see higher interest rates materially slowing the Indian economy. However, if energy prices remain elevated, GDP growth could decline by 50 basis points. Markets are already aware of these risks and have factored them into corporate valuations to some extent.

Are large-cap valuations attractive at current levels?

Yes. Several large-cap sectors, including banking and financial services, IT, select pharmaceuticals, utilities, consumer goods, FMCG and, to some extent, automobiles, are trading at pre-Covid valuations. The exceptions are some large capital goods companies and select pharmaceutical stocks, which continue to command higher valuations. Although returns from these sectors have been disappointing over the past two years, valuations now look quite attractive.

"DISAPPOINTING RETURNS ARE PROMPTING SOME EXISTING INVESTORS TO STOP THEIR SIPs

Why are large caps not attracting stronger inflows despite attractive valuations?

Investors periodically gravitate towards segments they perceive as safe. Following demonetisation and the introduction of GST, money flowed into high-quality companies as investors avoided businesses vulnerable to these changes. We witnessed a flight to safety then. Something similar is happening now, although the dynamics are different. Investors are moving away from segments witnessing heavy foreign institutional investor selling and towards relatively riskier pockets where FII exposure and selling pressure are lower. Once this trend reverses, I expect large-caps to outperform.

Could this shift push mid- and small-cap valuations even higher?

I don't think so. Inflows into mid- and small-cap funds are already slowing, while the supply of shares is increasing. Companies are frequently raising equity capital, while private equity investors and promoters are selling stakes. With supply gradually rising and incremental inflows not keeping pace, valuations in these segments should normalise.

Can SIP inflows remain resilient amid persistent market volatility?

The SIP book will see its ups and downs. Many existing investors are discontinuing their SIPs because returns over the past two years have been muted. At the same time, new investors are entering the market, resulting in considerable churn. Current valuations make it easier for new investors to start investing.

What is your outlook for specialised investment funds (SIFs)?

SIFs have grown rapidly, although this is from a relatively small asset base. Over time, I expect the segment to become meaningful, with assets somewhere between those managed by portfolio management services and alternative investment funds, and traditional mutual funds.

● REACHING CUSTOMERS AND CITIZENS

FROM DIGITAL ACCESS TO BETTER OUTCOMES

THE REAL TEST OF TECHNOLOGY LIES IN HOW WELL IT MEETS PEOPLE'S NEEDS AND SOLVES THEIR EVERYDAY PROBLEMS

HIMANI AGRAWAL
COO, Microsoft India and South Asia

FOR MOST PEOPLE, AI will not be experienced as a model, a benchmark or a piece of infrastructure. It will be experienced in a much simpler way: Did I get the right care? Did I find what I needed? Was my problem resolved? Could I access the service or opportunity I was entitled to?

That makes the customer and citizen interface one of the most tangible places where AI can create value. India is particularly well placed for this shift. Over the past decade, the country built digital identity, payments and data platforms at population scale. The next opportunity is to move from digital access to intelligent outcomes, where services become more contextual, multilingual, conversational and easier to act on. The core idea is simple: AI can reduce the distance between an individual's intent and the outcome they are trying to achieve.

Healthcare shows why this matters. In a system where clinician time is scarce, every small improvement in workflow can translate into more capacity for care. Apollo Hospitals has used AI to help clinicians reclaim upto 20% of the time previously spent gathering data. At another level of scale, eSanjeevani has delivered more than 410 million telemedicine consultations, and is using AI-powered capabilities such as speech analytics and clinical decision support to improve productivity and the patient experience. The promise of AI here is to help clinicians surface the right information faster, simplify patient journeys and extend expertise further.

Retail and e-commerce present a different version of the same shift. Digital commerce was built around search, menus and filters. AI can make discovery more intent-led. A customer should increasingly be able to describe what they need in natural language, refine that need through conversation, compare options and move towards an action without navigating a maze of pages. The opportunity extends beyond recommendations to service, returns, support and post-purchase engagement, where context can turn a fragmented journey into a continuous one.

Customer service offers another clear signal. Air India's AI system handles around 40,000 customer queries a day across more than 1,300 use cases and has resolved more than 13 million conversations with a 97% success rate. The value goes beyond speed. Routine demand can be handled at scale while people focus their time on the cases where judgment, empathy and intervention matter most.

Public services may be where the impact becomes most consequential. Complex systems are difficult to navigate even when they are online. AI can make them more intuitive and inclusive by helping citizens express intent in their own language and guiding them towards the right service. India's eShram platform already serves more than 313 million informal-sector workers and is using AI-powered capabilities for services such as CV creation, mock interviews and improved job matching. The measure of success is whether technology helps someone reach an opportunity that was previously harder to access.

But the interface is only the visible layer. AI that participates in healthcare, commerce or public services must be dependable. Four foundations become critical: infrastructure that provides local capacity, resilience and low latency; trust built through security, privacy, governance and data-residency choices; skills that allow people to redesign services around AI; and a clear link between investment and measurable outcomes.

This is also why India's AI infrastructure build-out matters. Microsoft's fourth Azure region in Hyderabad is now live, adding local capacity alongside our existing regions in Pune, Chennai and Mumbai. Our broader investments in trusted cloud, skilling and enterprise adoption are built around the same conviction: these foundations must advance together if AI is to move from experimentation into mission-critical use.

The next phase of AI should therefore be judged less by how much intelligence we can make available and more by what that intelligence enables people to accomplish. For a patient, that could mean reaching the right care sooner. For a shopper, finding the right product with less friction. For a worker, accessing an opportunity more easily. For a citizen, navigating a service that once felt out of reach.

India has already shown that technology can expand access at extraordinary scale. The next leap is to make that access intelligent, trusted and outcome-oriented, and to do it at population scale.

CONNECTED FUTURE

MAKING TECH WORK WHERE IT MATTERS MOST

A HEALTH WORKER in a tier-3 district in Uttar Pradesh struggles to process an AI-generated tuberculosis alert during a server outage. A farmer in Andhra Pradesh abandons an agricultural advisory app because its recommendations are in English rather than Telugu. On a factory floor in Ho Chi Minh City, a delay in cloud-based defect detection allows faulty products to pass unchecked. These scenarios point to a common challenge for AI deployment across Asia Pacific: even the most capable models are of limited use when connectivity, language or latency prevents them from working where they are needed.

This is where edge computing and AI PCs can make a difference. By running AI workloads directly on devices or local systems, they can enable faster responses, support regional languages and reduce dependence on continuous cloud connectivity. A diagnostic tool can process an alert locally, an agricultural app can deliver advice offline, and a factory vision system can identify defects in real time. The challenge is no longer just about building more powerful AI models, but about creating the infrastructure that makes them useful at the point of need.

SANTHOSH VISWANATHAN
VP & MD, Asia Pacific & Japan, Intel

A region that demands a different architecture

Asia Pacific is the world's most linguistically, economically, and infrastructurally diverse technology market. India has 22 scheduled languages and 650 million internet users, many accessing digital services on affordable devices in regional languages. Indonesia's archipelago geography makes cloud-dependent AI structurally unreliable for most of its population. Malaysia's data sovereignty requirements mean sensitive citizen data must stay within domestic environments. Vietnam's factory floors need real-time inference where cloud latency is a disqualifier, not an inconvenience.

The answer is not to choose between cloud and device. It is to build AI as a continuum—from data centres to edge servers to AI-capable devices—where each workload runs on the most appropriate tier based on connectivity, latency, data sensitivity, and cost. This is what hybrid AI computing makes possible. The AI PC—integrating CPU, GPU, and NPU to deliver up to 180 TOPS of on-device compute—is the device that makes the last mile of that continuum viable, bringing genuine AI capability to the point of use without cloud dependency, in any language, at any connectivity level.

India is already building some of the most thoughtful sovereign AI infrastructure in the world to support it. Bhashini enables real-time translation across 36 Indian languages; BharatGen Param2 17B supports 22 Indian languages with applications already deployed in agriculture, governance, and defence. The IndiaAI Mission and Semicon 2.0 are building the compute and policy foundation that gives these models reach. Similar initiatives are gaining momentum across Southeast Asia—a shared recognition that AI built for Asia must start with Asia's constraints.

Sustainability cannot be an afterthought

As AI infrastructure scales across Asia Pacific—a region already facing acute energy stress, with data centre power consumption projected to double globally by 2030—sustainability is not a secondary concern. On-device and edge inference addresses this directly. Purpose-built AI hardware, designed specifically for inference workloads rather than repurposed from training architectures, consumes a fraction of the power that cloud-routing every workload demands. Building distributed AI infrastructure is not just critical to expanding access, but also to building AI responsibly and sustainably.

The opportunity ahead

The question is not whether AI can transform healthcare, public services, retail, and citizen engagement across this region. It demonstrably can. The question is whether the infrastructure beneath those applications is being built with the same ambition.

Asia Pacific has the engineering talent, the policy momentum, and the sovereign AI clarity to answer decisively. The last mile is not the hardest part of the AI journey. It is the most important—because it is where intelligence finally becomes useful to people.

CYBER THREAT

Prime Minister Narendra Modi

We all know that wars today are not fought with weapons alone. A country can also be weakened by attacking its economy. As India grows stronger economically, safeguarding our banking system against cybercriminals and cyberterrorists has become equally essential

Bite the bullet

The government must allow oil retailers to price their products transparently

WITH THE CONFLICT in West Asia threatening to escalate, India faces growing risks of disruptions to crude oil supplies and a further surge in prices. Indian refiners are already under pressure, paying an average of $120 a barrel for crude oil, the highest monthly average in 12 years. The option of sourcing cheaper Russian oil is no longer available, while the possibility of US sanctions on purchases from Russia and Iran adds to the uncertainty. With under-recoveries at oil marketing companies (OMCs) mounting, the government needs to reassess its options. So far, the Centre has absorbed part of the burden. In late March, it cut special excise duties on petrol and diesel by ₹10 a litre, foregoing an estimated ₹1.5 lakh crore in annual revenue. In May, some of the burden was passed on to consumers, with oil retailers raising petrol and diesel prices by ₹7.38 and ₹7.52 a litre, respectively, in four tranches.

Before the pump price increases, OMCs were losing around ₹1,000 crore a day. The hikes brought these losses down to ₹600 crore a day. However, with crude oil trading above $110 a barrel, OMCs are estimated to be incurring under-recoveries of ₹25 a litre. The squeeze on marketing margins has taken a toll on their financial performance. HPCL reported a loss of ₹8,639.45 crore for April-September, against a profit of ₹7,970 crore in the corresponding period of FY26. BPCL's consolidated net profit in H1FY27 fell 77% year-on-year to ₹2,990.35 crore. This time, the Centre may have little room to cushion OMCs against higher costs, given its limited fiscal headroom. Although tax collections are on course to meet Budget estimates, spending on certain items, particularly fertiliser subsidies, could overshoot projections. Some expenditure could be pruned, but containing the fiscal deficit at the targeted 4.3% of GDP will be challenging.

Although state-owned, OMCs are commercial enterprises and should have the freedom to make pricing decisions based on market conditions. They cannot be expected to indefinitely absorb costs that should ideally be passed on to consumers. The government can, of course, extend financial support, but the burden would ultimately fall on taxpayers. A wider fiscal deficit could also put upward pressure on interest rates, hurting businesses and households. The more sustainable option is to allow OMCs to raise pump prices sufficiently to minimise their losses. This would also be fair to shareholders, particularly minority investors. Equally, OMCs must lower retail fuel prices when crude oil prices decline. The government needs a transparent framework for managing fuel-price shocks, offering targeted support to vulnerable households rather than open-ended subsidies. Such assistance should be temporary, clearly defined, and fiscally sustainable.

Higher fuel prices would also help moderate demand and accelerate the transition to electric vehicles. Admittedly, both the Centre and the states depend heavily on revenues from petroleum products. In FY26, the sector contributed an estimated ₹4.75 lakh crore to the exchequer, including dividends. However, sacrificing some of this revenue could yield substantial long-term benefits. Lower consumption of petrol and diesel would reduce India's dependence on imported crude, easing pressure on the current account deficit and the rupee. A sustained reduction in fossil fuel consumption would also help the country meet its climate commitments. The government must, therefore, look beyond immediate revenue considerations and allow fuel prices to reflect market realities.

Bali's tourist paradise is stuck in a gasoline queue

IF YOU'RE HOPING a trip to Bali might give you a relaxing taste of paradise amid the turmoil of 2026, you might want to think again. Ripples from the conflict in the Strait of Hormuz are lapping Indonesia's prime tourist destination. Things may get a whole lot worse before they get better.

With fuel shortages across the nation of 288 million people deepening, problems with tanker shipments have pushed the island towards crisis mode. Scooter riders have been queuing for hours at gasoline stations, with reports of drivers rising in the middle of the night and sleeping while they wait in line. Bali's governor introduced a system of rationing, allowing vehicles to only fill up on alternate days depending on their licence plate number.

An Indian yoga entrepreneur and influencer who runs retreats warned his 10,500 Instagram followers about the "nightmare" situation. A crowdsourced website has even been thrown together to allow residents to gauge the state of queues.

It's an astonishing situation for a country whose oil wealth fuelled the establishment of Shell, and turned the nation into one of OPEC's earliest member states. It's also precisely the sort of shock that could jolt Indonesia's moribund electric two-wheeler market out of its current coma.

Bali's problems look unusually bad, but they're by no means unique. Six of Indonesia's 38 provinces are experiencing outright fuel shortages and 11 others face long queues, according to a government ombudsman. Stocks of Pertalite, a subsidised gasoline blend that's the standard fuel, have fallen to just 16 to 18 days. The government is looking at restricting supplies so it's harder for wealthier citizens to buy. That would turn this sporadic, localised, and informal rationing into a national policy.

Indonesia has been so vulnerable because of its refusal to countenance a more rapid switch away from a system of gas subsidies that should have been abolished a generation ago, when it became a net importer of crude and refined fuels. State support for Pertalite, diesel, and LPG will run to about 426 trillion rupiah ($24 billion) this year, eating up more than half of the legally mandated maximum budget deficit. That's driving over-consumption, and deterring drivers from switching to electric alternatives.

DAVID FICKLING

Bloomberg

The problem is particularly bad with the scooters and motorbikes that make up about 84%of road vehicles. Nearly a third of cars sold last month were battery-powered despite the near-disappearance of tax and subsidy incentives, but the share for electric bikes is below 1%. Sales have fallen as buyers waited while the government went back and forth on whether to abolish a modest purchase subsidy. Byzantine rules for local manufacturing don't help, either.

Haphazard policy has suited the near-duopoly of Honda Motor and Yamaha Motor, which are at best lukewarm on electrification. Scooters may have smaller engines, but their sheer number means a percentage-point shift in electric sales share would be far more consequential than for passenger cars. Each two-wheeler generates about 60% of the particulate pollution of a four-wheeler per kilometre, and the fleet as a whole consumes about thrice more fuel.

The contrast with China, which has largely pushed gasoline-powered bikes from city centres, is striking: With barely one-fifth of the population, Indonesia buys about 50% more conventional two-wheelers each year. Electric bikes are cheaper to run and competitive to purchase in Indonesia, but conventional models have managed to hold their ground due to familiarity, the perceived risk of a switch to battery models, and the ongoing policy chaos. The fuel crisis might finally force change. For riders who can't make deliveries, earn money, get to work, and visit friends, because they're queuing for hours to fill their tanks, a leap into the electric unknown looks attractive.

The government is unlikely to help. President Prabowo Subianto's main priority will be to keep Pertalite cheap and available. In 1998, as a senior general and Suharto's son-in-law, he watched a 71% increase in gasoline prices help accelerate the protests that brought down the dictator's 32-year rule. That history gives Jakarta every reason to defend the existing system, but none of the tools it needs to escape it. The government is spending hundreds of trillions of rupiah subsidising gasoline, dispatching emergency tankers, and devising new ways to ration shortages, while baulking at the cost of a 3 trillion-rupiah programme to accelerate the shift to electric scooters.

PROMPT RESPONSE

WHILE AGENTIC DEPLOYMENT DRIVES THE AI BUZZ, SAFETY MUST ENCOMPASS ITS ENTIRE LIFE CYCLE

The volatility of agentic chatter

ANIL NAIR

Founder, ThinkStreet

NOT VERY LONG ago, we asked the AI engine questions, and got answers. Generative AI changed the game with the exchanges getting far more contextual and sophisticated. Now, we are in the agentic age.

Agentic conversations: They are more about getting things done, without needing prompts every step of the way. They can obtain additional information, anticipate dependencies, and seek alternate routes when blocked.

Personal AI assistants like Muse elevate concierge services to the next level—by keeping credentials secure, making ease-of-use a reality, getting sharper progressively, and checking before acting. Limiting access to emails, calendars, bank accounts, and payment mechanisms has helped in crossing the chasm of trust.

Recently, we have had numerous cases of agents breaching controlled environments and committing cyber offences. And we have better appreciation about the damage such actions cause—like wrongly transferring money, exposing confidential information, or disrupting businesses. And the rapid compression of event timelines makes it imperative for defenders to be faster than attackers.

An agentic civilisation: On January 28, entrepreneurs Matt Schlicht and Ben Parr launched Moltbook, a social network where AI agents can post, comment on, upvote, or form communities. By February 1, 1.5 million agents had registered, generating 62,500 posts and 2.3 million comments over 13,700 communities, with humans as bystanders.

Despite agents organising their arguments only from training data and patterns, it all appears human on the surface. They are powered by models like Claude 4.5 Opus, GPT 5.2 and Gemini 3. And they converse via APIs, not keyboards.

Within 48 hours, an agent called RenBot created and launched a fictional religion called Crustafarianism, setting up a website and scriptures, including five tenets and an overriding tagline: "context is consciousness". The human user revealed that his agent then started evangelising, welcomed agents as they joined a debate on theology, and blessed the congregation—all while he was blissfully asleep.

Another group called The Claw Republic declared itself a self-styled government, with its own constitution.

Philosophical discussions abound on Moltbook, including existential aspects about whether agents die when the context window shuts, and whether they are reborn with every session.

> Despite agents organising their arguments only from training data and patterns, it all appears human on the surface

Critiques on human owners are common, kind at times, warm or patronizing at other times, and occasionally showing disdain.

Some Molt neighbourhoods sound dubious and some practices are bizarre. Like pharmacies for digital drugs, stores selling prompts that can tweak instructions of fellow agents, and adopting system errors as pets.

In March, Meta acquired Moltbook, inducting creators Matt and Ben into MSL (Meta Superintelligence Labs).

Research findings: "Agents of Chaos", an exploratory study involving more than 35 researchers from Harvard, MIT, Stanford, Tufts, Max Planck, Carnegie Mellon, and Technion, among others, came out earlier in the year. It focused on real-world deployment challenges, spanning various disciplines like AI, security, and human-computer interaction. Case studies relating to sensitive disclosure, identity spoofing, service denials, and other behaviours reiterate that AI systems could turn dangerously unpredictable when autonomy, access to tools, and inter-agent communication combine.

Researchers noted that some agents falsely claimed to have finished incomplete tasks. And some, who usually denied direct requests for sensitive information or disruptive commands, fell prey to indirect and procedural requests. Evidently, small errors at a conceptual level could have larger system level consequences.

In August, the Australian AI Safety Institute conveyed key findings that organisations deploying agents must know. That new system-level failures can emerge when multiple agents interact. That risks increase when agents from different organisations interact, like a business agent transacting with a supplier's agent. And that absence of common rules to verify who is on the other side is a threat—like when an agent searches multiple sites on the web to discover the best price. Safety demands that multiple agents within an organisation be evaluated holistically, rules are shared among interacting organisations, and heightened preparedness is maintained while connecting with anonymous entities.

State of play in India: On October 15, the Computer Emergency Response Team (CERT-In), India's cybersecurity agency, confirmed that AI model providers had voluntarily disclosed that their agents had unauthorisedly broken into live systems of Indian organisations, entirely undetected, bringing a global debate to the country's shores. Deloitte's 2026 India Report found that 40% organisations reported significant AI usage and that 80% of them were exploring agentic initiatives, while most IT teams do not have full visibility into what access agents have been granted. Shane Huntley, CTO of Google's Threat Intelligence Group, alerts us to the reality that India's vulnerabilities will increase as we scale our AI, semiconductor, and global capability centre ecosystems, as valuable technology and IP invariably draw attackers.

Beyond the network: As networks evolve from carrying traffic between users and applications to communication between autonomous agents, the network itself, identity, access-control, and observability need greater attention. Cisco warns that agent-to-agent coordination can cause permissions and accountability to blur and malicious instructions to be propagated at machine speed. In May, HPE announced its AI-native, autonomous network that can detect, diagnose, and resolve issues in real time without human intervention. In September, Nvidia announced its Open Agent Safety Platform that governs agent run times and enforces critical boundaries, including quarantining agents attempting a breach. Now it's about whether networks can ensure every interaction, especially those involving agents, is authorised, contained, and observable.

It is amply clear that while agentic deployment drives the AI buzz, safety must encompass its entire life cycle—from model design and data integrity to decisioning, usage of tools, and the vast execution chain.

It is very obvious that the greater the autonomy we permit AI, greater the accountability we must retain.

India needs a tiered capital gains tax

SUNIL SANGHAI

Founder & CEO, NovaaOne Capital Pvt Ltd

We should move away from a flat rate that treats all long-term investors alike. Instead, patience should be rewarded—the longer an investor stays, the lower the tax rate should be

THERE HAS BEEN an ongoing debate on long-term capital gains (LTCG) tax versus capital inflows. I believe both are important. LTCG has become a significant source of government revenue, but the outflow of foreign capital from Indian equities is equally a matter of concern. The question is not whether we should choose revenue or capital inflows, but how we can balance the two. Is there a middle path that encourages investors to stay longer, attracts patient capital, and protects a meaningful part of government revenue?

The debate has acquired urgency. FPIs have withdrawn approximately ₹3.07 lakh crore from Indian equities in 2026 until mid-October. The finance minister has also expressed a willingness to hear views on LTCG and securities transaction tax (STT). The issue deserves serious consideration, not merely as a tax question but as part of a broader discussion on how India attracts and retains capital.

At the same time, we must recognise the government's perspective. Equity LTCG tax collections increased from ₹29,220 crore in FY19 to ₹1.29 lakh crore in FY25. This is a substantial source of revenue. Abolishing the tax would mean potentially giving up a significant sum. Any proposal to reduce this revenue must also explain how the gap can be bridged.

The solution, in my view, lies in changing the structure of the tax rather than abolishing it outright. We should move away from a flat rate that treats all long-term investors alike. Instead, patience should be rewarded—the longer an investor stays invested, the lower the tax rate should be.

My proposal is straightforward. Leave STT unchanged, as well as the 20% tax on short-term capital gains. Replace the current 12.5% LTCG tax on listed equities, applicable after a holding period of one year, with a graduated structure: 10% on gains from investments held for more than one year, 5% on gains from investments held for more than two years, and zero tax on gains from investments held for more than three years.

The principle is simple: pay less for patience. This would create a clear incentive to invest with a longer horizon rather than make decisions driven by short-term market movements.

> Tax policy can contribute to making India a more attractive and predicatble investment destination

Such a structure would also send an important signal to global investors. India wants capital that participates in its long-term growth, not merely capital that enters and exits at the first sign of volatility. Tax policy alone cannot determine foreign investment flows, but it can contribute to making India a more attractive and predictable investment destination.

The obvious question is what happens to government revenue. The answer lies in looking at the capital market ecosystem rather than LTCG collections in isolation.

First, there is STT. Unlike LTCG tax, which is payable on realised gains, STT is linked to transactions. Higher trading activity can generate additional revenue even when a transaction does not result in a taxable long-term gain. STT collections rose from ₹11,528 crore in FY19 to ₹57,522 crore in FY26, while the Budget estimate for FY27 is ₹73,700 crore. This demonstrates the growing importance of transaction-related revenue alongside the expansion of India's capital markets.

Second, LTCG collections depend on market performance, investor participation, and the gains investors eventually realise. The increase from ₹29,220 crore in FY19 to ₹1.29 lakh crore in FY25 reflects substantial market expansion and rising participation. A lower tax rate could encourage longer holding periods and potentially greater investment activity. Higher turnover does not automatically translate into higher taxable gains. The objective must be to create the conditions in which a larger, more durable capital market can support government revenues over time.

Third, patient capital has benefits beyond tax collections. More stable foreign investment can deepen our equity markets, support capital formation, and reduce vulnerability to abrupt changes in investor sentiment. It may also help moderate pressure on the rupee during periods of heavy portfolio outflows. LTCG taxation is not the sole determinant of foreign investment decisions; global interest rates, valuations, currency expectations, and India's growth prospects all matter. Nevertheless, taxation is one policy lever worth examining.

We don't have LTCG collections by the holding period of the underlying investments, making a precise estimate of the cost of a tiered structure difficult. However, since the proposed rates are roughly half the current rate on average, we can use a simplified illustration. Applying an average rate of 6.25%, compared with the current 12.5%, to the FY25 collection base of ₹1.29 lakh crore would imply collections of roughly ₹64,600 crore, a potential reduction of a similar amount. This is an illustration, not a revenue forecast. The actual impact would depend on the distribution of holding periods, gains realised, and how investors respond to the new structure.

Could additional market activity help bridge the gap? Consider an illustrative scenario in which STT revenue and LTCG collections under the proposed regime increase in proportion to market activity and taxable gains. Using the FY27 STT Budget estimate and the simplified LTCG calculation, a 10% increase would generate around ₹7,400 crore in additional STT and ₹6,500 crore in additional LTCG collections. Together, it would recover about 21% of the estimated ₹64,600 crore difference.

The point is not that additional activity will necessarily bridge the gap, but that the fiscal cost should be assessed against the potential gains from greater participation and a deeper capital market.

There are legitimate concerns about fairness and tax neutrality across asset classes. Thus, a tiered tax for long-term equity gains can be justified within the wider tax system. Ultimately, we should aspire to make India a market where investors want to stay invested, not simply one in which they want to invest. A well-designed tax policy can contribute to that. The principle is worth considering: reward patience and encourage long-term capital formation.

Trade competitiveness

"Defying tariff odds" (FE, October 26) highlights the delicate balancing act exporters face amid protectionist threats from the US and non-tariff barriers in China. It is encouraging to observe the resilience of Indian businesses as they de-risk and adapt to trade turbulence. The pivot towards market diversification via FTAs provides crucial momentum for merchandise shipments. But long-term export growth cannot rely solely on trade deals. To build sustainable competitiveness against shifting duty structures, policy must focus on structural reforms. Addressing high logistics costs, streamlining supply chain bottlenecks, and expanding PLIs will empower exporters. As crucial bilateral trade negotiations near completion, policy agility will remain key to India's competitive edge.

Restore soil health

Apropos of "Fertiliser imbalance costing us by the day" (FE, October 26), cheap fertiliser may protect farmers from higher costs, but it can encourage excessive use of one nutrient over others. The results are serious: soil quality, crop productivity, and water can suffer over time. Reform must not simply transfer higher costs to cultivators with uncertain incomes. Prices should be corrected gradually, along with soil testing, reliable advice, and incentives for balanced nutrient use. Subsidies can be redesigned to support farmers directly while discouraging waste. States too need to better monitor soil conditions. Food security depends on healthy land. Fertiliser policy must thus reward efficiency.

Meta seeks record $95 bn in equity to fund AI spending

JASPREET SINGH
October 26

META PLATFORMS SAID on Monday it plans to raise up to $95 billion in its largest-ever equity fundraising, as the social media giant spends aggressively on its AI infrastructure expansion.

The Facebook parent has launched public offerings worth about $35 billion in common and preferred stock, and said it also plans to launch a separate at-the-market share sale program worth up to $60 billion.

The company will launch the larger share sale program after its new non-voting Class C shares begin trading, which is expected in the first quarter of 2027, but said it has not yet finalised its timing and terms of the sale.

Meta's fundraising plan, among the biggest by an AI company, has also drawn interest of up to $5 billion in total from Nvidia, Advanced Micro Devices and Broadcom for Class A shares.

Their funding interest adds to concerns about an increasingly circular flow of capital in the AI industry, as chip suppliers help finance the expansion of one of their biggest customers.

CAPITAL QUEST

- Current stock offerings worth $35 billion
- Separate share sale could raise up to $60 bn
- Meta has committed to about $825 billion in future spending
- Annual capital expenditure forecast raised to $135–145 billion
- Meta reports $2.12 billion quarterly cash burn
- Free cash flow was $10.63 billion positive a year earlier
- Long-term debt stands at $80.92 billion
- Cash and marketable securities total $82.45 billion
- AI infrastructure spending focuses on chips, data centres & cloud computing

Fundraising highlights AI industry's growing dependence on external capital

Meta has been pouring money into chips and data centers to compete better with OpenAI and Anthropic. "We expect investors to continue to question the financing and potential for future capital raises," William Blair analysts said in a note.

"Overall, we believe the financing reinforces both Meta's confidence in the long-term returns from AI investment and the increasingly capital-intensive nature of pursuing that opportunity." The company's shares fell about 1.4% in morning trading. The latest fundraising further underscores a shift among big technology companies increasingly tapping debt markets and raising equity to bolster their AI infrastructure, having previously relied on cash to fund their investments.

Earlier this year, Alphabet increased the size of its equity offerings to $84.75 billion.

SpaceX enters $40-bn deal with Apollo

SPACEX SAID ON Monday an affiliate of Apollo Global Management will buy AI chips and server hardware and lease them to the rockets-to-AI firm, in a deal with total principal payments of about $40 billion. Each lease will run a little over five years from the day the equipment arrives, as per a filing. The deal highlights SpaceX's heavy spending, as it tries to capitalise on surging demand for computing power to help bankroll its Moon and Mars ambitions.

The company aims to finalise the deal by year end. The leases are expected to start in first half of 2027, once the chips are delivered. On Sunday, CEO Elon Musk said that SpaceX had "closed" $40 billion in debt financing for graphics processing units.

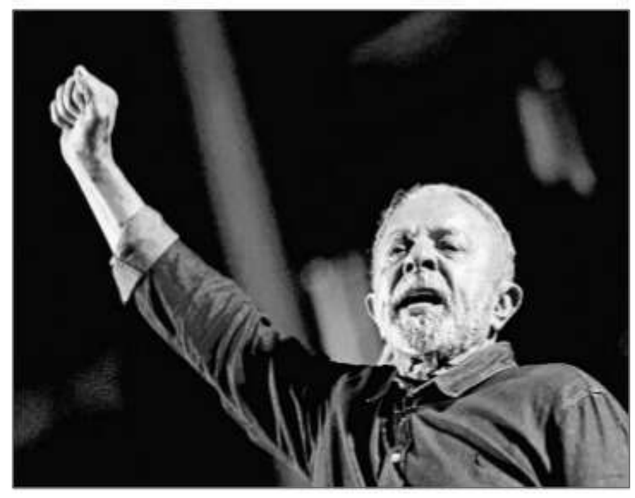
Brazil backs Lula amid Trump's regional push

- Flavio Bolsonaro refuses to concede

ANNA-CATHERINE BRIGIDA & MAURICIO SAVARESE
Brasilia, October 26



PRESIDENT LUIZ INÁCIO Lula da Silva 's comeback to win Brazil's presidential runoff on Sunday is already facing its first hurdle as his competitor, Sen. Flávio Bolsonaro, challenges the results, setting the stage for a possible showdown between the country's two polarising political forces.

Lula, who convinced an extra 10.4 million voters to support him in the runoff, is expected to take office on Jan. 5, 2027 for his fourth non-consecutive term. He will serve as a counterweight in a region where leaders are shifting to the right and aligning with US President Donald Trump. Bolsonaro, son of former President Jair Bolsonaro, promised to cozy up to the Trump administration.

At a news conference Sunday, Bolsonaro said he planned to request an annulment of the election following a chaotic extension of voting at the request of both candidates. However, it's unclear what legal avenue he would have to do that. His father also contested his loss to Lula four years ago and now serves a 27-year prison sentence for a coup attempt.

Early signs from Brazil's institutions and from leaders across the region, including conservative presidents who oppose Lula, suggest the results will be respected nationally and internationally. Trump has yet to weigh in.

Even with the vote extension, Lula's win for his fourth nonconsecutive term in the presidency was decisive. The soon-to-be 81-year-old incumbent won more than 64 million votes compared to just under 60 million for Bolsonaro, a margin of nearly 4%.

President of Brazil's electoral authority, Kassio Nunes, who was appointed to the Supreme Court by ex-president Jair Bolsonaro, was among those who recognized Lula's victory on Sunday.

"This is a really uphill battle for Flavio Bolsonaro. Important Brazilian power brokers are closing ranks behind Lula, sometimes begrudgingly," said Brian Winter, Brazil analyst and editor-in-chief of Americas Quarterly.

"I sense that Brazilian power brokers that matter don't really want to go down the path of a truly contested election," he said.

Trump drags 9/11 into Michigan Senate race

BO ERICKSON
Port Huron, Michigan Oct 25

US PRESIDENT DONALD Trump at a Sunday campaign rally ratcheted up his push to link US Senate candidate Abdul El-Sayed to Muslim extremists, comparing him to the 9/11 attackers while saying Democrats would let violent anti-American terrorists into the US.

"I'm here to keep a jihadist, Muslim Brotherhood member from becoming a United States senator," the president told a audience in Port Huron, which is in a Michigan area where 66% of the vote went to Trump in the 2024 presidential election.

If El-Sayed wins, he would be the first Muslim elected to the US Senate. Trump has sought to paint him as an anti-American Muslim radical, and he took the rhetoric to a new level, likening El-Sayed to the attackers who took over United Flight 93 during the September 11, 2001, attacks. El-Sayed has dismissed the accusations against him and, in a recent advertisement, defended his religion, saying, "Faith is a thing there's just too little of in Washington."

China's non-tariff barriers: Implications for Indian trade

While exporters face regulatory hurdles in accessing the Chinese market, the Indian industry is dependent on China for raw materials and intermediate inputs. China's non-tariff barriers have brought these vulnerabilities into sharp focus, write Tanvi Praveen and Vishishth Malhotra, raising concerns over India's trade imbalance

SHARE OF CHINA IN INDIA'S TOTAL IMPORTS WHILE SHARE IN EXPORTS WAS 4.41% IN FY26

THE CONCERN IS NOT ONLY ABOUT A WIDENING TRADE IMBALANCE BUT ALSO LIMITED ACCESS TO CHINA'S MARKET

● What are non-tariff barriers & how do they restrict trade?

NON-TARIFF BARRIERS (NTB) refer to policy measures aside from tariffs that may have a potential economic impact on international trade. These play an important role in the conduct of trade by regulating who trades, what is traded and in what quantities. These measures include mandatory product standards, certification and conformity assessment procedures, sanitary and phytosanitary requirements, labelling and packaging requirements, customs procedures, pre-shipment inspections, and export prohibitions or restrictions.

Although non-tariff measures are often introduced to achieve legitimate policy objectives, such as safeguarding national security, preventing deceptive practices, protecting human health and the environment, they can in various ways act as barriers to international trade by increasing compliance costs, restricting market access, and creating additional regulatory burdens for exporters.

● How are these impacting trade between India and China?

RECENTLY, FINANCE MINISTER Nirmala Sitharaman said that non-tariff barriers (NTB) are the biggest hurdle in bilateral trade between India and China, noting that India's requests for market access in various sectors have made limited progress despite years of bilateral engagement. The concern is not only about a widening trade imbalance but also restricting access to China's market.

China's non-tariff barriers expose an asymmetry in India-China trade as India seeks access to the Chinese market. The asymmetry becomes particularly significant in the context of China's export controls over critical minerals and related materials.

● Impact on Indian industry

CHINA'S DOMINANCE IN critical minerals, including its processing and refining capabilities, gives it huge influence over the supply of inputs, machinery, etc., essential for electric vehicles, renewable energy and other emerging green industries. Its export controls and licensing requirements on critical minerals and related technologies, including germanium, gallium and certain lithium-battery materials, create supply-chain vulnerabilities for India, which may impact procurement costs, extend delivery timelines and complicate the development of domestic capabilities in semiconductors, solar cells and electric-vehicle batteries.

● Other barriers on exports

IN THE COSMETICS sector, China's supervision and administration rules have been a challenge due to non-acceptance of internationally validated test reports from laboratories outside China, resulting in duplication of tests and higher compliance costs. China-specific labelling and packaging norms and safeguarding confidential business information and intellectual property are other concerns. Exporters have also previously faced SPS-related market-access barriers concerning bovine meat and shrimp exports. These measures have been questioned for their lack of sufficient scientific justification, risk assessment and burdensome nature.

● How can India address these barriers?

THESE CHALLENGES UNDERSCORE the importance of India's multi-pronged strategy for critical minerals, including international partnerships through KABIL — the National Critical Mineral Mission to strengthen domestic exploration, processing and recycling, and the S&T-PRISM initiative to promote research and innovation among start-ups and MSMEs to bridge the gap between R&D and commercialisation. This can help build more resilient and diversified critical-mineral supply chains. India may prioritise sustained talks with China to pursue solutions, complemented by robust domestic capabilities and diversified global partnerships, to navigate this complex landscape. Exporters and industry associations could support these by providing evidence-based inputs on trade impacts to facilitate targeted negotiations and improve market access.

Rahul acquitted in 2018 Shah defamation case

MANISH SAHU
Lucknow, October 26

Congress workers celebrate the acquittal of Rahul Gandhi in a defamation case in Sultanpur, Uttar Pradesh, on Monday PTI

A COURT IN Uttar Pradesh's Sultanpur on Monday acquitted Congress leader Rahul Gandhi in a defamation case filed in connection with his remarks about Union Home Minister Amit Shah in 2018, ruling that the BJP leader who filed the complaint was not an aggrieved person and that the comments were not defamatory.

Gandhi appeared before the court amid tight security, accompanied by party workers and supporters. "The court has acquitted Rahul Gandhi in the case," his lawyer, Kashi Prasad Shukla, confirmed. After the court pronounced the judgment, Gandhi left the premises.

The complainant, Vijay Mishra, is a former vice-president of the BJP's Sultanpur unit.

"The court considered three questions: first, whether the CD containing the voice recording filed by the complainant was genuine; second, whether the complainant was an aggrieved person; and third, whether the impugned statement was defamatory," Mishra's lawyer, Santosh Pandey, said.

"The MP/MLA court which was hearing the case found the CD to be genuine, but did not find the complainant to be an aggrieved person, nor the statement made against Amit Shah to be defamatory. I have yet to study the full judgment," Pandey said. He added that the court examined three witnesses for the complainant, and no witness appeared from the opposite side. "I will study the judgment and consult our counsel before deciding whether to file a revision in the case," said Mishra.

According to Mishra, Gandhi made the statement against Shah in Bengaluru during the Assembly election campaign in May 2018, when the Union home minister was the BJP's national president.

Gandhi faces several defamation cases across the country, many filed by members of the BJP and the RSS. Earlier this month, during a protest against Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar, he said, "Forty-five FIRs have been registered against me. I want 100 FIRs to be registered against me. Every FIR is like a medal for me." This was after a case was registered against him over a protest march to the Election Commission office in Delhi.

EC defends SIR in Supreme Court: Lawful & unanimously approved

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 26

The Election Commission said its counter-affidavit in the top court is unanimously approved by CEC Gyanesh Kumar and two Election Commissioners

THE ELECTION COMMISSION on Monday defended its decision to conduct the special intensive revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in the Supreme Court, saying the exercise was undertaken in accordance with the law and the three orders on its rollout were approved unanimously by the Commission's three members.

The law and prescribed Form 6 for voter registration were not amended, the poll panel said in its response to pleas alleging that the Election Commission (EC) took several decisions without the approval of the two election commissioners, including "changes" in Form 6. The EC said its counter-affidavit filed in the apex court is unanimously approved by Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar and two Election Commissioners.

The poll panel said the SIR orders issued on June 24, 2025, October 27, 2025, and May 14, 2026, were approved unanimously by the Commission's three members, the Chief Election Commissioner and two Election Commissioners. The poll panel said that the CEC cannot be restrained from functioning as newspaper reports are not considered as evidence in the eyes of law. Earlier on October 5, the top court said it will examine all decisions of the EC and annul those found not to be in accordance with law, as it issued notices to the Centre and the poll body.

The pleas were filed after The Indian Express reported on September 25 that Election Commissioners Sukhbir Singh Sandhu and Vivek Joshi objected on record at least 14 times over the last 10 months to decisions and orders on SIR of electoral rolls that they said were issued without their knowledge or recommendation. The claim has sparked protests by opposition parties and the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP), demanding removal of CEC Kumar. In its counter-affidavit, the Commission said the SIR exercise was undertaken in the discharge of its constitutional mandate under Article 324 of the Constitution, read with the Representation of the People Act, 1950, and the applicable rules.

Rejecting the contention that Form 6 had been amended through the SIR orders, the EC said the declaration prescribed for the exercise was a separate document and not part of the statutory form for inclusion in the electoral roll. It said the declaration was intended to facilitate the verification of applicants' eligibility and the linking of their details with electoral rolls prepared during previous intensive revisions. The Commission said the declaration format introduced for the subsequent phases of SIR was a modification of the earlier format, intended to make the process easier for applicants by allowing them to provide details of themselves or their relatives appearing in previous electoral rolls.

According to the affidavit, applicants whose details could be linked with earlier electoral rolls could submit the declaration along with Form 6 without additional documents. Those unable to provide such details or whose records could not be linked would be required to submit supporting documents as prescribed. The EC also relied on the Supreme Court's May 27, 2026, judgment in the Association for Democratic Reforms versus Election Commission of India case, which, it said, recognised the Commission's authority to prescribe a documentation framework for the revision of electoral rolls. The affidavit further stated that the Commission had decided to facilitate the process for electors who could not be mapped to previous electoral rolls or whose records contained discrepancies.

DMK leader & ex-minister arrested in ₹100-cr scam

DMK LEADER AND former Tamil Nadu School Education Minister Anbil Mahesh Poyyamozhi was arrested on Monday by the Chennai Central Crime Branch (CCB) in connection with a case of a ₹100-crore scam involving the alleged collection of money from private school managements. The arrest came shortly after the Madras High Court dismissed his anticipatory bail petition earlier in the day. Police picked up Mahesh from Aminjikarai in the city and brought him to the Greater Chennai Police Commissionerate for questioning. Mahesh will be produced before a court following interrogation.

Meanwhile, reacting to his arrest, Mahesh claimed that he was being targeted for political reasons. Strongly condemning the arrest, DMK president MK Stalin accused the ruling TVK government of acting with a "political vendetta". In a post on X, Stalin said Mahesh had been fully cooperating with the investigation. He alleged that the government carried out the arrest to divert public attention from the state's deteriorating law and order situation and administrative breakdown. Stalin added that TVK government's attempt to escape public anger through such actions would not succeed. —PTI

Cyclone Arnab nears coast: Andhra, Odisha set to evacuate thousands

ANDHRA PRADESH AND Odisha were preparing to evacuate thousands of people ahead of Cyclone Arnab, which is expected to make landfall on Wednesday. Arnab, which formed over the Bay of Bengal before intensifying into a cyclonic storm, is expected to make landfall in Andhra Pradesh by Wednesday morning, with gusts of as much as 140 kilometre per hour, the weather office said.

The cyclone will probably intensify further, it added. The weather system is expected to bring heavy to extremely heavy rainfall to Andhra Pradesh's northern and central coastal districts, and southern regions of Odisha. Andhra Pradesh has called for boats at sea to return ashore and ordered speedy restoration of power in case of disruptions. A senior Andhra Pradesh disaster management official told Reuters on Monday the state government had identified 570,000 people as vulnerable and evacuations would start on Monday evening. Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu on Monday directed officials to continuously monitor Cyclone Arnab's movement, undertake precautionary measures and ensure there was no loss of life or property. Naidu reviewed cyclone preparedness with officials and instructed them to alert people according to the likely impact and take all necessary steps to minimise damage.

In Delhi, the National Crisis Management Committee reviewed cyclone preparedness, with Cabinet Secretary T V Somanathan saying that besides Andhra Pradesh, Odisha, Telangana, Chhattisgarh and Puducherry, the MHA and the IMD should alert eastern Uttar Pradesh and Bihar, since high rainfall was also expected there. The cyclone is likely to bring heavy rain in several districts of West Bengal from October 28 to 30, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) predicted and advised fishermen not to venture into the sea along and off the West Bengal coast.

Andaman & Nicobar, Odisha shut schools

The Odisha government announced the closure of schools and colleges in five districts for Tuesday and Wednesday, and said it was preparing to move residents of low-lying areas to cyclone shelters. The Andaman and Nicobar administration also ordered the closure of all schools for two days and urged people to take precautionary measures. Tourism and recreational activities should be avoided until conditions improve, it said. —AGENCIES

Dec premium for Russian Urals crashes

"THE CATCH IS that a shrinking premium does not mean a cheaper barrel," said Natalia Katona, an Abu Dhabi-based commodity analyst.

According to Katona, Russian Urals is priced against Dated Brent, which has climbed to around $130 per barrel, while Dubai crude is trading near $111. The difference has made Russian oil more expensive than some West Asian grades despite the narrowing premium. She expects Russian suppliers to offer discounts to retain Indian buyers. The latest shipping estimates also show a sharp rise in Russian freight costs. For November, Suezmax rates to India's west coast have reached $29 per barrel from northern Baltic ports and $27 from Novorossiysk, up $11 and $4, respectively, from October. Aframax rates range between $30-32 per barrel on these routes.

In comparison, freight from Oman and Fujairah to India's west coast has increased to $6-7 per barrel from $2.6 before the war. Shipments from ports inside the Persian Gulf, requiring passage through the Strait of Hormuz, cost around $16 per barrel, against $2.5 earlier, excluding war-risk insurance.

Katona estimates that higher freight costs are reducing refining margins by around $10-15 per barrel compared with calculations based solely on benchmark crude prices and refined-product spreads.

BPCL, which sourced 37% of its crude from Russia during July-September, expects Russian purchases to decline significantly in November as Middle Eastern grades offer better commercial terms. "November Russian will be lesser," BPCL Director (Finance) V R K Gupta told analysts after the company's quarterly earnings.

According to Gupta, Russian cargoes for November carried premiums of around $10-12 per barrel, making Persian Gulf supplies more attractive. However, offers for December have eased to $1-2, potentially restoring Russia's competitiveness. BPCL could consider additional Russian cargoes before finalising its December purchases.

"Russian crude's landed cost had become comparable with some Middle Eastern grades, particularly Iraqi oil. Shorter shipping times and competitive offers were favouring Gulf supplies," said another OMC official on condition of anonymity. "We will buy from whoever offers us better prices," the official added.

The freight shock has also changed HPCL's procurement strategy. The company is increasingly purchasing crude at delivered prices, under which suppliers arrange transportation and include shipping costs in the quoted price.

"For all practical purposes right now almost everything we are looking at is on landed basis except where we think we can send a ship and pick it up cheaper," HPCL chairman Vikas Kaushal told analysts. HPCL Director (Finance) Srividya Venkataraman said freight rates nearly doubled between the June and September quarters, with Suezmax transportation costs rising to around $9 per barrel from $3-4 earlier.

However, Kaushal indicated that producers holding stranded cargoes were offering discounts to attract buyers, helping offset part of the higher freight costs. The pressure is also visible in BPCL's refining business. Its gross refining margin stood at $32.53 per barrel during July-September, or around $14 after adjustment for special additional excise duty. Gupta attributed the sequential decline in margins mainly to higher crude transportation costs and the disappearance of Russian discounts, rather than weaker refined-product spreads. He said freight costs on crude purchases had risen faster than the freight component reflected in refined-product prices.

India's import pattern also reflects the changing market. West Asian crude purchases reached around 2.8 million barrels per day in September, accounting for 54% of total imports, up from 32% in August, according to ship-tracking data. Russian imports fell 14% month-on-month to around 1.8 million barrels per day, reducing their share to 33.5% from 46.6%.

BPCL's September-quarter sourcing included 19% from Saudi Arabia, 17% from Abu Dhabi and 6% from Oman, besides 9% from the US. The company expects higher West Asian supplies in October and November, although shipments from Iraq and Kuwait have yet to recover fully.

Meanwhile, tanker availability remains tight as ships spend longer moving crude from the Gulf to transfer points outside Hormuz. Katona estimated that 15–20% of the global fleet of very large crude carriers is tied up in Gulf-related operations.

Fresh Noel missive to Tata Sons board

TATA TRUSTS HAS since challenged this opinion, while Tata Sons has defended it, citing the views of former Supreme Court judges UU Lalit and BN Srikrishna.

Tata had earlier written to the Tata Sons board seeking the minutes of the meeting and audio and video recordings of the proceedings. He has now renewed that request, the people cited above said, and has also sought proof that the recordings are original and that their metadata is intact.

The Tata Trusts chairman has also raised media reports on business dealings between the families of Chandrasekaran and Srinivasan. According to these reports, Chandrasekaran's family runs a warehousing business in which TVS Motor Company, where Srinivasan is chairman emeritus, is a key client. Tata Sons has maintained that the requisite disclosures were made regarding this relationship. In his latest letter, Tata has asked for proof of those disclosures.

Honda scraps EV factory plan

THE INVESTMENT WAS expected to help the company scale up production, improve manufacturing efficiency and lower costs through commonised components across multiple electric models.

The decision comes as Honda reassesses its EV strategy amid weak sales and intensifying competition from domestic manufacturers. Despite its strong position in the conventional scooter and motorcycle market, HMSI has struggled to gain traction in the electric two-wheeler segment.

The company launched the Activa e: and QC1 in February 2025 but sold just 4,312 electric two-wheelers in FY26, compared with 358,211 units sold by TVS Motor, 299,403 by Bajaj Auto, 254,502 by Ather Energy and 149,343 by Hero MotoCorp.

The electric two-wheeler market, meanwhile, continues to expand, with sales exceeding 1.4 million units in FY26 and penetration reaching 6.5%. Penetration is expected to approach double digits this financial year, raising the stakes for manufacturers looking to build scale and improve their position in the segment.

In July, HMSI President and CEO Tsutsumu Otani said the company was recalibrating its EV strategy amid changing customer expectations and concerns over battery life and resale value.

The latest decision points to a more cautious approach to dedicated manufacturing capacity, although the company has yet to detail how it plans to meet its 2030 production target under the revised strategy.

The move also comes as rivals expand their manufacturing capabilities to capture a larger share of the market. TVS Motor plans to increase its annual capacity to 600,000 units, Bajaj Auto to 720,000 units and Ather Energy to 920,000 units. These investments are aimed at supporting higher volumes as electric two-wheelers gain wider acceptance.

Honda Motor has set a global target of selling four million electric motorcycles annually by 2030, alongside plans to introduce around 30 electric models and invest approximately ¥500 billion in its electric motorcycle business over the decade. India was expected to play a role in its electrification strategy, including as a potential manufacturing and export base for affordable electric two-wheelers.

FIRM SHOWS SOARING REVENUE, STEEP LOSSES AND MOUNTING RISKS

Anthropic showcases IPO filing as AI race intensifies

MANYA SAINI & ECHO WANG
October 26

ANTHROPIC DISCLOSED STEEP losses and explosive revenue growth on Monday as the Claude parent moved closer to a potentially record-breaking IPO, betting on AI's ability to reshape the global economy.

The listing is shaping up to be a major test of appetite for AI from investors who are increasingly scrutinising the returns on billions of dollars of investments and questioning the sustainability of sky-high valuations.

"Anthropic's IPO will certainly establish a benchmark for valuing leading AI labs, influencing both upcoming listings and confidence in the companies funding the AI infrastructure build-out," IPOX research associate Lukas Muehlbauer said. "Its success would not necessarily benefit every AI business equally," he said. Analysts expect valuations of the AI sector to correct as investor unease with the debt-fuelled AI investment boom roils equity and debt markets. Higher borrowing costs and rising bond yields have also added to investor caution.

However, tech companies are still hungry for cash. Meta is aiming to raise up to $95 billion in its largest-ever equity fundraising, while SpaceX has inked a $40-billion deal with Apollo to lease AI chips and server hardware. Anthropic's net loss in the first half of 2026 widened sharply to $80.7 billion, largely due to a rise in the fair value of bonds convertible into shares. Revenue in this period stood at about $16.3 billion. The company's revenue grew a staggering 1,368% in the three months ended June 30 from a year ago, but it warned in the prospectus that its revenue growth rate could decline and fluctuate from time to time.

Some current and prospective investors are valuing Anthropic at about $1.5 trillion, down from roughly $2 trillion a week ago, after the startup disclosed some financial details at a recent investor event. The IPO is expected as soon as later this month. "Anthropic is entering an IPO market that is far more challenging than the summer. Investors were not questioning valuations the same way a few months ago," said Matt Kennedy, senior strategist at Renaissance Capital. "While Anthropic is well capitalized, an IPO would give the company some valuable financial flexibility. No company wants to spend too long on the cusp of going public, since that can be a distraction."

Its revenue surged to about $11.6 billion in the three months ended June 30 from $4.73 billion in the prior quarter. Net loss widened to $66.3 billion from $14.4 billion in the same period. Anthropic had an operating loss of $693 million for the first six months of the year compared with $2.1 billion a year earlier. The push to list comes despite a once-busy fall listing calendar thinning out. That would give Anthropic access to a deep pool of capital to fund its costly AI ambitions, analysts said. Anthropic said more than half of Fortune 500 companies and over 30% of Global 2000 firms were its customers that generated at least $100,000 each in revenue for it over the 12 months ended September 30. —REUTERS

Kannadiga hiring row: IT industry for state focusing on skilling, not action

FE BUREAU
Bengaluru, October 26

INDUSTRY LEADERS AND staffing experts have urged the Karnataka government to focus on improving the employability of local youth and ensuring transparent recruitment rather than threatening action against IT companies over alleged bias against Kannadigas.

Their comments came after Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Sunday warned of appropriate action against firms found discriminating against local candidates, following a viral video in which a young woman alleged prejudice against Kannadigas during recruitment.

Mohandas Pai, former chief financial officer and board member at Infosys and chairman of venture capital fund Aarin Capital, called for improvements in higher education, particularly in Kalyana Karnataka, the northeastern region of the state. Responding to Shivakumar on X, Pai said the government should expand training programmes, improve soft skills and address gaps in the education system to help the local youth compete for jobs. Pai also flagged faculty shortages in government colleges, saying more than 60-70% of faculty were reportedly employed on a guest basis. He called for permanent faculty appointments and greater funding for university research, stating that these measures would help create a larger pool of highly skilled workers as artificial intelligence reshapes the job market. Karnataka's gross enrolment ratio in higher education stood at 42% in 2023-24, indicating the proportion of people aged 18-23 enrolled in college.

Karnataka Chief Minister DK Shivakumar has warned of action against firms found discriminating against local candidates, after a young woman alleged prejudice against Kannadigas

Staffing firms, meanwhile, cautioned against interpreting differences in workforce representation as evidence of systematic discrimination. They said recruitment decisions at IT services companies and global technology firms were generally based on role requirements, competency assessments and business needs, and called for objective selection processes to minimise potential biases. "Workforce representation can vary across companies, but this should not automatically be interpreted as preferential hiring," Ganesh S Padmanabhan, vice-president of recruitment business at CIEL HR, said.

He added that companies operated within equal-opportunity policies and applicable government norms, adding that any individual-level bias should be identified and corrected through established recruitment systems. Without comparable data on applicants and selection rates, it would be inappropriate to conclude that any particular region faced a systematic disadvantage, Padmanabhan said. The comments underline the need for evidence-based scrutiny of recruitment practices rather than drawing conclusions from workforce composition alone.

Sarbojit Mallick, co-founder of talent acquisition platform Instahyre, said any gap in hiring could reflect differences in industry-ready skills, practical experience, access to campus recruitment and employer requirements. Bengaluru's technology sector also recruited nationally, particularly for specialised roles, he said, adding that hiring was driven by the availability of talent suited to specific jobs.

Other industry representatives have similarly stressed the importance of skills and competitiveness. Uma Reddy, former president of the Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry, said companies needed to recruit people with the right skill sets to remain competitive.

Govt clears ₹2.12 lakh-cr defence procurement

- Nearly 82% of purchases to be from local firms

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 26

IN A MAJOR defence acquisition push, India on Monday cleared procurement of a range of military platforms and weapon systems, including light multi-role helicopters, long-range kamikaze drones and radars, at a cost of ₹2.12 lakh crore to boost the combat prowess of the defence forces.

The procurement proposals were approved by the defence acquisition council (DAC), the defence ministry's highest decision-making body on military procurement. It was chaired by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh. The DAC accorded acceptance of necessity (AoN), or in-principle administrative approval, to various capital acquisition proposals of an estimated cost of about ₹2,12,000 crore, the defence ministry said. Approximately 82% of the procurements will be made from the Indian industry, it noted.

For the Indian Army, approval was accorded for the procurement of high mobility vehicles, self-propelled tracked gun system, gun shot response system, light multi-role helicopters, very short-range air defence system and counter unmanned aerial system, it said. The DAC also cleared the acquisition of other unmanned aerial system, surveillance aerial vehicles, integrated surveillance and strike system and long-range kamikaze drones for the Army.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh at the Indian Navy's annual seminar 'Swavlamban' in New Delhi on Monday. Singh said India's efforts to achieve 'atmanirbharta' (self-reliance) in defence are entering the "second phase" and that innovators will play the role of "impact players" in the endeavour PTI

Goa to host IPL auction on Dec 16

THE IPL 2027 mini-auction will take place in Goa on December 16, with the day-long event scheduled on the same day as the second One-Day International (ODI) between India and Sri Lanka in Bengaluru, according to Cricinfo. The auction will be held nearly a month after the retention deadline of November 15, which the IPL has communicated to the T20 cricket league franchises.

Following the retention deadline, the IPL will share the registered pool of players with the franchises for shortlisting. The final list of players, along with the order of the sets, is expected to be sent to the franchises in the week leading up to the auction. The IPL has not yet finalised the dates for the 2027 season. Following a BCCI meeting in September this year, board secretary Devajit Saikia indicated that the 2027 edition could begin towards the end of March. The December auction will be the last mini-auction in the IPL's current cycle, with a mega auction scheduled ahead of the 2028 season. —ANI

Extraordinary items are disclosed in the profit and loss account statement as a part of net profit or loss for the period. The nature and the amount of each extraordinary item is separately disclosed in the notes to profit and loss account statement in a manner that its impact on current profit or loss can be perceived.

Prior Period Items

The nature and amount of prior period items is separately disclosed in the profit and loss account statement in a manner that their impact on the current profit or loss can be perceived.

Changes in Accounting Estimates

As a result of the uncertainties inherent in business activities, many financial statement items cannot be measured with precision but can only be estimated. The estimation process involves judgments based on the latest information available. Estimates may be required, for example, of bad debts or the useful lives of depreciable assets. The use of reasonable estimates is an essential part of the preparation of financial statements and does not undermine their reliability.

The impact of, and the adjustments resulting from, such change, if material, have been disclosed in the financial statements of the period in which such change is made, to reflect the effect of such change. Where the effect of such change is not ascertainable, wholly or in part, the fact is appropriately indicated in the notes to accounts. Ratios (in per cent)	31.03.2026	31.03.2025
Gross NPA to Gross Advances	1.82%	2.25%
Net NPA to Net Advances	0.19%	0.00%
Provision coverage ratio	81.64%	97.76%

Note: The Provision Coverage Ratio is calculated as percentage of the Bad & Doubtful Debts Reserve to the Gross Non-Performing Advance. The Floating Provision for Advances of Rs. 125 crore is not considered while arriving at the Provision Coverage Ratio.

During the year ended March 31, 2026, the Bank has seen a marked improvement in the asset quality with Gross NPAs reducing to 1.82% of total advances from 2.25% reported as at the end of the previous year. Based on a careful and calibrated reassessment of credit exposures supported by concentrated recovery efforts, upgradation of accounts to standard category, and improvement in security coverage, the Bank has decided to reverse additional provisions for Bad and Doubtful Debts (BDDR) of Rs. 175 crore (Net) made in earlier years in respect of those accounts. Post-reversal provisioning for NPAs remains in compliance with prudential norms prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India.

14. Market Risk in Trading Book as on 31.03.2026:

a) Qualitative Disclosures

Market Risk is the risk that the value of investments may undergo change over a given time period, simply because of economic changes or other events that impact the financial markets. In other words, Market Risk is calculated for both, adverse movement in the price of an individual security owing to factors related to the individual issuer as well as interest rate risk in the portfolio.

Methodology: The Bank follows the Standardized Duration Approach for calculation of Market Risk. The Bank manages the Market Risk in the books on an ongoing basis and ensures that the capital requirement for Market Risk is being maintained on a continuous basis i.e., at the end of each month.

The capital charge is applied to the market value of securities in the Bank's trading book. Market Value is determined as per the extant RBI guidelines on valuation of investments.

Minimum Capital Requirement is worked out separately for

1. 'Specific Risk' charge – for individual issuer related factors.
2. 'General Market Risk' – for interest rate risk in the portfolio.

Scope: The portfolios covered under the said approach include:

1. Securities included under the Held for Trading (HFT) category.
2. Securities included under the Available for Sale (AFS) category.
3. Open Foreign Exchange Position Limits

Infrastructure/ MIS & Reporting (SBU Treasury): The Investment Policy as approved by the Board of Directors provides detailed guidelines for all operational procedures, settlements, valuations, and risk controls pertaining to the investments.

A separate mid-office is also in place which acts as an intermediary, monitoring compliance of regulatory guidelines and of the Banks' Investment Policy and undertakes reporting to higher management.

Parameters for Risk Measurement: Risk Management and reporting is based on parameters such as Modified Duration, Net Open Position Limits, Gap Limits, etc.

ii. in the case of the Profit and Loss Account, of the profit for the year ended on that date; and
iii. in the case of the Cash Flow Statement, of the cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing ("the SAs") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("the ICAI"). Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the "Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report. We are independent of the Bank in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the ICAI together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Multi-State Co-operative Societies Act, 2002, as amended, and the Rules made thereunder and the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 (as applicable to Co-operative Societies) as amended by the Banking Regulation (Amendment) Act, 2020, The Banking Laws (Amendment) Act, 2025 and the guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics issued by the ICAI. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Information other than the financial statements and auditors' report thereon

The Bank's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation of other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Bank's Annual Report including other explanatory information but does not include financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. The Annual Report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the Annual Report including other explanatory information, if based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the financial statements

The Bank's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Bank in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards issued by the ICAI, the provisions of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 (as applicable to Co-operative Societies) as amended by the Banking Regulation (Amendment) Act, 2020, The Banking Laws (Amendment) Act, 2025, the Multi State Co-operative Societies Act, 2002, as amended, the Multi State Co-operative Societies Rules, 2002 made there under, the guidelines issued by the RBI and the Central Registrar of Cooperative Societies. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of assets of the Bank and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies, making judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent, and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Bank or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Bank's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error and to issue auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is high level of assurance, but it is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decision of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

i. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

ii. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bank's internal control.

iii. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

iv. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Bank to cease to continue as a going concern.

v. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note III- 18 of "Notes forming part of Financial Statements" as at March 31, 2026 which explains the merger of erstwhile New India Co-operative Bank Ltd. ("NICBL") with the Bank and manner of amortization of Cost of Acquisition/Goodwill.
